PROGRESS

In 1874 the combined deposits and capital of all banks in California totaled approximately $100,000,000.

Today the deposits of The San Francisco Bank alone are well in excess of $154,000,000, indicative of how this institution has kept pace with the growth of the state.

Build for the future by opening a savings account with one of the world's largest savings banks, the assets of which have never been increased by mergers or consolidations with other banks.

EMPEROR NORTON, 1819-1880

Peter T. Conmy

(HISTORIAN PRESIDIO PARLOR N.S.G.W.)

OF THE HUNDREDS OF PIONEERS who came to California during the gold rush, none is better remembered, and certainly none presented a more spectacular appearance, than did Joshua A. Norton, who is better known by his fantastic title, Norton I, Emperor of the United States and Protector of Mexico. He was born in England, February 4, 1819. There is evidence that he came of Jewish parents, although he himself denied this, claiming to be of royal French blood. His early life was not spent in England but on the west coast of Africa, whence he came to California in December 1849, being at the time thirty years of age.

When he arrived in San Francisco, Norton brought with him a working capital of $40,000. The fact that he came with financial means, and not in the penniless fashion in which many forty-niners arrived, places him among the better element of Pioneers. At this point it is interesting to recall that James Phelan, father of the distinguished Senator James D. Phelan, arrived here in 1853 with capital amounting to $50,000.

Norton opened a real estate and brokerage office in Montgomery street. Later he moved his enterprise to Jackson and Sansome streets. It is reported that the Norton building at Commercial and Montgomery streets was owned by him and from him derived its name.

The title "Emperor" was bestowed on Norton years before he issued his fantastic proclamation and led the life of an illusioned monarch. It was while he was still a Montgomery street broker that his friends jokingly called him the "Emperor." They did this because he held pronounced views on the theory of the divine right of kings. He was, even in these years, an advocate of monarchy, which was most unusual for an American immigrant. Hence, the title, "Emperor," applied in jest to one who did not believe in the free, democratic institutions of America.

In 1853, California passed through the first economic depression of her history. Oversupply, brought about by the inflated demands of the gold rush years, left merchants with goods on hand which they could not sell. A dry year left the streams of the north without an abundance of water, and the hydraulic mines could not be worked. Unemployment in the mining districts followed. Real estate values dropped, and business came to a standstill. Dr. Cross states that between 1854 and 1858 over four hundred banks failed in California.

This depression which ruined the fortunes of many, wiped out not only the private fortune but also the mental equilibrium of Joshua Norton. Between 1849 and 1853 his fortune of $40,000 had grown to $250,000. He was engaged in trying to corner the rice market when the crash came, and he lost everything. There is some suspicion that he was defrauded of some of his possessions, but this cannot be proved.

His money lost and his fortune gone, Norton still had left his lovable personality which held loyal and true friends to him. These people cheered him as best they could. They called him by his old title, "Emperor," thinking that it would raise the spirits that were distressed. But the results were indeed opposite to what was desired. The shrewd, versatile Norton, jokingly called "Emperor," the likeable and successful broker emerged from the depression not with an invigorated determination to rebuild his fortune, but as a man suffering from a mental hallucination that he was an emperor, not in jest and fun, but in reality.

September 17, 1859, Norton proclaimed himself "Emperor of the United States," and thereafter went about dressed in a blue uniform, with brass buttons and a military cap. The amazing thing about it all is, that the poor man was received by his fellowcitizens in a manner that was truly charitable. He ate in restaurants without paying. He rode free on street cars. He entered theaters free of charge. When he needed goods he asked storekeepers and was not refused. Once he wrote a letter to the Board of Supervisors asking for a new uniform and that body immediately voted him $100 for the purpose. His room rent in the Eureka lodging house was paid by the Occidental Lodge of Masons, of which he was a member.

Norton was an opponent of Denis Kearney on the Chinese question. During the Civil War he offered to arbitrate the differences between the North and the South. In 1869, he issued a proclamation ordering the Central Pacific to build a bridge across San Francisco Bay. He issued bonds in the name of Norton I, Emperor of the United States. Only once was he arrested, and the magistrate before whom he was taken apologized on behalf of the state and severely reprimanded the arresting officer, pointing out that Norton did no wrong, bothered no one and violated no laws. Desiring to promote peace among his subjects, Norton attended church every Sunday, but each Sunday a different one, making no distinction as to the sects of his people.

But, during all these years, Norton was consulted by merchants and financiers as to their problems. It is said that his advice was sound and shrewd, and that his insanity was limited to the subject of his hallucination. Twelve years ago, when the writer was a student in the psychology class of the university, Professor Stratton discussed Norton and classified his mental illness as dissociated personality.

At length, the evening of January 8, 1880, the good emperor, now turned 61 years, was walking up California street from Kearney to Grant avenue. As he neared the Cathedral, he dropped to the ground and the spirit of San Francisco's emperor passed into the beyond. With no estate left behind, a benevolent people did not permit their emperor to lie in a pauper's grave. A collection was taken for his burial. The Episcopal service was read, and his remains were interred in the plot of J. G. Eastland in Masonic Cemetery.

It is now over fifty-five years since Joshua Norton passed into the beyond, but recent events have proved that California does not forget her Pioneers. In moving the Masonic Cemetery to Woodlawn Cemetery, the emperor's remains were discovered. Historical loving people raised funds, and now Norton's bones rest beneath a monument that will forever stand to his memory. It reads: "Norton I, Emperor of the United States and Protector of Mexico. Joshua A. Norton, 1819-1880."

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

PRESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT has declared his "intention to keep this country free from any entanglements from wars across the sea," with particular reference, of course, to the Italy-Ethiopia war now in progress. He has issued proclamations prohibiting the sale of war materials to the belligerent countries, and giving notice that any citizen of the United States who travels on any vessel of either country does so at his own risk. The President is deserving of unstinted commendation for his timely efforts to keep the United States out of this war, and he will have the support of a vast majority of the people of this country in going the full limit in carrying out his intention.

There are a few who object to the President's policy as regards this war—those "highboys" who reap a harvest of dollars from war and who were instrumental in getting the United States into the World War, ostensibly to "make the world safe for democracy" but, in reality, to make safe their investments and credits abroad. That we were deliberately "framed" into that conflict, at an enormous cost of good American lives and billions of dollars, is now generally admitted.

Propagandists, here and from abroad, are again at work, endeavoring to influence public opinion. All sorts of pleadings and horror-stories will, in time, be advanced to get the United States into the present scrap—to pay the bill, as in the World War. Surely, the people of this Nation will not again be led astray by high-powered propagandists and Wall-street shylocks, and they will insist that this country have no part in the Italy-Ethiopia war.

Judging from reports coming out of the Capital City, there is something decidedly rotten in the setup of State Government finances. There should be a thorough and impartial investigation and, for once, political-whitewash should not be applied.

Japan has entered into a "gentleman's agreement" with the United States to restrict cotton textile exports to the Philippines. That means absolutely nothing for, as history records, Japan abides not by agreements, "gentleman's" or otherwise.

"The clock of common sense has struck the hour of noon, when states and counties and cities must purge their 'relief' rolls with relentless hand," says C.K. in the Sacramento Bee. The clock struck some months ago, but there has been no purging, and there will be none, regardless of the "crime against the swindled taxpayer," so long as relief is linked with politics.

In an address at San Diego, President Roosevelt said "the burden of debt, individual and collective, was more than the nation could bear." Does he imply that the burden has been lifted, or that the nation is better able to bear it? Any way, instead of making any attempt to reduce the tax-load it has been increased by billions!

The "forgotten man?" He is the citizen who, through close attention to business, systematic saving and thoughtfulness, has been able to acquire a modest home and to put aside something for old-age days. The one who seeks no special favors, who practices the Golden Rule, and who does not believe that the world owes him a living. Of such is the great "middle class"—the backbone of this Nation—composed.

Unless the course of government be changed, he will very soon be separated—by more confiscatory taxation or further inflation, perhaps both,—from his honestly acquired possessions. When he becomes a down-and-outer, when the backbone of the Nation is destroyed, then what? Think it over!

The recent State Legislature passed and the Governor signed several measures which will require the addition of thousands to the State's payroll. More manpower for the political machine; more taxes for propertyowners to pay!

Again the daily press is dishing out quantities of mush about "big money" individuals threatening to leave California if the income tax law remains upon the statute books. If the law could rid California of some of those "prominents" it would prove a blessing, for the moral atmosphere of the state would be considerably purified and the cost of maintaining courts to launder their filthy domestic linens could be materially reduced.

The "New Deal" has again postponed the date for discontinuing the dole, and the probability is that the dole will be continued, for a year at least. We have frequently asserted that the dole-dolers are obsessed by fear. General Hugh S. Johnson publicly declared: "The unemployment situation is a neat little powder mine with the fuse lighted. To shut off relief at this time would mean riot, rebellion or revolution within two weeks."

For protection, not for conquest, the United States of America must have a navy and an army superior to those of any other nation. For, quoting from Secretary of War George H. Dern's address at Honolulu, "Constitutions, statutes, laws and edicts are in the long run mere scraps of paper unless there is back of them means for keeping them in force by the police or military power if and when necessary."

United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declares "Every great crisis in civil government has invariably had its origin in partisan initiative, led on and directed by ambitious or reckless party leaders."

Speaking at the formal dedication of Boulder Dam, President Roosevelt said "This is an engineering victory of the first order—another great achievement of American resourcefulness, skill and determination."

Notice how the politicians, both "ises" and "wases," are now clamoring to get aboard the Townsend bandwagon? Of course, they're attracted by ballot-numbers, and the Townsend Clubs have them. And, believe it or not, by November 1936 their numbers will have doubled.

Homeless Children

A WORTHWHILE NON-SECTARIAN ENDEAVOR SPONSORED AND SUPPORTED BY THE ORDERS OF NATIVE SONS AND NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST

THE MAJORITY OF BUSY FOLK haven't begun to think about Santa Claus, who will so soon start out on his Christmas journey. The records and communications found in the office of the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Homeless Children Committee prove, however, that the foster parents of hundreds of chosen children are the great exceptions.

Some of the little ones or, to be more accurate, some of the foster parents, will this year celebrate their child's first Christmas in his new home, while others have enshrined in their hearts and memories many happy Christmas celebrations and are looking forward to another happy time with their children. A letter from a foster father reached the central office during October telling about all the treasures which he and mother had purchased and hidden away in box and closet and bottom drawer, waiting for the December of 1935.

The godfather, it seems, said to this godchild of five years: "What shall I get you for Christmas?", and the verry modern, up-to-the-minute child replied: "My mother and father have toys and things already, but I would like to have Santa Claus bring me a ranch." "A RANCH!", gasped the godfather, eager to make the child whom he adored happy, even if it meant diminishing ducats, "Well, that's a pretty big order, son. I think I'll have to talk to Santa Claus about that." "Well, you don't need to talk to Santa Claus, thank you, 'cause I can talk to Santa Claus for myself," answered the boy.

The boy and younger girl, who had also been adopted, had lived during their short lives on a ranch up in the northern part of the state and they had followed at father's heels the greater part of their waking hours as he planted and ploughed, and they had "helped" him paint the ranch houses. Father was compelled to leave his ranch, as business called him elsewhere, and a city lot had become their place to roam. They could not forget the great open spaces and the "home on the range," and "When are we going home?" was the children's constant query. And so, while dolls and wagons, horns and drums might be Santa Claus' conception of a child's heaven, a ranch was this small boy's idea of bliss.

Wouldn't it be an eyeopener if every Native Son and Native Daughter might sink into the furs of Santa's sleigh and go with him to the thousands of homes which the members have helped to provide? Sixty-seven homes to visit since April first, and there will be more during the remaining five months, with the 4,558 of previous years. Realization of what you have been able to do by united effort will make your own Christmas and that of your own children a great deal happier, we know.

Now that October has come—the time set apart for the annual contributions—will you not try to make this year a banner one?

Receipts during September: $55.00 from Watsonville Parlor No. 65 N.S.G.W.; $10.00 refund on board by the county; $235.78 from parents, with a refund on postage of 50 cents, and milk fund $12.70, bringing the total receipts to $313.98. The expenses for September were $1,437.96. There was a balance, you will recall, August 31 of $2,562.34. October first the commercial balance was $1,438.36. The savings account remains the same, $5,325.00.

Children placed April 1 to September 1, 75; number adopted, 71. Applications received in September, 41; total since April 1935, 241.

The San Francisco N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Joint Committee whist and dansant given September 23 was gratifying to those who attended, and also to those who worked hard for its success, socially and financially.

Another reminder: Get your application for exemption of the federal amusement tax in early in order that the tax may be saved for the children's work. And do not forget that after Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year comes April the first, the end of the Committee's fiscal year, when all contributions should have been sent to the central office. The Committee is doing its part in the matter of economy and is confident that the Parlors are planning to do their part in order that the work may progress.

ACTIVITIES

ALAMEDA COUNTY NATIVES

(MARGUERITE WELSH.)

PLANS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED BY the joint Alameda County Native Daughters and Native Sons Committee on Homeless Children for the second annual monster whist party to be given at the Oakland Auditorium Arena Saturday evening, December 7. Valuable prizes, including many donated by East Bay merchants and Parlors, will be awarded. Harold B. Farley of Athens Parlor N.S.G.W. is chairman of the committee, and Irma Caton of Argonaut Parlor N.D.G.W. is co-chairman. All Alameda County Parlors are working together to make this second monster whist twice the success of last year.

Albany No. 260 N.D.G.W., Albany—Grace Higgins has been appointed chairman for the hard times dance at the Community Center Building November 2. This dance is being given to raise funds for the Parlor's americanization work. Two candidates were recently initiated by Albany.

Aloha No. 106 N.D.G.W., Oakland—October 29 Native Sons Hall was weirdly decorated with pumpkins, witches and hobgoblins—the setting of the Hallowe'en party given jointly by Aloha and Athens Parlor N.S.G.W. Dancing and games were enjoyed and prizes were awarded for the best costumes. Tables were gaily decorated for the supper served at midnight. The monthly card party of Aloha, held at the home of Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler October 31, was a huge success. Prizes were given for highest scores, and refreshments were served. Three brides of the Parlor, Martha Murray Moll, Thelma Perry Borges and Caroline Schulze Kuhl, will be guests of honor at a party November 5. Tables will be decorated in honor of the brides, and gifts will be presented to each by Social Committee Chairman Jennie Peterson.

Argonaut No. 166 N.D.G.W., Oakland—Forty-one members attended the celebration of the Parlor's twenty-seventh anniversary at a banquet October 8. Guests of honor were Deputy Dorothy Davis and Jennie Brown, "mother" of the Parlor, both members of Piedmont Parlor. After the banquet the members played cards and were entertained by various talented members of the Parlor. The evening was an outstanding social success. October 29 a Hallowe'en party was held, honoring members of Claremont Parlor N.S.G.W. Spooky games and tricks were played on the boys, after which refreshments were served. Argonaut's Admission Day marching unit turned out for the big civic parade in Alameda celebrating the dedication of the new Twenty-third avenue bride October 5. They also marched October 13 in the Columbus Day Parade at Crockett. They wore their Admission Day costumes and made a very effective representation.

Bahia Vista No. 167 N.D.G.W., Oakland—October 26 Bahia Vista gave a very successful luncheon and card party at a downtown roof garden. Many valuable prizes were awarded. The chairman was Lenore Sunkler. Proceeds from the event were turned over to the committee in charge of the annual Hallowe'en party for the deaf and dumb children of Hawthorne school. Bahia Vista has "adopted" these children and for every major occasion they are given parties, toys and goodies by the members. The parties especially are a real frolic and treat for these kiddies and they look forward to them with joyous anticipation.

El Cereso No. 207 N.D.G.W., San Leandro—October 27 members of El Cereso honored their loyal book officers, Recording Secretary Mary Tuttle, Financial Secretary Mae Focha and Treasurer Caroline Haltierly. This event, held annually, was preceded by an initiatory ceremony conducted by the officers. El Cereso is sponsoring a dinner dance for Saturday evening, November 2.

Encinal No. 156 N.D.G.W., Alameda—Celebrating the twenty-eighth anniversary of its institution Encinal held a reception and dance after the meeting September 25 in Veterans Memorial Building. Heading the committee in charge was President Alice Matter, who was assisted by Chairman Laura Fisher and her able committee. The officers of the Parlor initiated one candidate. Irene Rose, charter president, was the honored guest of the evening. She is now financial secretary, a position she has held for the past twenty-seven years, and is one of the most esteemed members of the Parlor. She was presented with gifts and an honorary membership in the Order by Chairman Fisher. On behalf of Alameda Parlor N.S.G.W. President Don Ansel presented Miss Rose with a boquet of roses. Other honored guests were Deputies Olinda Cardoza, Ann Lewis and Martha Watson. After the meeting a delightful surprise program was given by members of the Parlor. The Alameda "hill billies" furnished the music for the dance which followed.

Fruitvale No. 177 N.D.G.W., Oakland—Grand President Anna Thuesen officially visited Fruitvale October 18. The meeting was well attended and all enjoyed the Grand President's stirring address. The officers rendered their ritualistic work in a very efficient manner. Refreshments were served after the meeting. The Parlor is working hard on its annual Christmas collection for the boys of the Veterans Hospital. It is planned to send a large box to them this year.

Hayward No. 122 N.D.G.W., Hayward—Hayward is represented by President Florence B. Hills on the Hayward high school forum committee. A splendid program has been planned for this semester. The first celebrity to appear will be America's foremost aviatrix, Amelia Earhart Putnam. October 15 the past presidents of the Parlor were honored guests and presided in the officers' chairs. A fine social evening was enjoyed by all. Hayward's members are busy collecting jars of jelly for distribution to the veterans at Livermore Hospital at Thanksgiving time. President Hills is in charge and reports good progress in this very worthy cause.

Piedmont No. 87 N.D.G.W., Oakland—October 17 Piedmont held a past presidents and old-timers night. The event was a costume party and prizes were awarded for the best costumes. A banquet was served after the meeting by Kathalene Dombrink and committee. Tickets for the California-U.S.C. football game were disposed of, the money derived to be used for the Parlor's September 9th fund. October 5 the veterans welfare committee of Piedmont, consisting of Thelma Schornick, Grace Hadlen, Marcella Ford and Lucille Toussaint, motored to the Veterans Hospital in Livermore and distributed cigarettes among the boys. While there the committee visited with Bill Cameron of Piedmont Parlor N.S.G.W., who seems to be progressing very rapidly. No. 87's spoon committee presented baby spoons during the past month to the infant daughters of Peggy Hurst Trezise and Pauline Kroenig.

Past Presidents Association No. 2, Oakland—The Association announces a whist party at the home of President Josephine Loomis, 679 Thirty-first street, the evening of November 6. Score cards are 35c. Coffee and cake will be served.

HANNAH VIVIAN BARRY.

To the Officers and Members of Mission Parlor No. 227 N.D.G.W.: We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect, submit the following in fond memory of our late Sister Hannah V. Barry:

Whereas, The golden chain of our fraternity has again been severed, and the "Angel of Death" has taken the hand of our beloved Sister Hannah Vivian Barry and gently led her away to her Eternal Home, where pain and sorrow cease. Resolved, That while we pay loving tribute to her memory we must be ever mindful of her dear ones left behind. May God, in His mercy, assuage their deep grief and shed [illegible] to part. Native Daughters of the Golden West

"TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS of Subordinate Parlors Native Daughters of the Golden West—Dear Sisters: Thanksgiving Day is well established on our calendar. To whatever uses we may put it, it suggests God's Country and Home,—great essentials if we are to continue as a happy, wholesome and well-ordered people.

"In the early days of the Seventeenth Century, in the hamlets of Austerfield and Scrooby, England, and in the surrounding country, were a number of simple folks, who believed in the right to found their own church according to their understanding of the Scriptures. William Brewster, a well-educated man, was one of the leaders. When the Scrooby church was founded in 1606, it was led by John Robinson, an able and high-minded man. The State authorities would not permit the people to live in peace,—they were badly persecuted and on account of this treatment moved to Holland. At first they lived in Amsterdam but later moved to Leyden. The Virginia Company of London permitted the Pilgrims the right to settle within the Company territory. But, as all the world knows, when they sighted land on their voyage from Plymouth, England, in the bleak days of early winter (November 9, 1620), it was not the coast south of the Hudson but the region of Cape Cod that lay behind them.

"Because they were outside the region of the Virginia Company, and because there was discontent among 'some of the strangers amongst them,' they entered into the famous Mayflower compact. This little company developed on the basis of this compact and the Pilgrims first went ashore at Provincetown Harbor. After a trying winter, practically half of the members of the Company died, and of the sixteen mothers of families only four remained in the spring. The summer harvest was not to be compared with that of the present day, but in spite of all these severe trials the Governor proclaimed a day of 'Thanksgiving.'

"However, though the Pilgrims started the idea of Thanksgiving Day, it is to Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, who labored for twenty years in an effort to make Thanksgiving Day a national day, that we owe the establishing of the same date all over the land. Previously it had been the custom to observe the occasion on whatever day happened to strike the fancy of the local community. It was Abraham Lincoln who first appreciated the wisdom of Mrs. Hale's plan, which she had advocated since 1843. The day was fixed for the whole Nation in 1864.

"Sarah Josepha Hale was born in New Hampshire in 1813 and was married to a very clever lawyer, David Hill,—a writer and sincere advocate of higher education for women, particularly in Mission and Medical Work. She is the one who encouraged the New England women to raise the sum of $50,000 for the erection of Bunker Hill Monument. There are many books written by Mrs. Hale, one of the most prominent being 'Mary's Little Lamb.'

"It is over three hundred years since these Pilgrims landed on that stern and rock-bound coast:

" 'They, the true-hearted, came
Not with the roll of stirring drums,
Not with the trumpet that sang of fame.'

And their courage and cheer have gone down in history, for we are told

" 'Amidst the storms they sang
And the stars heard, and the sea;
And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
To the anthem of the free.'

These hardy people brought with them freedom,—that freedom which the American people have held up as a glowing torch for the world to see. This torch gives light, cheer and courage to all who come from foreign shores seeking a home in this land. This freedom gives to all people an equal opportunity to lead a good life and follow the work for which they are best fitted.

"Each and every one has some particular thing to be thankful for this year. 'Count your blessing, one by one, and you will realize what the Lord has done.' God grant that the reverent spirit of that first Thanksgiving will never be forgotten!

"We also observe in the month of November what is known as 'Armistice Day.' Let us give thanks by remembering those who made that supreme sacrifice for our Country. In some small way let us try to show our appreciation to those who served our Country well. Do not forget our World War Veterans in our Hospitals during November. If you are only able to make one boy happy, you are performing your duty by giving him something to be thankful for.

"My sincerest thanks are extended to members of the Order for their kindness to all who needed help, and likewise do I wish to express my appreciation of the many courtesies to me, personally. Sincerely and fraternally in P.D.F.A.,

"ANNE C. THUESEN,
"Grand President N.D.G.W.

"San Francisco, October 22, 1935."

Benefit for Homeless Children.

San Jose—The annual homeless children benefit, with Vendome No. 100 and San Jose No. 81, and Observatory No. 177 and San Jose No. 22 N.S.G.W. in charge, will be held Friday evening, December 6. Last year a card party was held and scores of people were turned away. This year the large Scottish Rite Auditorium has been secured, and there will be ample space. A general invitation is extended the public to attend. The combined committees announce hundreds of wonderful trophies will be given away. Come out and give the kiddies a break!

Vendome had a delightful social event in a downtown hotel October 12. Thirty-five tables of bridge players graced the occasion. As an added attraction solo dancers appeared. Mrs. Ernest A. Weller, general chairman, was assisted by Grand Trustee Clara A. Gairaud, Deputy Alice Roll and the officers of the Parlor. October 23 a jolly-up was staged by the "Evens" of the attendance contest, with Mrs. Herbert Stockton as captain. A special program, styled "A Night in Ethiopia," was staged. Showers for two recent brides of Vendome were held October 8 and 23.—C.A.G.

History and Landmarks Featured.

Santa Cruz—The Parlors of district No. 25, embracing Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito Counties, were well represented at the annual tri-county meet September 21. At the speakers' table were Grand President Anna C. Thuesen, Supervising Deputy Alta Macaulay, Deputies Alma Nyland and Alberta McCormick, Grand Organist Pearl Reid, Past Grands Stella Finkeldey and Bertha A. Briggs, and the presidents of the district Parlors. Past Grand Finkeldey was the main speaker, her theme being "The American Constitution." Community singing was led by Leona Geyer. The tables were pleasingly decorated with masses of tuberous begonias carrying out the Order's colors, and the place-cards were miniature El Camino Real bells.

The stunt program featured California history and landmarks. El Pajaro (Watsonville) gave the history of the "Glass House of Watsonville;" Santa Cruz, in appropriate costume, featured the "Organization and Early Sessions of Ursula Parlor No. 1, Jackson;" Aleli (Salinas) presented in four scenes episodes in the history of Soledad Mission; Copa de Oro (Hollister) gave a dramatized version of Mark Twain's well-known "Jumping Frog of Calaveras;" San Juan Bautista in four living pictures presented "The Great Seal of State," "Golden California," "The California Poppy" and "The Pioneers of '49." The entire affair was in charge of Supervising Deputy Macaulay.

Visits "Land of the Modocs."

Alturas—Grand President Anna Thuesen paid her official visit to Alturas No. 159 October 4. A reception was tendered her at the Civic Club, where the members and their distinguished guest gathered about a tastefully arranged banquet table, beautifully decorated with autumn fruits and flowers. A program of violin and piano selections, community singing of catchy songs, clever stories, and an address by Past Grand Irma Laird, in which she outlined the life and achievements of Captain John Sutter, supplemented the graceful address of welcome and presentation of guests by President Irene Cummings.

After the banquet the room was arranged for the Parlor meeting, and a candidate was initiated. The Grand President's message, "The Story of California's Romantic Origin," was most interesting. As a memento of her visit to the "Land of the Modocs," Past Grand Catherine Gloster presented Mrs. Thuesen with two beautiful Indian baskets woven by members of the local native tribe. Neva Asher, Past Grand Laird and Katie Gloster planned the evening's program.

A delegation from Alturas, including Past Grand Laird and Supervising Deputy Erma Elliott, motored to Bieber the evening of October 3 to meet the Grand President on her official visit to Mount Lassen No. 215. Beginning November 7, Alturas will hold its regular meetings in the Odd Fellows Hall which, being in the center of the downtown district, is more centrally located for the convenience of a majority of the members.

Membership Teams Produce Results.

Bakersfield—The membership chairmen of El Tejon No. 239, Edna Hobson and Gladys Cooper, have chosen "Las Companeras" and "Las Hijas de la Conquista" as the names of their respective teams. September 20 a class of ten candidates was initiated, and a program was presented by Madge Fote, Edna Hobson, Clayton and LaVerne Edwards, Jerry Roberts, Juanita Pettis and Catherine Dodenhoff, the latter giving a historical sketch of the late '60s and early '90s in Kernville.

October 4 two candidates were initiated, and President Margaret Carlisle announced the Armistice Day parade committee: Ralpha Sanders (chairman), Eleanor Rehdorf, Sadie Clendenen, Madge Fote and Hallie Bowman. October 10 Edna Hobson entertained both membership teams at a pajama party; whist was the diversion.

Charter Members Fifty Years Wedded.

Santa Ana—Santa Ana No. 235 was visited October 14 by Deputy Maude Van Fleet, who gave a pleasing and instructive talk. Thimble club meetings have been held at the homes of Mms. Edwards, Dresser and Bray, sewing being done for the coming bazar, now well under way.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison, charter members, respectively, of Santa Ana No. 265 N.S.G.W.

and Santa Ana No. 235, had a golden wedding anniversary recently. September 30 they were honor-guests of the Parlors at a dinner, and among the sixty in attendance were sixteen charter members of No. 235 and five charter members of No. 265. On behalf of the Daughters, President Muriel Bray presented to Mrs. Morrison a handsome dish painted by Mrs. Arthur Edwards, and for the Sons, President Carl Schroeder presented to Mr. Morrison a billfold appropriately inscribed. Oldtime songs played by Lloyd Best were sung by the assemblage, and games were the evening's diversion. Deputy Mildred Gray was chairman of the occasion, and the decorations were in charge of Mms. Etzold and Marsile. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison are natives of the Mother Lode district.

Address Inspires to Achievement.

Etna—At a joint session October 5 Eschscholtzia No. 112 and Mountain Dawn No. 120 (Sawyers Bar) welcomed Grand President Anna C. Thuesen on her official visit. Supervising Deputy Anita Tucker and Deputy Laura Wolford were present. Preceding the meeting a delicious dinner was served at tables adorned with flowers and candles, and at its conclusion piano solos by Olive Buchner and a reading, "Seeing Stars," by Minna K. Horn were enjoyed.

In the lodgeroom, beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers, two candidates were initiated. The members listened with keen interest to Grand President Thuesen's address, and the memory of her inspiring words and friendly presence will undoubtedly be an incentive to greater achievement. She expressed pleasure in the work of the supervising and district deputies, the officers and the various committees, and voiced her satisfaction in the other evidences that these northern Parlors are actively interested in the work of the Order. Mr. and Mrs. Thuesen were guests of the Frank Horns during their stay in Etna.

Sons Entertained.

San Diego—San Diego No. 208 entertained San Diego No. 108 N.S.G.W. October 9 at a get-together meeting. A delightful program of music and dancing was presented by Irma Heilbron, and interesting talks on the past, future and present were given by Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer and Supervisor Ed. Hastings. Judge Curtiss gave a reading. Refreshments were served.

October 15 the losing side, headed by Marie James, in No. 208's drive for new members, paid a penalty by providing a spanish dinner for the winning side, headed by Mabel Burgert. A jolly evening was enjoyed with games and music after the dinner. Alice Damarus entertained the past presidents club at her home October 20.

Large Attendance at Joint Meeting.

Marysville—Grand President Anna C. Thuesen officially visited Marysville No. 162, Camp Far West No. 218 (Wheatland) and South Butte No. 226 (Sutter) in joint session here October 12. At a dinner preceding the meeting the tables were artistically decorated, and the Columbus Day theme was carried out in the boat favors.

In the lodgeroom 150 members of the Order assembled to greet Mrs. Thuesen. The ritual was exemplified by the officers of the hostess Parlors, with Supervising Deputy Bernice Sperbeck directing the floor work. The Grand President spoke on the aims and the projects of the Order, and other speakers included Past Grands Alison F. Watt, Emma Lou Humphrey and Esther R. Sullivan, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Trustee Clarice Cook, Deputies Edna B. Briggs, Genevieve Didion, Mary Lucas, Margie Buck, Eletha Bowser, Amy Summy and Ruth Clark.

A program and a buffet supper concluded the occasion. In charge of arrangements were Agnes Weber Meade, Ina Wells, Ruth Clark, Ruth Manwell, Mary Meade, Ruth Galligan, Mayme Barrett and Sarah Dooly.

Traveling Basket Gathers Funds.

Placentia—Grace No. 242 is well on its way on a money-making campaign. October 12 a successful food sale was held, and October 17 President Rebecca Hasson obtained all advertisements for paper napkins. A traveling grocery basket is making its way through north Orange County. Each member in turn pays for the contents of the basket, refills it and passes it on to another. A bulging bank is expected when the basket arrives at the journey's end.

October 14 the sewing club of the Parlor met at Anna Lemke's home. Three beautiful hand-made quilts are about ready to be put on sale. October 18 Florence Holmes of the Orange County Tuberculosis Association was an interesting speaker. On the initiatory team of the southern Parlors Grace is represented by Grand Trustee Nellie M. Cline, Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson and Past Presidents Erna Watts and Matilda Enfield. November 7 the Parlor will have a public card party, a twenty-five-pound bag of sugar will be the door prize.

Native Sons of the Golden West

SEPTEMBER 28 WAS AN EVENTFUL DAY in historic San Diego. In the morning, the Cabrillo National Monument at Point Loma was dedicated under the joint auspices of San Diego Parlor No. 108 N.S.G.W. and the San Diego Historical Society. Music was rendered by the United States Marine Band, Mrs. Winifred Davidson read Philip Morse's poem, "Cabrillo," and there were brief addresses by Leroy A. Wright, president San Diego Historical Society; Colonel John R. White, superintendent Sequoia, Death Valley and Cabrillo National Parks; Dr. Owen C. Coy, director California State Historical Association; Sam Hendricks, of the National Park Service; Roy Hegg, of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, and Grand President Harmon D. Skillin of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

The dedicatory address was delivered by Dr. Joao Antonio de Bianchi, Minister of Portugal to the United States, who was introduced by Congressman George Burnham. The distinguished visitor took occasion to praise and commend the Order of Native Sons and, by his many kindly expressions, won the friendship of his auditors. Referring to the monument, Dr. Bianchi said: "I have come more than 7,000 miles to dedicate this to Cabrillo, and every step of the way to me seemed like a pilgrimage to a holy shrine. Monuments are far better than any peace treaties. This is the way to bring together two nations which are both prosperous and peace loving. It gives me great pleasure to unveil this tablet to the great navigator, Cabrillo." Dr. Bianchi then removed the Flag of the United States of America from the tablet, which reads:

Early in the afternoon, the Portuguese residents of San Diego staged a pageant at the California Pacific International Exposition, and among the speakers were Dr. Bianchi and Grand President Skillin.

Following this, the Native Sons formally dedicated the Exposition grounds and the California building to "Liberty, Truth and Toleration." Grand President Skillin presided at the ceremony, and was assisted by Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. Dr. Bianchi and his wife were among the attendants at this dedication.

In the evening, at outofdoor ceremonies in the entrancing Court of Honor of the Exposition, the "Cabrillo" group of Native Son candidates—three for San Diego Parlor No. 108, among them Frank G. Belcher, president of the Exposition; two for Sepulveda Parlor No. 263 (San Pedro) and one for Hollywood Parlor No. 196 (Los Angeles)—was initiated. The ritual was exemplified by the following: Grand Secretary John T. Regan, president; Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, senior past president; Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, junior past president; Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, first vice-president; Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, second vice-president; Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, third vice-president; Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven, marshal; Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, inside sentinel.

At the conclusion of the initiation, Junior Past Grand Koenig addressed the assemblage, among whom were Past Grands Herman C. Lichtenberger and John T. Newell; Grand Trustee Thomas N. Foley; District Deputy Daniel F. McSweeny, chairman southern district deputies association under whose auspices the group initiations are conducted, and Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer, who had charge of arrangements for Cabrillo Day at San Diego and was a very busy man and a most thoughtful host.—C.M.H.

Anniversary Observed.

San Jose—San Jose No. 22 celebrated October 14 its fifty-second institution anniversary. The Parlor was instituted in 1883 by Grand Lecturer M. A. Dorn, assisted by District Deputy Charles W. Decker and Grand Vice-president John A. Steinbach.

Past Grand Thomas Monohan presided at the anniversary celebration and gave an idea of how the oldtimers did things in the gay '90s. S. L. Worden, the oldest member of the Parlor, having joined in 1887, told how the various Santa Clara County Parlors were formed and of those who, a half-century ago, were prominent in the activities of the Order.

Joe Ganong, Simon Semichy, Ed Haley, Walter Christman, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto, Robert Wight, Dan Haley and D. P. Narvaez, who joined the Parlor before the turn of the century, filled the official positions during the evening. One candidate was initiated and refreshments were served.

The good of the order committee—John Burton, Fred Breeze, Art Davison, Henry Wilson and Vincent Wagner—was in charge of arrangements for the occasion. November 18 San Jose will have its annual Thanksgiving feast.

SAN BERNARDINO—ARROWHEAD PARlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. never falls down! It was host for the third group initiation of the southern Parlors, October 26, at its Crestline clubhouse in the San Bernardino Mountains, and some two hundred members of the Order were its guests. A delicious steak dinner opened the festivities.

Thirty-two candidates were initiated, and thirty-one of them were presented by Arrowhead, and one by Los Angeles Parlor No. 45. The ritual was exemplified by No. 110's officers, with Harold G. Lord as president, assisted by District Deputy Walter Odemar as marshal.

Speakers of the evening included Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand John T. Newell, Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven and District Deputy Daniel McSweeny, chairman district deputies organization under whose auspices the group initiations are held. Other district deputies in attendance were Edward Baldwin, Maynard Garrison, Harry Honn and F. L. McGarvey. Also there were presidents of the following visiting Parlors: Los Angeles No. 45, Clyde Davis; Ramona No. 109, Clarence S. Hunt; Glendale No. 264, Ferris Farrell; Santa Monica Bay No. 267, Dewey Houghton; Compton No. 273, Roy Tarleton. Other Parlors well represented were Hollywood No. 196, Sepulveda No. 263 and Santa Ana No. 265.

The absence of one Arrowheadite—Recording Secretary "Bob" Brazelton—always the life of the party, was noted with regret; sickness kept him away, he being in the Santa Fe hospital at Los Angeles. No. 110's committee in charge of details at the Crestline event included Dr. R. L. White, general chairman, Lou Dixon, Roy Finkle, Elmer Hoien, Lewis Sorenson, Charles Vatcher, Irvin Shilling, James A. Olivas, Hal Davies, John Cadd, Neil Bachelor and Leslie Case.—C.M.H.

"HOLIDAYS ON PARADE."

San Bernardino—Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. had the first meeting in its new home, with President Evelyn Shaddox presiding, September 25. A reception followed the business session, and an interesting program, with Marjorie Beck in charge, was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Marguerite McKenzie and committee. Special guests were Grand Inside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg, Deputy Gertrude Tuttle and members of Ontario Parlor. The hall was decorated with large baskets of zinnias; Bertha Heap was in charge of the decorations.

October 3 Native Daughter Day was observed at the Business and Professional Woman's Club. Special guests were twenty-six members of Lugonia, Past Grand Grace Stoermer, Grand Inside Sentinel Noerenberg and President Shaddox. Miss Stoermer was speaker of the day, her topic being "Eve and Her Money." October 9 the Parlor initiated a class of candidates. October 23 a surprise dinner was given, with Social

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO PARLOR NO. 261 N.D.G.W., organized by Mamie Cuneo (Mission No. 227), was instituted with sixty-four members October 19 by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen, assisted by Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Oldham, Alice Lane and Clarice Cook, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Supervising Deputy Nan Kelly, Deputy Agnes Curry, Grand Organist Pearl Reid, Past Grand Margaret Grote Hill and Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler. The ritual was exemplified by the deputy grand presidents of San Francisco County, who also assisted Grand President Thuesen in the installation of the following officers of the new Parlor:

Louise Zerga, president; Amelia Lorenzetti, past president; Julia DeMartini, first vice-president; Doris Cortopassi, second vice-president; Edna R. Domeniconi, third vice-president; Mildred T. Black, organist; Louise DeMartini, recording secretary; Helen Schrick, financial secretary; Esther deFerrari, marshal; Rita M. Gardiser, treasurer; Eva Gamba, inside sentinel; Constance Bunner, outside sentinel; Irene Cuneo, Marie Feil, Veronica Rizzo, trustees. Organizer Cuneo was appointed deputy for the Parlor, which will meet the second and fourth Thursday evenings at Dante Hall, 1606 Stockton street.

Grand President Thuesen expressed, in a brief talk, her pride in the large membership of the newly-instituted Parlor, and said that, in keeping with its name, she expects great things from it. "San Francisco has the reputation of knowing how," declared Mrs. Thuesen, and it remains for this Parlor to live up to that reputation." She stated the principles of the Order, enumerated the various projects and touched upon results obtained. To the new Parlor the Grand President presented a silver-mounted gavel, Organizer Cuneo presented a Bible, and the Grand Parlor presented one-half the cost of banners, regalia and flags. Many congratulatory messages were received, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served by San Francisco Parlor No. 49 N.S.G.W.

TESTIMONIAL BANQUET FOR N.S.

The special dining room of a downtown hotel was packed the night of October 10 for a testimonial banquet tendered by Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W. to three members of the Order who have been advanced to high stations by Governor Frank F. Merriam—Director Thomas M. Foley of the State Department of Military and Veterans Affairs, Superior Judge Elmer E. Robinson and Municipal Judge Charles R. Boden. Foley is at present Grand Trustee, and Judge Boden is a member of the Grand Parlor History Committee. Judge Robinson, three times past president of Bay City Parlor No. 104, was included as a guest of honor because of his close affiliation with the other two honor-guests and Pacific.

An informal floor show was interspersed with a speaking program, the outstanding address being delivered by Past Grand Judge Fletcher A. Cutler. Greetings from Governor Merriam were conveyed by Clarence W. Morris, chief counsel California Highway Commission. Other speakers were President Charles F. Strothoff of Pacific, Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Superior Judges James G. Conlan and George J. Steiger, Municipal Judge Frank T. Deasy, Chief Administrative Officer Alfred J. Cleary representing Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, Edward P. Healy representing District Attorney Matthew Brady, and the three honor-guests.

Toastmaster Thomas F. Duffy, on behalf of Pacific, presented a gold badge emblematic of his state office to Grand Trustee Foley. Frank A. Soracco was chairman of arrangements. Other prominent Native Sons in attendance included Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Trustee Jesse H. Miller, Grand Organist C. George Cuthbertson, Past Grands Chas. A. Koenig and Edward J. Lynch.

ANNUAL CHARITY BALL.

The Homeless Children Committee of San Francisco, made up of representatives of all the local N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Parlors, will have its annual ball at the Civic Auditorium Saturday evening, November 16.

Officers of the committee are: Frank M. Buckley, chairman; Alice M. Lane, vice-chairman; Emily Ryan, recording secretary; Bertha Mauser, financial secretary; Martin H. Huber, treasurer.

N.S.G.W.—NEWS BRIEFS—N.D.G.W.

The San Francisco County N.D.G.W. deputies, headed by Supervising Deputy Nan Kelly, will honor Grand President Anna C. Thuesen November 8 in Native Sons Hall. Winter wonderland will be depicted by representatives from all San Francisco Parlors. Chairman Ruby Bried of the membership committee anticipates a large class of candidates. An invitation is extended all Native Daughters to be present at this affair.

To raise funds for its golden jubilee next year, Stanford Parlor No. 76 N.S.G.W. had a merienda at Oak Cove Park October 6. "German night" October 15 attracted a large crowd; the committee included President Edward Neely, Karl Boegershausen, Arthur Poheim, Charles Dechent and Louis Roesch. The Parlor's fall dinner-dance will be held November 2 at Lakeside Country Club; Frank Morris is the chairman.

Grand President Anna C. Thuesen was honor-guest at a dinner given by El Vespero Parlor No. 118 N.D.G.W. on the occasion of her official visit September 24. The tables, patterned after a Southern style, were decorated with small log cabins and real California cotton from Kern County. The waitresses, members of the dinner committee headed by Leonie Filippi, were garbed in real "mammy" style, and a delicious southern repast was served with genuine California hospitality. The Grand President said it was very inspiring to visit this Parlor, and she extolled the members for their splendid co-operation and service. The ritual work was absolutely perfect. Gifts of silver and crystal were bestowed on Mrs. Thuesen and Deputy May Waring. The Parlor had a Hallowe'en party October 22. A committee composed of Mary, Gladys and Alice Casey, Isabelle Casey Evets and Evelyn Ford is arranging for the annual turkey whist, to be featured November 26—N.R.B.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 N.D.G.W. celebrated Century of Progress Week with a children's party October 17. A playlet entitled "School Days" was presented by the dramatic group, with President Carolyn Kerwin as teacher. The refreshments committee, Elvira Desmond chairman, satisfied the delicate appetites of those present. Hallowe'en decorations made the meeting-room most attractive. The Parlor's drum corps added another trophy to its collection by receiving first award in the Columbus Day parade. This active group, including Instructors Hermann and O'Rourke, attended a dinner October 13 in commemoration of the landing of Columbus. Genevieve and El Dorado Parlor No. 52 N.S.G.W. are co-sponsors of a turkey whist billed for November 21.

Keith Parlor No. 137 N.D.G.W. had a miscellaneous shower October 10 for one of its recent brides, Mrs. Jack Sweeney, formerly Miss Elma Pope. President Sally Sullivan extended good wishes. Helen Oberhaus was chairman of the occasion, and among the guests was Deputy Rena Taube.

Gabrielle Parlor No. 139 N.D.G.W. entertained October 9 its bugle corps, which won a loving cup in the Stockton Admission Day parade. An appetizing repast was served under the supervision of Chairwoman Gertrude M. Spellacy. October 23 the Parlor entertained Rincon Parlor No. 72 N.S.G.W. at an old-fashioned Hallowe'en party.

The following little item is published at the request of a well-known San Francisco Native Son, who desires added, "Friday Luncheon Club members take note": "The man who says 'I run things at home' usually refers to the lawnmower, the washing machine and the errands."

The Native Daughters Extension of the Order Committee has formulated plans of an educational nature for the fall season.

The whist party and dansant sponsored by the Native Sons and Native Daughters of San Francisco September 23—referred to in The Grizzly Bear for September—was an outstanding success, in attendance being 1,500 card players and 800 dancers. The affair was suggested and supervised by Mae L. MacDonald of Alta Parlor No. 3 N.D.G.W., who for more than two months gave most generously of her time in promoting it. "This was the first affair of this nature given by the joint San Francisco Parlors," commented one of the workers, "and the Native Sons and Daughters owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. MacDonald for her untiring efforts in making the affair such a wonderful social and financial success."

Oakland, Alameda County, will be host, November 5-8, to the Western Regional Dairy Conference.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

URGING THE VOTERS OF LOS ANgeles to demand that the school district go on a pay-as-you-go basis in earnest, the Los Angeles division of California Taxpayers Association recommends defeat of the school bond issue of $12,392,273, to be voted on November 19. The Los Angeles school board's program for spending the bond funds has been hastily thrown together without proper care for long-time planning or the ability of the community to support it, the Association declares.

In the guise of repairing earthquake damage and making schools safe for children, any number of other things have been thrown into one big pot, N. Bradford Trenham, educational counselor of the Association, points out. Of the projected expenditure of $22,532,000, only about $9,500,000 is left for repairing actual earthquake damage. The remaining $13,000,000 is for overhead, or for desirable but not essential items, or for items which should not be paid for with borrowed money.

The people of the Los Angeles school districts are already bonded to an extent which few of them realize, says Trenham. City, county, school and other district bond issues outstanding and those waiting to be sold amount to about $450,000,000. This means that the people of Los Angeles have already obligated themselves to pay $450,000,000 plus interest. Besides this staggering debt total, there are many millions of various special assessment bonds, hundreds of millions of our share of state and federal debts, and all the private debts. The Taxpayers Association points out that on the average 23 percent of the total expenditures of the local governments of California go for interest and redemption of bonds. The local school district is no exception, 29 cents out of the current year's local school tax rate of $1.19 is going for debt service. Annual redemption costs for the school districts run between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000 a year on the bonds already outstanding, and interest takes about $3,000,000 a year.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. will celebrate its fifty-first institution anniversary with a dinner-dance Saturday night, November 16, at Elks Temple. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Michael Botello (chairman), Past Grand John T. Newell (honorary chairman), Sidney B. Witkowski, Walter E. Smith, James Van Osten, Daniel Gage and David Foster.

"This is going to be the outstanding social affair of the Parlor this year," says President Clyde Harry Davis. "All members of the Order are invited to attend and bring their friends. Reservations should be made before November 15 by calling KImball 4720."

October 24 the Parlor had an "open" meeting for members of the Order and eligibles. A good program, including an interesting illustrated talk, was presented, and refreshments were served.

PILGRIMAGE TO LANDMARK.

The first bridge party in the new tournament started by Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. October 9 attracted many players; Thelma Stengel was the hostess. October 16 several candidates were initiated, the ritual being exemplified by the deputies of District No. 30 under the direction of Supervising Deputy Flora Holy. Evelyn Howell had the sewing club at her home October 26.

The carnival dance given jointly by the Parlor and Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. at the Rancho Country Club October 18 was greatly enjoyed by the many in attendance. Mrs. Olinda Kerby, general chairman, was assisted by Mms. Hugh A. McNary, Willard Porter and Ellen Wilson; Misses Emma Lazzarovich, Edna Holcomb, Kay Sens and May Sherwood; John Welch, Walter Smith, Harry Davis, Roger Johnson and David Foster. October 20 the Parlor's fiesta dance group—Dolores Luckey, Grace Mitchell, Marvel Tempest and President Leonie Clos—sang and danced at the dedication of Sepulveda boulevard.

Los Angeles' November calendar: 6th, Californiana Parlor No. 247 members guests of honor. 13th, card party, Women's University Club; funds go towards Parlor's clubhouse; Mattie Gara chairman. 20th, shower for newly married members, Edna Lavara Vaughn and Margaret Nash Hart.

For October 24 the Parlor's history and landmarks committee, Thelma Stengel chairman, has arranged a pilgrimage to Banning Park and the historic Banning house in Wilmington.

TRIBUTE PAID OLDTIMER.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. paid tribute to Charles H. Smith October 4, that being his eightieth birthday anniversary. Perry Harris introduced Smith, who was born on Mount Diablo, Contra Costa County, and was the first secretary of the Society of Native Sons, out of which grew the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. October 11 the Parlor initiated four candidates.

Ramona's November calendar: 8th, initiation. 15th, monthly birthday dinner, followed by entertainment provided by the sheriff's pistol team. 22nd, nomination officers for January-July term. 29th, no meeting.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS BAZAR.

The first month of the new regime for Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. under the guidance of President Flora D. Jacobson was filled with joy and interest. Meetings are now called at 1:30 p.m., with teas instead of luncheons. To assist in the homeless children work a third baby has been "adopted" by the Parlor. Martha Decker of the americanism committee will present a current event of vital interest at each meeting. Congratulations were extended Mr. and Mrs. (Ruth Clarke) Bolster on the birth, October 7, of their first-born, a son. A beautiful wardrobe and the regulation silver spoon were presented the new native son.

October 8 Lena Burrows presented the well-known author and poet, Colette M. Burns, in a delightful program. October 22 President Jacobson entertained at a birthday tea for the August, September and October honorees. Joyous events of the month included three meetings of the dessert sewing circle, which is preparing for the annual Christmas bazar benefit for homeless children. Lena Burrows, Edith Adams and Mrs. M. J. Murdock were the hostesses, and there was much fun, with good work accomplished. The history and landmarks section entertained at a theater party, and refreshments were served. The deputies' ritual team will visit Californiana November 26.—O.L.

BIG DOINGS COMING UP.

Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W., instituted October 27, 1926, will celebrate its ninth institution anniversary November 6, and all members of the Order are invited to be its guests on the occasion. Dinner will be served at 6:45 p.m. and then a large class of candidates will be initiated. Following

Feminine World's Fads and Fancies

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

TIME TO START YOUR CHRISTMAS gift making! A little planning in advance will save much rushing about in December. The shops are filled with ideas and will furnish instructions. You will find it easy to achieve personalized gifts of rare good taste and genuine charm.

There are varied types of needlework, such as weaving, knitting, crocheting, hooked rug work and lamp shade making. Needlepoint, waffle weaving and samplers of quaintly stamped linen are to be worked. Botany prints and fine linens printed in soft colors are ready for a few simple stitches. They come in English scenes and are to be used in making gay little pictures. Others are shown with animals and buildings and are to be used with mat and frame for wall hangings. Tan crash may be worked in cross-stitch with black and white wool.

For an intimate friend, nothing is daintier than a smocked nightie, ever so sweet, in flesh color, with blue smocking.

It is not much work to applique two tulips on each end of a runner and a single one on each place mat. This makes a most attractive handmade gift and is inexpensive. Use fast-color gingham for the applique. You will be giving a lot of pleasure to anyone when you give cut work towels with tulips, jonquils or lilies in the border.

You will love the new monogramed neckwear, and your friends will also. These monograms are so unique. They come in capital letters with three styles of one letter in each package.

From famous glove makers the world over come gloves to Coulter's — Perrin, Reynier, Aris—and ever so many others.

"At Your Service 35 Years"

A flash of color accentuated by insets of white with another dash of color forming a flower makes the newest in hand-made handkerchiefs. They are of fine linen to match any costume and are really entrancing. These make lovely gifts. Use your ingenuity in combining colors and placing the insets. The flowers are appliqued and the insets are hand-hemstitched.

The women who have their eyes open for new and smart things are not venturing into the kitchen all rigged up in their best attire if they have not a chic apron to cover them from tip to toe. One model ties on at the neck and waist and keeps a snug waistline. It is graced with appliqued cherries on the left shoulder. A guardian apron saves your frock from peril and it is so new and gay and so nice to make. So, start your Christmas gifts early.

Metallic silks glitter all over the winter scene —in cocktail frocks, evening gowns and formal blouses. A favorite dinner costume is the gunmetal silk lame tunic over a black velvet skirt and is worn with a matching metallic turban. Peasant blouses of silk lame have been seen on up-and-coming members of the younger set, and metallic silk shirtwaist dresses are the current pets for cocktail wear. Cinema dresses in gunmetal lame are simply made, and street lengths are going strong.

Just now for the sophisticated debutantes cellophane, which became so popular a few years ago, is found interwoven in velvets and taffetas. A number of interesting fabrics have been developed with designs of cellophane in checks, stripes, dots and other patterns.

Some of the smartest fabrics this fall are to be two-faced. Silk velvet with a taffeta back is cited over and over again as a high style item. Organdy velvet, a beautiful light material, is being used in evening gowns.

The satins and the velvets invariably have their impressive jeweled gold ornaments. Usually a large buckle is at the waistline glittering with rhinestones surrounding an emerald or ruby cabochon. The lames and the metal brocades, of course, are sufficient unto themselves for furnishing sparkle. They need no additional ornamentation.

In glancing around at the new styles, I find they have gone military. Braid is often used on the dresses under the jackets—even though the jacket may be fur. For example, a rust colored dress showed three frogs of braid across the front of the dress and its coat was a fingertip swagger, with a johnny collar of badger. Persian wool crepe is worn with rabbit hair. It is an ideal cloth, the cream of fashion in line and fabric. It is easy to make up and comfortable to wear, though so simple. This frock has a definitely dressy effect from the fabric. It would be equally lovely in wool jersey, novelty embroidery or tinsel wool crepe.

A little military and a little russian is the dressy suit of black crepe with hip-length jacket and heavy trimming of black soutache braid. There really is no blouse. There is just a slip-like top on the skirt. A narrow belt and a scarf that fills in the neck are of flaming orange-red velvet. The scarf shows through the center opening.

Soutache and rat-tail braid are interesting details of the season to be found on coats and suits and even on sheer fabrics. These are worked into scroll designs for collar and cuffs, or into frogs in the military fashion. Fagoting, an old favorite, is also seen on a number of dresses.

Most of us have a last-season dress of some variety that, with a new touch of some sort or another, would look quite presentable. Why not try dressing up your frock with one of the new gold kid belts and a corsage of gold kid flowers? The belts come in different widths and are stitched.

Fur coats for the coming winter proclaim their newness by their lines, and cloth coats by the way their fur is applied. So much persian lamb is used one wonders where it all comes from. There is one thing about furs, everyone is noticing lots of silver fox used, but not in the old way. The old shawl collar is no more.

Tailored classic is smart in suits, and when we say suits this fall we cover a lot of territory, for suits are positively every sort of combination of dress and wrap or skirt and wrap that you can think of. The tailored classic is one kind, with its notched lapels, front pockets and all, and then it branches out to cover dresses with capes. Dresses have jackets of all lengths, from very short to fingertip, and they have swagger coats and so on.

The fall color card of the new autumn hosiery shows an interesting group of shades to blend with all the new fabrics. The names of the various tones, if they mean anything, are fantastic. For instance, there is hindustan, a light brown, to be worn with warm browns, greens, rusts and yellows. Copperlite is a copper shade to be worn with greens, ambers and lively sports tweeds. Caribou, a dark neutral beige, blends with browns, bluish greens, navys, cloudy pastels and blacks. Highnoon, a taupe of rose cast, is top-notch with wines, reds, blues, greens, chili and ginger brown. For evening, fleshglo is a flesh tint that really goes with black, white or any color. Silversheen is a shade to wear with silver slippers and with lames in brocades, pastels or blacks. Goldglint is a tone for gold slippers and is perfect with all the oriental gowns of brilliant color or gold lame. The red is a burgundy color, dark and brownish, and is perfect to wear with wine accessories.

Let us take a look at gloves. Doeskin and suede slipons are to be found in colors. There is an araby green, dubonnet, bordeaux, brown, kelly green, terra cotta, cinnamon, rust, tobacco brown, ginger beige, citron, garnet and moss green. That is quite an array, and amazing things can be done to a black costume with bag and gloves of one of these colors and, of course, there are a few of gold or silver kid for evening. The ever chic and sure white ones for cocktails have interesting trimmings of ruffles, tucks or shirrings.

Bright coat dresses are of rabbit hair or woolens and flattering tailored lines lead the mode for active and spectator sports, campus and sportswear.

In 1874 the combined deposits and capital of all banks in California totaled approximately $100,000,000.

Today the deposits of The San Francisco Bank alone are well in excess of $154,000,000, indicative of how this institution has kept pace with the growth of the state.

CHRISTMAS IN EARLY CALIFORNIA

Rev. Thos. J. McKeon

(GRAND HISTORIAN N.S.G.W.)

CHRISTMAS CAME TO CALIFORNIA with the White race. Different people celebrated it according to the customs of the countries of their origin. William Heath Davis' "Sixty Years in California" tells of the New Englanders of California having "turkey shoots" a la New England. "The Diary of a Forty Niner," Canfield, narrates the theft of a hotelman's turkeys, bought at $10 each. Father Palou writes that one Christmas Day they ate fish which tasted better than chicken in other places because the fish was seasoned with the good sauce of San Bernardo, "hunger, which all had in abundance." And in Patrick Breen's "Diary of the Donner Party," we have these entries, unparalleled in the heroic annals of California:

"December 24 . . . poor prospect for any kind of comfort, spiritual or temporal . . . May God help us to spend the Christmas as we ought considering the circumstances. December 25, Friday. Began to snow yesterday . . . snowed all night and yet snows rapidly. Great difficulty of getting wood. . . . Offered our prayers to God this Christmas morning. The prospect is appalling but hope in God, Amen." And he read from his prayer book for strength to bear the "appalling prospect" for hope when hope was hopeless by the light of burning pine splinters, held by the listeners in place of candles; the only religious services that day at Donner Lake.

As the Spanish were Catholics, they naturally introduced their feasts and customs. Perhaps none of these appealed more to the Indians of the missions than the celebration of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. On Christmas Eve, La Noche Buena, they staged their dramatic portrayal of the birth of Christ, La Pastorela. The mission bells ring out their summons through the starlit night. The Indians, torch in hand, hurry to the church, eager and excited as little children. They are thrilled as they enter at the candle-lit altar, the note of festivity. At midnight the bells ring out again, and the padres enter for midnight mass. The Indian choir at the back of the church, all men, has practiced for weeks. In the music at Mission San Juan Bautista, Father Tapis had copied out the parts in red, black, yellow—the blank notes were for white—so that Indians could tell the notes each part was supposed to sing. So all wait, expectant, for the mass to begin. Then the Kyrie, Gloria in Excelsis—first sung by the angels on the first Christmas Eve—Credo, and on to the joyful Ite Missa Est at the end.

The bells again ring out, but the people do not hurry out of church for they know more is coming. They stand eagerly on tiptoe of expectancy, breathless and excited. The padre comes back upon the altar with something in his arms, which he places behind a curtained arbor in the front of the church. At once the doors open, and the people crane their necks for now they know, since the Niño is in the crib, that La Pastorela will commence.

In troup the actors of the play, each in character and costume, and mask in some cases. First comes the angel Gabriel, in blue garb and with a long wand; then other angels dark of skin but in white garments, shepherds and especially the clown shepherd Bartolo, and finally the shepherd whom some authors call the hermit, about whom the "argument" of the Pastorel revolves.

After the age-old Adeste Fideles is sung, the angel Gabriel advances, and in language taken from the Gospel narrative announces the birth of El Niño Salvador, and he tells his audience that God has sent a marvelous Star to lead men to the Infant Saviour's birthplace. But El Diavolo, the devil, is not so easily silenced. Masked and with a fiery fork, he darts this way and that as he objects to anything being done for men, for since the sin of Adam and Eve all mankind is his. There can be no hope for men and no redemption.

The audience listen attentively to him, as if their fate were to be decided then and there, and the children shrink from him as he grimaces and darts to and fro as if to impale some one of them upon his trident. Bartolo, the shepherd clown, mimics him and tries to make fun of his every action and word. But this is but a comic interlude. Then Gabriel takes up the argument again. He proclaims that there is hope for man, since God sent His son to redeem the world. So all who repent of their evil lives may be saved, and he holds a cross out before him as the symbol of hope and a promise of redemption. The hermit-shepherd who had wavered when the devil spoke is now convinced and he falls to his knees before the cross. The devil makes fun of his kneeling down, and Bartolo makes fun of the devil. Gabriel steps before the devil and makes him unwillingly kneel before the cross. The choir breaks out in a song of victory.

As Gabriel walks away, he points to the sky and all see the wondrous star, and as he walks the star descends and rests upon the veiled manger. The veil is removed and there the craning people see El Niño, Mary and Joseph. This forms the tableau, with the Infant in the center of the picture. All brought their simple gifts to El Niño, and the Indians had re-enacted for them the old, but ever new, story of the birth of Christ.

There are variations of the simple outline. At times the variations amplify greatly with many more characters and episodes. Walter Colton in "Three Years in California" says that the Pastorela was repeated in the house of prominent people. The boys, Bartolo and others not now checked by being in church, gave full scope to their impersonation and Colton says that the lash and the hot play and the buffoonery were meant to cause laughs and not pain. Colton objected to these dramatizations of events in the life of Christ, and argued that "There is not a truth connected with man's redemption which can derive any force from scenic representation."

Colton came to California as chaplain on the U.S.S. Congress, and this note of Puritanism in a man otherwise fair and just is, most likely, the result of his early religious background. For all the authorities are against him in his opinion. Manly in "Preshakespearean Drama" shows how churchmen in the early ages of modern nations used the themes of religion to inculcate faith and reverence among an unlettered people. In "Drama," edited by Alfred Bates of Trinity College, Cambridge, volume 4 is entitled "Religious" and shows that from the twelfth century religious plays were employed in the religious education of the people. And "The York Cycle of Morality Plays," "The Towleny Plays" and others are but obvious examples of the value of what Colton condemns; witness "Everyman."

And the Franciscans, who knew the value of the Christmas drama from their experiences in Spain, soon realized how valuable it would be in the new country with a people who dramatized so many events in their own lives, harvests, gathering acorns, on the eve of hunting, etc., as Kroeber of U.C. in his "Handbook of the Indians of California" so well shows.

HISTORY ENTWINED ABOUT NOTED SAN MATEO COUNTY LANDMARK.

"The celebrated 'Old Adobe' situated in the beautiful San Pedro Valley, on the ocean side of San Mateo County, is perhaps the most interesting from a historical point of view of any structure in the early history of California," says the Half Moon Bay Review.

"It was founded by Don Francisco Sanchez, a soldier of the second Portola expedition in 1770. The first Portola expedition, of October 1769, reached Point San Pedro. The expedition of 1776 left cattle, servants and Indians with Don Francisco in the San Pedro Valley, and on that spot where the present 'Old Adobe' stands he had constructed by the Indians one of the first adobe houses in this part of the country.

"The 'Old Adobe' was reconstructed in 1817 with materials from a Spanish vessel wrecked on Point San Pedro and driven ashore on the beach. In 1842 the 'Old Adobe' of today, called by the Spaniards El Viejo de Sanchez, was rebuilt by Don Francisco Sanchez, a descendant of the first Don Francisco, on the same walls as the ancient structure. It was restored in the late '80s by General Kirkpatrick, the present owner, and remains so today with the most interesting period of California life entwined about its history."

Morro Rock, in Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo County, has become a part of the Morro Bay State Park, having been deeded by the Federal Government to California. A causeway now connects the rock and the mainland.

TO GRANDMA'S FAN

Gay spangled remnant of a fan
A little thing of power
Was capable of changing lives
In one joy-giving hour.

O little fan, you call me back
To earth's long vanished hours
When grandma in quaint modesty
Found love among the flowers.

Ah yes, I see her standing there
With love-light in her eyes
And daring was her lover-lad
And blue were heaven's skies.

This bit of ivory and lace
Quite fanned a dangerous flame
And promises made destiny
When grandma changed her name.

Ah transient toy of blushing days
That hid affection's schemes
Swift-winged Time took grandma, dear,
But left her fan and dreams.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

(MINNA McGARVEY.)

So long as the holly branch blossoms
With berries bright red, on the hill,
So long as the mistletoe, waxen,
Is roguishly hung o'er the sill—

So long as the snowbirds are chirping
Their brave little songs in the cold,
So long as a clear Star is shining
To light ev'ry lamb to the fold—

So long as the Yule log is glowing,
With loved ones around in its gleam,
So long as the children are merry,
So long as true lovers can dream—

So long as old friends cling together,
Ah! not for a year nor a day—
So long will the Spirit of Christmas
Enfold us, enduring alway!

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

"LET'S RING THE MERRY CHRISTMAS bells and continue the humanitarian work of placing homeless children in childless homes! There'll be an answering ring of gladness in your heart that will match the radiance in the eyes of the child your contribution will help to place in a real home. 'Tis Christmas time!"

That's the substance of a letter every Native Son and Native Daughter in Los Angeles and Orange Counties will receive from the Los Angeles Joint Committee on Homeless Children, asking that the homeless child be remembered in Christmas budgets.

The need of financial help for this greatest of all charities is more pressing than ever. So, every Native should respond—"To save a child." Give as liberally as possible, and mail your contribution to 3924 Sunset boulevard, the headquarters of the committee. Your gift will assist materially in making good the assurance that "The homeless child is no longer a waif."—C.M.H.

N.S. GROUP INITIATION AT SANTA MONICA.

Santa Monica—The anniversary party of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. November 6 drew a large crowd. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening's festivities, which began with a supper prepared by Harry Dailey and committee. Then followed the ritual exemplification, and eight candidates were initiated by President Dewey Houghton and assisting officers. Past Grand John T. Newell addressed the initiates, among whom was Floyd, the 18-year-old son of Charter Member Domenic Conterno.

Past presidents of the Parlor were honor-guests, and the following were introduced: Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, J. Howard Blanchard, Police Chief Clarence E. Webb, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Harry T. Honn, Claude W. Wiseman, Orin C. Welch, J. Edward McCurda, Dr. Leland Clark and Dr. Robert C. Eshelman. John J. Smith, for five years the energetic recording secretary, also was given a "hand." Among the visitors was Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards. Good of the order was conducted by Past Presidents Blanchard and Biscailuz as president and first vice, respectively, and they found ways to extract several dollars for the "kitty." A german band furnished musical entertainment, and as a finale a huge birthday cake was cut and served.

November 19, Santa Monica Bay had a stag smoker at Culver City for the benefit of its ever-willing drum corps. An excellent program was presented for the entertainment of the many in attendance. Bert Bair, Harry Dailey and a large assisting committee were in charge and saw that everyone spent an enjoyable evening.

Santa Monica Bay will be host, Wednesday, December 4, for the group initiation of the southland Parlors. Grand Second Vice-president Meyer has expressed the hope that a record class of candidates will be presented. Preceding the initiatory ceremonies the Parlor will serve at 6:45 p.m. its annual lobster feed, for which it has won fame and to which all Native Sons are welcome.

INSPIRATIONAL ADDRESS.

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. will retain its present efficient officers, with Flora Davis Jacobson as president, during the coming term. Five candidates were initiated November 26, the ritual being exemplified by the deputies team of the southern district. Beautiful gowns and exquisite flowers were features, and Mrs. Blackstone Smith presented a delightful musical program.

November 12, Baby Charles was "adopted," and Robert Dyer Hobday gave an inspirational address on Armistice Day and the Constitution of the United States. A birthday tea and social hour concluded the meeting.

Many members are working diligently preparing for Californiana's annual December bazar. Two delightful gatherings, with luncheons, were enjoyed during November. Florence Whitehead Odiorne opened her Castellamare home the 2nd, and was assisted by Martha Decker and Ethel Hearst, and Lizzie and Nellie Weston were hostesses the 18th. Augusta Weber will be hostess at the December 16 Christmas party.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN.

The dinner-dance sponsored by Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. November 16 in recognition of its fifty-first institution anniversary was well attended. Junior Past President Michael Botello introduced President Harry Davis, who extended the Parlor's greetings. Excellent music was provided for dancing.

"SKINNER" BACKED BY "GUNTOTERS."

Compton—Compton Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W., Roy Tarleton president, has moved to 260 East Compton boulevard, where meetings are held the first and third Tuesday nights. The move will, it is believed, increase interest.

The Parlor participated in the dedication of the new Compton Post Office November 2. In the pageant depicting "The Transportation of United States Mail," No. 273 was assigned the stagecoach period. First Vice-president Hector Hecock made a very good "skinner," with his rough clothes, stubble beard and black slouch hat, and he was backed by a pair of "guntoters." The Parlor is indebted to the Tom Mix Circus, now wintering in Compton, for the use of a stagecoach for the occasion. The display was given a great hand.

PHONE BENEFIT CARD PARTY.

Long Beach—Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. had a rummage sale October 31; Chairman Daisy Hansen was assisted by Bertha Hitt. November 7 Eleanor Fisher was given a shower, amidst dainty pink and blue decorations; Clara Fay, Kate McFadyen, Alice Waldow and Lois McDougall were in charge of arrangements. A benefit telephone bridge and five hundred party was held November 15 at the homes of Margaret Burch, Kate McFadyen and May Gillies.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth officially visited University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. November 13 and brought to the members an all-important message on the Jap situation. Ben Hiss and Maynard Garrison welcomed the visitor.

During December, University expects to move into more spacious and suitable quarters at Jefferson street and University avenue, where one of the most complete fraternal homes in the city will be maintained. The Parlor also has under consideration a change of meeting nights. —J.P.H.

"MOST BEAUTIFUL."

Compton—Compton Parlor No. 258 N.D.G.W. now meets the second and fourth Tuesday nights at 260 East Compton boulevard. In observance of Armistice Day, the Parlor planted in City Hall Park a cedar dedicated to the Pioneers. Grand Trustee Hazel Hansen put the first shovelfull of earth about the tree. Elenor Gunow introduced former Mayor Dickerson, who commended the Native Daughters for their act.

"Most beautiful" was the designation given by the judges to the float entered by Compton in the Armistice Day parade. It symbolized peace, and was decorated with hand-made California poppies, pepper boughs and asparagus fern. A group of women and children completed the scene.

WANTED—A PROJECT.

The Interparlor N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Committee had an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting November 15. Discussion centered around proposed new bylaws to be submitted by Fred Leonetti and committee. Christmas

"YEAR AFTER YEAR WE HAVE taken Christmas for granted, enjoying the merriment and good cheer which the Season brings, and distributing our gifts to family and friends with a pleasurable feeling of generosity. So this year, as the family gathers about the Christmas tree and gifts are distributed, let it be with greater appreciation than ever before of the significance of Christmas.

"Do we ever stop to think what this world would be without Christmas and the things for which it stands? No mind can conjecture the stupendous consequences involved had three Wise Men courted the favor of Caesar, or a Roman legion, clanking across the plains of Bethlehem, taken the Infant Christ in charge. For in the lowly manger lay not only the fulfillment of prophecy for all people, but the entire hope of the human race! Unknown to the world was cradled there that night a new standard of moral and physical values which was to gather force with the centuries and serve as a basis of conduct, government and life for unborn peoples in unknown lands. And there, under the twinkling stars, in the hush of an Asiatic night—where civilization itself hung in the balance—transpired the event which separated the old regime from the new—the event toward which all prophecy and history had pointed and from which all progress dated.

"Whether we spread our bounty with a lavish hand, or whether, because of the limitations of our means, our gifts are perhaps more modest, there is no regret that we have opened our hearts and our purses to help a needy case or for a worthy cause. Our only regret is that we are not able to do more. We grow as we give; we wither as we withhold. Therefore, the giving of ourselves, our energies, our sympathy, our friendship, our co-operation and our substance, opens for us wide vistas of usefulness, fragrant with the bloom of another's hopefulness and rewarded with happiness not known to the self-centered individual.

" 'IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE.'

"Why strip the mask from Santa Claus! We get our disillusions soon enough. In a world where almost everything has its price tags and where 'each ounce of gold costs its ounce of dross,' this jovial old gentleman, with his apple face and frosted whiskers, dispensing gifts and good cheer with equal impartiality, is a much-needed influence in our lives. What if he does live only in dreams! The attributes with which our childish fancies endowed him—the generosity and geniality and justice which we ascribed to him—could not help but leave their imprint on our minds. If Johnny hears the jingle of sleigh bells on the housetop, play the game! Remember that reality chains us to the workbench but fancy bears us upwards to the skies!

"May God in His wisdom see fit to shower His choicest blessings on each and every member of our beloved Order and their dear ones. Wishing you all a joyful Christmas and a New Year abounding in health and happiness, I am sincerely and fraternally in P.D.F.A.,

"ANNE C. THUESEN,
"Grand President N.D.G.W.
"San Francisco, November 26, 1935."

Rendering Worthwhile Service.

As chairman of the Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee, Past Grand Stella Finkeldey wishes to express, through The Grizzly Bear, appreciation for the prompt response from Parlors in sending their donations for 1935-36. To date—November 18—119 Parlors have responded.

Says Miss Finkeldey: "We are adding the Veterans Administration Facility at Fort Miley, San Francisco, making five Facilities and the Soldiers Home in California, two Facilities in Arizona and one Facility in Washington to which we are giving service, as requested." The following letters of appreciation are self-explanatory:

"Your letter with its very, very welcome news that again we are to be included in the program of the Native Daughters of the Golden West reached us this morning. There is no service which you or any other organization could render us more acceptable or more conducive of enjoyment to the patients than that which you have given us in such splendidly generous way these last years. The patients still love their card parties and protest if one is not planned for every fortnight. This, of course, would be utterly impossible if it were not for your help, for there are not sufficient organizations in Tucson to begin to fill a whole season. Therefore, your suggestion that you may send us prizes for eight parties again this year makes us very happy and, I might add, relieved. We would also be delighted to have candy for the November party. In the first place the patients always enjoy it so much, and in the second it draws a little extra attention to the fact that the party is being given by the 'Native Daughters'—as the patients abbreviate the name of your organization. Thanking you most warmly for your letter and plans, very truly yours, J. J. BEATTY, M.D., Acting Manager, Veterans Administration Facility, Tucson, Arizona, October 22, 1935."

"We wish to acknowledge receipt of the box of Hallowe'en candy and tray favors which you sent us, and to thank you once again for making it possible for us to bring a little touch of Hallowe'en atmosphere to our trays and tables for the evening. Assuring you of our appreciation of your valued assistance in this connection, we are sincerely yours, FRANCES MAYNARD, Senior Recreational Aide. Approved: C. L. MAGRUDER, M.D., Acting Manager. Veterans Administration Facility, Whipple, Arizona, November 1, 1935."

"Help Our Kiddies!"

San Jose—The attendance contest of Vendome No. 100 has been most gratifying. Members have been taking a keen interest, with the result that many who have not been to sessions are being welcomed back into the fold with open arms. November 13 the "Odds," with Ella Graham captain, staged a "Spanish night," and the refreshment chairman was Mary Thompson. Spanish dances, a playlet and a wandering minstrels novelty act were surprises. Ida Stockton, captain of the "Evens," promises a return surprise soon.

Vendome members attended the school of instruction November 20 which was directed by Supervising Deputy Clara Briggs. Deputies Alice Roll, Genevieve Epler and Adelaide Freeman, and officers of the Santa Clara County Parlors assisted in the work. Grand Trustee Clara A. Gairaud was an honored guest. A potluck dinner preceded the affair.

Friday evening, December 6, a whist party will be sponsored by the Native Sons and Native Daughters of San Jose in the Scottish Rite Auditorium. Turkeys and a large number of trophies will be given away. A cordial invitation is extended all humane-minded people to come to this homeless children benefit; or, if they cannot be present, ask or send for a 50c admission ticket from any San Jose Native. Help our kiddies!—C.A.G.

ACTIVITIES ALAMEDA COUNTY NATIVES

THE COMBINED ALAMEDA COUNTY Parlors Committee on Homeless Children reports everything in readiness for the second annual monster whist party to be held at the Oakland Auditorium for the benefit of the homeless children Saturday evening, December 7. The booster committee, headed by Dr. A. Silva, reports a huge advance sale of tickets. Ted Markert, chairman of chairs and tables, is making provision for the accommodation of 2,000 players. East Bay merchants have been lavish with donations of gifts, as have most of the county Parlors and many individuals. The aim of the county Parlors is to fill the Auditorium and make this benefit one of the largest of its kind ever held in the East Bay.

Last year many players commented on the manner in which the huge party was conducted, without confusion of any kind. This was due to the use of loud speakers, and to the efficient management of Joseph Samuels, a West Oakland businessman who is a professional director of card parties. He has again offered his services, and the committee is fortunate in receiving his aid. Chairman Harold Farley and Co-chairman Irma Caton are very well pleased with the progress made by the committee, and all signs point to a grand success for this worthy enterprise.

Native Sons of the Golden West

"DEAR SIRS AND BROTHERS: THE months have rapidly flown by and once again we find ourselves upon the threshold of the holiday season. Christmas and New Year to the civilized world are days of rejoicing—and well they might be. The birthday of the Christ Child is not only a day of merriment and festivities, but it has a deeper religious meaning. It is a day which kindles in our hearts lively sentiments of love of God and fellowmen. The first day of the new year is not proclaimed a holiday merely to celebrate, make merry and draw up new resolutions soon to be broken, but it has its sober and more serious meaning.

"As the Saviour's birthday nears let us stop and exercise through practical demonstration our principle of charity. The custom of many of the Subordinate Parlors in having Christmas trees, parties, etc., for the little ones, or of providing substantial cheer in the way of foodstuffs and clothing for the destitute, is indeed commendable and is a practice that might be emulated by all Parlors. It is a kindly act to stop while enjoying the holiday happiness within our own circle and to consider and help those less fortunate. What the new year holds for us none of us know, but let us meet the coming year with fortitude and a firm purpose of making the best of what God has in store for us.

"Along with other resolutions let us make two or three which will not be broken. Let us resolve to be more faithful in our attendance at our Parlor meetings. Let us resolve to do our share in the working of our Subordinate Parlor. Let us resolve to see to it that the aims and purposes of our organization are explained by us to at least one eligible Californian who has not yet availed himself of the privilege of belonging to our Order. In short, let us resolve to be better Native Sons.

"To the Officers and Members of all Subordinate Parlors I extend my most sincere and cordial greetings for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

"HARMON D. SKILLIN,
"Grand President N.S.G.W.

Impressed.

The Grizzly Bear for November gave an account of the dedication at Point Loma (San Diego) September 28 of the Cabrillo National Monument, and a marked copy of the number was sent to Dr. Joao Antonio de Bianchi, Minister of Portugal to the United States, who delivered the dedicatory address. In acknowledgment, the following was received:

"The Portuguese Minister presents his compliments to Mr. Clarence M. Hunt, Managing Editor of 'The Grizzly Bear,' thanks him for the marked copy of this month's issue kindly sent to him and would appreciate receiving three more copies.

"Senhor J. de Bianchi read with much interest the remarks in connection with the Cabrillo dedication, as he keeps a very pleasant recollection of his meeting such distinguished officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West and was impressed by the organisation and activities of this Association.

Homeless Children

THE LAST MEETING OF THE NATIVE Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee on Homeless Children was held November 15 at 998 Eddy street, San Francisco. Chairman Ariana W. Stirling being ill, Vice-chairman Martin J. Dinkelspiel voiced the hospitality of the six members present when he welcomed Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. and urged him to attend the meetings when in San Francisco. Meyer expressed pleasure at having been able to accept Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig's invitation to meet with the members—to enjoy the workings of the Committee, to listen to the confronting problems and the plans and proposals for meeting the needs of the work. Meyer stated he wanted the Central Committee to know that the members of the Orders in the southland are not forgetting their responsibilities for the work of the children, and are devising ways and means in which to bring the work most effectively before the public and to interest a larger and perhaps a heretofore uninterested group. The members of the south hope to arrange something worthwhile before April first, the end of the fiscal year, he said.

The Secretary of the Committee reported ninety-eight placements, making five additional placements over the same period of last year. She stated, however, that the number of foster parents who have secured their own children and have appealed to the organization to straighten out the law requirements has increased. This, while demanding a corresponding degree of work and expense of investigation, has lightened the expenditures for the children's board. Disbursements for October amounted to $1,179.61; receipts, $674.18. Refund on board from county and state, $10.00; from parents, $413.33.

Contributions from Native Daughters Parlors: Chispa No. 40, $20.10; Laura Loma No. 182, $8.00; Mount Lassen No. 215, $10.00. Contributions from Native Sons Parlors: Las Positas No. 96, $35.00; San Diego No. 108, $10.00. Joint Parlors: Menlo No. 185 N.S.G.W. and Menlo No. 211 N.D.G.W., $50.00. Milk fund of Native Daughters, $54.30: Presidio Parlor No. 148 completed payment of third child, "Ronald;" Marinita Parlor No. 198, in full for second child, "James Bert;" Californiana Parlor No. 247, $37.50 in full payment for a third child, "Charles." Dividends amounted to $20.45. Refund on insurance, $3.00. Mr. and Mrs. Emrys Williams, friends of the work, have contributed $40.00.

The San Francisco Joint N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Committee gave a second enjoyable affair for the benefit of the homeless children work the evening of November 16 in the Municipal Auditorium. The ball was well attended, and a very colorful and interesting spectacle. The drum corps of both the Native Daughters and the Native Sons drilled exceptionally well. Deciding the winning teams could not have been an easy task, as all were about perfect and were most attractively uniformed.

The combined N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Parlors of Alameda County are preparing for a monster benefit whist in the Oakland Auditorium December 7, and hard working committees are leaving nothing undone to make the benefit a success in every way.

The Parlors of the state are responding with each incoming mail, telling of plans to give entertainments, dances or card parties at the times most auspicious for their separate communities.

The Christmas season, as usual, reminds the childless families of their real need, and applications for children to adopt continue to pour in, which bodes well for the child in need of a real home.

FOR A CHRISTMAS REMEMBRANCE, send The Grizzly Bear to a friend. Anywhere in the United States, $1.50 the year. DO IT NOW!

(NEAL BATCHELOR.)

SAN BERNARDINO—ARROWHEAD PARlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. has already begun preparations for its most colorful event of the year, the New Year Eve benefit grand ball. Under the direction of General Chairman F. Lemar McGarvey, committees are functioning and active plans are under way to make the ball this year the most successful in the thirteen years that it has been staged. Heads of various subcommittees are Ed P. Doyle, Neal Batchelor, Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven, M. G. Hale, J. A. Olivas, R. B. Finkle, Dr. R. L. White, H. N. Johnson and R. W. Brazelton.

At the monthly meeting of Arrowhead Past Presidents Assembly in San Bernardino November 22 Governor Dwight L. Bryant presided. The principal features of the meeting were reports from Judge Donald E. VanLuven, F. L. McGarvey, Walter E. Hiskey and Walter Geisler of the General Assembly session in San Francisco which they attended.

Another activity of Arrowhead Parlor during November was the annual Thanksgiving Eve turkey dinner. A large crowd attended the event, arranged by R. B. Finkle. President Harold G. Lord was the principal speaker, and he cited the growth of the Parlor in recent years, Arrowhead now having a membership of 574.

Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven paid official visits to four northern California Parlors during November: Piedmont No. 120 (Oakland) the 14th, Oakland No. 50 the 15th, Golden Gate No. 29 (San Francisco) the 18th and Sea Point No. 158 (Sausalito) the 20th.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS ADD TEN.

San Bernardino—The history and landmarks committee of Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. sponsored a silver tea at the home of Chairman Clara Barton November 3. A large crowd attended, and an interesting musical program was presented. Officers of the Parlor assisted in the reception line, Past President Rhoda Smith presided at the coffee samovar and President Evelyn Shaddox poured tea. Miss Barton wore a duplicate of the costume worn by her grandmother in 1854, and the officers were dressed in their installation gowns. Interesting pioneer relics were on display. November 11 several members of the Parlor took part in the Armistice Day parade.

November 13 a spanish dinner was served, with Lucy Mecham, Bertha Heap and Marjorie Beck in charge. Special guests were sixteen deputy grand presidents, who had charge of the evening's work. Ten candidates were initiated. The hall was decorated with large baskets of autumn flowers and ferns. Special guests were Grand Trustees Hazel Hansen and Nellie Cline, and Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg. The presiding officer of the evening was Deputy Dolores Malin Luckey, and Lola Stewart was the soloist.

FIRST THANKSGIVING IN CALIFORNIA.

"Sacramento was the scene of the first Thanksgiving Day celebration in California," according to the Sacramento Bee. "This was held in the First Church of Christ (Congregational), where Rev. J. A. Benton, the pastor, delivered a sermon on 'California As She Was, As She Is and As She Is To Be.' It was on November 30, 1850."

In Memoriam

JOHN T. STAFFORD

Sacramento Parlor No. 3 of the Native Sons of the Golden West greatly deplores the death of Brother John T. ("Happy Jack") Stafford, one of its pioneer members, having been a member for more than fifty years and also a Past President for more than fifty years. His genial disposition and cordial greetings to everyone will be sadly missed not only by the members of his Parlor but by the community in general, for Brother Stafford had a statewide acquaintance. The numerous editorials in the daily press were wonderful tributes to a wonderful man. In the early history of our Order he was a delegate to the Grand Parlor, and he often related how he stole away from his employment to break the tie that elected our lamented Past Grand President John Grady.

In the passing of Brother Stafford, many of our members feel a keen personal loss, and the sympathy of the Parlor is extended to his beloved relatives. Sacramento Parlor and the State of California have sustained a great loss in the death of John T. Stafford.

"There is a lonesome place among our brothers, but we have only to close our eyes and that kindly spirit is with us and will always remain as long as those who knew him live." Respectfully submitted,

C. A. ROOT,
T. W. McCLIFFE,
F. E. MICHEL,
Board of Trustees.

Sacramento, November 17, 1935.

MARY EILEEN MULLER.

Whereas, our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom having seen fit to take from our midst a most earnest and loving sister, we the members of Richmond Parlor record with profound sorrow the death of Mary Eileen Muller. She was for twenty-six years a member of Richmond Parlor No. 147 N.D.G.W. and was ever ready to advance its usefulness by material contributions as well as by wise counsel and enthusiasm for its aims. With a realization of our loss is mingled deep sympathy for the members of her family. Be it, therefore,

Resolved, That this expression of sympathy and appreciation be sent to the family and also that it be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, and that a copy be sent The Grizzly Bear.

WILMINGTON — SEPULVEDA PARlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. will be represented at the group initiation at Santa Monica, December 4, by a large delegation of members and several candidates. At nomination of officers November 14, George Gligo was selected to succeed Frank Bronson as president. From past activities, he promises to make a fine leader; he has many things planned, and he is a good funds-extractor as well.

A tamale dinner was served at the meeting's close. Among the speakers were Henry E. Carter, District Deputies Erwin Harper and Edward Baldwin, and Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards.

J. C. McQuiddy is still confined to his home by illness. Peter Sabano is back at work after a severe sickness. Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards and Jack Mele are now trying for ducks. Lawrence Johansen has become a benedict. J. A. Tafoya is still on the sick list. Frank Bronson and family have moved to Arlington, Riverside County, where he has a responsible position.—W.A.R.

A BEACON UPON A HILL

COLUMBIA (TUOLUMNE COUNTY)—Historic St. Anne's Church was marked with a bronze plaque by Dardanelle No. 66 (Sonora), Golden Era No. 99 (Columbia) and Anona No. 164 (Jamestown) Parlors N.D.G.W., October 27. Rev. Father James Gilmartin pronounced an invocation, introductory remarks were made by President Tobias W. Wilzinski of Tuolumne Parlor No. 144 N.S.G.W. (Sonora), and Mrs. Clarisse McHenry sang "I Love You, California." Past President Edwin L. Forster of Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W. (San Francisco) delivered the dedicatory address, saying, in part:

"The ground upon which we now stand was given to the church by Padre Arnault in 1850. The building's erection was begun in 1852. It is said to have been the first and largest brick church in California at the time it was built. The principal funds required, and much of the labor and materials used were donated by the then residents of this county. The bricks were baked in the kilns located on the Sonora-Springfield road. The timbers were hewn near the location of the church and finished at Saw Mill Flat. The interior decorations and altar paintings were the work of James Fallon, son of a pioneer hotelkeeper. The building was completed in 1856, with Father Daniel Slattery as the first priest and leader. The belfry was added in 1857. The bell was cast at New York at a cost of $1,500. It was brought here by way of Cape Horn, and dedicated shortly after its arrival. . . . Repairs were added to the building in 1906, at which time it was re-dedicated to its holy work. In 1910 the building was considered unsafe for use, and services were temporarily suspended. Again was it restored, and re-dedicated June 13, 1926, since which time regular services have been conducted in it.

"But, my good friends, this mark bears a two-fold significance, for, aside from its historic feature, it marks a spot upon which there has stood since 1856 a house of worship which, for all these years, has been a beacon light upon a hill, consecrated to God and shedding its lustre of Christian love and helpfulness upon all mankind. . . .

"And, this morning, may there come into the heart of each one here present quickening desire to live and to act in the spirit of love toward his fellowman. May this church go on in the fulfillment of its good works. May the splendid efforts of the Native Daughters of the Golden West bear fruit in abundance. May our good State of California continue to thrive as she has in the past, and may each one of us do our utmost in the way of helpfulness toward mankind."

Sacramento City has voted $596,000 bonds for five municipal projects.

headed by President Ada Steele. The supper and card party, with Margaret Donlan as chairman, will be held at Masonic Temple the first week of December.

The Glendale Park Association requested three members of Verdugo to act as judges for prizes to be given for the finest outdoor Christmas tree. Dorothy Ravn, Evalyn Wilson and Ada Steele were named. Plans are being completed for a food sale, with Myrtize Tregea as chairman.

MOST COMMENDABLE DEED.

Thanksgiving Day, at 12 o'clock noon, the City Administration opened wide the doors of the Bernstein Fish Grotto, that popular food emporium at 424 West Sixth street, to 2,000 needy folk. Free transportation was provided for aged and infirm guests by the Yellow Cab Company. Full course turkey dinners, with all the trimmings, were served all noon and afternoon by the faithful employes of the establishment. Radio and stage entertainers were on hand while the guests enjoyed the dinner, fashioned after a menu arranged by the family of the late Maurice Bernstein. Captain Jere Cline of the Los Angeles Fire Department supervised the distribution of tickets.

Bernstein's and Manager Tresser are deserving of much praise for this excellent act of charity, which has been exemplified annually since 1930 in Los Angeles by the present management, and in San Francisco for many, many years.

CARDS, FOR CHILDREN'S BENEFIT.

The November 13 card party of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. for the benefit of its clubhouse fund was largely attended, forty tables being in operation. Matty Gara headed the arrangements committee. November 23, President Leonie Clos entertained the sewing club at her home.

For the benefit of the homeless children, Los Angeles will have a card party at the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover, December 11. Edna Trombatore is in charge. All Natives are urged to come, and bring their friends.

PISTOL TEAM THRILLS.

The monthly birthday dinner of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. November 15 was exceptionally well attended. Special guests included all grand officers and deputies of the Native Sons and Native Daughters and members of the Interparlor Committee. Ernest Orfila called the roll of Ramona's members born in November, several of whom responded with brief remarks. After the dinner the sheriff's pistol team gave a thrilling exhibition of expert shooting. Five candidates were initiated November 8.

Ramona will have a Christmas party December 20 at which the wives and children of its members will be special guests. December 13 a class of candidates will be initiated, and officers will be elected December 6.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Walter Odemar (Ramona N.S.) went to the "big" football game at Palo Alto last month.

Mrs. Hazel B. Hansen (Grand Trustee N.D.) of Glendale was a visitor to San Francisco last month.

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

IT IS CHRISTMAS TIME, AND TOYLAND IS the most wonderful place you have ever seen, with many things you have never even dreamed about. Santa is on hand to take orders and you may see a clown, a magician and a real live reindeer from Santa land. Grownups will enjoy the display as much as the kiddies, so be sure to visit the storybook land. What a thrill it will be to walk right through the covers of a book into the wonderful country of "Humpty Dumpty" and "Jack and the Bean Stalk."

Not in many years have we been so monogram minded. With the vogue for monograms sweeping the country, we may personalize practically any type of gift. What a thrill, when one opens the monogramed gift! It is so personal and so much a part of the recipient. For the boys, dad, hubby or sweetie this Christmas, give lasting gifts such as monogramed shirts of white lustrous broadcloth with non-wilt collars, tailored in the correct custom. This is a gift such as every man wants, for he never has too many crispy white shirts. Printed broadcloth or woven madras shirts are also good. The non-wilt collars keep smooth and neat. No starch is needed.

We see many gorgeous ties and socks to select from. Handkerchiefs come in silk and linen with plain white or attractive colored borders. There are smart looking sweaters, scarfs and robes. Pajamas come in luxurious sleeping garments called the "graucho." They are well tailored in smart new shades such as wine, navy and blue. Here is a word to the wife: give hubby a robe. Warm robes will bring the sparkle to any man's eyes. Full wraparound models have solid colors with contrasting trim.

Give useful leather gifts to dad, uncle or brother. A selection of styles in leather individualizes your gift, and the name or monogram may be stamped in gold. A leatherette hassock adds comfort to the lounge chair or is useful in front of the radio. These are available in green and black, brown and beige, or red and black.

Newest glove styles are swagger or shorties in glazed tailleurs or soft sleek skins. Superb styles are flatteringly fitted. The glorious types are roll top or split top in black, brown, wine or navy. There are gloves for every occasion, from fur-lined driving mitts to shimmering evening velvets. Wool knit hand warmers are bright as a rainbow, and there are warm wool worsteds for kiddies to wear frosty mornings.

There are all kinds of gift hankies. Appenzel types come in quality linen with applique and embroidery. Kerchiefs are hand-rolled in sports styles. Prints come in Porto Rican patterned shades. Initials are embroidered or printed and petit point is seen in four corner designs.

New costume jewelry is shown in metal, and rhinestone clips, pins and bracelets are in demand. Also simulated pearls in one and two strands.

Bags are of every description, with new ideas daily. The latest is the tukway bag, zipper closing. Vagabonds, swagger and top handles come in sabre, baby buffalo or pin calf. The outside pocket for kerchief and gloves is very smart and useful in the shopping bag. There is the superbly tailored bag of real alligator in shades of brown, black, navy and green. Vagabonds have inside zippers or pouches with swinging coin purses.

Gift hosiery is always most acceptable and may be had in london mist, high noon, caribou and spicy shades which every woman knows are popular as can be this season.

Everybody is interested in boudoir slippers, and there are many attractive styles to select from at this time. The bobtail boot is a brocade mule fashioned as a boot, with fur cuff and a lining of black, red, gold, blue, green or white.

The most adorable negligees and nighties are handmade and very feminine in pastel shades or white.

There is nothing which pleases quite so much as the personal gift, monogramed of course. Stationery has cut-out monograms in gold on ivory, and silver on white, blue or gray.

Linens, bedding, guest towels, kitchen towels and aprons embroidered and appliqued are always interesting.

Sweaters and blouses have long sleeves. Zephyr wool slipon sweaters are briskly military in new bright and dark shades.

The monogramed scarfs have crepe triangles and self-fringed edges. They are all light in weight and comfortingly soft against the skin. They add a merry Christmas for the winter wardrobe.

November 15 the sewing club of Lugonia met at the home of Hazel Poole to work on articles for the Christmas bazar. November 22 the Parlor entertained with a benefit card party. Each member had guests in her own home, and then all adjourned to another home for the serving of refreshments. The November 27 social hour was in charge of Ruth Roberds. The Thanksgiving theme was carried out. The ways and means committee of the Parlor is holding a paper drive and during the first week of December a rummage sale will be held.—C.B.

HARVEST DINNER.

Ontario—Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. had a "Harvest Dinner" to which the public was invited November 7. Tables were beautifully decorated with grapes and fall fruits under the direction of Marian McKee. Sixty guests sat down to the dinner, following which cards were played and social chat was enjoyed.

The Parlor's sewing club had a luncheon October 26 at the Cucamonga home of Mrs. Frank Van Fleet. Two pioneer members, Henrietta Rowe and Elizabeth Serio, were honored, the occasion being their birthdays. The table was attractive with Mexican cloth and pottery, and in the center was a large birthday cake decorated in yellow. The honored guests were showered with handkerchiefs, birthday cards and the good wishes of those assembled. Following the luncheon the afternoon was spent sewing on aprons. Mrs. M. N. Van Fleet entertained the sewing club at her home with a luncheon November 3. Each member paid for her luncheon, the proceeds to be used for materials for the club. The table was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of green and white, the same colors carried out in the luncheon. A goodly sum was realized. Ontario is making plans to entertain the deputies ritual team December 12.

THE ANNUAL BENEFIT BALL GIVEN by the San Francisco N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Joint Homeless Children Committee at the Civic Auditorium November 16 was attended by approximately 4,500, and was judged one of the finest affairs ever given under the Natives' auspices. The evening opened with contests between drill teams and drum corps, and dancing followed. More than a thousand appeared in the grand march, which was headed by Grand President Harmon D. Skillin and wife, and Grand President Anne C. Thuesen and husband. Many of the participants were in costume, and the resultant picture was a most colorful one. Walter Bammann, the floor director, was assisted by Edw. J. Wren.

Officers of the San Francisco Joint Homeless Children Committee, in charge of the affair, are: Frank M. Buckley, chairman; Alice M. Lane, vice-chairman; Emily Ryan, recording secretary; Bertha Mauser, financial secretary; Martin Huber, treasurer. Grand officers in attendance included: N.S.G.W.—Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Junior Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustees Jesse H. Miller and Leo V. Youngworth. N.D.G.W.—Grand President Anne C. Thuesen, Past Grand President Gladys E. Noce, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel I. Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Trustees Orinda G. Giannini, Alice M. Lane and Alice M. Oldham.

RECEPTION FOR N.D. GRAND PRESIDENT.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen was tendered a reception by the N.D.G.W. Home Committee October 21 and members of the Order from all parts of the state were in attendance. Emily Ryan presided. Bernice Monahan described the symbolism of the Flag of the United States of America and led in the pledge to the flag. Mrs. W. D. James, state president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mayor Angelo J. Rossi were speakers. Musical numbers were rendered by Mafalda Gairaldi, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rode, and Hazel Heyl, contralto, accompanied by Betty Marquis.

As introductions were made, Grand President Thuesen and Past Grands Dr. Mariana Bertola and Carrie R. Durham responded with fitting brief remarks. Representative groups from various San Francisco clubs were present and given recognition. Agnes Curry, second vice-chairman of the Home Committee, presented the members of that committee to the assembled guests, and Marion Curry assisted in directing the guests.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

Pacific Parlor No. 10 celebrated its fifty-fourth anniversary and had its annual oldtimers night November 12. Theodore Lundsted, for fifty-three years a member, took charge of the festivities after the meeting and introduced William Metzner, the first president who, in a splendid address, recounted Pacific's history. Other speakers were Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Trustees Jesse H. Miller and Thomas M. Foley, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Superior Judge Elmer Robinson, Bert Damn and Frank Klimm. Fine entertainment was provided, and the occasion closed with a banquet.

South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 had its annual Armistice Day banquet and received an official visit from Grand Trustee Thomas M. Foley November 13. Guests of the evening were all ex-service men of the Parlor and grand officers, and more than 200 assembled to do honor to those who served in the World War. Grand Trustee Foley was the principal speaker of the evening, and addresses were also made by Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Second Vice Eldred L. Meyer, District Deputy C. J. Ryan, Superior Judge Elmer Robinson, Municipal Judge George W. Schonfeld and Past President Charles Hogan of South San Francisco, who spoke for all ex-service men. Musical numbers included selections by the San Francisco Fire Department quartet directed by Lieutenant Murray, accordion solo by Wm. Sarcander Jr., and community singing under the direction of Lionel Smith, Thos. Keating and Lloyd D rnel.

Presidio Parlor No. 194, assisted by Presidio Parlor No. 148 N.D.G.W., observed American Education Week at Sherman school, near where No. 194's new hall is to be built. Mayor Angelo J. Rossi opened the program, and Ramsay Moran represented the American Legion. Robert F. Gray, director adult education for the San Francisco public schools, spoke on "Adult Education," and Edward M. Leonard, assistant district attorney, spoke on "The Problem of the Juvenile Court." Musical selections were rendered by the R.O.T.C. military band of Galileo high school. Peter T. Conmy, history instructor at Mission high school, was chairman of the evening.

Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214 and South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 played a game of donkey baseball November 15 in the Civic Auditorium before an audience of 3,000. South San Francisco's team won by a score of 12 to 3, principally because they were better riders than Twin Peaks' team.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

November 23 the Parlor had its annual whist party, which was largely attended and proved a social and financial success.

Keith Parlor No. 137 had an official visit from Grand President Anne C. Thuesen October 24. Two candidates were initiated, and Mrs. Thuesen delivered an interesting and instructive message. Vocal selections were rendered by the Parlor's glee club. Several presentations were made, and refreshments were served. Visitors included Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Lane and Alice Oldham, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Past Grands Eliza Keith, Margaret Hill and Mae Boldemann, and Deputy Rena Taube.

Dolores Parlor No. 169's Hallowe'en party was well attended. The hall and banquet tables presented a festive appearance, with orange and black the predominating note. Past Grand Evelyn Carlson was chairman, and Lillian Wales, Ann Godfrey and Deputy Ruby Bried were visitors. November 13 Juanita Blanchfield recited "The Observance of Armistice Day" and members of the Parlor stood in reverent silence in honor of the World War departed. Autumn leaves, golden zinnias and lighted tapers decorated the tables for the Thanksgiving social. Mrs. and Miss Hubener and Margaret Dahlstrom were visitors. Dolores will have a turkey whist December 12. Past Grand Carlson, the chairman, is being assisted by Alma Hall and Norma Wendt. George Stelling of Dolores Parlor No. 208 N.S.G.W. will direct the play.

Mrs. Clifford gave an inspiring talk, and on behalf of the Association she was presented with a token of esteem by President Ann Franzen. Refreshments were served at tables decorated in Hallowe'en colors. Mae Noble was chairman of the evening.

The November 8 San Francisco County district meeting, honoring Grand President Anne C. Thuesen, was a huge success. "Winter Wonderland Parlor No. 1935" was in session under the supervision of Supervising Deputy Nan Kelly, and several candidates were initiated. Following these ceremonies guests were admitted and a program was presented. All of the present and many of the past grand officers were in attendance.

GOVERNMENT IS A RACKET! POSITIVE proof of that declaration is to be found in news percolating from the Capital City of California anent the conduct of the State Government. But, the half has not yet, and in all likelihood never will be, told. Little wonder that taxpayers must dig up $60,000,000 more this year than they did last year. Rackets, government and otherwise, are very expensive, but the political machine must be maintained in apple-pie order. The cost to the taxpayers of California this year is $575,000,000!

What otherwise can be expected, when thousands of dollars mysteriously "disappear" from the state treasury, when hundreds of state liquor-license checks "vanish," and state dole-checks are cashed by others than the ones for whom intended; when those on the state payrolls use public funds to pay private bills; when thousands of "influentials" are granted above-the-law state favors; when autos bought and operated with taxpayers' dollars are used by state officials and employes for the pleasure and convenience of their families and themselves; when elective and appointive state officials drawing "fat" salaries collect large additional daily sums for residing at home and other "expenses;" when state officials make out-of-state trips, at public expense, to further their private political ambitions; when a scheme to enrich private individuals for collecting taxes that should, if owing, be collected by state officials in office for that purpose, is approved by the legislature and the governor; when additional bureaus, commissions and whatnots are created to increase the personnel of the political machine, ad infinitum?

Don't you, taxpayers, think there is need for a thorough cleanup of the State Government—from basement to dome, and not overlooking the senate and the assembly chambers? Don't you think it is time to place honest and competent officials in charge of State affairs, and to reduce by millions—not by a measly five or ten dollars a month taken, for propaganda purposes, from a few underpaid subordinates—the outrageous cost of government?

Well, it's up to you, taxpayers, to bring about needed reform—changes—in the State Government setup. You, and you alone, can do it, effectively and speedily, if you will to do it. You can accomplish nothing, however, by talk and resoluting; by neglecting to vote and thereby permitting the "political gang" to maintain control—for their wellbeing, not for the good of the State. The recall is available as a government-cleaning instrument, and a tax strike would accomplish wonders! If you're not interested, if you want to be held up, via taxation, by the political racketeers, okeh. But be assured that, if there be no cleanup, the tax-load will continue to be increased, and eventually the Ship of State will go upon the rocks.

Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, the broadcasting priest who is exceedingly well informed on public matters and has the intestinal fortitude to express his opinions in no uncertain terms, scathingly rebuked the New Deal, November 17, saying that the administration "has one foot in pagan communism and one foot in plutocracy." Lambasting the AAA, he voiced opposition to "'Tugwellism,' which kills pigs and destroys crops, not because there is too much to eat but because there is too much money."

Declaring there is no provision in the laws of California providing for the giving of any of the taxpayers' money to any group, the auditor of Butte County refuses to pay appropriations made by the board of supervisors to organizations for exploiting that county's resources.

Millions of the near-bankrupt Los Angeles County taxpayers' dollars are annually handed out to "promotion" organizations and other favored groups. Some private citizen should press this "hunch" in an endeavor to plug that leak in the public funds of the "County of the Angels," otherwise the handout will be continued. It's an old political custom there.

In the course of an Armistice Day address at Washington, D. C., President Roosevelt referred to a "definite agreement" reached by the Canadian Prime Minister and himself which will "work to the advantage of both Canada and the United States."

Evidently the dirt-farmers of this nation think this reciprocal trade treaty is not to the advantage of the United States for, a week later, the National Grange, in session at Sacramento, unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the Federal Administration to rescind the "definite agreement" and, "If these treaties are not rescinded, we demand repeal of the Reciprocal Tariff Act just as soon as the Congress convenes."

Referring to American Jews protesting against Uncle Sam's participation in the Olympic games at Berlin, General Charles H. Sherrill, United States member of the International Olympic Committee, recently said in New York, according to the San Francisco Chronicle:

"I'm not here to start any anti-Semitic waves, but I warn of the danger of such a development if 5,000,000 Jews in the United States can make 125,000,000 Americans pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the Jews in Germany."

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

The bankruptcy and the reorganization laws have been, and are being, used by shylocks to relieve themselves of burdensome contracts and to fleece investors out of millions. The relieving-fleecing game has, in fact, become a racket that stinks like a dead mackerel rotting in the moonlight.

Committees of the Federal Congress investigating this racket have uncovered facts that warrant the opinion that there should be some forced vacancies in federal judgeships and bankruptcy refereeing, and also that there should be forceful prosecution of prominent shylocks and their lawyers for framing, and putting over, shady bankruptcies and reorganization schemes.

Calling attention to the fact that Federal Government expenditures, $8,500,000,000, exceed by $2,000,000,000 the national income, Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State under President Wilson, cautions: "Such figures spell the inevitable, the inescapable destruction of the value of our currency and the collapse of our national credit. Toward both of these we are moving with steady and constantly accelerating pace.

"The warnings of sincere and thoughtful Americans, which today pass unheeded, will be replaced by facts—grim, inexorable facts which no one can longer dispute and the force of which will be felt by everyone—every worker, every man on relief, every housewife. . . . The question of the hour is, can that fundamental good sense of our people be recalled before it is too late—recalled to the service of the nation and to its rescue from policies which have ruined every nation in history which has resorted to them."

A growl of last month: "The New Deal has again postponed the date for discontinuing the dole, and the probability is that the dole will be continued, for a year at least. We have frequently asserted that the dole-dolers are obsessed by fear."

Well, in a Washington conference with Mayors November 18 the President declared: "We don't propose to let people starve after the first of July any more than we have in the past few years." In other words, the dole will be continued indefinitely, regardless of previous declarations otherwise.

Christmas is the birthday anniversary of The Christ. Conditions in this country—moral, economic and government—prompt one to believe that countless numbers of the populace are unacquainted with the teachings of the meek and lowly One. Worship of the dollar-sign, and not of the cross, prevails generally.

In 1874 the combined deposits and capital of all banks in California totaled approximately $100,000,000.

Today the deposits of The San Francisco Bank alone are well in excess of $154,000,000, indicative of how this institution has kept pace with the growth of the state.

FLOOD OF 100,000 ASIATICS

STATEHOOD FOR HAWAII, NOW UNDER consideration by the Federal Congress, is urged by certain elements in the territory because Hawaii's influence in Congress would be greatly increased if it had two senators and a representative with votes, instead of a single delegate without vote. Governor Judd, in 1931, in vetoing a legislative resolution therefor, declared that Hawaii would be unwise to accept statehood until experience had shown how the Asiatic majority would use the franchise.

Among organizations which oppose statehood for clearly defined reasons are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Federation of Labor, State Grange of California and the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

There are in Hawaii today over 100,000 ineligibles, now barred from migration to the mainland (Filipinos and alien first generation Japanese and Chinese) who would be free to settle in any one of the mainland states if and when Hawaii were granted statehood.

It is asserted that Hawaii, as the nation's western outpost, remote from the mainland, should be safeguarded against possibility of disaffection. Its population is 68 percent Asiatic and 38 percent Japanese. Japanese now hold the balance of political power. They will in a comparatively short time control absolutely. While American-born Japanese who have renounced Japanese citizenship may desire to be loyal Americans, not many could oppose the interests of Japan if there be trouble with that nation.

Under Japan's new nationality law all Japanese born in Hawaii after December 1, 1924, lose Japanese citizenship automatically at birth; but 45 percent of that number have been reinstated as Japanese citizens by registration at the Japanese Consulate. Of those born prior to the date named only a small minority have availed themselves of the right to divest themselves of Japanese nationality. The remainder, of their own volition, are subject to Japan's orders in peace and in war.

Over 90 percent of the young Japanese who are American citizens are compelled to attend the Japanese language schools where they are taught loyalty to the Mikado by Japanese teachers, two-thirds of whom are alien Japanese Shintoists, while the remainder are Japanese of American birth who were instructed by those Shintoists. It has been publicly charged and not yet denied that departments of the Japanese government have announced a plan to distribute in Hawaii's Japanese language schools propaganda concerning "Japan's national defense policy" and have succeeded in introducing into Hawaiian public schools, with the aid of the Institute of Pacific Relations and endorsement of the Territorial Education Commissioners, a text book on Japan concealing or misstating the facts which American citizens should know.—California Joint Immigration Committee.

BOOK REVIEWS

"CALIFORNIA: AN INTIMATE GUIDE."
By Aubrey Drury; Harper & Brothers, New York, Publishers; Price, $3.50.

As the title indicates, this 600-page book is a guide to California—an excellent one, that contains a mass of authentic information for both new comers and oldtimers. It has six especially drawn maps, and fifty-two excellent illustrations grouped in a separate section. No portion of the state has been overlooked, and the numerous attractions are delightfully referred to. The book will satisfy anyone interested in California of yesterday and today.

Aubrey Drury, the author, is a native of Sacramento, and he knows well his California. "Because there is no other book precisely in its field, covering all of California," he says, "and because it appears to meet a definite and growing demand, this volume is now offered the public. In not-too-formal manner, it aims to render travels in the Golden State even more interesting and enjoyable, and to aid the general reader to a better appreciation of regions throughout the length and breadth of California. . . . True, this is a long book, but it is a long state. The author, you might think, was tempted to draw a life-size portrait of the subject. The difficulty has been to compress within two covers the outstanding characteristics of each of California's principal regions, bringing in the human associations and local color which make a scenic countryside doubly interesting."

"A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all the other virtues."—Cicero.

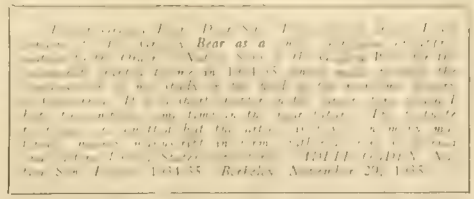
HAVENS FOR WHALERS

Adele Ogden

THE GOLDEN GATE WAS ONCE THE entrance to a whalers' haven. At the close of a long, grueling cruise in the Japanese or Northwest fisheries great numbers of "spouters" steered toward that distant sea portal. Ahead, in California, was good firm earth and a mild climate where sea-fatigued, scurvy-stricken men could recuperate. In California were supplies, wood and water for the next cruise, besides green vegetables and fresh beef, a most welcome break in a long, monotonous diet of salt provisions. And in California was a quiet port where a grimy, battered vessel could be refitted.

With the opening of the fall season the blunt-nosed craft crowded into their southern havens. Sausalito became the favorite anchorage. Proximity of wood, water and provisions, a good muddy anchoring ground, and a comfortable distance from customs officials were all in its favor. Yerba Buena, Monterey, Santa Barbara and San Diego likewise were chosen for refreshment bases as circumstances and changeable laws directed. October was the great month for whalers in California ports. For from two to six weeks all hands were either actively employed on board or on shore, or were letting loose pent spirits in a wild burst of "liberty." Then anchor up and to sea again for a southern or western cruise until the elements quieted on northern grounds.

Only a full picture of the manifold port activities of whaling crews can explain the tremendous importance of California, and especially of San Francisco, as a refreshment base. Log entries are terse, as those of men living full days: "One Boat gone up the Bay." "One watch employed in kiling booloos and salting beef." "Imployed in Boating off potatoes." Behind these statements is the whole story of getting supplies.



Provisions in California were usually plentiful, but whaling crews had to work to get them. Vegetables and meat were obtained for the most part either from the Peraltas or Estudillos on the eastshore, or from the Castros of San Pablo Bay. Richardson at Sausalito specialized in beef and supplied a few vegetables. Let us follow William Osborne on a supply trip made for the whaleship "Benjamin Morgan" of New London which arrived in San Francisco in 1844.

Early in the day a boat from Osborne's ship in company with one from another whaler started on the long, rough pull for San Pablo Bay, ten miles from where the ships were anchored. On the other side they left their launches shoved up on the beach and set out for the Castro ranch, two miles away. It was almost nightfall when they arrived, tired and hungry. "The two captains found good quarters with the host, Jack tar stayed outside." The next day they dug potatoes. Then loading them on an old heavy oxcart, they started off toward the boats. "The wheels and axles did not agree, they made a awful fuss." Coming to a small hill the oxen halted. Not an inch could they advance until the cargo was shifted "so that the weight rested on the cattles heads." Another night was spent in the open, and then the boat was rowed back with a load of vegetables and game.

Most Californians can appreciate to the fullest the following entry in Osborne's account: "Our lodging on this trip for two nights was on a new and improved plan. The captains did not enjoy this luxury. There was eight of us and we had one straw mattress and no pillows or blankets. Every one of us was so poisoned with Rhus toxicodendon (poison oak) we would not get our legs together so each took his share of the mattress placing our heads together in the centre, and radiated. All night I thought of the dear ones at home and the old city of New York where there is no poison oak."

Many other labors attended provision-getting. Sailors had to turn butchers to complete their meat supply in California. Bullocks must be killed, and then salted and packed in casks. Small animals, hogs, sheep and fowls were brought to the ship alive. Special attention had to be given to stowage to assure the maximum preservation of all commodities. The all-important staple, potatoes, must be put down in cribs in layers, and each layer carefully covered with lime.

California products were of average quality and of moderate price for the times. One Connecticut sailor on the "Cabinet" in 1846 complained that the potatoes were "about the size of Hickory nuts." On the other hand, Dodge of the "Baltic" of Nantucket in 1831 wrote that the red beans obtained in Monterey were "the finest I ever ate." A scarcity of fruit was observed after the secularization of the missions. The following list indicates both the range of prices paid by whalers from 1830 to 1844 and the variety of commodities taken: Bullocks, seven to eight pesos; sheep, two pesos; lambs, one peso; potatoes, sixty-two to seventy-three centavos an arroba; beans, two to five pesos a fanega; pumpkins, ten centavos each; onions, one peso seventy-three centavos to two and one-half pesos an arroba; apples, three to three and one-half pesos a bag.

"All hands inployed gitting worter." A man-sized job is briefly recorded by the keeper of the log. Satisfactory watering places were scarce along the coast. At Monterey whaling crews had to dig their own wells before 1844. In that year Larkin invested between $2,000 and $3,000 in "making wells and walling in a large piece of land near the beach for the benefit of whalers." Yerba Buena could not be depended upon for water. No single well was large enough to supply any one whaler's needs, and the task of collecting water from several wells was forbidding. In an attempt to meet the difficulty Benito Díaz, receiver of the customs at San Francisco, recommended in February 1844 that a large well especially for whalers be dug near the shore. Eight months later Díaz's project was to be begun "within a short time."

Sausalito was the only really convenient watering place on the coast. A few rods from the shore in a notch in the hills flowed an abundant spring protected and marked by a small shed built around it. Captain Richardson, described by one whaleman as a "large-hearted and genial soul," owned the property upon which the water was located and invited all to come and take what they wanted. The benefit was mutual, because more ships meant more beef and farm produce from the Richardson ranch.

The task of rafting water was not an easy one. Some twenty casks holding from five to ten barrels each were becketed into a log-shaped raft. Each cask had four rope handles or beckets fastened under the hoop. Stout ropes were then "run through these beckets on both sides of the casks so as to keep the bungs upright out of the water." Like a long, grotesque sea serpent the raft glided ashore towed by several boats. Then the ropes were detached, and the casks one by one were rolled up on the beach. After being filled they were placed in a row, rerafted, rolled back into the water "like a long log," and towed out to the ship. A large tackle was hooked on to a cask, the becket was cut, and "all hands hoist away on the fall while they sing 'Cheerily men!'"

"One Boat Crew a Shore a Cutting Wood." A butcher, a potato digger, a water carrier, and then a woodchopper the whaleman must be while in port. The tree-covered slopes of Angel Island, San Quentin and Goat Island offered a plentiful supply of good fuel, and what was more, were accessible to whaling boats. Osborne's party tried cutting scrub oak on the southern border of Yerba Buena, but "it was very rough wood, the mud flats prevented us from loading our boats excepting at high tide and we had no teams to draw the wood to the beach." Let him continue with the story:

"On the north side of Goat Island was a narrow sand beach under a steep hill and by cutting a road through the brush and poison oak the wood was easily tumbled down hill to the landing. It was my duty to take the whale boats away from the sand beach and anchor them a few rods from the shore to keep their bottoms from being chafed and roughened by the sand."

"All hands a board imployed in Sundry Jobs of Work." This may be a blanket entry in the log, but is one covering essential activities for which a base was necessary. Other brief phrases amplify the meaning: "Imploy cooperin oil," "Setting up Shooks" and "Breaking out after a Cask that had leaked 10 Gls." The ship above all most be put in shape for the next cruise—the watch employed at cleaning ship, "scraping and painting," "blacking the bend," "decked Ship with fresh buton," "boxed our ash to dry," and "fitting the forevard."

Sickness on board often impelled whaling captains to seek California ports. Rarely did a vessel arrive without having at least several of its crew suffering from some stage of the curvy. The services of Larkin as United States consul in providing for destitute seamen in California were most commendable. A sailor too sick to put to sea again with his vessel was legally discharged by the captain and taken to the Consular Hospital at Monterey. There he was given lodging, medical attendance and board at government expense for a cost of from fifty to seventy-five cents per day. When sufficiently recovered he received an appropriate outfit, and hired himself out to a homeward-bound whaler or trading vessel. In several cases convalescent seamen who attempted to make their own living on farms or on coastal vessels had to give up at the end of six months or a year. Again Larkin came to the rescue, caring for them until they had sufficient strength to take passage for home.

Larkin's services to destitute whalemen also included legal protection at the time of their discharge. In the case of vessels touching at or bringing their sick to Monterey, supervision was easy. The captain was obliged by law to deposit extra pay in the consular office for the discharged mariner, and also was directed to draw up a specific order for the amount due the seaman's lay based on the quantity of oil then on board. The finished form read as the following order drawn in December 1845 by Captain William M. Baker upon Williams and Barnes, owners of the "Montezuma" of New London: "On the arrival of the ship 'Montezuma' from her present voyage, pay to Patrick McCarty his share of 1,740 bbls of whale oil, 60 bbls of sperm oil, and 16,000 lbs of whale bone after deducting charges which are against him."

Such clear-cut and definite orders were not always received, especially from those captains in San Francisco whose sick were sent to Monterey on other vessels. After handling a particularly bad case in 1845, Larkin took up the matter directly with Secretary of State Buchanan himself. He wrote, "A sick destitute man arrived here this month from whaling ship 'Hibernian,' Captain Smith, from San Francisco without $1 extra pay and an order on 'Mr. Fitch' for his lay, no amount named, nor name of port or state where 'Mr. Fitch' belongs. This man has a United States protection but can not write or speak from an impediment, therefore can not tell where he belongs." Larkin pointed out the necessity of remedying "this very imperfect mode of doing business," as "no fixed value can be put on the paper."

All hours were not spent in serious business during a whaler's stay in port. 'Gamming" nights and periods of "liberty" intervened hard work. A rare personal interjection in an 1829 log would indicate that San Francisco did not offer much in the way of amusement when the first whalers arrived—"Not much liberty neither in this doleful place Francisco sure enough I swear." However, as whaling visitors increased, more adequate facilities for horse-hire and new grog shops furnished an outlet. Then there was plenty of "amusement."

A typical horseback ride of a sailor on liberty in San Francisco is described by Osborne. He and the other "boys" walked to Mr. Bennett's "milk ranch" located a quarter of a mile beyond the town. Horses were hired for the day at $1. Then they started on the gallop toward Mission Dolores.

"Over the hills we urged the mustangs at the top of their speed, wild with the excitement of being once more on land and free from ship's discipline—down hill through deep sand with reckless gait. Now and then some luckless chap was pitched over board. I was running down hill, when the saddle slipped. I sailed over the horse's head lighting on all fours, and made hasty tracks to one side to keep the horse from running over me when I found that he had stopped as soon as I left him. . . . Returning to San Francisco we finished up the day by running races from the milk ranch to town and back, but the horses at times would throw in jokes by suddenly stopping and permitting the rider to go on."

Intoxication was the expected aftermath of shore leave, and was handled vigorously by most

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

CITY ATTORNEY RAY L. CHESBRO HAS called to the attention of the Los Angeles City Administration a statute of California which provides: "No person except a native-born or naturalized citizen of the United States shall be employed in any department of the state, county, city and county, or city government in this state. . . .

"It shall be unlawful for any person, whether elected, appointed or commissioned to fill any office in either the state, county, city and county or city government of this state or in any department thereof, to appoint or employ any person to perform any duties whatsoever, unless such person so appointed or employed be a native born or naturalized citizen of the United States."

There is a general belief that there are, on the payrolls of the Los Angeles County and the Los Angeles City governments and the several departments thereof, numerous non-citizens. Some patriotic organization, preferably the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, should go forcibly to the bat on this situation and compel, by court action if necessary, the discharge of ALL NON-CITIZENS. The campaign should also include the forced removal from office of ALL OFFICIALS responsible for the law's flagrant violation. Here's an opportunity for those who really believe in "America for Americans" to render worthwhile service.—C.M.H.

LESS-FORTUNATE REMEMBERED.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. had its annual Christmas party for children December 22, and among the guests were fifty kiddies, aged 5 to 12 years, from the City Welfare Department who otherwise would have had no Christmas. A most enjoyable program was presented, ice cream and cake were served, and from a beautiful tree Santa Claus distributed numerous toys. The committee that arranged for the Parlor to assist in providing a real Christmas for all Los Angeles children included Owen S. Adams (chairman), Walter Smith, Ben Gurewitz, John Meehan, Ray Lemoine and Harry Davis.

Los Angeles' newly-elected officers, with Walter Smith as president, will be publicly installed January 9. A dinner to which all members of the Order are invited will be served by the Parlor at its meetingplace January 23, 6:30 p.m.

AMBITIOUS PLAN.

At a largely attended meeting of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Interparlor Committee December 3 Leo V. Youngworth, Grand Trustee N.S.G.W., submitted a plan for the erection of a museum and a meetingplace for the Pioneers and the Natives in Hancock Park. After extended discussion the Committee approved the plan, which will be submitted to the Board of Supervisors, the site of the proposed structure being public property.

SOMETHING NEW AND LOVELY.

The homeless children committee of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W., Edna Trombatore chairman, sponsored a benefit card party December 11. The attendance was the largest yet recorded for any affair of the kind, and the dollar-results were most gratifying. The Parlor won second prize in a table-setting contest conducted by a department store.

December 24, Los Angeles' social service committee, Anita Aguirre chairman, entertained a hundred children from the Los Angeles County Probation and Charities Departments at a Christmas party at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club. An orchestra furnished music, entertainment was provided and goodies were served. Major J. J. Flynn was master of ceremonies, and Santa Claus and his son worked awfully hard distributing toys to the children.

Los Angeles' January calendar: 8th—Card party, last of the present tournament, Women's University Club; Anna Hall chairman. 15th—Grace No. 242 (Placentia) and Ontario No. 251 Parlors guests of honor. 29th—Something new and lovely, a rushing party for prospective members at the Women's University Club; Marshal Louise McNary, responsible for the arrangements, says every member who fails to bring an eligible will be fined; lovely time promised, with refreshments and entertainment. 25th—Sewing club meets at Third Vice-president Ann Schiebusch's home; it will be interesting.—H.M.

BIG NIGHT, THOROUGHLY ENJOYED.

Santa Monica—Native Sons in droves, from San Diego, San Bernardino, Santa Ana and all Los Angeles County Parlors, trooped to Santa Monica Bay No. 267 N.S.G.W., December 4, for that Parlor's annual lobster feast and the group initiation of District No. 1. From beginning to end, it was a big night, thoroughly enjoyed by the more than 300 who were there.

With President Dewey Houghton of No. 267 presiding, twenty-seven candidates were initiated—seven for Arrowhead No. 110 (San Bernardino), six for Santa Ana No. 265, five for Sepulveda No. 263 (Wilmington), two each for San Diego No. 108, Ramona No. 109 (Los Angeles), Santa Monica Bay No. 267 and University No. 272 (Los Angeles), and one for Hollywood No. 196 (Los Angeles).

Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer presided after the initiation, and among the speakers were Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, who was making his official visit to Santa Monica Bay, Grand Trustees Donald E. VanLuven and Thomas M. Foley, Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer and Dr. A. B. Mayhew. Present also were Past Grand John T. Newell, Deputies Daniel McSweeny, Ivan Harper, Edward Baldwin, Joseph Kelly, Walter Odemar and Maynard Garrison.

Santa Monica Bay's newly-elected officers, with Harry Dailey as president, will be installed January 15. Athletics will be promoted during the new term, and several entertainments are to be featured.

Californiana Parlor No 247 N.D.G.W. fully demonstrated during December that it is better to give than to receive. Funds for philanthropic work were obtained from the December 11 annual bazar. The sewing circle provided many attractive articles, the hospitality committee served a delicious luncheon, and December birthday honorees received many beautiful cards.

The December 16 Christmas party was a delightful affair. Luncheon was served a hundred guests. Augusta Webber was hostess. Gertrude Tuttle was program chairman, and presented Jean Farr in a Christmas story, and Hortense Steinike and Margaret Harris in duets, followed by assembly singing. December 11 officers were unanimously re-elected, with Flora Jacobson as president. Californiana is vacationing until January 15.

WALK FORWARD.

The spirit of Christmas prevailed at Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W., December 23, the evening's festivities beginning with a 7 o'clock dinner. Henry G. Bodkin provided the feast, which was prepared by Harold Thomas and Edgar Black. The theme of the evening was "Let us walk forward into the new year vigorous and striving."

ROSEVILLE (PLACER COUNTY)—THE grand officers dedicated the Woodbridge elementary school in the presence of 400 people November 24. This school was named in memory of the late Dr. B. Woodbridge who, for more than a half-century, gave service to residents of Roseville and surrounding communities. The program of dedication was arranged by Secretary M. E. Reed of Rocklin No. 233 and City School Superintendent W. T. Eich. The drum corps of Sacramento No. 3 headed a parade to the school edifice.

The dedicatory ceremonies were conducted by Grand President Harmon D. Skillin and Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, both of whom made addresses, Grand Third Vice Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Grand Trustee Edward T. Schnarr. Musical selections were rendered by the Roseville union high school orchestra, and flag raising ceremonies were conducted by the Boy Scouts of America.

CITY HALL DEDICATED.

Santa Ana (Orange County)—The new $130,000 City Hall was dedicated December 3 by Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice Hartley Russell, Grand Second Vice Eldred L. Meyer and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. Among the many others in attendance were Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, Past Grands Herman C. Lichtenberger and John T. Newell, and Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer. The Santa Ana municipal band furnished music, and Santa Ana Post of the American Legion presented the United States of America flag.

Grand President Skillin, in the course of an outstanding address, said: "We always have felt that no better description of the hopes of a community could be found than that which we have placed upon this and many other plaques in the Golden State during the years of our organization. 'Truth, Liberty, Toleration'—there are no better principles than these.

"Tolerance for our fellowmen, tolerance even for those who do not believe as we do, tolerance for those whose religion differs from ours—but no tolerance for those who would tear down the Stars and Stripes! Our only lack of toleration must be found in our intolerance for fascism, communism and all other 'isms' which lead to weakening of our governments." Santa Ana No. 265 assisted in arranging the program of dedication, and Councilman Joseph P. Smith presided.

HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATED.

Sebastopol (Sonoma County)—In the presence of 1,000 persons, Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice Hartley Russell, Grand Third Vice Joseph J. McShane and Grand Secretary John T. Regan dedicated the Analy union high school December 5. Prior to the ceremonies the grand officers were the guests of the Board of School Trustees at a largely attended dinner.

Principal George C. Jensen of the Sacramento high school delivered a wonderful address, in the course of which he declared that "realization of the more abundant life will only come when education has eradicated all ignorance." Other speakers on the splendid program were Grand President Skillin and Junior Past Grand Koenig. W. S. Borba was chairman Sebastopol No. 143's committee that arranged the program of dedication.

SUNNY SAN JOAQUIN

(J. H. MARTIN.)

When the magic word was spoken and in every language told
That the hills of California were filled with yellow gold,
There came a throng of treasure seekers each intent on wooing fate,
Each by hope and fear hard ridden lest perchance he be too late.
Twixt the sea coast and the mountains, where the god of gold held sway,
Lay this vast uncharted valley with no roads to point the way.
But the men who crossed the deserts and those who o'er the ocean came
Had the courage and the spirit that no obstacles could tame.
With no compass and no sign post, but by high adventure led,
Onward, ever onward, toward their golden goal they sped.
And the trails they left in passing are the highways of today,
With smooth and even pavements to swiftly speed us on our way.
Soon there came another legion, but a different type of man—
One who sought a home and plenty for his family and his clan.
Never had he seen in visions aught to equal what was here,
Endless miles of fertile prairie with rivers deep and clear.
Here was all he'd sought for, here at last his journey's end;
Here mid peace and plenty a fitting place his life to spend.
Soon this mighty Valley that had known but summer's sun and winter's rain
Filled the ships of nations with its flood of precious grain.
From that far beginning when came the hardy Pioneer
Progress was the watchword, step by step and year by year.
When the golden grain age ended new visions then were wrought.
Eyes were turned unto the mountains—water from the snows was brought,
Dams were built and rivers halted that the waters might be stored
And o'er the sun-drenched valley in endless streams be poured.
Never since the Pilgrims landed and the westward tide began
Have the Gods of Nature and Abundance so freely smiled on man.
Where once were scattered ranches and miles of grain were seen.
There now are homes in thousands mid fields of waving green.
And the gold the miners gathered by hardship and by toil
Seems as but a trifle to the gold within this soil.
And the Nile in all its glory, but with centuries between,
Has now a worthy rival in the Sunny San Joaquin!

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear from J. H. Martin, a member of Las Positas Parlor No. 96 N.S.G.W. (Livermore) residing at Escalon, San Joaquin County, who says: "It is just a crude effort on my part, as a Native Son and for years a resident of the San Joaquin Valley, to express my sentiments in a poetical way."—Editor.)

California History Speaking Contest.

Sacramento—The sixth annual speaking contest on California history for students of the Sacramento high school, sponsored by Sacramento No. 3, was held December 12 before a large crowd. Chairman Forrest F. Stead presided. Prize winners, and their subjects, were: Milford Pribble, "The Guardians of the Sacramento Frontier," first; Aletha Almeida, "Bring Me Men To Match My Mountains," second; Margaret Scheiber, "Pastimes of the Forty-niners," third; Carolyn Dudley, "The Express of Early California," fourth. Other participants, and their subjects, included: Lee Sherrell, "Jedediah Strong Smith;" Jane Loranger, "The Founding of Los Angeles;" Richard Horrell, "The New Almaden Mine;" Bill McCalmot, "Origin of the University of California." Musical selections were rendered by students of the high school.

Remarkable Recovery.

Bakersfield—In honor of Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Bakersfield No. 42 initiated twenty candidates December 14. During 1935 the Parlor added forty-five names to its roster, and its membership at the close of the year was 116. George E. Taylor, Secretary Henry A. Bannister and District Deputy Mart E. Leonard are largely responsible for No. 42's splendid growth.

The ritual was exemplified by the following: Grand Secretary John T. Regan, president; Mark Wilson (Modesto No. 11), senior past; George E. Taylor (Bakersfield No. 42), junior past; Harold Thomas (Hollywood No. 196), first vice; J. S. Larsen (Modesto No. 11), second vice; Frank Ziegler (Ramona No. 109), third vice; Myron Moyle (Modesto No. 11), marshal; George H. Hansen (Modesto No. 11), inside sentinel.

Grand President Skillin paid tribute to the members of Bakersfield for the remarkable recovery made by the Parlor in the last two years. Other speakers were Grand Trustee Charles D. Blaine, who was making his official visit to the Parlor, Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, District Deputies Daniel F. McSweeny, George H. Hansen and Mart E. Leonard. Prior to the meeting a reception was held and a turkey supper was served. The most successful occasion concluded with a show. Alton Giggy, as president, will head Bakersfield's corps of new officers who will be installed January 3.

"California, Land of Plenty."

Colusa—Colusa No. 69 had its annual homecoming December 10, and 106 of its 144 members responded, including six charter members and twenty-five past presidents. Grand Trustee Adrien M. Hynes was there also, paying his official visit to the Parlor.

A goose stew opened the festivities, and the decorations, arranged by Ray Manville, were most novel. At one end of the room were dried-up limbs and other vegetation, indicating the eastern portion of the United States. In the center were two covered wagons, surrounded by sagebrush and cacti, labeled "California or Bust." At the opposite end was depicted "California, Land of Plenty," with orange-bearing trees, ripening corn and other fresh vegetation.

Charter Member Phil B. Arnold called the roll, Charter Member Tim Sullivan gave the Parlor's history to 1917 and Past Grand Seth Millington continued it to the present. Grand Trustee Hynes was also a speaker. Five candidates were initiated during evening. Ed Cage was head chef for the goose feast, and Floyd Nuckolls headed the serving committee.

EACH NEW YEAR INSPIRES MOST OF us to make new resolutions. It is a time for stock taking, a summing up of financial gains or losses, accompanied by a wish that all bills might be paid, burned, and a new start celebrated in the true Chinese fashion. It is a time of stock taking in conduct, the checking of failures, the realization of a lack in sympathy, perhaps, or of understanding, thoughtlessness toward others in speech or action. It is a time to count our blessings of health and inspiring work, the retention of old friends and the making of new ones.

When this annual taking of stock arrives, only those who have had the privilege of watching hundreds of little children grow and develop in ary the Parlor will initiate a large class of candidates.

Saint Helena.—A large number of members of Saint Helena No. 53, including twenty four past presidents, greeted Grand Third Vice Joseph J. McShane on his December 9 official visit. A turkey supper preceded the meeting. Grand Third Vice McShane spoke on the Order's progress, and among other speakers were Walter Metzner, P. R. Alexander, Dr. L. A. Stern, A. G. Griffith, Oscar Anderson and Lowell Palmer. Arrangements for the occasion were in charge of a committee composed of Frank Harrison, Arnold Metzner and Francis White.

Napa.—Napa No. 62 elected Dr. Weston Coffield president December 2. The Parlor had its annual Christmas highjinks December 21. The committee in charge included Fred Flake (chairman), George Bruno, Rod Longan, Walter West, Beverly Tallman, Ed LeCair and Theodore Freitas.

Redwood City.—Redwood No. 66 presented to Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, a member of the Parlor, United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags during an examination of twenty-nine applicants for citizenship. On Redwood's behalf, the presentation was made by Daniel P. Stafford, A. S. Liguori and Eugene Cerqui.

CHICO—A BUTTE COUNTY DISTRICT meeting arranged by Supervising Deputy Annie Skelly was attended by 120. Annie K. Bidwell No. 168 opened and closed the meeting and Gold of Ophir No. 190 (Oroville) conducted the initiation of seven candidates. After the business meeting Olive Pearl, in top hat and dress suit, was master of ceremonies and a muchly-enjoyed program was presented. The final event was a turkey supper. Among those in attendance were Grand Vice-president Florence D. Boyle, Deputies May Bell Bills and Edna Boyd. Committee chairmen of the occasion were Lois Coleman, Elizabeth Bond, Edna Boyd and Olive Pearl.

Annie K. Bidwell elected officers December 12, Annie Stockstill being chosen president. A subscription was given the community chest. December 20 the Parlor sponsored a Christmas party for members.

A Splendid Help.

Santa Cruz—Past Grand Stella Finkeldey, chairman Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee, received the following letters, which are self-explanatory:

"We have received in good condition the two packages forwarded by you for your organization. The candy was used for your first party as arranged and the old patients recognized it as like that sent last year and congratulated the recipients of this year's prizes for they remembered it as some of the best candy they had ever tasted. The other box of prizes we are so happy to have, as the need for them is upon us. The organizations who entertain before Christmas have finished and the others do not start until near the first of February. We do hope we have been able to make each member of your organization understand what a splendid help in the recreation work your very generous donation is—in fact, we do not know how we could possibly begin to give the patients as many card parties as they want without this wonderful help from you. Thanking you most warmly for your co-operation, very truly yours, S. H. JAMES, M. D., Manager. Veterans Administration, Tucson, Arizona, December 5, 1935."

"We wish to acknowledge the package of playing cards recently received from you. These are beautiful cards and the patients will be delighted to have new ones to use at the card parties. It is certainly thoughtful of you to continue to send these cards each year. With appreciation for your very kind interest in this hospital, and with all the compliments of the coming holiday season, very truly yours, G. C. DANIEL, Acting Manager. Veterans Administration, Walla Walla, Washington, November 30, 1935."

"A DWELLER ON TWO PLANETS."
California Boy Pens Story With Predictions That Have Been Fulfilled.

In 1883, Yreka, Siskiyou County, California, was the scene of the production of an astounding manuscript that today is experiencing an unusual revival of popularity. Though the words were penned by seventeen-year-old Frederick Oliver, he claims they were not his, but were "dictated" to him by a discarnate mentor who signed himself "Phylos—the Tibetan" and who claimed to be a member of that mysterious fraternity reputed to live near the top of Mount Shasta.

Young Oliver declared he was acting only as a stenographer for Phylos, who represented himself as having been an inhabitant of Atlantis about 12,000 years ago. Whether or not there was a race on the now-sunken continent twelve thousand years ago, the recital of the scientific and political marvels of that race parallel very closely the present-day trends in science and politics. Though, as previously mentioned, the book was written in 1883, it contains detailed descriptions of the radio, television, lighter-than-air craft, and other scientific inventions not then developed but which later became realities. Other startling inventions, not yet developed in this age, are predicted.

Descriptions of social, political and psychological advancements common to Atlanteans are today unmistakably reappearing for, as the author says, "We are Atlantis returned to earth." A fascinating romance, covering first the author's life in Atlantis and later as a prospector on the slopes of Mount Shasta, runs throughout the 420-page book.

To those interested in philosophical and metaphysical explanations, this book offers an unusual treat. It describes in detail the mystery religion as taught in the "Secret Schools" of the priesthood of Atlantis and carries the ancient truths forward into present-day movements. So completely is the religious-mystical philosophy of Atlantis described that the book is now being used as a text book for some mystical organizations in California.

Whatever the reader's viewpoint on these matters may be, he cannot escape the fact that many of the startling predictions made in 1883 HAVE come true and, if he be a keen observer of present-day trends, he can readily see that other predictions, not yet fulfilled, may still come to pass.

This unusual book is entirely a California product, though it has already been sold throughout the civilized world. Written in California by a man who has lived here all his life, it was first published in Los Angeles. Increasing demand prompted the Poseid Publishing Company, 215 West Eleventh street, Los Angeles, to issue a new edition, the sixth, under the title, "A Dweller on Two Planets."—O.A.S.

Aloha No. 106 N.D.G.W., Oakland—December 17 Aloha and Athens No. 195 N.S.G.W. had their annual Christmas party for eighty poor kiddies of the city. Santa Claus presented each kiddy with a stocking filled with goodies and a toy. Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler was in charge of the evening, and was also chairman for the whist parties given in November and December by the two Parlors to raise funds for this very noteworthy enterprise. Aloha enjoyed a social evening December 3. Officers were elected and after the meeting Social Chairman Jennie Peterson and committee served refreshments.

Hayward No. 122 N.D.G.W., Hayward—Hayward elected officers December 3, Katherine Walde being selected for president. December 6 the Parlor joined Betsy Ross No. 238 (Centerville) at a dinner which preceded the official visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen. Hayward's annual Christmas dinner was held December 17. Attending as guests were Deputy Edna Caflisch, who also celebrated her birthday on this date, and Carolyn Hansen, a recent bride of the Parlor. A short meeting followed the dinner, after which a program was enjoyed, terminating with the arrival of Santa Claus and the distribution of gifts from the Christmas tree. The committee in charge of the enjoyable evening included Edna Dobbel (chairman), Eleanor Dobbel and Ethel Young.

Encinal No. 156 N.D.G.W., Alameda—Three candidates were initiated by Encinal December 11. A Christmas party was also given, and forty-two members enjoyed a turkey dinner. After the meeting Christmas carols were sung and dancing ended a very merry evening. Encinal will have public installation February 8. Deputy Olinda Kardoza will be the installing officer, and Stephanie Halod will become the new president.

Brooklyn No. 157 N.D.G.W., Oakland—Brooklyn's officers, with Pearl Swift as president, will be installed January 22. The Parlor had its annual Christmas tree party for members December 4—a little bit early, but the spirit was certainly present. Two most welcome visitors were Supervising Deputy Irma Murray and Deputy Ann Lewis. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in Christmas motifs.

Argonaut No. 166 N.D.G.W., Oakland—Two candidates were initiated by Argonaut November 26. Deputy Dorothy Davis was honored guest of the evening. Chairman Genevieve Sheehan and committee served delicious refreshments. A Christmas party was given by the Parlor for sixteen poor children December 23. A huge decorated Christmas tree aided in making the party a real delight for the kiddies. Toys and stockings filled with candy, fruits and nuts were distributed to them, and ice cream and cake were served. Moving pictures were shown and games were played, and the evening reluctantly drew to a close with merriment for the kiddies and members alike. Argonaut will have joint installation with Claremont No. 240 N.S.G.W. January 14. Dorothy Davis and Frank Smith will officiate as installing officers, and Louise Fratus and Elmer Grey will become the respective presidents. Ella Freitas is chairman of the installation committee for Argonaut. Dancing will follow the ceremonies.

Bahia Vista No. 167 N.D.G.W., Oakland—November 21 Grand President Anne C. Thuesen officially visited Bahia Vista. Others present were Past Grand Evelyn Carlson, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustees Alice Lane, Clara Gairaud and Orinda Giannini, and Supervising Deputy Irma Murray. President Lenol Davis ably presided, and the officers rendered the ritual in a letter-perfect manner, two candidates being initiated. During good of the order four members dressed in old-fashioned white organdy costumes danced a minuet, terminating at the president's station, where each in turn presented gifts to the Grand President, the Grand Secretary, the supervising deputy and the president. The Parlor's popular quartet rendered vocal selections. Refreshments were served at tables decorated with miniature flower pots. Grand President Thuesen had a very inspiring message and the evening was one that will linger long in the memory of those in attendance. Bahia Vista adopted two poor families at Christmas time and supplied them with large baskets of edibles.

Fruitvale No. 177 N.D.G.W., Oakland—November 27 was the date of Fruitvale's sewing club dinner. Deputy Irma Caton was among those present, and everyone had a happy and enjoyable evening. A whist party in charge of Grace Biggins, president-elect of the Parlor, proved very successful, financially and socially.

Past Presidents Association No. 2 N.D.G.W., Oakland—The Association honored Alice Miller with a reception and turkey dinner. A special program was presented and the past president was showered with many gifts, including a diamond pin, the gift of the Association. Members honored at the celebration were those born in December—Helen Ring, Ella Fratis, Charlotte Heritage, May Ward and Elizabeth Goodman.

In Memoriam

MARY G. BAILEY.

We, the memorial committee intrusted with the sacred duty of preparing resolutions expressing the sentiments of Liberty Parlor No. 213 N.D.G.W. on the death of Sister Mary G. Bailey, who departed this life November 3, 1935, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has called to her eternal rest our beloved sister, Mary G. Bailey, be it

Resolved, That while we deplore the fact that our Parlor has lost a true and upright member whose faithful adherence to the principles of an Order and charming personality have endeared her to all her sisters and whose memory will ever be an inspiration to all of us, yet do we bow our heads in submission to the will of the Divine Ruler.

And while we deeply sympathize with and share the grief of our sister and her family in the loss of their mother, let us remember that as we "gaze see the stars shine through our express tears" and feel that our departed sister has merely gone on ahead to join that celestial band of workers with whom we expect a joyful reunion beyond the borders of that heavenly frontier to which we all come as travelers in search of rest. Therefore, be it further

Resolved, That the sympathy of this Parlor be tendered to the sons and daughter of our beloved sister and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, a copy sent to the bereaved family and one to the Grizzly Bear Magazine.

Respectfully submitted in F.D.L.A.

FLORENCE MARKOEER,
HELEN COSTELLO,
CLARA WINDMILLER,
Committee.

Clovis, November 14, 1935.

Autumn Colors. It's not an early frost, as commonly supposed, that produces the most colorful autumn leaves, says the United States Forest Service. It's a late frost—and the sugar in the leaf—that gives the brilliant colors.

The Western Fairs Association will meet at San Francisco January 24 and 25.

REBECCA BURRELL.

To the Officers and Members of Anona Parlor No. 164 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions to the memory of our departed sister, Rebecca Burrell, submit the following:

Whereas, The Angel of Death has again invaded the golden circle of fraternity in our beloved Parlor and has called our beloved Sister Rebecca Burrell to her final rest; therefore be it

Resolved, That Anona Parlor No. 164 N.D.G.W. feels most deeply the loss of our esteemed member and while bowing humbly to the will of our Heavenly Father, we retain in our hearts a lasting affection for our sister, realizing that God is merciful and just." And be it further

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt and sincere sympathy; and be it further resolved, that a copy of this memorial be sent to the family of our departed sister, that a copy be inserted in the minutes of this Parlor and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

CELIA CARBONI,
TERESA ROBINSON,
LILLIAN RICHARDS
Committee.

Jamestown, December 12, 1935.

MURIEL FLORENCE JARRATT.

Even Death has a wonderful message,
Though it robs us of those we love,
It draws us from our surroundings
To long for the meeting above.
No matter how heavy our loss is,
No matter how great our despair,
Doesn't heaven seem nearer and brighter
To know that our loved ones are there?

We, your committee appointed to draft a memorial of love and respect to the memory of our late Sister Muriel Jarratt, submit the following:

Whereas, Our Eternal Father has again sent His silent messenger Death into Fraternal Parlor No. 164 N.D.G.W. and taken from us our beloved Past President Muriel Florence Jarratt and whereas, the breaking of precious ties brings to our minds the mysterious ways of Almighty God, we bow in humble submission to Him who does all things well knowing that He does all things well.

We shall miss her; sweet smile, her cheerful greeting, we shall remember her as a splendid officer. We saw her failing, we knew her span of life would soon be over, but with the courage of the Pioneer and her love and loyalty to her Parlor, her devotion to duty, she was faithful to the end. In her death her family has lost a loving and devoted daughter, and our Parlor a sister whose kind and loving disposition endeared her to all. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That our sincere and deep sympathy be extended to her sorrowing family. Furthermore, be it resolved that a page of our records be dedicated to her memory, that this tribute of affection to our memory be sent to her family, and a copy to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

She heard sweet music o'er the air,
The rustling of the Angel's wings
She heard him calling Muriel
And she went home to Him.

Sincerely and fraternally, in P.D.E.A.
LAURA FISHER,
MYRTLE WILSON,
IRENE ROSE,

SAN BERNARDINO ARROWHEAD PARlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. [illegible] New Year Eve, when it staged in the Municipal Auditorium its biggest event of 1935 — the thirteenth annual grand ball. Scores of persons attended, and excellent music was provided. F. Lemar McGarvey was general chairman of the affair, which climaxed a successful year for the Parlor. At public installation ceremonies January 15, Dr. R. L. White, elected December 11, will succeed Harold Lord as president.

December 14 Arrowhead had another popular dinner gathering at the Crestline clubhouse. President Harold G. Lord was in charge of the affair, and a delicious ham feast was served. The Parlor held numerous initiations during 1935 and its enrollment is now far beyond the 500-mark.

Arrowhead Assembly No. 14 N.S.G.W. Past Presidents will have installation of officers at 490 South E street, San Bernardino, January 17. Charles N. Frost will become the new governor. Arrangements are in charge of F. Lemar McGarvey.

OLD-FASHION SPELLING BEE.

San Bernardino Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. December 7 had a successful bazar in charge of Rena Churchill, Mary Heap and Thelma Nett. December 11, Evelyn Shaddox was re-elected president. After the meeting a surprise handkerchief shower was given Charter Member Lucy Mecham, who departed for Austin, Texas. President Shaddox was also showered with handkerchiefs, in honor of her birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served. Marjorie Beck was chairman of the social hour. A successful rummage sale December 17 was in charge of Rhoda Smith.

A Christmas party December 18 at the Rialto home of Eva Bemis was in charge of the Parlor's officers. Christmas carols were sung, an old-fashion spelling bee was held and amusing games were played. Decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the occasion. All members brought inexpensive gifts, and these were distributed by Santa Claus from a large tree.—C.B.

HOSTESS TO RITUAL TEAM.

Ontario—The sewing club of Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. had a luncheon at the home of Ruth Hayes December 6. Deputy Vera Carlson was the honor-guest. Red berries and poinsettias were used in the decorations. The afternoon, following the luncheon, was spent sewing on Christmas aprons under the direction of Chairman Maud Van Fleet.

December 12, Ontario was hostess to the deputies ritual team. The clubhouse was decorated with red berries and greenery. After the ritual exemplification and the social hour a buffet lunch was enjoyed. Ruth Hayes was in charge of the refreshments, while Rea Herzberg was responsible for the unique table decorations, the center of which was a ritual drill team in miniature in a setting of pink sweetpeas and blue delphinium. Later the dolls forming this centerpiece were presented to members of the visiting team. The Parlor's welfare committee, Vada Austin chairman, distributed Christmas baskets of food to needy families.—E.O.

CASTRO PARLOR NO. 232 N.S.G.W. initiated December 10 a class of twenty-eight candidates in honor of Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, a member of the Parlor. The ritual was exemplified in a splendid manner by the officers of Castro, headed by President Leonard A. Worthington.

Grand President Skillin, the principal speaker of the evening, pointed out that Castro, following the initiation, lacked but five members of being the largest Parlor in the Order. South San Francisco, with 786 members, now has that honor. Castro's membership has reached 782. Both Parlors, however, will initiate additional candidates prior to the end of the year, and each Parlor hopes to be the largest at 1935's close.

In addition to other speakers, enjoyable entertainment was provided under the direction of Frank Ross. Among the many in attendance were Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Third Vice Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Organist C. George Cuthbertson and Henry S. Lyon, former grand trustee.

CHRISTMAS MOTIF FOR VISIT.

Poinsettias, wreaths, tiny Christmas trees and bells were used in profusion in decorating the meeting and banquet halls of Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W. on the occasion of the official visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen December 4. A dinner preceded the largely attended meeting. Among the many other visitors were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Oldham, Clara Gairaud, Clarice Cook and Alice Lane, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Past Grands Eliza Keith, Margaret Hill, Mae Noonan and Evelyn Carlson, Supervising Deputies Nan Kelly and Mae McDonald, and Deputy Agnes Curry.

In keeping with the Christmas theme, Grand President Thuesen gave a most inspiring address, her subject being "It Is More Blessed To Give Than To Receive." An escort team of eight young girls, attired in red and carrying green wreaths with red bows, led the entrance march of the officers, gowned in green and carrying wreaths of poinsettias. Five candidates were initiated. The Native Daughters glee club, with Ethel Browning and Isabel Thiebaut as the soloists, rendered carols, and Amy Sargenti favored with a tap dance. At the conclusion of the perfect meeting refreshments were served. Grand Trustee Alice Lane was chairman of the committee and to her leadership much credit is due for Castro's very beautiful and outstanding event.—A.S.

SUCCESSFUL AT POLLS.

At the recent municipal election the following Native Sons were successful candidates: Angelo J. Rossi (El Dorado Parlor No. 52), mayor; Dan C. Murphy (Mission Parlor No. 38), sheriff; Matthew Brady (San Francisco Parlor No. 49), district attorney; Russell L. Wolden (Castro Parlor No. 232), assessor; Alfred Roncoviere (Stanford Parlor No. 76), Arthur M. Brown Jr. (Stanford Parlor No. 76), Warren Shannon (Balboa Parlor No. 234), supervisors; Alden Ames (Stanford Parlor No. 76), Joseph I. Golden (Pacific Parlor No. 10), Daniel S. O'Brien (Stanford Parlor No. 76), municipal judges.

CHARTER MEMBERS REMEMBERED.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen paid her official visit to Orinda Parlor No. 56 N.D.G.W. December 13. Dinner was served at the Home, where Chinese decorations were used. In recognition of their forty-five years of service to the Order and the Parlor certificates of life membership were presented Orinda's six charter members.

Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini, a member of the Parlor, was chairman of the evening and was assisted by Mary Vogt, Gladys Bennett and Katherine Cobb. Among the visitors were Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Alice Lane, Alice Oldham and Clarice Cook, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Past Grands Emma G. Foley, Evelyn Carlson, Mae Noonan, Margaret Hill, Eliza Keith, Stella Finkeldey, Emma Lou Humphrey and Irma Laird.

OUTSTANDING SOCIAL EVENT.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 N.D.G.W. initiated three candidates December 5. The officers, attired in organdy gowns of pastel shades, delivered the ritual charges in a most perfect manner and made a favorable impression on all assembled. Evelyn Kilkenny was elected president for the ensuing term and refreshments were served. The welfare committee—Elvira Desmond, Viola Segale and Margaret Ford—December 8 delivered candies, cigarets and magazines to the Veteran Hospital at Fort Miley.

The Christmas highjinks of December 19 was Genevieve's outstanding 1935 social event. Deputy Emily Ryan was the honored guest. A turkey supper was served by Virginia Hannon and committee, and Christmas carols were played by Organist Lillian Troy. An electric-lighted tree was surrounded by Santa Claus and his reindeer. Gifts and candies were presented those in attendance, and to each member of the Parlor President Kerwin gave an individual fruit cake. Fifteen members were given the "third degree" by Nora Schefflin, Rena Taube, Elvira Desmond, Kate Barron and Albino Zuver.

Genevieve drum corps doings: Michael J. Ryan, for many years an admirer of the corps, feted the girls at a Christmas party December 10. An enchilada supper was served, gifts were exchanged, and dancing concluded an evening of good cheer. December 17 a surprise birthday party was given Eileen Taube, in honor of her twenty-first birthday. A snow party in Yosemite is under consideration for the early part of January.—R.T.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

Las Lomas Parlor No. 72 celebrated its forty-third institution anniversary at a dinner. Deputy Gertrude Collins was a guest of honor. Gifts were presented Charter Members Harriet McLean, Rosa Moller and Mary Waters.

Gabrielle Parlor No. 139 had its annual Loyalty Pledge whist party December 6. Emma Heiman was in charge of the gala affair. A Christmas party for members of the Parlor and their children was held December 20.

Dolores Parlor No. 169 had initiation December 11, and the new members were welcomed by President Anita Jebe and Deputy Ruby Bried. Chairman Mae Baumeister, Mary Elbe and Lee Schallock of the Parlor's veterans welfare committee visited the veterans at Fort Miley and distributed magazines and cigarets. The December 12 turkey whist was a huge success, socially and financially. Santa Claus was at the December 27 Christmas party and distributed gifts. Officers-elect of Dolores will be publicly installed January 11.

The annual Christmas party of Mission Parlor No. 227, December 13, under the direction of Florence E. Ohler, was planned for World War veteran nurses at the Veterans Hospital in Palo Alto. The drill team and the drum corps contributed a box containing gifts for each veteran nurse in ward seven, and individual members contributed hand-crocheted gifts. Every third Friday throughout the year Mission entertains ward seven and serves refreshments.

The Extension of the Order Committee sponsored a highjinks December 6, highly talented Native Daughters appearing on the program. Among the large gathering were many Native Sons. Ann Ipswitch was chairman of the evening.

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

GRAY WOOLEN FOR ENSEMBLES IS always handy and as a winter color is enjoying itself as much as navy blue did in the fall. Both are shades which most of us thought sacred. Well, we live and we learn. The immediate moral is that with all these dubonnet, copper, bittersweet, purple and green coats that are offered we find it pretty handy to have a gray dress which will ensemble with any or all shades.

We find lovely jersey models, with cartridge-pleat details and soft hand-loomed tweeds, which may have a plaided effect of dim colors or other gray shades woven in. Men's wear is of darker gray flannel, which is something swell with ox-blood or deep red calf accessories. Woodsy shades of brown are useful for wear with bright coats, too. The stunt is to match hat, shoes and dress, which leaves one free to wear even "Joseph's coat" if it fits.

A knobby frock of a pale gray light-weight woolen in two-piece style is trimmed with silver nail-head buttons. The "Tom Mix" type pockets over the hips are closed with zippers. A bright tie, hat and bag are of the same color.

Swanky capes and coats of fur are smart ensembled with new tailored frocks. The woman whose mink or caracul is beginning its second season will want to know what's new in the semi-sports or casual sort of fur coat. You cannot do better than to buy a cape, if you are after a formal wrap. We are deep in the season when black with pastel or white touches near the throat and wrist is what we like best, during which time such a cape is invaluable.

Sports togs for winter are fascinating. Winter soon will throw an ermine blanket over the mountain wall about California and this change in climate will inaugurate a colorful season of outdoor sports. There are some intriguing get-outs. The most attractive snow suits are those that are designed along comfortable, but roomy, lines and yet not too generous to sacrifice the desired effect, for, as you know, one is desirous of looking chic, even at playtime.

Ice blues are crystal-clear and do wonders for the skin and eyes. Then, there is the ever-popular turquoise and the regular smart navy. With the light blue shades nothing can be smarter than the crocheted cap and gloves in white. White shoes with dark blue wool socks complete the ensemble. Mufflers, for the most part, follow in close color harmony with the costume rather than add a different color note. A new theme in snow suits is the popular military effect, which is achieved with the employment of regulation style trimmings. Sweater, scarf and mittens are hand-knitted and are accessories of a striking outdoor outfit, which includes trousers of melton cloth and cravenette.

The theme song of the current evening mode, as you have probably gathered by now, is "shine, little costume, glitter, glitter." Of course, there are some women who are taking the sparkling spirit of current fashion too seriously. We do not mean you should wear a jeweled tiara, a mesh snood and long rhinestone earrings all at the same time, as we have seen some doing of late, but we do mean that you can let yourself go in a restrained way when it comes to picking out jeweled belts, hair ornaments, bracelets, clips and bangles. If you wear one of the new side jeweled belts with your grecian or medieval evening gown you do not need any other adornment except, perhaps, a bracelet and a flower in your hair. Or if you go in for jeweled headdresses, then keep the glitter at the top and let your frock be comparatively unadorned, except for a stray clip or two.

There is a revival of the rhinestone-spattered chiffon and net evening gown these days. The sleek, shiny cellophane fabrics seen about are as glittering as any of the jeweled or metallic things, especially that black coal fabric that is being done in evening jackets, etc.

The newest evening headgear on the fashion front is the "taxi hood" of gold lame, with attached shoulder capelet. It is shown as the last word in evening accessories and within the average budget reach.

Gold accessories can be worn with any evening costume. There is the huge gold tissue handkerchief, which any one would be glad to carry, and the gold kid evening bag, which folds up flat and opens out into a roomy pouch. There is the wide gold belt which may be worn with either daytime or evening gowns, and the wreath of gold kid laurel leaves for the hair.

To brighten up a young girl's evening there are gilded feather fancies to wear in the hair, the gold mesh snood, one of the newest wrinkles in evening headdresses, the juliet cap of gilded mesh, and you may even buy gold fingernail lacquer to match the gold parade.

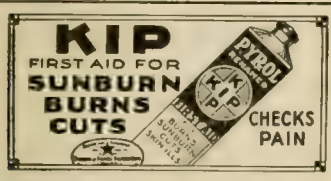
The neatest trick of the day is a scottie clip which may be changed to match any dress simply by inserting a bit of matching fabric. It comes in gold or silver metal with swatches of four different colored silks attached. This new departure in gadgetry is called a followgram and it comes not only in clips but also in pins and fobs. It is nice to be able to arrange your jewelry to match any costume.

Oriental printed silks are now being shown in all the smart shops. Tailored shirtwaist frocks are trimmed with colored zipper fastenings at the neckline and pockets and are recommended as the ideal costume for wear under a fur coat. They will go into the spring and summer popular as ever.

There are vivid hues for hosiery. The colored trend continues. You may not care for wine, green and navy stockings, so you may cling stubbornly to your good old beige tones, but there is no denying that color has crept into the stocking box in spite of all. Match the color of your costume for both daytime and evening. The hosiery in the usual sheer chiffon went in strong for wine and dark green, but for evening wear delicate pastels are featured in colors to match the gown. The colored daytime stockings have black heels and toes to accentuate the sheer appearance of the hosiery.

Another new trick is the addition of red toes to evening hosiery. These are supposed to twinkle through open-toe dance sandals, giving the effect of lacquered toenails. It is explained that one need not run the risk of pneumonia by going stockingless these winter evenings, when the red-toed stocking has the same frivolous and decorative effect as bare and carefully pedicured toes in an evening sandal.

Just around the corner in the fashion world are sixty four bright new shades. "Flirt" and "eggnog" are among them, and there are three kinds of purple. The 1936 spring color card includes "gala purple," "rainbow purple" and "gypsy violet," which is just plain purple. "Flirt red" is a shade brighter than the rooster red. It is listed as a rendezvous color. Riviera colors are samples of Cannes yellow, Mediterranean blue and Monaco rose; eggnog is recommended for the Easter parade as a variation of beige.



Ferndale, Humboldt County, had the world's largest outdoor Christmas tree, gorgeously decorated, 115 feet in hight and 50 feet in diameter. Among the decorations were a sixteen-foot cross and a giant star.

whaling captains. An unusual picture of ship discipline in such cases is furnished by the log of the "Sapphire" of Salem in 1841. Having much difficulty with unruly sailors who had been out on liberty in Monterey, the captain of the vessel ordered that all cases of intoxication be recorded in the log book. Daily entries expanded noticeably thereafter. A few extracts follow:

For Monday, September 13, 1841, it reads, "At 7 P M the Boat Came From the Shore with the Liberty men Stephen Lambose Excepted nearly all intoxicated including the 2nd and 4th officer. Mr. Shepard Badly Brused. At 8 A M Stephen Lambose Came on Board Having Ben 14 Hours over his Liberty." On Saturday, September 18, "At 9 A M grush was put in to the Callabuse For Not Cuming on Board When His Liberty Was out."

The usual Monday difficulties are recorded at length on September 29: "At 7 P M the Boat Came on Board which Was Sent For the Liberty Men only a part of them Came on Board. At 8 A M the Capt Went on Shore to get the men on Board. The Cook Francis Jones Resisted his order declared he Wood not go on Board. The Capt had to Call assistance to tie him and take him By force on Board. At 9 A M he Was Put in irons on Board the Ship. The Rest John Fish Edward Manuel Bown Abner Bucman James Lewis Came at the Same time after Being absent Foreteen Hours over their Liberty mostly intoxicated Antone Lemir Still absent."

From the problem of liberty arose that of desertion. In this regard every whaling captain could have been just as good a prophet as Captain Reed who, when the "Fanny" was entering San Francisco in 1831, jocosely asked one of the crew to raise his feet and show him his heels. Then carefully studying them as a fortune teller a palm he solemnly declared, "You are going to run away." The marine naively wrote of this incident, "I cannot conceive what thought could have come in his head to tell me so, but it proved to be true."

Logs for the periods whalers spent in California are filled with statements of desertions and of efforts to trace the runaways or get recruits. Increasing rapidly, groups of deserters became the nuclei of lawless, organized bands. Roving about the country, now and then conducting raids on mission and pueblo, they became an actual menace.

Every assistance was rendered by the Mexican authorities and by the United States Consul in cases of desertion and of mutiny. Zamorano gave orders in 1832 that all possible help be given to Captain Potter of the "William Thompson" whose crew had mutinied. In 1839 stringent measures regulated the problem of desertion. No whaleman could remain on land after sunset without special permission of the justice of the peace. If excess merry-making should occasion him to forget this ruling, he must pay a fine of twenty pesos or spend some time in the calaboose. If he should try to take refuge on some friendly ranch or in the wilds, he would continue to be pursued until found, and after being captured he would be condemned to the public works until such time as he should reembark on another vessel.

Tremendous searching parties scoured the country under these rulings. Swift vaqueros with swinging lariats kept hot on the trail of runaways. Only by withstanding a long besiegement or by fleeing to some distant part could a sailor hope to make his escape. Especially dangerous for him was the time while the vessel remained in port when liberal pay and rewards offered by the captain stimulated searchers to action. Many were caught. This meant first a term in the calaboose and afterwards a period spent in irons on shipboard.

Officials were aroused to special action in 1845 when eight deserters from the "Hopewell" of Warren with rifles, pistols and daggers openly defied their pursuer. Further investigation revealed that they had not obtained their arms from the vessel and that they carried a map of the San Bernardino region, a common hide-out for runaways. Immediately Arguello gave orders to search out the parties guilty of arming them and aiding their flight. By 1847 an improved system of justice seems to have been established. According to a log of that year sailors who had deserted were being sent to San Francisco for trial.

Although general recruitment was the major objective of whalers while in California ports, some activities were incidentally concerned with the whaling business itself. A few vessels are recorded as having taken humpback whales while in port. In 1841 the "Sapphire" of Salem killed three humpbacks in Monterey Bay. In 1843 a New London vessel came purposely to San Diego to hunt in the bay. It was reported in 1845 that "some years before" a New London ship had filled entirely with humpback oil obtained from San Francisco and California. The Nantucket vessel "Sarah Parker" took two whales at Monterey in 1846. In the same year Captain Simmons of the "Magnolia" owned by Charles W. Morgan put in at San Pedro in October for "humpbacking," and intended to return to California bays for that purpose later in the season.

Transshipment of whalebone to homeward-bound Boston vessels became a common practice, especially after 1840 during the high peak of right-whale hunting in the Northwest Pacific. By 1846 the Boston traders actually counted on freight from the whalers, at about twenty dollars per ton of bone, to complete their return cargoes. A few bone transshipments in California are recorded: In 1843, the "Robert Bourne" of New London, 2,400 pounds; in 1845, two New London ships, the "Hibernia," 1,600 pounds, and the "Dromo;" in 1846, the "Edward" and "Magnolia" both of New Bedford.

California offered the full advantages of a whaling refreshment base. Vegetable gardens, stock ranches, springs, and woods of rancho and countryside, a consular hospital, plenty of swift horses and Spanish saddles, enough but not too many grog shops, and satisfactory regulations aiding captains with unruly crews—all rendered the west coast attractive to United States whaling interests in the Pacific. In time it was even to become "indispensable."

CEDAR CHEST DONATED.

San Pedro — Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. was visited December 11 by the ritual team, and two candidates were initiated. Officers were elected, Gloria Sorenson being chosen president; they will be installed January 21. Chairman Carrie Rogers and committee served a delicious spanish supper.

The Florencita thimble club of the Parlor had an italian dinner at the Wilmington home of Lucy Ascolesi. Catherine Hackett was elected president of the club, and Margaret Kreider secretary. January 14 the club's members will be treated to an evening dinner at a well-known cafe.

Carrie Rogers and her husband have donated to Rudecinda a lovely cedar chest, which will be disposed of during the year. Esther Wilks has returned to her home after having been at a Los Angeles hospital for some time.

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

Wilmington — Sepulveda Parlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. had its annual Christmas party for members and their families December 21. Santa Claus distributed gifts to the children, refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

Officers of the Parlor, with John Gligo as president, will be installed January 9.

GOING TO HAWAII.

Neal Batchelor of San Bernardino, who has been supplying The Grizzly Bear with news of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. and the "Gateway City," will depart during January for Honolulu to enroll in the University of Hawaii.

"The cornerstone of civilization is the family. To provide healthful, attractive homes is a fundamental industry which any good government will encourage," says the Federal Housing Administration.

The California State Veterinary Medical Association will hold its annual conference at Davis, Yolo County, January 7-10.

Mentone, San Bernardino County, has produced a grapefruit measuring 20½ inches in circumference.

THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE

AFFAIRS OF THE CALIFORNIA STATE Government are in a chaotic condition, financially and otherwise. Charges of funds juggling, political preferment regardless of civil service regulations, padded expense accounts, incompetency, wanton waste of public funds, etc., are rampant. And all the attempted explaining by the "big shots" fails to explain satisfactorily to the thinking taxpayers who are gouged to keep the political pot well filled.

The State, according to the Controller, is spending approximately $18,000,000 a month, and a crisis in finances in March is predicted. Although the Chief Executive has repeatedly said the cost of government has been reduced, the Controller says, "State expenditures are now running at a record high since founding of the State."

A committee appointed by the last Legislature was giving the people a peep into the inner workings of the State Government, but that was not to the liking of the petty politicians enhoused at Sacramento, so every obstacle is being placed in the investigation-path of the committee. The politician's power comes from keeping the dear people in ignorance of actual conditions. Chairman Donihue was undoubtedly correct when he declared, "they are scared to let us go any further. Our committee has only scratched the surface. Irregularities so far uncovered are merely a hint of what may be discovered later." The powers-that-be will, however, likely prevent any later discovery.

"The state government," says the Sacramento Bee, "has been and is spending more than it takes in by the simple expedient of issuing interest bearing registered warrants, payable when the money becomes available. This ostrich-like procedure, as John M. Pierce, tax counselor of the California Taxpayers Association, pointed out recently, is equivalent to the issuance of an I. O. U. or a phony check. It is one of the reasons the state has been able to spend more than $62,000,000 over its income in the last four years."

The crying need of California is a decided decrease in the cost of government, and that could be brought about by competent officials without political ambitions. But it cannot and will not be done by light-weight officials continually looking ahead politically. Either the State Government must be cleaned or California will be cleaned. So, taxpayers, make your choice.

Taking a rap at "and/or," frequently appearing in legal and other documents, Justice Chester A. Fowler of the Wisconsin Supreme Court said "that befuddling nameless thing, that Janus-faced verbal monstrosity," is "the child of a brain of someone too lazy or too dull to know what he did mean," cunningly devised "to conceal rather than express a meaning." Commenting on the old-age pension plan of Dr. F. E. Townsend, Rev. Charles E. Coughlin said, "I heartily indorse the principles of social security which his philosophy advocates. The aged must be cared for decently when, through no fault of their own, they are unable to care for themselves." How many aged in this nation are, THROUGH NO FAULT OF THEIR OWN, unable to care for themselves? That's what should first be ascertained before giving serious consideration to any old-age pension plan.

"You can't use what you do not control," continued Rev. Coughlin. "You can't give what you have not got. Therefore . . . the Townsend plan . . . is not workable nor can it be workable until the 150,000,000 American people rescue from the hands of a few thousand American plutocrats the right to coin and regulate the value of our sovereign money."

The National Grange, in sixty-ninth annual convention at Sacramento, approved a program which includes an amendment to the Federal Constitution "denying citizenship by birth to the children of aliens ineligible for citizenship—a blow at the device of aliens obtaining farm lands by buying property in the names of their American-born children." The proposed amendment is absolutely necessary, if the Pacific Coast states are to be preserved for the White man. More power to the Grange!

Citing Brookings Institute reports, "that at no time during the last thirty years have we produced in excess of the people's needs on the basis of a decent, reasonable standard of living," Senator Borah continued: "There is great comfort to be had in reading this part of these reports. It is encouraging to know that after all industry is not an evil; that plenty is not a curse; that it is more blessed to distribute than to destroy."

The Star that shone on Christmas night
Had seven points of hallowed light.
It shone for all the race of earth,
Proclaiming forth the Saviour's birth.
One point threw out a ray of Peace
That from the earth should never cease;
While one sent forth a shaft of Joy
Which time nor death could not destroy;
And Hope shines from one point to give Us courage to press on and live;
Eternal Life from one point shone—
A gift supreme, God's very own;
Then Love was shed by two bright rays
To follow us throughout our days;
And from the point that makes the seven,
A Path that leads the Way to Heaven.

GUARDIAN OF SACRAMENTO FRONTIER

(MILFORD R. PRIBBLE.)

The Grizzly Bear for January gave an account of the sixth annual speaking contest on California history for students of the Sacramento high school, conducted by Sacramento Parlor No. ? N.S.G.W. in the Capital City December 12. Chairman Forrest T. Stead of the Parlor's public speaking contest sent to the magazine the prize-winning essay of Milford R. Pribble, entitled "The Guardian of the Sacramento Frontier," and it is here presented. "All of the speakers were exceptionally good this year," writes Chairman Stead, "and a lot of credit is due to the public speaking teachers of the Sacramento high school."—Editor.

IT IS SURPRISING TO NOTE THE NUMBER of people who are under the mistaken impression that the history of California begins with the gold rush days of 1849. As a matter of fact, there is not a more romantic chapter in the history of our state than that of the pre-gold rush days. There is one character in particular of this period whose activities are especially worthy of mention—a man whose real activities in this state occupied less than ten years, and yet whose influence is more widely felt than any other personage of California history. This man, who has won for himself a permanent niche in the Hall of Fame, is none other than General John Augustus Sutter.

The story of General John Sutter—his arrival in California, how he founded a fort, and how gold was discovered at his sawmill—has been told and retold thousands of times. In fact, so much emphasis has been placed upon events connected with Sutter over which he had no control whatsoever that the real importance of Sutter has been pushed into obscurity.

Sutter was important! But he is not important because he laid the foundations for our present City of Sacramento. Neither is he important because gold happened to be discovered at his sawmill. But he is important because of his widespread influence in California previous to the gold rush. And he is important because he was the foremost settler of this region.

Now, why was Sutter the leading settler of this region? He was not the only settler in the Sacramento Valley previous to the gold rush. What did Sutter have that made him stand out head and shoulders above the rest of the people of his time? Let us examine, this evening, not only those peculiarities of Sutter that made him of such paramount importance to California, but also the effect that each had upon the history of our state:

The first asset of Sutter that had widespread influence on our history was his knowledge of military subjects. A true military genius in every sense of the word, Sutter found his military knowledge invaluable in gaining a foothold in California. It aided him not only in maintaining organization and discipline at his fort, but also in subduing the neighboring Indians. Sutter's subduing of the Indians encouraged immigration into this area. Settlers could come into this region with at least some feeling of security because they were assured protection against the Indians. In acting as protector for this territory, Sutter acquired the appellation, "Guardian of the Sacramento Frontier." Although the Indians of this region were, as a whole, a peaceable lot most of the time, yet prospective settlers did not know this and many of them would not have come had it not been for the security offered by Sutter's Fort. Thus Sutter—the first settler of this region, the pioneer of pioneers—paved the way for the coming of other pioneers, and further settlement along the Sacramento frontier.

MILFORD R. PRIBBLE.

Sutter, unlike many of the other settlers of his time, was farsighted. He was not content to let circumstances determine his future. He was a pioneer mentally, as well as physically. And his farsightedness had a very well-defined influence upon our history.

Sutter was the first to realize what unlimited possibilities lay within California. He was, for instance, the first to practice diversified farming in California since the time of the missions. Realizing the possibilities of agriculture in California, he produced wheat, peaches, pears, almonds, vegetables and, in fact, almost every product capable of being produced in the fertile lands of our Sacramento Valley.

Sutter was the first to realize the possibilities of California's forests. San Francisco was built with lumber from Puget Sound! The forests of California had not been touched. Sutter, as you recall, was in the process of building a sawmill at Coloma when gold was discovered. Sutter planned not only to supply himself but this whole section of California with lumber. And had the discovery of gold not wrecked his plans, he would have become the lumber king of California.

Yes, to Sutter goes the glory for being one of the very first to realize what unlimited possibilities lay within the borders of our great state, and of trying to develop them.

Perhaps, however, the most important of Sutterr's qualities that was instrumental in the birth and development of our state was his willingness to help and to serve others. On innumerable occasions, Sutter was the means of saving the lives of fellow pioneers who had either lost their way or run out of supplies.

For example: You will, no doubt, recall that John C. Fremont lost his path, and by the time he could get back on his trail again his supplies were exhausted. Fremont's party straggled into Sutter's Fort, weak from hunger, half dead. Sutter took them in, and for two weeks they were his guests as he nursed them back to health. And again, when the famous Donner Party was perishing in the high Sierra, it was Sutter that first fitted out an expedition of men, mules and provisions to aid them.

And those are not the only instances of this kind. There were John Marshall and the Bartleson-Bidwell Party. Oh, the pages of history are chuck full of examples such as these. Any stranger in want found a friend in Sutter.

WOLFSKILL EXPEDITION TO CALIFORNIA, 1830-1831

John A. Hussey

"The article entitled 'The Wolfskill Expedition to California 1830-31' has been prepared by John A. Hussey who is present holder of a Native Sons Fellowship in History at the University of California. The N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor Committee on History has arranged with Dr. Herbert E. Bolton to assign Mr. Hussey to the preparation of a true history of the Bear Flag which was ordered to be made by the recent Grand Parlor. Mr. Hussey's preliminary work in this field requires that he unearth the details of early expeditions to California. He presents the Wolfskill episode as a part of the great story which will be later unfolded."—FRANK C. MERRITT, Chairman N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor Committee on History. Oakland, December 2, 1935.

CALIFORNIA OWES MUCH TO ITS early American pioneers who made their way by land and sea into the State before the days of '49. Prominent among these adventurous settlers were a number of trappers who not only opened new trails to the Pacific Coast but who also remained to help build the commonwealth which rose on the scene of their former wanderings. One of the least known of the bands of beaver hunters was the Wolfskill party of 1830-1831 which brought William Wolfskill, George C. Yount, Lewis T. Burton and Francis Ziba Branch to the land beyond the Sierra.

The Valley of Taos was a busy place in the year 1830. Its squat little villages of San Fernando and Los Ranchos, nestled among the productive fields of this most fertile and beautiful vale of New Mexico, were teeming with rough mountain men and Santa Fé traders. Indians, Frenchmen, Mexicans, Spaniards and Americans mingled together in the streets and crowded to the monte banks and pulquerias. For Taos was a great gathering place for the trappers and traders of the Southwest.

Since 1822, when they invaded New Mexico in the wake of the Santa Fé caravans, the mountain men had been coming here and to Santa Fé to outfit themselves for beaver-hunting expeditions and to procure licenses. During the trapping season they would leave in companies to work the waters of the San Juan, the Gila and the Colorado, ever working farther west in a search for virgin beaver grounds. Jedediah Smith, on such a quest, had made his way into California from Great Salt Lake in 1826, and the men from New Mexico were not long in following him to the Pacific. Using a southern route by way of the Gila and Lower California, the Patties arrived at San Diego in 1828. The next year Ewing Young brought a party of trappers through to the Coast, and a New Mexican trader named Armijo opened the caravan trade which in later years was to develop into a brisk commerce between Santa Fé and Los Angeles.

It was to Taos and Santa Fé also that the trappers returned after their hunts to squander the profits of their labors in boisterous carousals which won, for Santa Fé at least, the name of "the paradise of mountaineers." One of the traders engaged in supplying the trappers with their outfits and liquor was William Wolfskill, himself a mountain man of long experience. A native of Kentucky, he had come to New Mexico from Missouri in 1822 and had spent a number of years roaming the great area between northern New Mexico and Alabama engaged in beaver hunting and the mule trade. In 1828, he and his old trapping companion, Ewing Young, had formed a partnership and seem to have entered the general trading business at Taos.

Young sent out one or more trapping expeditions during the year, but when a party which he had despatched to the Colorado was forced to return on account of Indians, he determined to take command in person. Organizing a company of about forty men, Young set forth in August 1829 to scour the Far West for beaver. William Wolfskill was left behind in Taos to carry on the business of the partnership.

Some time later, Young's party was divided. With about seventeen men, the daring trapper set out on his famous expedition to California. The rest of the company were sent back to Taos, and it is probable that they brought the news to William Wolfskill that his partner had gone to trap the rich valleys of the Sacramento and the San Joaquin.

The prospect of having to twiddle his thumbs in Taos for the year or more which much pass before Young could return from so long a journey was not a pleasing one to Wolfskill. He knew the streams of California teamed with beaver and he made up his mind to go after them. His plans began to take shape. He would organize his own trapping expedition, proceed by a northerly route to the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys, and meet Young. Together they would trap the Great Valley and return to the United States with their furs by way of Great Salt Lake.

On April 3, 1830, he took the first step towards California by becoming a naturalized citizen of Mexico. Citizenship once gained, he was able to secure a license from the Governor of New Mexico granting him permission to hunt beaver in Mexican territory. One more obstacle, however, had to be overcome. William did not have enough money to outfit the expedition. A Santa Fé trader named Houck came to his aid and in return for a partnership in the enterprise agreed to furnish the necessary support. When the caravans from Missouri arrived in July, Wolfskill began his recruiting. And what a motley crew he collected!

Among the twenty-two or twenty-three men who made up the company were trappers from the United States and Canada, Frenchmen from St. Louis, and a goodly number of New Mexicans. One of the best known was that "Enoch Arden" of the West, George C. Yount, a seasoned trapper who was later to become the pioneer settler of Napa Valley. He seems to have heard that Jedediah Smith had found gold in California, and he was chafing at the bit in his anxiety to reach the promised land.

Also included were Francis Z. Branch, fresh from sailing the waters of the Great Lakes, and Lewis T. Burton, a native of Tennessee, both of whom became prominent citizens of southern California. Other members who, with William Wolfskill himself, remained in California for a time or permanently, were Samuel Shields, John Rhea, Zacharias Ham, François le Fourri, Baptiste St. Germain, Bautista Guerra, Juan Lobar and Cooper. The names of the rest of the party have been lost to history.

By September 1830 all the preparations had been made, and one day towards the end of the month William Wolfskill gave the word to start. The mountain men in their buckskin garb and the New Mexicans in their many colored serapes took one last look at the pueblo town of Taos. Farewells were waved to sweethearts and wives, and the party moved off for the land of gold and beaver. According to one account, four oxen were driven along for food, and on the packsaddle of a mule was mounted a small brass swivel gun as a protection against Indian attacks.

The exact route followed by Wolfskill and his band cannot be determined from the rather meager accounts which have survived. The "Chronicles of George C. Yount," published by Dr. Charles L. Camp in the "California Historical Society Quarterly" (Vol. II), provide a picturesque description of part of the journey, and various sketches of the lives of different members of the party throw some light upon the path they followed.

The company rode away from Taos in a northerly direction. Striking the headwaters of the San Juan River, they followed down this stream for a short distance and then left it, turning almost due north. Reaching the smaller tributaries of the Colorado, they followed one of them to the main river, which they crossed at a point just below the mouth of the Dolores.

The little band of trappers skirted the Colorado down nearly to its junction with the Green River. Here they turned west until they came upon the latter stream. Crossing the Green River, the party followed it down to its junction with the Colorado. They descended the Colorado for fifty or more miles, but found the river going through an impassable canyon. Blocked, they once more set out towards the west.

The party had not gone far before they found themselves in a forlorn and desolate valley, then known by the name of St. Joseph's, and which Dr. Charles L. Camp believes might be Castle Valley. Continuing their way, two short days of travel brought them out of the bad lands into the beautiful Sevier Valley. So welcome was this fertile spot that the trappers promptly dubbed it "Pleasant Valley." They could not linger, however, but continued up the Sevier, from which they turned at some undetermined point.

After leaving the Sevier behind, the company, to use the words of Yount, soon "realized the forlorn condition of the first human pair when expelled and driven out from Eden," for they became entangled in the irregular mountains which separate the Sevier and the Virgin Rivers, a region in which "deep snows and solitary gloom prevailed."

Day after day the trappers made their way through rough and barren country. Chilling winds blew through the scattered clumps of dwarfed cedars and junipers; the streams were ice-bound. Weary of heart, cold and hungry, the men began to show signs of discontent. Quarrels broke out between members of different nationalities. Gradually demoralization seized the company. The leader was forced to abandon any plans he might have had for a northerly route, and he headed the band south.

Toiling forward, the trappers reached a strip of table land high up on a lofty range of mountains. Here a terrific snow storm forced them to seek shelter. For several days men and animals lay huddled together under a thick layer of blankets, brush and beaver skins. When the weather finally cleared, Wolfskill and Yount made the ascent of a high peak to reconnoiter. A dreary prospect rewarded their efforts, for on every side they could only see an endless succession of snow-capped mountains. The leader was forced to admit that the party was lost.

This information had no cheering effect upon the rest of the party, but move on they must. Leaving several of their horses lying stiff and frozen on the plateau, the desperate men plunged aimlessly towards the south. Battling through a bewildering maze of jagged peaks and deep canyons, crossing large fields of glaring snow and ice, they seemed to be getting nowhere.

It was as if a miracle had happened when, upon topping a range after a few days' march, they saw a broad green valley stretching out beneath them. They had reached the River Virgin. The trappers lingered long in the Virgin River Valley, feasting on the plentiful game which approached their camp like "lambs in the farmer's farmyard." They were reluctant to resume the toils of travel which lay before them, but the prospect of soon seeing California, about which they had heard so many tales, encouraged them to resume their journey.

Down the blood-red Virgin they went. Within twenty-five miles of its mouth they passed whole "mountains" of pure white salt, some of which they loaded on their mules and carried with them. When they arrived in California, a por-

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

MOST EVERYONE IS IN THE MOOD for clothes this spring and if present indications are any criterion, the majority of women are going to be much smarter in appearance. Materials of a smooth fine texture are employed in the trim tailored things and are quite a departure from the usual rough nobby weaves which generally make their annual debut with the spring wardrobe. Women are becoming more style conscious and as a result the costume to serve double duty is accepted in high favor. This theme has been adopted in styles for all occasions, so that even the tailored suit can be transformed into a two-piece cocktail ensemble upon a moment's notice.

Too often are dresses neglected in the enthusiasm for tailored suits. It is really a shame, too, for there is nothing smarter than a good-looking dress under a fur coat, or later worn with silver foxes or sables.

There is a sheer navy crepe of youthful design with white daisies of beads embroidered all over the blouse. It has a little stand-up collar faced with bengaline and it has pleats in the middle of the skirt. It also comes in black or gray. A very nice two-piece dress of aquamarine novelty crepe is quite different in design and is made with a wrap-around circular coat, like a tunic, that has much fullness in the back and three-quarter sleeves. Pleating of the same fabric edges the whole thing and a rhinestone clip catches it near the throat.

Prints are the big news in silks. The general impression is that everything is printed. This is not true, of course, but the vote is overwhelmingly in favor of prints. Buy a printed silk. At first you may think this a mad idea, but there is method in the madness. A printed silk dress now looks as cheerful as the first robin. It looks refreshingly and obviously new under the winter coat; in fact, extravagant. Your print may have two lives. Wear it now under the coat, surrounded with dark accessories, suede shoes and little felt hat. Nobody will recognize it next summer with a big straw hat, summery bag, gloves and sandals.

It should be a pure silk and colorful. Get the gayest, most satisfying colors possible on the silkiest silk crepe and you will find colors mixed together in combinations you have never seen until this year. Odd shades of green, blue, marine and fuschia are all swirled with little highlights of white into one persian-inspired design. There are floral mixtures of bright blues and green. Crimson and white shine on other silks. Look for one of the new two-color prints, such as a wine-red design on navy blue, or a blue design on bright green, or black on vivid orange.

Imagine an orange and black print, with a large black straw hat, black gloves and bag, and patent leather sandals. Then imagine a red and blue with a big blue straw sailor, blue flat-heeled sandals, blue bag and white gloves. If not wide sleeves, then have wide, soft shoulders to accentuate the straightness of the skirt.

Straight skirts, but not narrow ones, are the rule. Comfortable fullness is all pushed into the front in soft folds, shirrings or pleats—especially narrow pleats from waist to hem or from neck to hem. There are pleated pockets, pleated edges and pleated collars. All kinds of pleats are in style.

As just a touch of contrast, some bright or dark tone of the print is picked up from the solid color. A wide black suede belt accents a black and colored print. Loops of dark blue silk replace a bow at the neck of a blue background print. Bright green buttons march down the front of a multi-color print. Silk tassels, long sashes and small kerchiefs add an emphasis of solid color to other prints. Not all the print honors, however, are going to the silks.

Printed synthetics are well in the forefront of the fabric mode, while printed cottons are the smart fancy of the moment, and debs and subdebs call for printed chintz formals.

Designers have focused their entire attention upon fashions for the spectacular side of sports. They seem to have thrown themselves wholeheartedly into the play spirit, and play clothes and active sports clothes are therefore more appealing than ever before, yet smart withal. They are practical, yet highly stylized, and they assure freedom without restraint.

The neatest trick of the month in knitwear is a reversible plaid knit suit. You may wear it all right side out and have a complete suit in a bright scotch plaid knit with perfectly tailored jacket and a slim well-fitted skirt, or you may turn the skirt wrong side out and have a solid-color skirt and plaid jacket, or vice versa, or you may wear it all with the solid color out. There is practically no end to the tricks you may do with it and any way you wear it it is effective.

There is a nice one about town in a brown and white flecked frost knit made in two-piece style of a boucle cotton yarn. It has brown bone buttons and a wide belt, and bandanna of solid-color brown linen. Knitted evening dresses are still distinctly in the swim, done in cotton chenille yarns or in silky boucles, or even linen yarns, usually in white or pastel tones and fitting like the well-known paper on the wall. A knit blouse is done in an open lacy effect and the high neckline has a braided finish. The double strand knit girdle is finished with heavy tassel ends for sportswear.

Linen-like silks are outstanding, such as silk crash, spun silks, shantungs and striped silk shirtings. The striped theme has infinite variations. Balanced stripes come in bold colors, such as one-color stripes on white grounds, self-colored satin stripes on silk crepes, and mediterranean and roman stripes all have their places on the season's silk roster.

The decorative clip has acquired a purpose in life. Its resolution for the new year is to be useful as well as ornamental and it appears in new and practical versions, in step with the current age of invention. You may now buy a monogram clip for your handbag so designed as to hold a pair of gloves attached to the bag when not in use. Habitual glove losers will hail this bright new gadget with joy, and nobody can deny the decorative quality of the clip.

Another bright idea of the costume jewelry designers is a clip made to hold flowers, and it is attached to the dress or coat lapel. For evening wear the corsage clips are brilliant and bejeweled. For daytime wear they come in tailored versions of bright chromium gold metal or polished wood. Then there are clips used instead of buckles to make belts adjustable, clips to hold collars in place, and clips to perform any number of practical duties. We may next expect a robot clip which will add up the bridge score and announce when it is time to go home for dinner.

The most famous jewelers are using rock crystal for the vogue of chunky clips and bracelets, but there is a novelty very much cheaper than either. Sets of two bracelets, big ring and clip of carved ivory are lacy and indestructible. With black frocks use clip, buttons or buckles or rhinestones. Pearls, too, are especially smart in short triple or quadruple strings and are worn close to the throat.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

SAN FRANCISCO—THE SEVENTH ANNIversary of the dedication of the N.D.G.W. Home was observed at breakfast January 12, members of the Grand Parlor Home Committee being the hostesses. Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola, chairman, extended a welcome, an invocation was offered by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen, and the salute to The Flag was led by Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler.

Program Chairman Helen T. Mann presented Mildred Held, who rendered songs to her own accordion accompaniment. Judge Theresa Meikle, the speaker, carried the guests to Kingston, Jamaica, and every minute of the journey was enjoyed. The Home Committee took occasion to thank her for the gift of a framed picture of California's famous redwoods presented in the name of her mother and herself.

Jennie Greene praised the work of the Home Committee, saying "members fail to realize what sacrifices have been made in establishing the Home, and only by being a part of the Home can it be known how well cared for are all that seek its service. The N.D.G.W., while not very rich in wealth, are rich in love, devotion and attention given to members." The Home is the personal property of the members, she said, and "they must know how welcome they are to accept its favor."

The attendance numbered forty-two and among the number, in addition to those above mentioned, were Past Grands Emma G. Foley and Mary E. Bell, Millie Tietjen, Grand Trustee Alice M. Lane and Emily E. Ryan of the Home Committee, Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini, Bernice Monahan, Ella M. Hawkins, and representatives of Aloha, Orinda, Golden State, Golden Gate, Buena Vista, Dolores, Keith, Las Lomas, Twin Peaks, Balboa, Alta, Castro and Marinita Parlors.—E.G.F.

History Made.

San Jose—Local Native Daughters and Native Sons were among the thousand invited guests aboard the special train over the new Southern Pacific line to the new depot on The Alameda, the morning of December 30. Hundreds of people waved and cheered as the train passed over the old line for the last time, and two thousand more greeted the train as it arrived at the new station while a band played "California, Here We Come." With impressive ceremonies, $3,500,000 of railroad facilities were dedicated. There are 2,750 tons of rail in the new line, 40,000 ties and 22,500 yards of cement. President Charles Bishop (San Jose No. 22 N.S.G.W.) of the City Council was master of ceremonies. Rev. Rudolph and Rev. Sylvester delivered, respectively, the invocation and the benediction, and among the speakers were President A. D. McDonald of the Southern Pacific, Assemblyman Cottrell, City Councilman Joseph Brooks and A. Du Brutz.

William T. Sherman, on behalf of Observatory No. 177 N.S.G.W., presented the United States of America Flag, and on behalf of San Jose No. 22 N.S.G.W., John R. Sullivan presented the California State (Bear) Flag. Among the many participating in the dedication were: Native Daughters—Grand Trustee Clara A. Gairaud, Supervising Deputy Clara Briggs, President Ruth Semichy (San Jose No. 81) and President Dorothy Donald (Vendome No. 100). Native Sons—Past Grand Thomas Monahan, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto and Secretary Jesse Waterman (Observatory No. 177).

Two enthusiastic Native Daughters experienced a particular thrill in being among these first passengers over the new line: Miss Tillie Brohaska, whose elder brother was an employe of the very early S. P., and Grand Trustee Gairaud, whose father and his brother were the first railroad engineers of California. They were sent from Boston from the machine shops of Hinkle and Drewery for this purpose. That early railroad ran from Folsom to Sacramento long before the advent of the S. P., which afterward acquired it.—C.A.G.

She was so pleased with the selection of candies, and the little Christmas Tree favors were most attractive. We send you our sincere and hearty thanks for again remembering this Hospital so generously at Christmas time. With all good wishes to you personally and as an organization for the coming year, we are sincerely, FRANCES MAYNARD, Senior Recreational Aide. Approved, W. E. Chambers M. D., Manager. "Station N.D.G.W." Broadcasts.

Hollister—January 9 was a particularly happy evening for Copa de Oro No. 105. With "birthdays observance" as the theme, the goodly number present celebrated the natal days of members born in October, November and December. An attractive birthday cake with white and yellow decorations formed the centerpiece of the artistically adorned T-shaped tables, with bowls and sprays of yellow and white blossoms, tall lighted tapers and favors in the form of tiny birthday candles in holders of yellow gumdrops with white lifesaver handles. At the plate of each honored guest was a corsage of violets and ferns with a packet of flower seeds in dainty white and yellow wrappings.

Chairman Hazel Bengard broadcast over "Radio Station N.D.G.W." birthday greetings and horoscopes of the honored guests. Divided into three groups, the members enjoyed "Radio Celebrities and Episodes," "Indoor Baseball" and "Progressive Cooties." During the business meeting the attendance award was presented Mary Grunnagle. Arrangements for the affair were in charge of Hazel Bengard, Oda Hogan, Lila Melendy, Erma Pivetti and Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs.

Native Sons of the Golden West

PRIZES OFFERED BY GRAND PRESIdent Harmon D. Skillin for membership increases during 1935 have been awarded the following Subordinate Parlors:

For most members initiated, Arrowhead No. 110 (San Bernardino), 55 initiates, first prize; Bakersfield No. 42, 49 initiates, second prize.

For largest percentage gain, Utopia No. 270 (San Francisco), 81 percent, first prize; Los Banos No. 206, 35 percent, second prize. Bakersfield increased its membership 67 percent, but as the contest rules provided that no Parlor could win more than one prize, the second award for largest percentage gain went to Los Banos.

Castro No. 232 (San Francisco), with a membership of 784 at the close of 1935, is now the largest Parlor in the Order. It is closely followed by South San Francisco No. 157 (San Francisco), which closed the year with a membership of 783. For several days it appeared that the two Parlors would tie for the honor but, unfortunately, death removed one of South San Francisco's members December 28. Castro is the home-Parlor of Grand President Skillin, and its splendid membership building efforts were in compliment to him.

26th—Sutter Fort No. 241, Sacramento.

All past presidents of both Parlors constituted a reception committee, Harold T. Campbell and Mrs. C. W. McCormick headed the decorating committee, Mms. Leslie Alderson, W. L. Wegener and Frank Castro prepared and served the refreshments, and Mms. Al Kingwell, Harry Sweetser, Francis Vestal and A. C. Dinsmore presided at the tea tables.

Assemblyman Alfred W. Robertson was the principal speaker of the evening, and brief remarks were made by Dr. Annie McCaughey, Dr. Walter Scott Franklin, M. Van Rensselaer and Father Lewis.

Santa Barbara will be host February 20 for the group initiation of the southern district Parlors. No. 116's good of the order committee is arranging a dinner and entertainment for the occasion. All Native Sons are invited, and many candidates from all Parlors in the district are expected.

Hall Association Annual Meet.

Sacramento—At the annual meeting January 8 of the stockholders of the Native Sons Hall Association of Sacramento the following directors were re-elected: J. J. Monteverde, E. T. Griffing, Henry Witpen, J. C. Boyd, J. F. Didion, Hugh B. Bradford, Chas. Fitzhenry, R. C. Cothrin, A. L. Schaden, L. P. Ferron and Percy G. West.

The directors, in turn, re-elected the following officers: J. J. Monteverde, president; L. P. Ferron, vice-president; Henry Witpen, treasurer; Percy G. West, secretary. West was re-elected secretary for the twenty-ninth consecutive year. During the spring the Association plans to make many improvements to the N.S.G.W. Building.

District Meeting.

Onward, Upward, Forward!

San Diego—January 22, San Diego No. 108 had an "irish turkey" dinner, prepared and served by James Murphy, Joseph Tighe and Joseph S. Switzer, and enjoyed amateur boxing matches presented by Chairman Phil Malta of the entertainment committee. Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer reported on the restoration of the old church in Old Town.

This message comes from Chairman Joseph C. Kelley of San Diego's membership committee: "It is not enough to get by; we must get better! Organizations that radiate cheerfulness attract; those that don't, repel. Years have seen fraternal organizations increase to great numbers in membership, prosper and flourish; and other years have seen them back again where their membership has fallen off so much that they have even experienced financial difficulties. Their outlook at times has been darker than dark. I venture to say that what the future has in waiting for us depends in a large way on what we place in store for the future. Let us strive onward, upward, forward. We can make greater progress by improving what we already have than by starting all over again. The ideal way which this should be done would be for every member to be more faithful in attendance at Parlor meetings and to take an active part in the working of our organization, so that our labors will have accomplished something for the upbuilding and advancement of the Order. May I again urge each and every member to get a member—right now!"

The sewing club of the Sacramento N.D.G.W. Parlors gave three beautiful complete layettes for Christmas. Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206 N.D.G.W. and Desert Gold Parlor No. 250 N.D.G.W. remembered the children with lovely clothes and toys. Every member of Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167 N.D.G.W. remembered a little one, and the aggregate certainly looked as if they had waylaid old Santa Claus and taken all the toys from his pack.

Christmas cards arrived from all over the state and were stacked high with greetings and pictures of many a happy child.

Letters from the Parlors are arriving each day telling of benefits planned for the Homeless Children work, giving dates, and requesting the blank for the claiming of exemption from the federal amusement tax. The Parlors seem to remember that they have but two months in which to get in their contributions for the annual report. If any have forgotten that April first—and no fooling—will begin the Central Committee's new year, may this be a reminder.

LOUYSA A. CANN.

Whereas, the memorial committee entrusted with the sacred duty of preparing resolutions expressing the sentiments of Liberty Parlor No. 224, N.D.G.W., on the death of Sister Louysa A. Cann, who departed this life December 19, 1935, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has called to her eternal rest our beloved sister, Louysa A. Cann, be it

Resolved, That while we deplore the fact that our Parlor has lost a true and upright member whose faithful adherence to the principles of our Order and charming personality have endeared her to all her sisters and whose memory will ever be an inspiration to us all, yet do we bow our hearts in submission to the will of the Divine Ruler.

And while we deeply sympathize with and share the grief of our sister and her family in the loss of their grandmother, let us rejoice that we can see the stars "shine through our cypress trees" and feel that our departed sister has merely gone on ahead to join that celestial band of pioneers with whom we expect a joyful reunion beyond the borders of that heavenly frontier to which we all come as travelers in search of rest. Therefore, be it further

Resolved, That the sympathy of this Parlor be tendered to the husband and grandchildren of our beloved sister and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, a copy sent to the bereaved family and one to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

FLORENCE MARKOFER,
HELEN COSTELLO,

Elk Grove, January 2, 1936.

MRS. JULIA PIERCE.

To the Officers and Members of Genevieve Parlor No. 132 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our late beloved sister, Julia Pierce, respectfully submit the following.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call our beloved Past President, Julia Pierce, to her eternal reward, with deepest sorrow we mourn the loss of a loyal and true friend whose devotion to our Order and generous spirit of helpfulness will never be forgotten. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend to her family our deepest sympathy and here record our tribute of love and affection for one whose kindly ways endeared her to all; and be it further resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and that a copy be sent to her bereaved family, and to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

LILLIAN RYAN,
NORA SCHEFLIN,
BRANICE PEGUILLAN,
Committee.

San Francisco, January 16, 1936.

ANN GRACE CONNOR.

We, your committee appointed to draft a memorial of love and respect to the memory of our late sister, Ann Grace Connor, submit the following:

Whereas, Our Eternal Father has again sent His silent messenger, Death, into Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167 N.D.G.W. and taken from us our beloved Past President, Ann Grace Connor; and whereas, the breaking of precious earthly ties brings to our minds the mysterious ways of Almighty God, we bow in humble submission to His divine will, knowing He doeth all things well

We shall miss her sweet smile, her friendly greeting, but we shall remember her as a splendid officer and a loyal Native Daughter. Those who knew "Moonie," as she was better known to all of us, will remember her as a good friend unselfish and kind. A beautiful picture of her life is indelibly inscribed in the hearts of all those who knew her. In her death her sister and brother have lost a loving devoted sister, and our Parlor a sister whose kind and loving disposition endeared her to all. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That our sincere and deep sympathy be extended to her sorrowing sister and brother; furthermore be it resolved, that a page of our records be dedicated to her, that this tribute of affection to her memory be sent to her sister, and a copy to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

Sincerely and Fraternally in P.D.F.A.,

MINNIE E. RAPER,
DORA E. BRAYTON,
LOUISE F. McDOUGALL.

Oakland, January 16, 1936.

FRANCES FARWELL.

To the Officers and Members of El Pescadero Parlor No. 82 N.D.G.W.—We, your resolutions committee, submit the following:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom, has released from her suffering our beloved sister, Frances Farwell, and called her to her eternal rest, be it

Resolved, That while we regret and are saddened by the loss that has come to our Parlor and to her family, yet we bow in submission to the Divine Will and look forward in hopeful expectation to rejoining our sister when our term of service shall be ended

To her family and relatives we extend our deepest sympathy and be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Parlor, a copy be sent to her bereaved family and a copy to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

"Aid slighted truth, with thy persuasive strain
Teach erring man to spurn the rage of gain;
Teach him that states of native strength possest,
Tho' very poor, may still be very blest;
That trade's proud empire hastes to swift decay,
As ocean sweeps the labour'd mole away;
While self dependent power can time defy,
As rocks resist the billows and the sky."
—Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village."

EDGAR A. SHAW.

To the Officers and Members of Pebble Beach Parlor No 230 N.S.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed brother, Edgar A. Shaw, respectfully submit the following:

The golden chain of our fraternity has been severed by the loss of our brother, Edgar A. Shaw. The trials, the disappointments that come in every life are ended for our brother, and his passing causes grief to all our members, who held him in deep respect. While we pay loving tribute to his memory, we are not unmindful of the sorrow that has come to his loved ones. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend the sympathy of the Parlor to his bereaved sisters and brother, that a copy of these resolutions be spread in full upon the minutes of our Parlor, one sent to each of his sisters, one to his brother, and one copy to The Grizzly Bear for publication

Respectfully submitted,

NORMAN V. SOUZA,
JOHN A SOUZA,
JAS A. MOORE,
TILMAN B. GRIGSBY,
WM. A. MOORE,
M. R. MATTEI.

Pescadero, January 10, 1936.

JOHN CHRISTIAN HANSEN.

At a regular meeting of Humboldt Parlor No 14 Native Sons of the Golden West, held Monday night, January 13, 1936, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to remove from our midst our late brother, John Christian Hansen; and whereas, in view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our beloved charter member, John C. Hansen, and the still greater loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his removal from our midst we mourn for one who was, in every way worthy of our respect and regards; he was a true and loyal Native Son, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a brother whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his brothers.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Parlor be extended to his family in their affliction; resolved, that the charter of this Parlor be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days in memoriam of our deceased brother; resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Parlor, and a copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased brother, and to The Grizzly Bear for publication

Recording Secretary.

MISS KATE FORD.

To the Officers and Members of Stockton Parlor No. 256 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of love and respect to the memory of our departed sister, Kate Ford, herewith submit the following:

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to again send forth the Angel of Death and remove from our Sisterhood and her family and home one who was very dear to us, being not only one of our members, but also one of our loving friends; and whereas, we deeply feel the loss the Parlor has suffered by the passing out of this life to her heavenly home when our beloved sister, Kate Ford, answered the Angel's call, thus stepping through the door that opened and into the Great Beyond.

In the midst of our present happiness, in the joy of reunion, comes a sadness, as we are reminded of her who has passed to the realms of another land. While we mourn her going from us, we rejoice that her [illegible] has blessed and enriched our lives. Here as we stand with bowed heads we dedicate ourselves to carry on from where she laid down the burden of service. Let us cherish her memory, let us guide our actions that we too may be worthy of the love and esteem of those we leave when we also, shall have finished this Pilgrimage on earth. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend to her [illegible] in this hour of sorrow, the sincere sympathy of [illegible] Parlor and commend them to our Heavenly Father, praying that He doeth all things well and that God he made the world power that He might make Heaven richer, and be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, that they be spread upon the minutes of our Parlor, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE BESSAC,
JANE GREEN,
JULIA GRIFFITHS

Weary, worn, ragged, some on foot,—having traveled in that way after losing their teams—hungry, desolate, adrift in a strange land, they could never have forgotten the kindly face, the generous heart, the cordial welcome and the open hand they met when they met General Sutter. They remembered—how could they forget?—how the honest old Swiss settler took them in out of the cold, starved, half dead, bound up their wounds and gave them food, clothing and shelter.

Sutter came to stand as an ideal to immigrants—an ideal representative of all that was generous, noble and good. Consequently, as Sutter's fame spread, there were many who took advantage of his generous spirit. Sutter's Fort became the destination of all immigrant trains into this region. For there they were sure they could get a square meal, lodging, clothing and other necessities of life. And, although there were many imposters on his kindness, as Sutter himself expressed it: "I have never turned a man away hungry or refused him shelter."

Sutter's wonderful spirit and his willingness to help others indeed played a major part in encouraging immigration and, consequently, had a far-reaching influence upon the future history of our state.

Now, had the discovery of gold not shattered his carefully-laid plans, Sutter, in the course of ten or fifteen years, would have set up a state anyway. Yes, his motives may be questioned as selfish. But since we are interested in results and not motives, we should not inquire into the latter too closely. But the fact still remains that California would have developed anyway, building on the foundation laid by Sutter, regardless of any discovery of gold, or any other such piece of luck. It must be remembered that the discovery of gold came after the acquisition of this territory by the United States. The discovery of gold, therefore, only hastened the process of the destined development for which General John A. Sutter had laid the foundation.

From whatever standpoint the birth of California is viewed, one cannot fail to realize that his deeds and the influence of his personality were vitally instrumental in the development of our state. The colorful story of Sutter clusters around that little fort, built by him, which stands today, restored by the Native Sons of the Golden West, only a few blocks from where we sit this evening, and from which the force of his dynamic and magnetic personality extended outward like the force of one great magnet, ever attracting others to the region that was destined some day to become the greatest state in the Union.

SEES PROSPERITY.

Business, and particularly the hotel business, is on the up trend, and way up, says Harvey M. Toy, managing owner of the Manx Hotel and president of the San Francisco Hotel Association. Evidently he did not forget how to go out and get business during his six years of retirement from active management of his hotel, for since his return two and a half years ago the Manx has rounded out another year of success far exceeding even his own expectations. This presages much for 1936.

Toy's slogan "Meet Me at the Manx" is responsible to a large extent for his remarkable success, but most of his guests think his slogan should tell of the real hospitality which always prevails at the Manx Hotel.

Los Angeles City's population is now 1,454,300, according to estimates. The 1936 city directory contains 684,376 names.

SAN BERNARDINO'S ANNUAL ATTRACtion, the National Orange Show, will be held in the Gateway City February 20 to March 1. The show this year will have a decidedly Hawaiian and South Sea Island flavor. The immense Orange Show Auditorium is being transformed into a glittering setting for the event.

In addition to the larger scope of feature and rack displays of oranges, the stage show and other entertainment features will be more elaborate than ever before. Roy Mack is general manager of the exhibit, and Arthur Brouse is president of the Orange Show Association.

NATIVE SONS HAVE INSTALLATIONS.

San Bernardino—Scores of San Bernardino Valley residents attended January 15 the public installation of officers of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. District Deputy Ivan H. Harper officiated, and Dr. R. L. White became the new president. The ceremonies were preceded by a dinner and followed by entertainment.

Officers of Arrowhead Assembly No. 14 Past Presidents Association N.S.G.W. were installed by F. L. McGarvey January 17, Charles N. Frost becoming governor. It was a dinner affair and there was a large attendance of members.

TWO HUNDREDTH MEETING.

San Bernardino—With Evelyn Shaddox retained as president, officers of Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. were installed January 8 by Deputy Gertrude Tuttle. During the social hour, in charge of Marjorie Beck, a large cake commemorating the two hundredth meeting of the Parlor was cut by the president. A large portion of it, together with the decorations of sweetpeas, was sent to Florence D. Schoneman, organizer of Lugonia, critically ill in a Los Angeles hospital. Among the visitors were Grand Trustee Nellie Cline, Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg and Supervising Deputy Flora Holy.

A potluck dinner was served January 22 and everyone brought a gift for a mystery sister. After the dinner past presidents night was observed, with Lois Poling presiding. The history and landmarks committee, Clara Barton chairman, had a relics exhibit at the County Library the last week of January.

PRESIDENT HONORED.

Ontario—January 9 Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. enjoyed a "midwinter" dinner to which members invited guests. White stocks in white pottery bowls adorned the table, with tall green tapers furnishing illumination. A handsome white cake made an effective centerpiece. The dinner was arranged as a surprise and specially honored President Isabelle Graves. Maud Van Fleet and Bea Herzberg were in charge. January 14 Bea Herzberg entertained at her home with a bridge supper for young women eligible to membership in the Parlor.

January 18 Ontario had a food sale, Vada Austin in charge. Several members of the Parlor visited Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 January 15. Bea Herzberg entertained at a bridge lunch January 22, the proceeds going to the Parlor.

Highest and lowest temperatures ever recorded in the United States were found in California—the highest, 134 degrees, in Death Valley in midsummer; the lowest, 56 degrees below, on the slopes of Mount Lassen.

California field crops produced in 1935 exceeded in total value those of 1934, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service. Acreage harvested and tonnage produced were also higher.

Pasadena, Los Angeles County, will stage its annual National Midwinter Dog Show February 15 and 16.

SAN FRANCISCO

MRS. ANNE C. THUESEN, GRAND President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, January 14 officially visited her home-Parlor, Alta No. 3. At a dinner preceding the meeting the table decorations were beautiful in their color and originality. A replica of the San Francisco Bay bridge, entwined with chrysanthemums and ferns and lighted with red lights, was the decorative scheme.

Following the repast Mrs. Thuesen was escorted to the meetingroom by the Parlor officers, attired in beautiful evening gowns, and given a station of honor. An act of homage here was the placing by each officer of a chrysanthemum in a vase at the feet of the Grand President while Mary W. Jordan sang a song composed by herself, "Anna Dear, Alta Loves You So." One candidate was initiated. From Alta, Mrs. Thuesen received a gift of silver, and she was the recipient of many other gifts. In responding, she graciously thanked the Parlor.

Other honored guests of the evening were Mrs. Catherine O'Rielly, mother of Grand President Thuesen, and Deputy Emily Taylor. In attendance also were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Lane and Alice Oldham, Past Grands Gladys E. Noce, Evelyn I. Carlson, Eliza D. Keith and Margaret G. Hill. The glee club favored with selections.

The San Francisco County deputies, attired in white lace formal gowns, made a very attractive background at the official visit. This wonderful occasion, long to be remembered, was due to the untiring efforts of the chairman, Agnese Hughes, assisted by Mary W. Jordan, Mary Howell, Robena Sheperd, President Thelma Flake, Margaret Kent, Mary Molholland, Angeline Vest and Lou Trinttenbach. Past Grands Keith and Hill were on the reception committee.—A.V.

HISTORIC DATE RECALLED.

Commemorating the eighty-seventh anniversary of the discovery of gold at Coloma, El Dorado County, the Native Sons of the Golden West had their annual "discovery of gold" banquet January 23 in the rooms of the Grizzly Bear Club, N.S.G.W. Building.

Past Grand President Lewis F. Byington was the toastmaster, and among the speakers were Mayor Angelo J. Rossi and Grand President Harmon D. Skillin. Approximately 150 enjoyed the occasion.

IMMENSE CROWD AT INSTALLATION.

At public ceremonies January 15, District Deputy Cornelius J. Ryan installed the officers of South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W., F. H. Elvander becoming president. Five hundred persons witnessed the ceremonies, which were splendidly conducted by Deputy Ryan, assisted by Joseph Sugrowe, Mark O'Reilly, Harvey Moss, Bert Paolinelli, Thomas Ryan, Charles Creighton, Walter Bammann, Mark Blos and Louis Giegerich of Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W.

Judge George W. Schonfeld, chairman of the evening, was assisted by Raymond Conroy. Speakers included Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, who presented, on behalf of No. 157, an emblematic ring to John P. Brady, retiring past president; Mrs. Anne C. Thuesen, Grand President N.D.G.W.; Deputy Ryan, Junior Past President George H. Kendall, President Elvander and Past President Brady.

Among the others in attendance were Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

For the members born in December, Orinda Parlor No. 56 had a birthday party the 27th. The Marin County contingent presented a short play, gifts were distributed and a delightful repast was served. Orinda's welfare committee visits the San Francisco Hospital each month and distributes funny papers and gifts to the less-fortunate children there.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132's officers were publicly installed January 21 by Deputy Emily Ryan, Evelyn Kilkenny becoming president. Preparations for the official visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen February 6 are nearing completion; dinner will be served. The Parlor's drum corps will have birthday dinners for Veronica Cassidy, Alice Drolla and Kay LaGrave during February.

At public ceremonies January 15 the officers of Gabrielle Parlor No. 139 and Rincon Parlor No. 72 N.S.G.W. were jointly installed, Ralpha Zgraggen and Louis Demartini becoming the respective presidents. Dancing followed the ceremonies and refreshments were served.

Officers of Dolores Parlor No. 169 were publicly installed January 11 by Deputy Ruby Bried, assisted by Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Rose Spaelti becoming president. The hall was festive with acacia and baskets of evergreens. Ethel Dethlefsen sang "Deep in the Heart of a Rose," accompanied at the piano by Betty Marquis. Among those in attendance were Grand Trustees Alice Lane and Orinda Giannini, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey and several deputies. Dancing concluded the affair, which was in charge of Past Grand Evelyn I. Carlson. At the January 8 social the Parlor presented gifts to members having birthdays that month. The tables were decorated in carnival manner, with confetti and serpentine in profusion. The twenty-seventh anniversary of Dolores was celebrated at a banquet January 16. Hazel Nelson was chairman of arrangements.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

THAT THERE'S SOMETHING DECIDedly rotten, not in Denmark, but right here in the "Angel City," is again evidenced by events of the past month. The Board of Education conducted a survey and found that several of its employes have criminal records, and that numerous others are inefficient. A majority of the Board voted to clean house, and also to demote three officials. So, a "citizens committee"—consider its makeup!—protested, intimating the Federal Government would withdraw support of the school rehabilitation program unless there be a change of policy.

Well, in a published statement, President Gertrude Rounsavelle of the Education Board declared, in answer to the committee's intimations: "There are a lot of persons around this town who have had itching fingers ever since it became known that the school system was going to spend $22,000,000 [of taxpayers' funds] on a building program during the next eleven months. That explains many recent happenings. . . . The morning after the Board meeting at which . . . were discharged, a PWA investigator here from Washington came to my office voluntarily and told me the Board's action had done more to hasten the building program than anything else in months."

In addition to this, charges have been made in the City Council that the gambling and other laws are being openly violated, the Grand Jury has indicated policemen alleged to be affiliated with a local burglary ring, and the "grapevine" daily relates other instances of public-affairs putridness that the so-called newspapers mention not.

More power to the Education Board majority! May it carry on its house cleaning and do a thorough job regardless of "pull," and may its example be emulated by every department of the city government, and also that of the county. Now's the time to rout political racketeering from local government.—C.M.H.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

At public ceremonies January 9 the officers of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W., with Walter E. Smith as president, were installed by District Deputy Harry T. Honn, assisted by Earl LeMoine and Ray LeMoine. A past president emblem was presented Michael Botello by Owen S. Adams. Harry Davis, retiring president, presented a boquet to Mrs. Walter Smith, and her response was roundly applauded. Other speakers were District Deputy Daniel McSweeny and Past Grand John T. Newell. January 23 the Parlor was host at dinner for members of the Order.

Los Angeles will have as an attraction February 13 the sheriff's pistol team. February 27 a social meeting with the Native Daughters will be featured. The womenfolks are invited. There will be entertainment and refreshments.

TO BRAVE SNOWDRIFTS.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. will have a mock initiation February 5. Sounds like practice for the Grand President's visit, especially after the large number of prospective candidates entertained at the January 29 rushing party. Congratulations for that affair go to Louise McNary and committee. Delegates to the last Grand Parlor are sponsoring a card party, which will terminate the current tournament. It will be held February 12 at the Women's University Clubhouse, 943 South Hoover, 8 p.m. There will, as usual, be charming and useful prizes; Los Angeles never gives "white elephants."

February 16 members of the Parlor will brave the snowdrifts at Wrightwood, where a snow party will be featured. Olinda Kirby is in charge of arrangements. Verdugo Parlor No. 240 (Glendale) will be entertained February 19. Refreshments will be served.

February 27 is the night the girls of Los Angeles No. 124 and the boys of Los Angeles No. 45 have a joint meeting. Knights of Columbus Hall is the location and 8 p.m. the time. Will the boys or the girls have the largest turnout? Matty Gara and Marie Walsh are appearing before the City Council to oppose, on the Parlor's behalf, the proposed change of the name of old Aliso street.

January 15 Los Angeles entertained Grace Parlor No. 242 (Placentia) and Ontario Parlor No. 251. There was a petite guest, also, from Mexico—a china poblana doll, sent by Marvel Thomas-Tempest, who is residing in Mexico since her marriage. The Parlor's homeless children committee, headed by Edna Trombatore, are wearing very pleased looks, for it is believed the financial quota for the year has been reached. —H.M.

LEAP YEAR DANCE.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. was host January 11 for the southern district group initiation. Among the several in attendance were goodly delegations from Bakersfield and Santa Barbara, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand John T. Newell, District Deputies Mart Leonard, A. C. Dinsmore, Harry Honn, Edward Baldwin, Daniel McSweeny, Walter Odemar and Fred Staebler. With President Clarence S. Hunt presiding, the officers of No. 109 exemplified the ritual, six candidates being initiated—three for Ramona, two for Hollywood Parlor No. 196 and one for Sepulveda Parlor No. 263 (Wilmington.) A program and refreshments followed the initiation.

Officers of the Parlor were installed January 17 by District Deputy Edward Baldwin, assisted by Vincent Hopkins and Joseph Coyle, John Off becoming president. Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth was a speaker.

Ramona is featuring a Leap Year dance at the Southwest Ebell Club, 1717 West Forty-seventh street, February 29. Chairman Frank Ziegler promises good music and many novelties. February 14, initiation will be followed by a dutch lunch. February 21, First Vice-president Robert ELABORATE SOCIAL AFFAIR PLANNED.

At the January 14 meeting of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. President Flora Jacobson expressed to the members the following new year wish: "I do not know what special joys you're longing to possess, I do not know what hopes fulfilled would bring you happiness, but here's my wish, my earnest, sincere wish that your desires may be a dream come true in this new year, a sweet reality." Ruth Parris was appointed chairman of arrangements for the official visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen in March, and an appropriation was made to assist the southern Parlors in arranging, if possible, an elaborate social affair aboard the battleship "California" at that time.

At luncheon the history and landmarks committee presented Rev. Father Joseph Thompson, who related "What the Franciscan Friars Have Done for California and the Southwest." Marybelle Chapman delightfully rendered Spanish ballads. During January the dessert sewing circle held two delightful gatherings at the homes of Hattie Duvall and Hattie Furman-Stamps.

Californiana's history and landmarks committee, Gertrude Tuttle chairman, is sponsoring a project which is attracting interest from members and friends. The plan is to place new cathedral entrance doors in the ancient church, Nuestra Senora la Reina de Los Angeles, which began its career when the pueblo of Los Angeles was born in 1781. A bronze marker will also be placed with fitting rites. Two entertainments to raise the necessary funds have been given with social and financial success.—O.L.

DRUM CORPS STAG SMOKER.

Santa Monica—Harry Dailey was installed president of Santa Monica Bay No. 267 N.S.G.W. January 15. The ceremonies were conducted by District Deputy Daniel McSweeny, assisted by District Deputy Harry Honn and Frank Ziegler. Dr. Robert Eshelman was the recipient of a past president pin, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer making the presentation address. The Parlor has several social events outlined, among them a dinner dance in March, a social dance in May and the annual barbecue in June.

Tuesday, February 18, at 8 p.m., Santa Monica Bay's drum corps will stage a stag smoker, for members of the Order only, at the American Legion Clubhouse, Hughes avenue and Venice boulevard, Culver City. Bert Bair is chairman, and assures good entertainment and a fine time generally. Co-operate with the drum corps, which always responds when called on to advance the Order's interests, and keep in mind that Santa Monica will ask for the 1937 statewide Admission Day celebration.

PRESIDENT GIVEN SURPRISE SHOWER.

Long Beach—Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. had a surprise handkerchief shower January 2 for President Gertrude Riddle. The handkerchiefs were placed in a lavender and purple basket covered with hand-made violets. Attached to the basket were streamers bearing the members' names. Daisy Hansen made the presentation. Table decorations carried out a yellow, lavender and purple scheme. Violet Henshilwood, chairman for the occasion, was assisted by all the past presidents.

At a public ceremony January 16 officers of the Parlor were installed by Deputy Mildred Grey, Leola Temby becoming president. Among the many in attendance was Grand Outside Sentinel Mary B. Noerenberg, who congratulated the new officers. A past president pin was given Gertrude Riddle, Deputy Grey was presented with a gift, and Alice Waldow, Charter Member Kate McFadyen and President Temby were the recipients of flowers. A program was presented by John Burch, Claire Thomas, Jean Bartleson, Patricia Kelso, Lyska Herring and Helen Cervantes.

February 20, something new will be featured — a "sweepstakes party," for the womenfolks as well as the menfolks. Tickets must be secured, from members of the Parlor, to gain admission. Stan Parker's "University Wildcats" are still tearing up things in the Sunday morning softball league.—J.P.H.

Richards extended a welcome to the visitors and thanked the Native Daughters for their co-operation at all times. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the installation.

January 9 the Parlor entertained at an italian dinner, and during February it will celebrate its institution anniversary. Sepulveda personals—George Barlow, who has been laid up for several months, is now at the General Hospital. Banning Young is a proud grandfather, his daughter, Mrs. M. Medlock, being the mother of a native daughter. Sergeant Ed. Baldwin, treasurer of the Parlor, has completed twenty years of service with the Los Angeles Police Department. Dale Lampson has returned from Port Arthur, Texas. Chester Hildebrandt left for Manila January 12. J. C. MacQuiddy is back at his office after a three months' illness. Financial Secretary "Bill" Reuter visited Fresno last month. Walter Richards Jr. was seriously injured by being thrown from a horse.

ROMANCE IN THE SKY

(ESTHER CRONE.)

There surely is romance up over head;
The Man in the Moon is in love
With beautiful Venus; perhaps they will wed.
Could such a thing happen above?

He follows her closely up in the west,
And basks in her glorious light,
While she hovers fondly near to his crest
With a radiance charming and bright.

Now if even they both could thus meet,
No court could that bond ever sever,
For he is so bold and she is so sweet,
They'd live happy forever and ever.

tion of this cargo was sold to a trader and sent by ship to Boston.

From the mouth of the Virgin River the party continued down the Colorado until they reached the villages of the treacherous Mojave Indians. The brass swivel gun, however, was most useful in persuading them to friendliness. The trappers seem to have remained two days among the savages, trading such things as red cloth and knives for baked corn bread, dried pumpkins and small white beans. Striking out across the desert, they reached the sink of the Mojave River. Following up that stream and going through the Cajón Pass, the trappers finally reached the then flourishing Mission San Gabriel.

When the mission was sighted, Wolfskill halted the party and went on ahead with Yount to see what sort of a welcome awaited them. It was a pleasant surprise when, in spite of their rough and ragged appearance, they found themselves received with open arms by the beloved José Bernardo Sanchez, head of the establishment. The two emissaries returned to their party laden down with provisions, and later the whole company moved up to the mission, near which they were allowed to camp.

For about two weeks the travelers rested at the quiet, sunny mission. Everything about San Gabriel interested them, but especially did the marvelous horsemanship of the mission Indians and their feats with the lasso arouse the admiration of the mountain men. The trappers, in their turn, displayed their wonderful accuracy with the rifle. If we can believe Yount, his own performance climaxed the contests, for one morning, in the presence of Father Sanchez, he cut the riata off the neck of a bullock with a bullet from a distance of fifty yards.

But feasting and resting could not last forever. It was now February 1831, and the beaver season was over in California. With only a few peltries, most of their traps lost, and horses played out, the trappers had to find some means of subsistence. A few miles away lay el Pueblo de Nuestra Señora, La Reina de Los Angeles, the metropolis of California. There, if anywhere, lay their opportunity. Thus, with sincere regret, the mountaineers took leave of San Gabriel.

In Los Angeles, Wolfskill saw that the dissolution of the party was inevitable. With no prospect of being able to trap until late in the fall, and with no means to support his men for the better part of a year, he was unable to hold them together. A good many made their way back to New Mexico that summer, taking with them California mules which they had traded for their blankets. It is very probable that they returned in company with the "thirty men from New Mexico, merchants in wool," who appeared in Los Angeles under the leadership of Antonio Santi-Estavan a short two months after Wolfskill's arrival.

Others fitted themselves out with what guns and traps remained and went otter hunting on the coast, while some, like George C. Yount, determined to stay in the country a year or two and "wait the result of future exploration" before deciding on any serious course of action. Few of the disbanded company had any intention of stopping in California permanently, but they had to find some employment to get the means "to enable them to get away."

As a trapping enterprise, the Wolfskill expedition had been a complete failure, but regarded in the light of the future history of California, it stands out as an event of quite some importance.

Wolfskill and his men had definitely opened a new route between New Mexico and southern California. Other brave explorers, including Rivera, Escalante, Garcés, Jedediah Smith, Ewing Young and Armijo, had traversed parts of the route, but to Wolfskill belongs the honor of having shown it to be a feasible avenue for travel all the way from Taos to the Pacific.

His path was more nearly that followed by the New Mexico-California trading caravans than was that of either Armijo or Young. In late years it became known, quite incorrectly, as "The Old Spanish Trail to California" from the fact that it was a continuation of the trail used by the Spaniards since the time of Rivera's expedition of 1765 in their trade with the Indians of Utah. For nearly two decades a brisk trade in merchandise and in horses and mules was carried on over this general route between New Mexico and California.

The Wolfskill Trail, however, was a difficult one, rough and dry in many places. The Mexicans used it more from tradition than because of its facilities. Other and better routes were known to exist farther south, but during the thirties the Old Spanish Trail was the most famous southern approach to California. When the emigrant movement to the Pacific started in 1841, this trail was quickly shown to be inadequate. After being used by the Rowland-Workman party and several others, it gradually fell into disuse and was superseded by more convenient routes.

It has been stated in several well-known accounts that the return of Wolfskill's men to New Mexico with their California mules was the beginning of the caravan trade between the two sections. Information about the expeditions of Armijo and Santi-Estavan, however, leaves little room for this supposition. It is barely possible that Wolfskill's destitute companions were the first to trade blankets for mules, but this point cannot be determined. According to one authority, it is likely that some of Santi-Estavan's or Wolfskill's men, returning in the summer of 1831, brought some stolen horses along with them. If this action did not actually start the regular forays of the horse-thieves, it at least was an important step in the inauguration of this traffic.

Probably of most importance is the fact that, as a direct result of this expedition, California received a number of sturdy American pioneers who contributed in no small measure towards the development of the state and the encouragement of future occupation by emigrants from the United States. William Wolfskill settled in Los Angeles, where he built up an immense vineyard and fruit orchard. He is recognized as the founder of commercial orange-growing in California. The town of Yountville commemorates the name of George C. Yount, whose rancho in the Napa Valley was a haven of refuge for many an exhausted overland emigrant. Francis Ziba Branch became the owner of a huge tract in San Luis Obispo County; besides being prominent in the politics of his district, he was at one time listed as the wealthiest man in the county. Burton's Mound in Santa Bárbara preserves the name of Lewis T. Burton, who became one of the most prosperous merchants and landowners of that city; he married into the Carrillo family, probably the leading family of that day in California. Thus the members of the Wolfskill Party not only played the typical trapper role of pathfinders, but a good number of them gave up their roving to become leaders of the state they chose as their permanent home.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

THE STATE GOVERNMENT CONTINUES to operate perfectly—for the benefit and wellbeing of the political machine, but not the near-bankrupt taxpayers. The bonded public debt of California has mounted to $2,350,000,000, the cost of operating the State Government is today at a record high, and the budget is woefully out of balance.

Incidentally, California has achieved new honors! Government cost here is the greatest, per capita, of any state of the nation. Fine record, but what otherwise could be expected, considering the makeup!

The state's direct-relief fund is dwindling, so state authorities decree a dole budget reduction of 50 percent for 80,000 family heads. But, substantial salary increases are given forty-five relief executives already drawing from $50 to $125 per week!

And also, the State Personnel Board has lowered the educational and experience standards for persons taking civil service examinations. Several hundred new positions are being created, and naturally those with the proper pull must be taken care of.

At a Santa Monica meeting of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, Colonel Samuel G. McClure said "We are all going to come out of the small end of the horn unless we fight this increasing tax madness." Talk and propaganda alone will not lessen taxes. The making of the laws and the management of the government must be delegated to competent and honest men and women not accountable to political racketeers. And this is certain: if the tax madness is not suppressed, not even the small end of the horn will be left, and there will be no coming out!

The United States Federal Court at Buffalo, New York, has declared Mexican Indians ineligible to American naturalization and therefore inadmissible as immigrants. About 40 percent of the population of Mexico is Indian, and Indians constitute a large portion of the Mexis who have been admitted into California since 1924. In this state are thousands of these Indian Mexis who have no legal right to be here, and they should be deported. The relief rolls would be considerably reduced by so doing, and there would be work for many unemployed Whites.

So many classes and cliques are receiving special dollar-favors from the Federal Congress—at the expense of the general public—we'll venture the guess that the "borrowing group" will be the next to organize and will demand cancellation of all their indebtedness to the Federal Government. And they, too, will be successful—if!

Samuel W. Knight, delegate to the Federal Congress from Hawaii, declares "California need have no fear of Japanese residents of the islands removing to the mainland in the event Hawaii is admitted to statehood," because "the great majority of Japanese aliens now living on the islands arrived at Hawaii prior to 1908 on passports granting them permission to enter Hawaii only."

The record bears out the contention that the Japs respect not treaties, passports or similar "scraps of paper," so, contrary to the contention of Delegate Knight, California has plenty to fear.

Ruling the Federal AAA unconstitutional, the United States Supreme Court held: "Processing taxes were levied, not for general revenue, but as a step in a plan for regulation of farm production, a matter beyond the powers of the Federal Government." The "noble experiment" voided by this decision cost the people, in increased charges for the necessities of life, approximately one billion dollars.

The Japanese American Citizens League admits there are in southern California 42,873 Japs, 18,373 of whom are "Nisei," American-born citizens. The figures are, in both instances, quite modest! Any way, the "Nisei" are organized, and ere long Japs will be in the California Legislature.

During discussion in the House of Representatives of President Franklin Roosevelt's message to the Federal Congress, Representative Hoffman of Michigan commented: "We were told that there is neither war, nor rumor of war, nor desire for war, in this country. How long has it been since we were told that unless the President . . . had his way with his New Deal legislation and Congress became a rubber stamp, we should have a revolution? . . .

"War, rumor of war, in the United States! Do we not hear, day after day, the threat, under the cloak of charity, the mantle of sympathy, to give to those who have not by taking away from those who have? Does not the Government already take from every citizen 25 cents of every dollar by way of taxation? Has not this administration continually sought to purchase the vote of one class of people at the expense of another? Has not the administration, day in and day out, been engaged in the levying, or the attempt to levy, taxes upon one group, as an example, the consumer, for the benefit of the producer?"

"Can we not seek out from an abundance of God-fearing people any one of a hundred or more men not only capable of managing the business of government of the United States, but capable also of assessing and preserving the moral values that belong in the national policies of a great nation?" queries David Lawrence in the United States News.

"Let the quest be begun. Let traditional methods be eschewed. Let the call for leadership be a call to which non-political associations, organizations and groups everywhere can respond with a will to remove once and for all the political cancer that eats into the tissue of government. Let the call for leadership be a demand for honest minds to unite in declaring the principles that ought to govern us in meeting the challenging problems of the hour as we struggle in a world of madness to preserve the heritage of a free people."

WAKE UP!

"WHENEVER I GO TO THE LIbrary I hunt up copies of your Grizzly Bear. I have been particularly interested in your warnings on the Japanese. While not a Native I have the blood of Pioneers and Natives in my blood. Necessity took my folks away from their beloved state at the time of my birth and, much to their regret and mine, I was born over the border. However, we lost no time in getting back to God's land as soon as circumstances permitted. I look with amazement upon the luke-warm attitude of California's children toward the slow but sure invasion of our precious California by the yellow horde. What are the organizations for, if not to repel such a state of affairs?

"I would like to enumerate to you a few cases that I have observed of the carelessness of our people to the snake-like treachery of these people. At a school near this city, a large number of Japanese children are registered. Every afternoon at the close of school the school-bus, paid for by white taxes, hauls these children to a Japanese school, where they spend two hours being saturated with Japanese customs, national anthems and language. Some American citizens!

"At another town near this, the public school is loaned the Japanese to present their national plays to their own people without cost. This is ok. The Whites pay the bills. The trustees, I am told, are presented with lovely gifts for their generosity. In this same fine school, I was told, several years ago the Japanese children were granted a day off each year to celebrate the mikado's birthday and not marked absent, while the American children were marked absent on Washington's birthday. These are the people so anxious to become American citizens! Oh, yes.

"I recently attended a card party given in this town by the Native Sons. Hardly a prize given was made in America; they were MADE IN JAPAN. I was shocked, to say the least! This is another yellow trick. They are swamping our country with their goods, and our loyal(?) citizens buy them because they are cheap—and our factories are idle. Some of the finest stores in San Francisco and San Jose are full of Japanese dishes and other goods. Why are such stores not boycotted? I haven't seen the great Orders of Natives saying a word.

"I am told by a friend in Japan that the Japanese have named a little town 'USA' and that they are marking goods shipped to this country, 'Made in USA.' What do you think of that for a trick? I am told that many boy scout groups have so many Japanese in them that many White children won't go. In our schools they monopolize the special courts and playground equipment so that White children are beginning to wonder to whom our country belongs.

"If only I had access to the Native Sons' and Daughters' lodgerooms I would try to stir up what red blood they may have in them, and insist upon every lodge in the great organizations issuing a public boycott against any American store carrying Jap goods.

"Another sample of how even our youth are being taught to sell their birthrights for pottage: At two schools in this valley, fine schools, too, Japanese were elected to preside over our American student bodies. Why? Because they bought the children off with candy before the election, and White children threw down their own blood for this. Shame!

"Watch the fine school buses in this valley loaded with Japanese, and our little American children trod the roads because they don't live out quite so far, although their fathers and mothers are paying for these buses with their life blood."

(This is a letter, postmarked San Jose, November 12, 1935, which came to the editor of The Grizzly Bear. The sender, whose name is withheld from publication, concluded her missive with: "You may use this letter as you see fit. I hope to God it will wake up our native-born and set them in action." The Grizzly Bear has for years been publicizing the activities and the deceitfulness of the Japs, but the yellow horde marches on. The editor joins in the hope of "A.W."—Editor.)

Lake Mead is the official title of the man-made lake created by the building of Boulder Dam. It has been so designated in memory of Dr. Elwood Mead, lately deceased reclamation commissioner. Lake Mead is located in Mojave County, Arizona, and Clark County, Nevada.

California's mineral production for 1935 had a value, estimated by the State Division of Mines, of $256,938,000. Compared with 1934, the increased value is approximately $19,563,000.

MEANING OF THE INDIAN NAPA

Rev. Thos. J. McKeon
(GRAND HISTORIAN N.S.G.W.)

In submitting this article to The Grizzly Bear, Rev. Thomas J. McKeon, Grand Historian N.S.G.W., says: This is "an original study on the meaning of Napa. It may be a bit heavy for the average reader, but it has its importance for serious students and, at times, we should consider the serious student."—Editor.

THE WORD "NAPA," THE NAME OF A county, a county seat, a river and the valley drained by the river, has a meaning which varies almost with every writer. Bancroft states it was the name of an Indian tribe which lived in the valley, a very brave tribe exterminated in the smallpox epidemic of 1838. This epidemic, it may be said in passing, began at the Russian settlement, Fort Ross, spread to Sonoma Mission, the Indian villages nearby, and thence to the entire California, and wrought dreadful havoc. "There is a Pomo Indian word 'napa,' meaning harpoon point, between which and the name of the town there may be some connection" is one explanation. Dr. Vallejo gives another: The suffix "pa" signifies proximity; "napa" means "near mother, near home" or "mother land" for, according to tradition, Napa Valley was the cradle of the Suysun race. Basing his conclusion upon the "statements of old pioneers" Menefee, in his "Historical Sketch of Napa," etc., says the word means "fish." In Slocum and Bowen's "History of Napa and Lake Counties," it is said that the word is derived from "nappoo," and means village. Kanaga's "History of Napa County" repeats Slocum, and adds that "nappoo" means anything collected in such amounts that the idea of numbers is embodied. Then, taking a point from Menefee, it is suggested that the great number of fish caught there (Napa City) caused the place to be called "Fish Village." Harry Gunn, in the latest "History of Napa County," repeats Kanaga as "authoritative."

Without going too deeply into such phrases as "Pomo Indian word" and the etymology of "nappoo" and "pa," it may be enough to state that "Pomo Indian word" is a very inaccurate term, since the Pomos were a race divided into many tribes by ethnologists, and only in their root-words can these tribes be said to speak a common language. "Nappoo" is an Upper Lake word, but there is no evidence that the Indians of Upper Lake ever lived in Napa Valley, and mere similarity of sound as a means of identifying one word with another is rather unscientific, to say the least.

Another point that might well be stressed at this late day in the investigation of the meaning of Indian words is that the Indian of today has forgotten the meanings of many tribal words; or that today, several Indians of the same group will give a varying sound for the same word. This is a source of indecision and doubt to the student. And when "old pioneers" with their "Kansas Spanish," as one witty writer puts it, and inability to catch the exact sounds of "foreign languages"—our boys overseas and their pronunciation of French place names is a case in point—are quoted as "authorities," then we have confusion worse confounded. A writer on a San Francisco weekly was spared a delightful blunder once. She heard a local "authority" pronounce "Porta Suella," the outlet for San Rafael to the north, and thought that he said "Porta Coeli," gate of heaven for narrow gate, and was enthused about an article she would write upon such a theme, but—

Further, another difficulty is that the Indians forget not only the meaning of the composite word, but even of the component parts of the word. Yet, to split up a word and find the meaning of each part is the only way to obtain a satisfactory meaning. And then, even when they know the meaning of a part of a word, they do not know its equivalent in English. The writer remembers trying to find the meaning of "cay" in a compound word. "You pour water in the ground and it disappears, that is 'cay'." By an arduous process of elimination, it is found that the water, not the ground, disappears. Then, after you have guessed at meanings for an hour, you learn that "cay" means "dry." And so it has been with "napa," for most if not all who have tried to learn an exact meaning for that word. "It is a high word," is the way you are told that it has become obsolete, and that was final. So, by indirection only was a meaning found.

When an Indian mother carries her child on her back, she carries it "apou;" when she carries it under her arm or at her side, she carries it "nahpou." To walk beside another is to walk "anahto." Rain is called "oopah." "Oo" is one way of saying yes, in our sense of "all right." And by much questioning it is learned that "pah" is a "high word," an obsolete word for eat. "Oopah" then, when split up, would be something like all right we eat, now we eat, and remembering how much the Indians of California depended upon seeds and nuts of various kinds, we can well imagine how welcome the rain was, and we do know that they had prayers for rain. It should be remembered that all these words cited are words of a group which gave most, if not all, Indian place names to Napa County.

These were the guide words which led to an explanation of the word "napa," and the writer thinks it extremely likely that this was the origin of the name. But after finding a plausible meaning for a word, it is necessary to see if the meaning can be justified. Many meanings given to Indian names when studied from this aspect are found to be erroneous and arbitrary. The current meaning for "tamalpais" and its derivation is a case in point. Can we justify the statement that "napa" means food that the Indians carried in a bag or pouch at their side for food on a journey?

Bancroft's "Native Races" (vol 1, p 84) describes how the Indians gathered seeds. Two baskets were used. One large basket was hung over the left shoulder in back. The other, wide and shallow, was used as a scoop and cutter combined and was held in the right hand. As the Indian walked in the ripened seeds, he cut with his basket scoop a full swath of seeds from their stems and with the same motion swept the seeds into the basket hung over his shoulder. When enough seeds were gathered, they were roasted. Bancroft quotes "Gerstaker's Journal": "They (the Indian girls) put some live coals among the seeds and swinging and shaking the basket they brought the seeds and the coals together into close contact without burning the former and roasted them completely."

The Indians of the valley used to go into the wide lowlands of the valley with the two baskets, described by Bancroft, to gather the wild oats, "shineeah ooscoon." Then with a basket made of fire resistant roots, "kennee itzookoo," they roasted the seeds, "ooscoon," as Gerstaker describes the process, taking out the dead coals and adding live coals, "weekee conza," till the seeds were completely roasted. Then with a pestle, "tohwoi," they ground the roasted seeds in a mortar, "tamee." This mortar, unlike the one used for the grinding of acorns, had a collar of wicker-work to place over the opening in the mortar to keep in the flour; the lighter chaff would gradually work out over the edge of the basket-like screen. The roasted flour was finally screened from the course fiber and fine chaff in a screen basket, "sakalnay kennee." The sifted flour was gathered into a bag or pouch and hung from the shoulder, bandolier style, against the side, hence it was called "nappah," food carried at the side to eat. If they had time to heat water on a journey, the Indians made a mush of this "nappah;" if not, they mixed it with a little water into a paste and ate it cold.

GRATITUDE

(FLORENCE THOMAS.)

I love to mess around with flowers;
A pleasant way of spending hours.
Out among things colorful and green
You somehow learn what life doth mean.
Each tiny seed when given a place
Will bring you moments of beauty and grace.
They can't scold you; they can't shout—
They just bring glory you'll rave about.
When friends grow catty, act so mean—
Turn to the silent friends so green.
They silently help you your burdens bear
And with abundant gratitude repay your care.
In pulsing silence away from woe
Burdens lighten, watching things grow.
The serenity of their purposeful days
Will abide with your spirit always.

YOUNGER SONS WITH LOVE OF THE WEST

(KATE RENNIE ARCHER.)

We are the western children, who stand where the edge of day
Dips down to the great Pacific, we glory in wind and spray,
Our lips by the fog are freshened, our limbs on the broad beach tanned,
We sing,—and the waves sing with us, of valley and mountain-land.

We are the western children, we come from the earth's far ends,
We mingle the world's traditions and keep which we will as friends,
The lungs of our new-born waken with breath
from the western sea,
And nursed on the breasts of mountains our youth has grown brave and free.

We are the western children, discarding each shibboleth
And password of dead conventions that harry a man to death;
Strength shall be ours, and beauty, and some day we shall arise
To dignity like our mountains, and calm like our radiant skies.

Then shall our sons' deeds show it, then shall our daughters sing,
And disciplined, strengthened, steady, we shall
of our souls be king
When beauty, from earth reflected, to beautiful aims shall grow
Through channels of western children, whose heritage made it so.

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear through the office of the Grand Secretary N.S.G.W.—Editor.)

NATIVES SHOULD ASSIST OUTSTANDING HISTORY ENDEAVOR.

With more than three hundred Parlors represented, the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West are prominent on the large tinted map showing the location of organizations throughout the state which are interested in state history. This map is an important part of the historical exhibit being prepared by the California State Historical Association for display at the Palace of Education at the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego. Map tacks of fourteen different colors have been used to locate the various historical and patriotic organizations, gold and silver tacks representing the Native Sons and Daughters.

The map is to be supplemented by a huge scrapbook of programs and leaflets describing meetings and activities of historical nature. All Parlors are invited to send to the office of the Historical Association, at 3551 University avenue, Los Angeles, sample programs or any printed matter of clippings regarding their work on behalf of history and landmarks in their vicinity, to be mounted in the proper county section of the scrapbook. Lists of landmarks preserved or marked by each Parlor will be most interesting to visitors from other counties or states.

Another attractive feature of the historical booth is the case of figurines sixteen inches high wearing authentic reproductions of historic American and Californian costumes. This collection will include a Franciscan friar, a trapper in leather tunic, Priscilla of pilgrim fame, Spanish Californians dressed for work and for play, and a pioneer couple of the '49 period. Here also are shoes and hats of pioneer model, paper collars from a miner's Sunday wardrobe, and a real carpet bag.

Visitors are urged to register in the leather-bound guest book at the historical booth, and Parlor members should state their Parlor affiliations. The San Diego Parlors are co-operating generously with the San Diego Historical Society to provide a continuous series of special programs, and a committee of hostesses organized by Mrs. Winifred Davidson will have representatives on hand at the historical booth each day. Chairs and a reading table make this corner of the Palace of Education a pleasant place to rest and refresh one's enthusiasm for California history.

"Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement of industry and enterprise.

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."—Abraham Lincoln.

Feminine World's Fads and Fancies

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

THE OUTLOOK FOR SPRING IS DEFINITELY gray, but don't be downhearted — the gray days ahead refer neither to the state of the market nor the condition of crops, but to the newest color in the spring prism. Gray tailored suits and costumes will blossom with the daffodils, rivaling the perennial spring popularity of navy. You'll be seeing gray suits, gray topcoats, gray dresses, and hats ranging in tone from the good old stand-by, Oxford, to a pristine putty.

If you go for gray, there is one all-important point you must remember—you must have contrasting accessories. The number one rule for spring ensembles is this: don't try to match your shoes, hat, gloves, scarf and handbag to your suit or dress. Such is the importance of gray in the spring fashion picture that the up-and-coming shops have assembled a whole brigade of accessory colors to supply the proper dramatic touch to the gray costume.

The newest and brightest of these is carrot, which in other seasons has been called variously red clay and London tan. It is the color of bright calfskin luggage and is shown in admirably tailored walking shoes, gloves and handbags. Canary yellow also is effective when used in blouses, gloves and such with a gray costume, and other correct accessory colors are navy, green and black.

The new pastel tweed suits may be worn casually beneath fur swagger coats during the cold season. Other suits come in so many shades that to make a choice is bewildering. You can make grand symphonies by adding gay accessories of contrasting shade. One lovely suit has a tangerine tweed coat and skirt, with buttons of matching bone. There are ultra-mannish styles with jackets cut like men's morning coats and with striped skirts, all topped by straw hats shaped like fedoras or stovepipes in black and white shiny straws.

Gay, varied blouses and neckwear are weaknesses with most of us for, with a change of blouse or scarf, the same old suit takes on a different aspect, and one can bolster up that two-seasons-ago costume enough to really fool one's self.

For tailored things, there is a blouse of white pique, very mannish, with set-in "shirt front," wing collar and bow tie, and it tucks into the top of the skirt for dressy moments. When you have some dress that seems to need something else around the neck, you might like a sheer chiffon kerchief that is edged with curled ostrich feathers. It's very feminine and comes in red with black edges or brown and pink.

Then, there is the frou-frou of organza that is too fetching with a tailored suit. The ruffles are accordion pleated with bound edges and there are inserts of lace. To brighten up a dark costume, there is a gay and very chic blouse of washable rayon in a paisley print with a predominance of aquamarine. It has an inverted pleat stitched down the middle of the front, and a little string tie at the neck. A belt starts on either side of the front and ties in a smart bow in back. Another tailored suit of rather snappy appearance has a plain black wool skirt, very slim, and a single-breasted jacket of light-weight novelty woolen in a pale gray with an overplaid and mottling of black.

To wear with your new spring suits or ensembles, you will like the stunning doeskin gauntlet gloves. They're of a lovely soft quality and come in grand shades to match or contrast various outfits. On the back they have narrow arrows that are raised like fine cording. They come in blue, green, brown and rust. You just can't be too gay with your gloves this season.

A chic navy blue ensemble with bolero jacket is smart for between-seasons attire. There is evidence of the spanish influence in the long-sleeved bolero jacket, while the blouse is of a heavy East Indian print in saffron yellow, rust and white—a grand contrast with navy blue. The skirt, worthy of note, too, is completely of box-pleats sewn down to below the hips. This gives a slender line and the hem flares smartly at the bottom in walking.

The shops abound with spring-like cotton models that are just as alluring as the many silk prints. You can get gay print patterns in dimity or cretonne, sports material in sheer or heavier fabrics, luscious fade-proof solid-color models. Prints are as certain with spring as the swallows. They will be used for evening gowns as well. Veil both printed crepe and taffeta with net or chiffon for a dinner frock. Another printed frock is ensembled with a full-length wool coat lined with the same print.

The success of a coat and dress wardrobe depends this spring on the way you combine your colors. You can work it out in accessories as well as in dresses. Here, wine-red suede shoes, bag and gloves add distinction to an all-around coat in gray-beige worn over a matching dress.

Like sulphur and molasses, a new bonnet is a simple home remedy at this season of the year—a tonic which restores the morale of any wardrobe. For spring, the trend in hats swings definitely to small toques with some kind of cluster for trimming, and a veil. A black glazed straw, very shiny and smart, has perched on the flat top of the crown a group of white gardenias and green leaves. From this a black coarse mesh veil flares out all around.

Flowers are coming in again for spring and summer town hats. You won't know until you've tried how smart your tailored dinner dress or suit looks with a boquet chapeau. Volumes could easily be written on the hat situation without scratching the surface. There's the suit sailor in rough straw with a dashing pompon, or a pique or felt sailor with its rough large-mesh veil.

The Chinese influence that designers have exerted on our spring millinery makes these hats at once a delight, and a departure from the stereotyped. You can wear them or leave them alone, but can't ignore them. Many smart sailor types of panamas are being shown in the shops after the fashion of the hats that the little English sailor boys used to wear. They have a round, shallow crown, a rolled-up medium brim and a grosgrain band of navy blue about three and a half inches wide fitted to the crown.

Very chic and worldly looking is an evening gown of starched black lace. It is one of those that make you feel important as you walk into a room and gives you an assurance of being well dressed. It has a fitted bodice, cut with a deep "V" in front and back with very narrow straps. The skirt is flared and there is a wide strip of horsehair in the hem to hold it out. The final touch is a large bunch of pink roses or any other favored flower at the front of the bodice.

Silks that are patterned with neat small prints or small checked designs are useful numbers for this time of the year. There is practically no limit to the color combinations to be found. Navy of course is very prominent in backgrounds, but there are lots of brown symphonies, too.

When buying sports clothes, comfort is an important consideration. Fabrics which crumple and look mussed immediately, and designs which are impracticable and untidy when in active use should be avoided. Simple and conservative lines and fabrics which look well after a day's wearing are preferred. There is a new non-crushable heavy silk with inverted pleats at the front and back of the skirt. The blouse has gathered fullness to a shallow yoke at the shoulder line and opens with a buttoned tab at the neckline. A bit of color is added by the buttons and belt buckle.

THE FIFTY-NINTH GRAND PARLOR will be in session at Santa Cruz City the week of May 18, with Grand President Harmon D. Skillin presiding. Subordinate Parlors are required by the laws of the Order to nominate their delegates the last meeting nights of March, and to elect the first meeting nights of April.

Santa Cruz No. 90 is in charge of arrangements for the Grand Parlor, and among the entertainment events being planned are a public reception, grand ball, barbecue at the big trees, boat ride on the bay and a banquet. Also, especially for the visiting womenfolks, a card party and tea, a sightseeing trip and various other features are contemplated.

Arrangements details will be perfected by an executive committee of the Parlor which includes: Charles E. Canfield (chairman), J. Frank Murphy, Willett Ware, H. T. Alzina, T. V. Nine Initiated at Group Meeting.

Santa Barbara—Santa Barbara No. 116 was host for the group initiation of the southern district February 20, and practically every Parlor was represented among the goodly number present. A delicious spanish supper preceded the meeting. In the unavoidable absence of President Frances V. Vestal of the host-Parlor, First Vice-president Leland Holiday presided during the evening.

With Paul Sweetser acting as president, the officers of No. 116, assisted by Walter Odemar (Ramona) as second vice-president and Leslie Schellbach (Glendale) as organist, initiated nine candidates, six for Santa Barbara, and one each for Arrowhead No. 110 (San Bernardino), Sepulveda No. 263 (Wilmington) and Glendale No. 264. Just prior to the ritual exemplification the assemblage stood in silence for a moment, in memory of District Deputy Daniel F. McSweeny, chairman of the district deputies association which sponsors the group initiations, who met a tragic end February 13.

This evening was also the occasion of the official visit of Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, and he delivered an inspiring message. Other speakers were Past Grand John T. Newell, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer and Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven. Deputies in attendance were A. C. Dinsmore, Harry Honn, F. L. McGarvey, Walter Odemar and Clarence M. Hunt.

Santa Barbara Parlor observed Washington's Birthday, February 22, by planting in the grounds of the Santa Barbara County Court House an island ironwood, official tree of the county, in memory of the late Winfield B. Metcalf. M. Van Renssalaer had charge of the tree planting, and the principal address was delivered by Owen O'Neill. In observance of Arbor Day, March 7, the Parlor will formally dedicate the tree by placing this plaque, designed by George MacCulloch:

The committee of No. 116 in charge of this memorial includes, in addition to McCulloch and Van Renssalaer, George Black, A. C. Dinsmore, D. P. Taylor, Henry Meyers, George Streeter, J. B. Pico, Arthur Williams and Byron Abraham.

President Lewis Lercara was the toastmaster, and concluded his opening remarks with this tribute to California: "So long as the love of freedom shall swell in the breast of man, so long shall California stand the admiration of the world. 'I love thee next to God above, land of my fathers. With all thy faults, I love thee still'."

Order's Good Work Pointed Out.

Grand Trustee Thomas M. Foley paid his official visit at this time, and spoke on the good work of the Order, stressing particularly the homeless children endeavor and the restoration and preservation of historic landmarks. Presidents of the several Parlors told of activities in their communities. Refreshments concluded the meeting.

Homeless Children

A WORTHWHILE NON-SECTARIAN ENDEAVOR SPONSORED AND SUPPORTED BY THE ORDERS OF NATIVE SONS AND NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST

MANY OF THE SECRETARIES OF THE Native Sons and Native Daughters Parlors have very kindly notified the Central Committee of the dates of their contemplated benefits for the homeless children work, and have sent their claims for exemption from collection of amusement tax to the internal revenue office. These Parlors will not need to be reminded, no doubt, that there are exactly FORTY-ONE DAYS UNTIL THE BEGINNING OF ANOTHER YEAR, and that every effort should be made to get their returns in promptly to the central office.

January 31, 1936, there were seventy Native Sons Parlors, exclusive of the Parlors of the various joint committees, that had not sent in their contributions. Fifty-eight Native Daughters Parlors, not included in the joint committee Parlors, have not contributed this fiscal year. Many of the Parlors of both Orders think of Grand Parlor dates as the expiration dates for getting in their contributions. Again may we remind the members that March 31, 1936, will be the end of the fiscal year, and Parlors that never have failed to help since the work began will be disappointed if their names do not appear in the printed annual report.

Native Daughters contributions for January totaled $170.50—Veritas Parlor No. 75, $5; Eschscholtzia Parlor No. 112, $25; Alturas Parlor No. 259, $25; Marinita Parlor No. 198, $100; Santa Rosa Parlor No. 217, 50c (balance left from milk fund); Stockton Parlor No. 256, $15; Linda Rosa Parlor No. 170, $2.

Joint contributions—Mount Diablo Parlor No. 101 N.S.G.W. and Las Juntas Parlor No. 221 N.D.G.W., $215.

Contributions from friends of the Orders—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Parker, $50; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Meyers, $25. Dividends—$24.45.

Milk fund contributions, $128.60—Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. completed payment for milk for "Annie L," and has adopted a fourth child, named "Leonie." Guadalupe Parlor No. 153 N.D.G.W. has completed payment for "Katherine." Santa Rosa Parlor No. 217 N.D.G.W. has paid in full for its third child, "Jimella." Individual contributions, N.D.G.W.—Fay D. Kurlander, $1.

Refund on board—County, $33.34; parents, $163.36. Total, $196.70. Dividends—$24.48.

Total receipts from April 1, 1935, to January 31, 1936: contributions from Parlors and members, $3,245.55; contributions from friends, $660; N.D.G.W. milk fund, $472.77; refund on board, $2,629.40; dividends and interest, $254; refund on insurance, $3; sale of Los Angeles office auto, $230; making a grand total of receipts for the ten months, $7,494.72.

Expenditures for the month of January totaled $1,282.36. Grand total of expenditures from April 1, 1935, to January 31, 1936, $13,826.66.

Balance in commercial account January 31, 1936, $868.68, in savings account, $5,525. Bonds and stocks, as of market value March 31, 1935, $8,395.62. A total of $14,789.30, provided the amount quoted on the securities could be realized, and not including the Mary E. Tillman memorial fund, which amount would carry the work for thirteen months only, according to the present budget.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

SACRAMENTO—A CALIFORNIA WHITE pine from Yosemite Valley, dedicated to the California Pioneers, was planted at Sutter's Fort by the Parlors of Sacramento City and County at ceremonies conducted January 22 and briefly referred to in The Grizzly Bear for February.

Genevieve Didion presided, the salute to the Flag was led by Bessie C. Leitch, and Past Grand Dr. Eva R. Rasmussen delivered an invocation. Speakers included Edna B. Briggs, Frank N. Killam and Dr. Walter F. Dexter, and vocal solos were rendered by Harry Stinson and Anna Cippa.

At the tree planting Past Grand Rasmussen placed the first shovelfull of earth. She was followed, in turn, by H. P. Peterson, aged 92, and John Beaton, aged 88, representing the Pioneers, and the presidents of Califia No. 22, La Bandera No. 110, Sutter No. 111, Fern No. 123, Chabolla No. 171, Coloma No. 212, Liberty No. 213, Victory No. 216 and Rio Rito No. 258.

As all the trees in and around Sutter's Fort were planted by the Sacramento Native Daughters,—the first tree planting ceremony being held there in February 1901—the history and landmarks committee plans to place a marker at the historic landmark during March.

Seven Initiated.

San Rafael—Grand President Anne C. Thuesen paid an official visit February 10 to Marinita No. 198. She was accompanied by Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini and Alice Lane, and Past Grands Margaret Hill, Emma Foley and Estelle Evans. The hall was beautifully decorated in a valentine theme, quince and almond blossoms being used profusely.

Mrs. Thuesen was escorted to her place of honor by twelve young women who sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Seven candidates were initiated. In her talk on the Order's projects Grand President Thuesen referred to the three holidays of February—Lincoln's Birthday, Valentine Day and Washington's Birthday. A banquet concluded the meeting. Ann Spinney, in charge of the entire affair, was assisted by a large committee.

Will Present Flags to Museum.

Santa Ana—Santa Ana No. 235 had a most inspiring meeting February 10, when Chairmen Mattie Edwards, Marguerite Mize, Mae West and Matilda Lemon reported the activities of their committees and showed the fine work accomplished. Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson and Deputy Maude Van Fleet were visitors and expressed their gratification at the Parlor's record. A donation of $10 was made toward the plaque to be given the U.S.S. "California" by the southern Parlors March 7.

Refreshments were served at tables adorned with valentine decorations, and at the places of those members born in November, December and January were cards and hankies. The thimble club of the Parlor met during February at the homes of Mattie Edwards, Mae West, Stella Gates and Elva Selvidge, finishing apron orders and fancy work. Two quilts made by the club have been given to charity.

March 9, Santa Ana will present to the Bowers Memorial Museum four flags which played important parts in the history of California. Grand President Anne C. Thuesen will deliver the main address. Plans are under way for a tea at which eligibles will be entertained. March 23 members having birthdays in February and March will be honored.

District Meeting Planned.

Stockton—Patriotic decorations, honoring the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Edison,

In Memoriam

ELIZABETH F. DOUGLASS.
MILLIE TIETJEN.

"Faithful found
Among the faithless, faithful only he;
Among innumerable false, unmoved,
Unshaken, unseduc'd, unterrified,
His loyalty he kept, his love, his zeal;
Nor number, nor example, with him wrought
To swerve from truth, or change his constant mind."

Milton, when he wrote the above, must have had in mind a personality like that of Elizabeth F. Douglass, and that of Millie Tietjen. The friends who really knew these two Native Daughters will see the truth of this statement. Although very different, they were alike in their constancy to principle.

Miss Douglass possessed a keen mind and was quick in repartee, and quick to see the fallacy in false reasoning. Her devotion to her family was remarkable as it was for her friends, for her Parlor and for the N.D.G.W. Home. Her life was spent for these, not grudgingly given, but with interest and with love.

Miss Tietjen's going into the great Beyond was so sudden that her friends found themselves shocked with severe heartache. She too had served loyally and well, her own family, her friends, her Parlor and the N.D.G.W. Home. As Treasurer for the Home, her work was unsurpassed. Her books were found fully posted to the last transaction. She was "my right hand!" As Head of the Unit of Utilities, she relieved me greatly. Her judgment did not come quickly, but after mature consideration, and it could be relied upon absolutely. She was indeed my "Rock of Gibraltar!"

Our Order is a noble Order, and has noble women in it. Women who show their breeding, their purity of life and their sanity in word, thought and action. We have many noble women who have built up this Order but never any who have done more than these two women. They never occupied high office, but their work in the "rank and file," like that of many others, is what has really built up our Order.

Alta Parlor will miss Elizabeth Douglass; Golden State Parlor will miss Millie Tietjen, but the Home will miss them both, because the Home has need of fidelity, constancy and love. It has need of work in its behalf, not self-seeking, not duplicity, but work unselfish, truth abiding, and love everlasting.

The ceremonies were followed by a short musical program, and a beautifully executed drill by the team of Manzanita which concluded with the formation of a large "B," complimentary to the new presidents of the Parlors.

San Francisco—Miss Millie Tietjen, for thirty-three years recording secretary of Golden State No. 50 and for several years treasurer of the N.D.G.W. Home Committee, died February 2. ACTIVITIES
ALAMEDA N.D.G.W.

OAKLAND—THE THIRTY-SEVENTH anniversary dinner of Aloha No. 106 was a February 18 event. Table decorations were in honor of the birthday of George Washington. Past Grand Sue J. Irwin, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Deputy Florence Shapiro and Supervising Deputy Irma Murray were guests of honor. Gladys Farley and the social committee were in charge of the affair. After a delicious dinner cards and "reminiscing" occupied several hours.

During March the Parlor will have a "homeless children baby shower" under the direction of Chairman Kathryn Madden, a Saint Patrick party, and an evening in honor of Aloha's two brides, Phoebe Garrison-Chapman and Dorothy Marlowe-Trimbell, with the social committee in charge.

Alameda—President Stephanie Harol and the newly-installed officers of Encinal No. 156 held their first initiation February 12, adding a new member to the rapidly growing roll. Following the meeting a valentine party was held, Chairman Irene Rose being in charge. A very pleasing gift of a huge valentine box of candy was received by the Parlor from Martha Watson of Aloha; the candy certainly was a treat, and was appreciated by all. Appropriate refreshments were served to close the evening's fun.

Oakland—The official visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen to Brooklyn No. 157 was a very successful one, well attended. Other guests were Grand Secretary Sallie R. In Memoriam

MILLIE TIETJEN.

Be it resolved, That the Native Daughters of the Golden West Home Committee express in words their regret at the passing of such a character as our beloved Sister Millie Tietjen. The memory of her will ever linger with those who knew and loved her. In her was personified the attributes of a true and faithful friend and Sister; be it further

Resolved, That we realize that she left a glorious heritage to the Order for which she worked so conscientiously and loved so sincerely. She was always gentle and lovable not only to the members of the Order but to her own home folks, and we extend our sympathy to her beloved ones in their sad bereavement. In our business relations in the N.D.G.W. Home we will ever remember her as reliable, courteous and gentle. In thinking of her our thoughts revert to the words of the poet:

"Long, long may our hearts with your memory be filled—
Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled.
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will cling round it still."

Be it further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Golden State Parlor No. 50 N.D.G.W., and a copy to the members of our late Sister's family.

HARRIET HILDRETH.

To the Officers and Members of San Diego Parlor No. 208, Native Daughters of the Golden West—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our late beloved sister, Harriet Hildreth, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, The Angel of Death has again entered our Parlor and taken from our midst our beloved Sister Harriet Hildreth. We will deeply feel the loss of her whose kind and gentle manner won the love and esteem of all who knew her. We realize the still greater loss of those who were nearest and dearest to her. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend to her bereaved family, in the loss of a devoted and loving wife and mother, our sincere sympathy; be it further resolved, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, that a copy be sent the bereaved family, and a copy sent to The Grizzly Bear for publication.

SARAH MILLER,
ANNETTA G. TWEED,
ALICE H. DAMARUS,
Committee.

San Diego, February 17, 1936.

MARY ANN ALLEN.

To the Officers and Members of Forrest Parlor No. 86 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of Mary Ann Allen, submit the following:

Mary Ann Allen, a well beloved member of Forrest Parlor No. 86 N.D.G.W., has been called from this life to the life beyond the grave, and her passing leaves with us a sense of loss and sorrow, and we realize that to her family, this loss is infinitely greater and this sorrow infinitely more poignant. Therefore, we would assure them of our sympathy, trusting that their burden of sorrow may be somewhat lessened by the knowledge that it is shared by others.

"To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die." And, in this sense, our sister still lives and will always live; for with us who knew her and were associated with her in fraternal and every day life, her loyalty, her willingness to help, and her charity of judgment will remain a memory tenderly cherished through all our days. Be it

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days; that this report be spread in full upon the minutes of the Parlor; that a copy be sent to the bereaved family of our sister, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

SAN FRANCISCO

MEMBERS OF PACIFIC PARLOR NO. 10 N.S.G.W. gathered in goodly numbers February 18 to pay homage to their beloved treasurer, Samuel Washington Dixon who, February 22, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday. It was a complete surprise to Sam, and he was almost speechless when called on to respond to the many kind words spoken about him. Three-quarters of a century old, he has been treasurer of Pacific twenty-seven years and a member of the Parlor fifty-one years. In all this time he has missed but seventeen meetings.

Sam's father, Richard Dixon, came here via Panama in 1851 and young Sam was born at Stockton and Filbert streets. The young lad stood on the corner of Washington and Kearny streets in 1875 and watched General A. M. Winn lead the parade of young Californians out of which sprung the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Dixon and his dear wife, Mrs. Christine E. Dixon, have been married forty-seven years. They have two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Stelling, who has two sons, and Mrs. Norma C. Funk, who has a baby girl.

First Vice-president Thomas C. Ryan was chairman of the evening and introduced the speakers, who included Municipal Judge Charles R. Boden, Bert Dam, Grand Trustee Thomas M. Foley, and these members of Pacific who were initiated during Dixon's term as president in 1890: William G. Pennycook, Thomas G. Wyatt, E. C. Ballser, J. H. Gibson, Rudolph Trautner, J. A. Ryan and Robert J. Sands.

GRAND PRESIDENT N.D. VISITS.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen paid her official visit to Genevieve Parlor No. 132 N.D.G.W. February 6. The hall was artistically decorated with daffodils, acacia and other reminders of spring. Among the many other visitors were Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Lane and Alice Oldham, Past Grands Dr. Mariana Bertola, Margaret Hill and Eliza Keith, and Supervising Deputies Nan Kelly and Mae McDonald.

Two candidates were initiated, the ritual being exemplified with dignity and grace, and each officer was letter perfect. On the Parlor's behalf President Evelyn Kilkenny presented tokens of remembrance to Grand President Thuesen, Deputy Emily Ryan and Past Grand Genevieve Watson Baker, after whom the Parlor was named. Vocal selections were rendered by Alicia O'Day, accompanied by Lillian Troy, and the San Francisco glee club, directed by Ruby Bried. Dinner preceded the meeting, and at its conclusion refreshments were served.

Genevieve drum corps notes—Camile Jacobsen will be honor-guest at the next birthday dinner. Congratulations are extended Vera Dunleavy, who was wedded February 8. Four new members have been added. A leap year party is planned for the near-future.

The new president, Isabelle Casey-Evets, is the fourth member of the Casey family to serve the Parlor as president, her three sisters, the Misses Alice, Mary and Gladys Casey, being past presidents; their father is a charter member of South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W. Several presentations were made, including an emblematic pin to Alice L. Casey, junior past president. An excellent program was followed by dancing and light refreshments. February 11 El Vespero gave a valentine leap year social at which officers and members of South San Francisco Lodge No. 45 K. P. were guests. Jane Lapachet, chairman of the evening, was assisted by Dorothy Arant, Florence Johnson, Alice Chisum, Vera Firpo and Anne Godfrey.

A birthday cake and gifts were enjoyed by members who celebrate their birthdays in February. A "white elephant" whist party February 26 was in charge of Past Grand Evelyn I. Carlson.

Members of Castro Parlor No. 178 observed its twenty-sixth institution anniversary January 30. After enjoying a delicious chicken dinner all joined in community singing under the leadership of Isobel Thiebaut and Ella Brennan. Grand Trustee Alice Lane was chairman of the event.

James Lick Parlor No. 220's officers were publicly installed January 29 by Deputy Mary Vogt, Ann Neilan becoming president. A delightful program was presented under the supervision of Chairman Nellie Bell, and refreshments were served by Elizabeth Richards. The hall was beautifully decorated in silver and white.

The drum corps of Mission Parlor No. 227, originally started with eight members, now has seventeen members and a drum major, Frankie McCormick. During the present year it will add ten additional members, making it one of the largest women's drum corps on the Pacific Coast.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

Stanford Parlor No. 76 began February 24 the celebration of its fiftieth institution anniversary with a banquet; Arthur T. Poheim was chairman of the evening. This was the first of several big events scheduled for the Parlor's golden jubilee. During March "A Night in Hawaii" will be featured, with Carl Boegershausen heading the arrangements committee.

Bay City Parlor No. 104 staged a housewarming January 22 to mark the occupancy of its new meetingplace. District Deputy Harold Storm installed the officers, Edgar M. Eisfelder becoming president. James A. Mullally headed a committee that presented a splendid program and served refreshments. Judge Elmer E. Robinson was the toastmaster and kept activities of the evening in motion. The affair was greatly enjoyed and marks the beginning of a new era of progress for the Parlor.

The membership contest between South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 and Castro Parlor No. 232 goes merrily on. No. 157 has now taken the lead, having a total of 790 members, and No. 232 has a total of 784. Both Parlors expect during March to initiate several candidates.

SAN BERNARDINO—THE NEXT REGULAR meeting of Arrowhead Assembly No. 14 N.S.G.W. Past Presidents Association will be held March 20 at 490 South "E" street, according to announcement of Governor Charles N. Frost. Eligibles who have made application by March 10 will be initiated at that time. Dinner will precede the meeting, which has been called for 7 p.m., and the gathering will be followed by entertainment.

Dr. R. L. White was installed as president of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. by District Deputy Ivan H. Harper February 5. Illness prevented his installation at the time the other elective officers were inducted into office. February 12 the Parlor had a patriotic program, and February 15 a party was held at the Crestline clubhouse.

OPEN MEETING.

San Bernardino—Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. had an open meeting February 12. President Evelyn Shaddox presided, and Hazel Poole Briggs presented a program which included Marian Parks, speaker, A. B. Fages, tenor, and Gabriel Ruiz, guitarist. Old Spanish folk dances were performed by members of Californiana Parlor No. 247 (Los Angeles) in costume. Refreshments were served, under the supervision of Marguerite McKenzie, from a beautifully decorated long table, the centerpiece of which—a large heart filled with red sweetpeas—was sent to Florence D. Schoneman, the "mother" of the Parlor. Among the guests of the evening were Grand Trustee Nellie Cline, Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg, Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson and Deputy Gertrude Tuttle.

The memory garden planned by the history and landmarks committee of Lugonia, Clara Barton chairman, has been started in Lytle Creek Park, where shrubs and flowers are being planted. The Parlor has under way a membership drive.—C.B.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS DELIGHT.

Ontario—A most delightful affair was the valentine bridge luncheon of Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W., held February 14 at the home of Maud Van Fleet. Spring blossoms were used in the decorations, and a valentine motif was carried out in the refreshments, tallies, etc. Assisting Mrs. Van Fleet in serving were Wilma Tucker, Adela Frankish and President Isabelle Graves. Bea Herzberg had the second of a series of benefit bridge parties at her home February 19. A "Dutch" motif was carried out. Assisting the hostess were Voda Austin, Ruth Hayes and Adele Frankish.

Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson visited Ontario February 13, when Mms. Ralph Mitchell and Frank Wiley were honored with a shower of dainty articles for layettes. Refreshments were enjoyed. Members of the Parlor were recently invited by Charter Past President Adele Frankish to her home to honor Mrs. Glen Stevens (Mary Ellen Warren), a charter member, with a post-nuptial miscellaneous shower. A lovely array of gifts were presented Mrs. Stevens. Baskets of yellow and white flowers were used in the decorations. Games were played and the older members entertained with accounts of their weddings. A delicious supper was served. Ontario is looking forward to entertaining Grand President Anne C. Thueisen March 12.—E.O.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

STUDENTS IN PUBLIC AND PRIVATE schools, ambitious to become the California historians of tomorrow, will have an opportunity for recognition through the California history story contests in the third annual Southern California Festival of the Allied Arts to be held in Los Angeles May 4-29. According to Grace S. Stoermer, chairman of the California history division, students in grade, junior high and high schools, junior colleges, universities and private educational institutions are eligible to enter the competition.

All essays must be submitted to the contest headquarters, 324 Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles, not later than April 15. Selected topics are given in each classification, complete details of which may be obtained at the above address. The festival, sponsored by the Women's Community Service Auxiliary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and endorsed by the Grand Parlor N.D.G.W., offers more than 350 contests in music, art, dance, drama and the speech arts, creative writing and California history essays. Substantial prizes are offered winners.

Chairman Stoermer, Past Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, is assisted by a committee comprising Lindley Bynum, Dr. John W. Caughey, Dr. Owen C. Coy, Rev. Hugh M. Duce, Mrs. Oscar S. Elvrum, Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, Mrs. Louis Hansen, Dr. Osgood Hardy, Mrs. Horace T. Holmes, Clarence M. Hunt, Mrs. Clarence E. Noerenberg, Florence Dodson Schoneman and Esther R. Sullivan, chairman Grand Parlor N.D.G.W. History Committee.

FINE NATIVE SON JOURNEYS ON.

The Order of Native Sons of the Golden West lost a mighty fine member when District Deputy Grand President Daniel Francis McSweeny, president of Hollywood Parlor No. 196 and chairman of the Deputies Association of the southern district, was accidentally killed February 13 near Corona, Riverside County. He was born at San Francisco, July 31, 1904, and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maxine McSweeny, a four-months-old daughter, Frances, and his father, James P. McSweeny.

DANIEL FRANCIS McSWEENY.

"Dan" McSweeny was an outstanding young man. Endowed with a genial disposition and a keen intellect, his career ahead was most promising. He gave liberally of his talent and time for the advancement of the Order of Native Sons, and in the brief period that he was a worker in the ranks he won the admiration of all. His passing, in the prime of life is, indeed, a distinct loss.

At his lasting restingplace in Calvary Cemetery, the burial ritual of the Native Sons was read by Deputy Grand President Walter Odemar and Grand Trustee Leo Youngworth, and Grand Second Vice-president Eldred Meyer pronounced a brief, heart-inspired eulogy. We are richer from "Dan" McSweeny's coming amongst us, and his going has left us poorer.—C.M.H.

PLAQUE FOR "CALIFORNIA."

Mrs. Anne C. Thuesen of San Francisco, Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, will officially visit the Subordinate Parlors in Los Angeles and the other southern counties during March, and all Parlors have made extensive preparations for her coming.

One of the most outstanding events will take place Saturday afternoon, March 7, aboard the U.S. battleship "California," when Captain Paul P. Blackburn and officers of the battleship will be hosts to the Native Daughters. A bronze plaque, to be presented by the southland Parlors, will be unveiled by Grand President Thuesen, honoring the men of the United States Navy who first hoisted the Star Spangled Banner over California, July 7, 1846, and those men who have so valiantly served the nation.

Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer is chairman of arrangements. Assisting on the committee are Grand Trustee Nellie Cline, Grand Trustee Hazel Hansen, Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg, Mms. Harold Barden, Ralph L. Tuttle and Alfred R. Sitton. A colorful proram will be presented.

Other "outside" events in which Mrs. Thuesen will participate are: marking of the historic Lugo adobe at Bell by Los Angeles Parlor No. 124, March 8. Placing of four flags of California at Bowers Memorial Museum, Santa Ana, by Santa Ana Parlor No. 235, March 9.

Chairman Gertrude Tuttle of the history and landmarks committee reports progress in the raising of funds for new doors and a copper marker for Our Lady of the Angels Church. She is planning an interesting program for a Sunday close to June 12, the Parlor's birthday.

At the luncheon meeting February 11 the americanization committee presented Millard Binney in a stirring and somewhat disturbing address on "Wallflower Citizenship." Decorations were red, white and blue sweetpeas, with a portrait of the great Lincoln enshrined in the center of the speaker's table. February 25 the members born in February were feted at a charming tea. Ora Evans was hostess to the dessert sewing circle at her home February 17. A jolly crowd sewed and made merry.

Miss Marcella Wolfskill, Californiana's second vice-president, is being honored with many showers following announcement of her coming marriage to Harold Palethorpe. WILMINGTON — SEPULVEDA PARlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. celebrated its eleventh institution anniversary with a ball at Elks Temple, San Pedro, February 15. A delightful time was had by the large crowd in attendance. In the course of a brief address Past Grand John T. Newell congratulated Sepulveda on its growth and accomplishments. Bernett Lassere, chairman of the committee that planned the event, was assisted by Robert Snodgrass and John P. Martin Jr. The Parlor was instituted February 15, 1925, by Grand President Edward J. Lynch.

George C. Barlow, affiliated with Sepulveda, died January 26, survived by a wife and a son. He was born at Santa Cruz City, June 26, 1885.

Edward Richards, a member of the Parlor and a son of Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, has received an appointment to Annapolis. Financial Secretary William A. Reuter went to Merced to visit his brother, I. H. Reuter (Yosemite No. 24), who will for several months be confined to his home there as the result of serious injuries received in a January 19 auto accident.

GRAND PRESIDENT N.D. TO VISIT.

San Pedro — Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. is sponsoring a series of card parties, with Catherine Hackett and Lucy Guzman in charge. The Florencita thimble club met February 25 at the home of Marcella Sandoval for lunch and work. Deputy Ruth Ruiz paid a visit to the Parlor February 26.

Rudecinda will receive an official visit from Grand President Anne C. Thuesen March 2. Letitia Sarciaux, Marcella Sandoval and Virginia Bruckner are in charge of arrangements, which include a 6:30 p.m. banquet. March being the birth month of the Parlor, the committee has arranged some very interesting entertainment features.

The California Taxpayers Association will have its tenth annual meeting at Los Angeles, March 6. Among the subjects to be discussed are the fiscal problems of the federal, state and local governments.

BEST BANK AD.

A California Bank ad which appeared in The Grizzly Bear recently was adjudged the best bank ad of the month in the United States and Canada, according to the current edition of "Bank-Ad Views," a national publication which reviews and rates bank advertising. The award marks the third time that the local institution's ads have won this distinction.

Featuring protection, through safe deposit facilities, of valuables, papers and keepsakes, the prize winning ad was given the award because "This piece is planned to enlarge the field for safe deposit boxes. Business men have papers; moneyed people have valuables. But everyone has a keepsake or two. The items listed which should be kept in a deposit box are varied enough to include every family. Many are seldom, if ever, mentioned in safe deposit advertising like the timely one of war service papers."

According to the judges, one of the items affecting their decision was the fact that "The modern layout consistently featured in California Bank ads gives their publicity an individuality apart from all competing banks." California Bank ads, prepared under the direction of Rod Maclean, advertising manager, now rate fifth in the nation and Canada and first in southern California in the cumulative point score of "Bank Ad-Views."

SANTA FE PRESIDENT DUE.

Samuel T. Bledsoe of Chicago, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, will arrive in Los Angeles March 1 to appear as a witness before the California State Railroad Commission, which has set its first public hearing on pending applications of the Santa Fe Transportation Company for March 3 at Los Angeles. The transportation company is a California affiliate of the railway system.

Bledsoe is a strong advocate of modernized joint rail and road transportation, with one-ticket travel service as proposed by the Santa Fe Transportation Company. A reduction of twenty-five percent in fares is also proposed.

The Santa Fe Railway System has paid over thirty-four and one-half million dollars in California taxes during the last sixteen years. This was exclusive of Federal taxes and improvement district assessments.

TO THE MANLY PARTY IN DEATH VALLEY —1849—

(BETTY L. WHITSELL.)

In this hell of salt creation,
Giants walked in desolation.
Anguished wrecks who murmured prayer
Climbed bare mountains of despair.

Desperate steps in desperate places,
Lost in mocking sand's embraces,
Every throb of blood and breath
Ghastly pulsed in womb of death.

San Francisco County holds the near-record of having the fewest taxing agencies, eight in number, among the counties of California; little Alpine is the only county with a lesser number. Populous Los Angeles County is burdened with 690 taxing agencies.

In Memoriam

LOTTIE HEISE.

To the Officers and Members of Bonita Parlor No 10 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed by the President to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our late departed Charter Member Lottie Heise, respectfully submit the following:

THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE

CHAIRMAN KEY PITTMAN OF THE Foreign Relations Committee flayed Japan, in an address in the United States Senate February 10. In his remarks, based on the record, he referred to Japan's evasion and open violation of treaties, its long-planned-ahead foreign policy and its propaganda-battle being waged in this country to influence public opinion and to bluff the government. He concluded with:

"By every obligation imposed upon a government it is our duty, in honor and in good conscience, to defend and protect our citizens and those dependent upon us for protection, not only in the far Pacific but wherever they may be. Apparently this cannot be accomplished through treaties, and if that be so, then there is only one answer, and that is dominating naval and air forces. It is my purpose to continue to give my support to the maintenance of respect for and obedience to peace treaties and the enactment of legislation that will tend to keep us out of war without the surrender of any of our international rights, but until the time arrives when there is universal respect for and obedience to peace treaties I favor and will support the construction and maintenance by the United States of naval and air forces that will be sufficient to protect our citizens, those dependent upon us, and their legal rights."

Quoting further from Senator Pittman's address:

"I think it is high time that Congress take cognizance of the Japanese policy with regard to China, and its intended effect upon the United States. I say 'Congress,' because in the end Congress alone has the power and the duty imposed upon it to appropriate money for the national defense. The Japanese Government seems very intense in its desire that we should fully understand their foreign policy and its relation to our Government. Let us, therefore, calmly and judiciously accommodate the Japanese Government and consider their policy as evidenced by their frank and bold pronouncements, and substantiated by their acts. . . .

"Now, let us consider the definite and emphatic pronouncement of an even higher Japanese authority [than the Japanese Ambassador to the United States]. I say 'higher' authority because since 1932 the Government of Japan has been dominated by the officers of the Japanese Army and Navy. Vice Admiral Sankichi Takahashi, commander in chief of all of the Japanese fleets, tells us abruptly how the Japanese policy shall affect the United States. He commands, in language that cannot be misunderstood, that we abandon our naval policy, refrain from expanding our commerce in China, and cease the protection of our foreign commerce. This command is accompanied with the threat that if we do not yield to his demands Japan will increase its fleet and fortify its islands. Is there any doubt as to the meaning of this threat? We are warned that the admiral intends that we shall be unable to protect our commerce in the west Pacific by reason of the overwhelming Japanese fleet. The admiral should qualify his statement, lest some might be led to believe that it includes our commerce and our relations with the Philippine Islands.

"Never in the history of modern times has such an undiplomatic, arrogant, and impertinent statement been volunteered by one holding such a position. . . . Of course, Congress will not be bulldozed into the abandonment of our national defense, the protection of our legitimate foreign trade, or our commerce with China, a friendly nation that is at peace with us and the rest of the world.

"The Japanese propagandists are apparently attempting to influence the good, peace-loving people of this country through deceptive articles and threats of war, with the obvious purpose of having public sentiment restrain the proper action of our Government."

Commending Senator Pittman of Nevada "for calling to the attention of this body a state of facts too much ignored by both the Congress and the people," Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, also referring to Japan, said:

"I here announce that without a complete and sufficient Navy the seizure of our Territory would first be made of Alaska, when the assailant would say to the United States, 'Gentlemen, come and get it,' and we should then be compelled from the long, long distance to get our Navy from some source, as in another instance such as occurred in the Spanish-American War, when we had to make a great circle and circuit, going 'around the Horn,' to be ready for the protection of the interests of this our country. Then we next would find Japan seizing the Philippines and saying to us, 'If you have any interests here, gentlemen, come and protect them.' Between the Philippines on the one side possessed by Japan, Alaska right by the doorway, at the foot of Russia, possessed by Russia and her forces; with these two nations in combination, pray, will our country not do well now to consider what is the likelihood tomorrow of the consummation of such an event? . . .

"Yet, in face of this fact, this, our Government, out of a specious, and, in my judgment, a mistaken generosity and form of zeal, indulging a Utopian theory under which one thinks of every country but one's own, is now on the eve of abandoning the only real base that America rightfully had as a legitimate ground of concentration for the Navy in order to guard and to prepare against the conditions I suggest and describe; and the existence is proven, sirs, by the events around us and of which established history now recorded affords complete confirmation."

The state tax conference at Sacramento, called by the Governor, was, as expected, a huge joke. There was, as usual, an overabundance of talk, but no way of relieving the overloaded taxpayer was discussed—not even suggested, perhaps never thought of. Finally, one attendant inquired "What are we meeting here for anyway?" No one responded to the query, but here's the answer: to encourage and inspire the presidential-bee hibernating in the State Capitol!

The cost of government in California is excessive and beyond all reason, but the officials make no attempt to bring down the cost. Every person in the state now pays $61.12 per year in taxes; compared with 1900, this is an increase of $41.70 per person. There can be no reduction in this tax-load, unless the cost of government be reduced. And the taxpayers can, if they so desire and organize for that purpose,—not to play politics for any individual or clique—bring about the reduction.

"Everyone, it seems, wants to be neutral. But you can't be neutral and try to stop a foreign war. You can't be neutral and interfere with other wars. The thought of our foreign policy should be complete divorcement from the political embroilments of other nations. The only way to remain out of Europe is to remain out of Europe."—United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Representative Sirovich of New York, charging Jap espionage in Alaska, declared in Washington: "Japanese vessels operating ostensibly as fishing craft are taking soundings, exploring water depths, taking photographs of the shoreline and spotting possible airplane fields and submarine bases." The Japs have for a considerable time and still are doing likewise in California. And their "friendly inspections" are encouraged!

"It's about time to determine whether the state employes or the people are running the state government," said E. H. Christian of the Personnel Board in Sacramento. It's a cinch the people are not running it, but the record indicates that the political racketeers, in and out of public office, are in full and complete control.

"Would that we had a man like Abraham Lincoln in the White House today. If we did, he would never allow a brain-trusters' creed to teach the doctrine that you can boondoggle yourself back to prosperity."—Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia.

Here's good news, from the Pinole Weekly Times: "Industry in Contra Costa County is employing more men than ever before and its payroll is 18 percent higher than it was in the peak year of 1929."

A measure has been introduced in the Senate and the House of the Federal Congress providing for the registration of all aliens, the deportation of those that are undesirable, and the establishment of a rigid system of selective immigration. For the good of the nation, the measure should be speedily enacted and rigidly enforced. It probably will not make much progress at this session, however, for this is a political year, and the ballot is what most concerns the federal forces.

New York dispatches report the discovery there of ten thousand $20 gold-pieces, valued at $338,000 (N.D.), in possession of an individual. Will that gold, too, be gathered in and turned over to the shylocks of Wall street?

Taxes of propertyowners in Los Angeles City and County are handed out liberally to promotion organizations to coax tourists into "Angelland," and now additional tax-moneys are being used to keep out those tourists. Taxation for the upkeep of political racketeers is tyranny, but the Angelenos appear to like the system, otherwise they would deal it a death-blow.

The Supreme Court of the United States ordered the Federal Government to refund the $200,000,000 collected as processing taxes, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said, "This is probably the greatest legalized steal in American history." He's right, but he neglected to state the steal was engineered by the brain-trusters and that the common people were forced to dig up most of the booty.

Feeders at the Federal pork-barrel increased, in number, from 604,711 in January 1934 to 815,789 in December 1935. And by October 1936 there probably will be 1,500,000 on the payroll.

1936 is a "perfect" year, as the number may be squared by 44. The next perfect-square year will be 2025.

At Sutter's Fort, Sacramento, there was dedicated Washington's birthday a plaque reading: "James Wilson Marshall on January 28, 1848, here disclosed to Captain Sutter his discovery of gold made at Coloma four days before. Placed by E. Clampus Vitus February 22, 1936."

In the course of an excellent address on "The Constitution," William J. Cameron said, "The Constitution never once has operated to hinder progress. It stands between us and the great blasphemy that man is the creature of the state.

"Not one of the recent experiments in this country was prevented by the Constitution. However fantastic they may have been, they were freely put in motion and tried. Months and years they had, with all the powers of the government behind them, to justify themselves. . . . When finally the Constitution was invoked they were already dead. The Supreme Court did not kill them; it only pronounced a coroner's verdict on the corpse."

"There is much discussion whether reform of our social and economic system should go before recovery, or whether recovery should precede reform. My answer is that the greatest reform that we could have is recovery. We are going to be many years unscrambling the eggs cooked up by the kitchen cabinet of this Administration. One of the greatest failures of these cooks was that they were unable to tell the bad eggs from the good. The result has been indigestion for all of us."—Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

In slumbrous perfume wrapt, the roses sleep;
While, silently and slow, a flow'r unfurls
Awak'ning; by some magic spring uncurls
Into a perfect star—a wide, pure sweep
To each pale petal. So gems from the deep
Set in a cluster, are the lustrous pearls;
Though from the pearls no drowsy incense swirls
To drug to dreams—nor make, perchance, to weep.

Still dreaming of the sunlight, sleeping flow'rs
Know not the vigil of this alien thing.
No bronzed bee nor bird to hum or sing
A lullaby to her the long night hours.
Her comrades not the creatures of the Day,
Akin to stars, she holds her nightly sway.

Santa Cruz Parlor's executive committee in charge of all details includes: Charles E. Canfield (chairman), J. Frank Murphy, Willett Ware, H. T. Alzina, T. V. Mathews, President Dr. Mahlon D. McPherson and George S. Taft. Chairmen of subcommittees include: J. T. Nittler, housing; William A. Deans, entertainment; Lloyd Miller, grand ball; L. B. Means, banquet; Enoch Alzina, barbecue; Charles V. Dick, transportation; J. H. Aram, reception.

The program so far outlined by the Santa Cruz Natives for the entertainment of the visitors is an attractive one, among the features being a public reception, a grand ball, a barbecue at the big trees, and a Grand Parlor banquet. Daily events especially for the womenfolks are also being provided for. The program in detail will be given in The Grizzly Bear for May.

The sessions of the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor will be held in the Casino auditorium. Grand President Harmon D. Skillin (Castro No. 232) will preside, and at the conclusion of the deliberations will automatically become the Junior Past Grand President, succeeding in that office Chas. A. Koenig (Golden Gate No. 29).

Subordinate Parlors must elect delegates at their first meetings in April, and then several new hats are expected to be thrown into the Grand Parlor office-ring. The Grizzly Bear makes persistent effort to get definite information as to candidacies, and to date has received assurances from the following that they will be in the running at Santa Cruz for the elective Grand Parlor offices:

Grand President—Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell (Stanford No. 76).

Want Admission Day Celebration.

Oakland—At a meeting of representatives from all the Alameda County Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters March 9 it was decided to ask the N.S.G.W. Plans are being formulated for a five-day festival, commencing September 5, and it is hoped that the dedication of the new Alameda County Court House will be a feature.

The gathering selected the following officers of a joint committee that will have charge of the celebration details: Grand Trustee Edward T. Schnarr (Fruitvale No. 252 N.S.), chairman; Harold Farley (Athens No. 195 N.S.), first vice-chairman; Edna Caflisch (Bear Flag No. 151 N.D.), second vice-chairman; L. L. THE LETTER BOX

Comments on subjects of general interest and importance received from readers of The Grizzly Bear.

MUCH IMPRESSED.

"Editor Grizzly Bear—I was very much impressed with the letter on page 2 of the March Grizzly Bear. A lot of what the writer says may probably be true, but if he refers to the Homeless Children Card Party as the one where all the prizes were made in Japan, I beg to disagree with him.

"I was a member of the Joint Committee that gave this card party, and helped solicit the prizes for same. I personally solicited twenty-five to forty of them and know they were not made in Japan. There were in the neighborhood of two hundred prizes, and I probably did not see them all, but a lot of the pottery given away was made in San Jose. Also, there were ferns and potted plants given by several of the florists in San Jose who are members of the Native Sons and Native Daughters here. My own impression at that party was, that they were nearly all home-made products.

"If you wish to give my address to the party who wrote that letter you may do so. I would like to meet the party, as I think those kind of letters are necessary, even if they do make a mistake once in a while. I wish some of our Natives had the spirit shown in the letter."

MOTORISTS OF CALIFORNIA contributed last year $5,835,836, in registration fees on 2,254,828 vehicles, to build and maintain county roads and state highways. In 1934 there were 2,080,884 registrations, and the allotted fees amounted to $5,444,198. Sixty-five percent of the registration levies are divided equally between the State Public Works Department and the several counties, the latters' portion being based on the number of registrations in each county.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

MARCH 7, THE SOUTHLAND PARlors of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West sponsored a most pleasing event, one that added another to the Order's record of numerous accomplishments. In the presence of some four hundred guests of the captain and officers of the United States battleship "California" a bronze plaque was presented to the man-of-war by the Parlors of Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, San Diego and Santa Barbara Counties. Attractive in design and embellished with the official emblem of the Native Daughters, the plaque is inscribed:

Commander L. E. Lindsay's welcome to the guests was responded to by Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, who presided at the presentation ceremonies. Music was provided by the "California's" band, and Jose Arias and troubadors; Carlotta Cortez appeared in a solo dance, and Gabriel Ruiz and troupe presented earlyday California dances; Eben Coe and wife delighted with vocal selections, and a splendid address on "Stars and Stripes Over California" was delivered by Marion Parks of Californiana Parlor No. 247.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen presented the plaque, and it was accepted by Captain Paul P. Blackburn, commanding officer of the "California." Following the presentation delicious refreshments were served by the hosts of the occasion, and during the afternoon the guests were shown about the big fighter and extended every courtesy.

Among others present were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel I. Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Outside Sentinel Mary B. Noerenberg, Grand Trustees Alice M. Lane, Hazel B. Hansen, Nellie M. Cline and Clarice E. Cook, Past Grand President Cora B. Sifford and Supervising Deputies Flora Holy, Helen Anderson, Mabel Burgert and Dr. Anna E. McCaughey of the Native Daughters; Past Grand Presidents Herman C. Lichtenberger and John T. Newell of the Native Sons.

MRS. ANNE C. THUESEN,
Grand President N.D.G.W.

HISTORIC ADOBE PLAQUED.

The following day, under the auspices of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124, the Native Daughters placed on the Lugo ranch adobe at Bell a plaque reading: "Lugo Adobe. Built in 1850 by Don Vicente Lugo. Marked by Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 Native Daughters of the Golden West March 8, 1936." Again there was a large turnout, the N.D.G.W. officials being among the number.

President Leonie Clos introduced Grand President Thuesen, who presented the plaque, which was accepted by Felipe Lugo. Thelma Stengel was in charge of the program, which included also an invocation by Father Dignan and an interesting talk on the history of the Rancho San Antonio, of which the adobe is a part, was delivered by Palmer Conner. Dancing in which descendants of the Lugo family participated followed the presentation, and at noontime a barbecue was served.

In the evening the grand officers were guests of Deputy Gertrude Tuttle at supper in Olvera street, Los Angeles. Following that they were guests of Los Fiesteros and enjoyed the program there presented under the direction of Marion Parks and Leonie Clos.

The morning of March 11, Grand President Thuesen and accompanying officials of the Native Daughters were guests at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club—"The Shrine of Friendship."—C.M.H.

JOSEPH SCOTT,
Who will address the Native Sons.

the principal guest speaker will be Joseph Scott, for more than forty years a civic leader in Los Angeles and California, who will talk on the early days. J. Vincent Hannon, one of the few remaining charter members of Corona Parlor, which later was designated Hollywood, and now a member of Ramona Parlor, will relate incidents associated with the institution of No. 196. George Breslin, who will be the main speaker from among Hollywood's membership, will suggest a course for the Native Sons to pursue to attain their "place in the sun." Entertainment features will also be introduced.

Hollywood has not selected a successor to its recently deceased president, Dan McSweeny, but instead, each meeting night a past president presides. The Parlor will be host for the group initiation of the southern Parlors May 4. The candidates presented on that occasion—and Hollywood expects to have a large number—will be designated the "McSweeny Memorial Class."

"THERE IS A TIE THAT BINDS."

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. enjoyed the privilege of greeting Grand President Thuesen and other officials of the Order March 10. At a delightful noon luncheon, largely attended, the tables were beautifully decorated in spring flowers. Dean W. Valentine Henley of U.S.C. spoke on "The New Profession," giving the story of the evolution of man's condition and stating that the miracle of all times is the human mind.

At the meeting following, eight candidates were initiated,—among them Geraldine, young daughter of President Flora Jacobson—with perfectly executed ritual work. The address of the Grand President will long remain a pleasant memory. She likened the Orders of N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. to a cast of characters and paid compliment to the actors and actresses, the property clerk and the chorus. "There is a tie that binds the Natives," she said, "not found in other organizations."

Calling her the standard-bearer and the lamplighter of the Order, Florence Behm Irish presented to Mrs. Thuesen, on behalf of Californiana, a beautiful piece of pottery. As a gift from the past presidents of the Parlor, Ora E. Evans carried a basket of magnificent roses to Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg. As March 11 marked the seventy-seventh birthday of No. 247's oldest member, Hattie Furman-Stamps, Mrs. Evans took to her the huge basket of gladioli that graced the stage.—O.L.

DINNER-DANCE TO HONOR N.S. OFFICIAL.

Native Sons of the Golden West

SAN FRANCISCO—WITH GRAND PRESIDENT Harmon D. Skillin presiding, the Board of Grand Officers met February 29. Others in attendance were Junior Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustees Donald E. VanLuven, Edward T. Schnarr, Adrien Hynes, Jesse H. Miller, Thomas M. Foley, Leo V. Youngworth and Charles D. Blaine.

A letter was received from the regents of the University of California thanking the Grand Parlor for the gift of $1,000 for the Native Sons history fellowships.

Membership in the California Historical Society was ordered continued.

A committee was appointed by Grand President Skillin to prepare a resolution, for submission to the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor, relative to the reinstatement of former members of the Order.

The committee from the southern part of the state to which was referred the matter of the proper observance of Admission Day reported, and urged that "every effort be made to educate the employers of the state in the observance of state holidays for patriotic purposes."

A motion prevailed, that reports of grand officers to the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor, excepting that of the Grand President, be limited to 1,500 words.

A motion prevailed, that the Grand President and the Grand Secretry be authorized "to record in every county of the State of California where a Parlor of the Native Sons exists, a notice of the interest of the Grand Parlor in any real property owned by any Subordinate Parlor or in which a Subordinate Parlor has an interest, which said notice shall contain the provisions of the Constitution of the Grand Parlor with reference to the consent of the Board of Control to the sale of any said property."

Much routine business was transacted and numerous communications were given attention. The Board adjourned to the call of Grand President Skillin.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OCCASION FOR INITIATION OF NINETEEN.

Vallejo—Vallejo No. 77 celebrated March 10 its fiftieth institution anniversary with an initiation and banquet. Grant G. Halliday, charter member and first secretary, read the minutes of the March 6, 1886, meeting, written by him, and gave a detailed description of the Parlor's institution. Nineteen candidates were initiated, the ritual being exemplified by the following: Grand Secretary John T. Regan, president; Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, junior past; Past Grand James F. Hoey, senior past; Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, first vice; Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, second vice; Past Grand Charles L. Dodge, third vice; Grand Trustee Jesse H. Miller, marshal; Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, inside sentinel; Grand Organist C. George Cuthbertson, organist.

Approximately 150 members of the Order and guests partook of the excellent banquet which followed the initiatory ceremonies. Thomas J. Horan was the toastmaster, an orchestra provided instrumental selections, and the vocal soloists were Alice Gallagher and John J. McLaughlin. Speakers, and their subjects, included: Mayor Fred H. Heegler, "City of Vallejo;" Charter Secretary Halliday, "Vallejo Parlor No. 77;" Rear Admiral U.S.N. Yancey S. Williams, "Mare Island Navy Yard;" Grand President Skillin, "Our Order;" Deputy Elvena Woodard, "Vallejo Parlor No. 195 N.D.G.W.;" Junior Past Grand Koenig, "Homeless Children;" Past Grand Hoey, "Loyalty to Country and Flag." At the program's conclusion many words of praise were spoken for the splendid manner in which the affair was conducted. The committee in charge included W. J. Tormey (chairman), Thos. J. O'Hara, W. B. Hallin, J. J. Conley, C. L. Miner, Joseph Clavo, F. C. Segoria, Orvin B. Gaston and Harry G. Williams.

Vallejo Parlor was instituted March 6, 1886, by Grand President Fred H. Greely, lately deceased. Of the forty-eight charter members, seven remain: G. A. Bergwall, Harry T. Stevens, Chas. H. DeBolt, G. G. Halliday, Robert E. Doyle, Henry Stahl and George F. Harris.

Visiting Official Dinner Guest.

Sacramento—Complimentary to Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, who was paying an official visit to Sutter Fort No. 241, Albert L. Katzenstein of that Parlor entertained at dinner February 26. Other guests were Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Grand Trustee Thomas M. Foley.

At the Parlor meeting which followed there was a large gathering of Native Sons, twelve neighboring Parlors being represented. Inspiring talks were given by Grand Second Vice-president Meyer and the other grand officers, and the assemblage was also addressed by Past Grand Clarence E. Jarvis, Henry S. Lyon (Placerville No. 9), George G. Radcliff (Watsonville No. 65), John J. Monteverde (Sunset No. 26) and District Deputy L. W. Marvin. Rocklin No. 233 (Roseville) attended in a body and was officially received by Grand Trustee Foley. After the meeting a buffet supper was served.

Group Initiations Southern District.

Los Angeles—Group initiations of the southland Parlors, under the auspices of the District Deputy Grand Presidents Association of District No. 1, will be held as follows, according to announcement of Vice-chairman F. L. McGarvey (Arrowhead No. 110) and Secretary Maynard Garrison (University No. 272):

April 20 at Santa Ana, with Santa Ana No. 265 as the host. Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth will, at this time, make his official visit to Santa Ana.

May 4 at Los Angeles, with Hollywood No. 196 as the host. The group of candidates on this occasion will be known as the "Daniel McSweeny Class," in memory of the lately deceased president of Hollywood, who was also the chairman of the District Deputies Association.

Host to County Parlors.

Ferndale—Ferndale No. 93 was host March 16 to the Native Sons and Daughters of Humboldt County, and it had a large number of guests who enjoyed the occasion immensely. Cards and dancing provided entertainment, and refreshments were served. The "pep" committee—E. P. Calanchini, H. E. Cadoni, Frank Katri, Geo. Slissman and Chas. Walker—had charge of the affair, and Chas. Kistner acted as "chief chef."

Ferndale is leading in the horseshoe tournament, with Arcata No. 20 second and Humboldt No. 14 (Eureka) last. No. 93 has accepted a challenge from Loleta I.O.O.F. for a series of three horseshoe games.

Memorial Service for Popular Member.

Stockton—The fifty-fifth institution anniversary celebration of Stockton No. 7, March 9, was attended by more than 300. George F. McNoble was the toastmaster at the banquet, and the speakers included Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Grand Trustee Thomas M. Foley, Grand Marshal Walter P. Rothenbush, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Past Grand Hubert R. McNoble and President William Joyce. Entertainment was under the direction of Tom Oneto, and the dinner arrangements were made by Frank Piccardo and Joe Sacco.

A memorial service was also held for Ray Friedberger, most active in the affairs of the Parlor and a delegate to several Grand Parlors, who died March 5 at San Francisco. Charter Member Arthur L. Levinsky delivered the eulogy. Friedberger was born at San Andreas, Calaveras County, October 28, 1887, and affiliated with No. 7 March 26, 1900. In his will he bequeathed $500 to Stockton Parlor.

Anniversary Celebrated.

Oakland—Piedmont No. 120 celebrated March 18 its forty-eighth institution anniversary at a banquet. Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church was the toastmaster, and the principal addresses were made by Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, President Stephen E. Graham, Treasurer Richard M. Hamb, Secretary Charles Morando, District Deputies Frank P. Smith, Monte Florence and William E. Gray, and Charles E. Snook, charter member Oakland No. 50. Among others in attendance were Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Grand Marshal Walter P. Rothenbush.

Mrs. Pauline Merle-Hynes, mother of Grand Trustee Adrien Hynes, a member of Piedmont, died February 23 at Bagujo, Philippine Islands. She was a native of Alameda County.

Wants Admission Day Celebration.

San Diego—San Diego No. 108 heard reports March 11 on the progress of restoration of historic southern California landmarks. Plans for the annual barbecue are well under way, and the proceeds will be used in restoration work; Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer heads the arrangements committee. Flags have been presented the State Building and the Palace of Education at the California Pacific International Exposition, and to historic Fort Stockton.

The Parlor will send a large delegation to the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor to urge the celebration of Admission Day, September 9, in San Diego. President Henry U. Emery hopes to have the state societies co-operate by entering in a pageant parade the great seal of each state. Flag Day, June 4, will be observed by the raising of flags at Old Town. San Diego has a very active membership committee led by Joseph C. Kelley, and it is getting fine results.

NATIVE SONS NEWS BRIEFS.

Homeless Children

A WORTHWHILE NON-SECTARIAN ENDEAVOR SPONSORED AND SUPPORTED BY THE ORDERS OF NATIVE SONS AND NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST

"ELIZABETH CALIFORNIA THE IV" IS about to be abandoned, perhaps in some one's back lot. Her friends are hoping that as an older orphan she may be discovered and a good home, which she so richly deserves, provided for her. She has been faithful to the work of the Homeless Children for seven years. She has "leaped" over one hundred thousand miles on highways and byways, wheezing and groaning, to be sure, with each new mile, but always remembering her precious freight of helpless little ones, always conducting herself circumspectly, and waiting proudly in front of palace or cottage as her charges were taken into welcoming arms. "Elizabeth" has gained the affection of those who have guided her and have understood her idiosyncracies,—with a fellow feeling for her age and frailties—and this being true, it came as a shock to the worker when a four-year-old boy whom she was taking from hospital to home following an operation on his eye looked up into her face and said: "What IS this we're ridin' in? Is this a' automobile?"

Past Grand President Evelyn I. Carlson brought into the Central Office a generous supply of lovely layettes and $6 in cash from Dolores Parlor No. 169 N.D.G.W.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen spends part of her spare time in playing milkman, only the milk bottles which she brought into the office of the Homeless Children had been filled with pennies, nickels and dimes and have enriched the fund $32.84 during the past month. The funds came from these N.D.G.W. Parlors: Oro Fino No. 9, $11.01; El Carmelo No. 181, $11.78; Arguello No. 257, $10.05.

Pearl Wedde, secretary Bret Harte Parlor No. 232 N.D.G.W., writes that the members were sorry to say that the enclosed $5 would be Bret Harte's last donation to the Homeless Children as a PARLOR, as they had surrendered their charter, but that the majority of the members will join other Parlors immediately. They will continue to give their loyal support to the Homeless Children, and wish the "glorious work" great success.

A Native Daughter who organized a Parlor twenty-four years ago is now the foster-grandmother of one of the Committee's babies. The foster-grandfather has belonged to the Order of Native Sons for many years, and the foster-mother of the baby belonged to the Order of Native Daughters when she lived in Sausalito. All are supremely proud and happy to have the little girl.

PRACTICE RECIPROCITY BY ALWAYS PATRONIZING GRIZZLY BEAR ADVERTISERS

Native Daughters of the Golden West

TO GRAND OFFICERS AND SUBORDINATE Parlors, Native Daughters of the Golden West—Dear Sisters: Though the entire world suffers and gray clouds of anxiety hover over us, Easter Sunday dawns as a symbol of hope reborn.

When kneeling multitudes uplift their faces to the Cross, and Hosannas hail the age-old Miracle, we, as Native Daughters of the Golden West, should rejoice with all Christendom upon this Day of Resurrection.

"Lo, The Prince of Peace is risen from the Tomb!" Altars are laden with flowers in homage to the Saviour of mankind. All the anguish of Good Friday vanishes as the Son of God passes triumphantly through death to glory. Even the distant Cross is radiant and beautiful under the magic touch of Easter's sun.

Always Life is thus for one who clings to the Saviour. After sorrow, comes joy. After Calvary, Easter.

As we stand within the reflected glory, we beg for courage to accept life's crosses, so that we may be worthy of the consolation of the Saviour coming to us on the Day of His Resurrection.

Reliance upon human effort is not enough. Faith that comes from Divine aid and guidance must lead us forward to a safer port. Let us greet Easter with a new resolve. Amid the hymns of praise, the sacred ceremonies of Churches, and upon our mountain tops, wherever worshiping thousands bow in reverent homage to the Cross, let us re-dedicate ourselves to faith in God.

May the Prince of Peace bestow His greatest blessing upon you and yours, and may the happiness of Resurrection Morn dwell in your hearts throughout the year.

With a sincere Easter Greeting to all, I am sincerely and fraternally in P.D.F.A.,

ANNE C. THUESEN,
Grand President N.D.G.W.

San Francisco, March 25, 1936.

ACTIVITIES

ALAMEDA N.D.G.W.

THE DEPUTY GRAND PRESIDENTS OF Alameda County sponsored a very enjoyable breakfast March 8 at the Native Daughters Home in San Francisco. Dora Brayton was hostess and Charlotte Heritage co-hostess. Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini and Past Grand Eliza D. Keith attended. N.S.G.W. Past Grand Harry Williams gave an inspiring talk, and Thelma Rogers, accompanied by Evelyn Almasy, entertained with vocal numbers. This was also the occasion for a jam, jelly and dishcloth shower for the Home.

Aloha No. 106, Oakland—First Vice-president Clara Murray appointed the September 9 committee for this year and it is headed by Jennie Peterson. Plans for the Parlor's participation in the Admission Day parade will be started immediately. The Alameda County Court House will be dedicated some time in September under the direction of the Native Sons and Daughters, and Gladys I. Farley and Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler will represent Aloha. The regular monthly card party was held March 20 at the home of Grand Secretary Thaler, with Grace DuPont in charge. For the Parlor's part in "California Conservation Week" one pound of California poppy seed was sent the committee in charge. Aloha's contribution to the fund for the "smallest baby," Nancy Lee Vogt, caused favorable comment.

Hayward No. 122, Hayward—Eleven members of the Parlor attended the Alameda County deputy grand presidents banquet honoring Grand President Anne Thuesen February 27. Hayward has organized a sewing club, which has been named "The Helping Hand." It plans to do fancy work for prizes at future card parties, the proceeds of which will be turned over to Mary Brusie for baby clothing and milk for the homeless children. March 17 the Parlor had initiation and a Saint Patrick's party.

Encinal No. 156, Alameda—February 20 the Parlor honored the memory of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln with a patriotic meeting. Irene Rose was in charge. Refreshments were served at tables appropriately decorated, with a miniature cherry tree for the centerpiece. Twenty-one representatives from Encinal were at the district meeting, and a group attended the breakfast at the Home. March 11 the members enjoyed a "pot-luck" dinner, which turned out to be a banquet. The entertainment committee provided much merriment with an "amateur hour," Irene Rose being the "major." Those taking part were Pearl Pollock, Nell Schmidt, Agnes Schuppert, Gertrude Connor, Loretta DuFossee, Sally Harmola, Stephanie Holod, Marilla Schergen, Lois Williams and Phyllis Heritage. Deputy Olinda Kardoza was an honored guest. April 22 the Parlor will hold a card party, with Stephanie Holod in charge. The volley ball group have had a couple of practice games.

Argonaut No. 166, Oakland—Members of the Parlor are saving all their old silk socks these days, and when enough discarded footwear has been accumulated it will be sent to the Veterans Hospital to be used in making hook-rugs. The making of these is one of the boys' pastimes, and the finished products are astonishingly beautiful. They are made entirely from old silk stockings, so materials for their making are always thankfully received. A library of books and magazines is also being collected for the boys. Marjorie Vinther is in charge of this work.

The March 31 meeting of Argonaut was a very special one. Initiation was held during the meeting, followed by a social and baby shower for the homeless children. Mary Brusie was the honored guest and was presented with a very beautiful assortment of baby clothes. She entertained with motion pictures of her "kids" and stories about different youngsters. After the shower refreshments were served by Chairman Rosaline Corriea and committee. Twenty-two members of the Parlor, including President Louise Fratus, attended the district meeting.

Bahia Vista No. 167, Oakland—Those who attended the Parlor's social evening March 19 were entertained by a "Major Bowes amateur radio program." An audition was held, and the whole proceedings were a riot. Ann Quinn was the "major," and the fateful "gong" was ever present. Each member had an act of her own choice prepared, and dressed the part. The program was clever and original, and caused much hilarity. The September 9 committee of Bahia Vista consists of Dora Brayton, Lotta Bischoff and Lenel Davis. May Mills and Louise McDougall will represent the Parlor at the court house dedication committee meetings.

Fruitvale No. 177, Oakland—The sewing club of the Parlor met at Jean Mattos' home March 12. All enjoyed themselves, and after an evening of good accomplishment delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. President Grace Biggins was among the many from Fruitvale who attended the recent Alameda County district meeting.

Anniversary Observed.

Daly City—El Carmelo No. 181 was officially visited by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen February 24. Spring blossoms and floral arbors beautified the hall. The evening's feature was the presentation to the Grand President, for the homeless children, of a milk bottle filled with pennies. With President Eleanor McDonald presiding at a very commendable presentation of the ritual, five candidates were initiated. Delicious refreshments were served. Other guests were Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini and Alice Lane, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Past Grand Mae Himes Noonan and Deputy Margaret Lintner. Grand Trustee Alice Oldham, in charge of the evening's activities, was assisted by a very capable committee.

March 12 the Parlor observed its institution anniversary at a dinner at which Organizer Pauline Quirolo and Grand Trustee Oldham were honor-guests. The affair was under the chairmanship of Rena Mathias.

Past Presidents Initiate.

Stockton—Past Presidents Association No. 8 entertained Chief President Emilie Clifford and other visitors March 12. Joaquin Parlor No. 5 was hostess of the occasion, with Hattie Corr in charge of the dinner preceding the meeting, and Charlotte Clark supervising the entertainment. Sixteen candidates were initiated. The next meeting of the Association will be at Oakdale, April 9.

Delegates from No. 8 to the Grand Assembly which meets at Oakland, April 18, were chosen as follows: Imelda Bawden, Susie Frerichs, Verna Weesner, Charlotte Clark, Lucy Lieginger and Alice Dora.

In Memoriam

ELLA C. STANTON.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom having seen fit to take from our midst a most earnest worker and loving sister, we, the members of El Dorado Parlor No. 186 N.D.G.W., record with profound sorrow the death of Ella C. Stanton. She was ever ready to advance the principles of our Order by contributing material and wise counsel at all times. With a realization of our loss is mingled a deep sympathy for the members of her family. Be it therefore

Resolved, That this expression of sympathy be sent to the family, and also that it be spread upon the minutes, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear for publication.

"Sleep on, dear sister, such lives as thine
Have not been lived in vain,
But shed an influence rare, divine,
On lives that here remain."

SAMUEL CARLTON HUNTER.

Again the chain of our Fraternity has been broken and our beloved Brother and Charter Member Samuel Carlton Hunter of Broderick Parlor No. 117 N.S.G.W. has been taken from his friends and loved ones.

Our Parlor here all loved him
As his work on earth was done,
And we know he'll greet each one of us
At the setting of the sun.
No one heard the door that opened,
As he passed beyond our call;
Soft as loosened leaves of autumn,
One by one our loved ones fall.

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, that a copy be sent to the bereaved relatives, that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication, and that the charter be draped for a period of thirty days.

Respectfully submitted,

AUSTIN W. TALBOT,

A program was presented and refreshments were served. Among the visitors was a delegation from Eshcol No. 16 (Napa) headed by Recording Secretary Ella Ingram, and Deputy Elvena Woodard.

Fort Bragg—Fort Bragg No. 210 celebrated March 5 its institution anniversary. Past President Marjorie Lindberg, a recent bride, was the honor-guest and was the recipient of a gift from the Parlor. Esther Berkovits was chairman of the committee responsible for the success of the enjoyable evening. Mms. Frank Thome and Arvid Lindberg entertained the sewing club March 20 at the latter's home.

Petaluma—Bonnie Ross has been installed as president of Petaluma No. 222. At a valentine social February 18 delicious refreshments were served. Zoura Tompkins and the drill team gave a public card party which was well attended. A Saint Patrick's card party March 17 attracted a large crowd. Myrtle Vallier has donated to the Parlor a beautiful hand-made quilt, which will be disposed of.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

THE CALIFORNIA JOINT IMMIGRATION Committee, with which the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is identified, charges—and correctly so—that a textbook—prepared in Japan by yellow- and white-Japs—filled with misrepresentations and propaganda favoring Japan is being urged for use in the public schools of California.

For instance, the book says the "Gentlemen's Agreement" provided for the entrance of 200 Japs annually; that the agreement was scrupulously kept by Japan, and that the Exclusion Act "was one of the most unjustifiable and unfortunate pieces of legislation imaginable."

As a matter of fact, the "Gentlemen's Agreement" did not permit the entrance of any number of Japs; the agreement was not kept by Japan, thousands of its male laborers being sent over here and they, in turn, were followed by thousands of picture and kankodan brides, sent here to labor in the fields and, mainly, to produce subjects of Japan, citizens of the United States by birth. It was because Japan did not keep the agreement that the complained-of Exclusion Law was enacted by the Federal Government.

Japan wants that law stricken from the statute books, so that it may proceed, unhampered, with its "peaceful invasion" of the Pacific Coast. Its propaganda-textbook, cleverly designed not to educate, but to Japanize the minds of public school children, should be barred from the schools and also from this country!

"Devastating Floods in Eastern States" and "Frost Cuts Fruit Crops Throughout California" were prominent headlines in the daily press the past month. Does Nature approve of the "New Deal's" destruction policy, or are these acts of Nature a condemnation of, and a warning to desist from, wanton destruction of the gifts of Nature whereby existence is made possible?

"Democracy will fail entirely unless a way can be found to curb the appetite of the people in the matter of governmental extravagance and unnecessary public functions," says State Controller Ray L. Riley. "The larger the absorption of the people's income for government, the lower living standards must go."

He should have said unless the people curb the appetite of the politicians, for the politicians, to increase patronage and build up a powerful machine, induce the people to authorize the unnecessary public functions which result in governmental extravagance. A way to curb that appetite exists! Put into public office those who will serve the people, not the politicians and special interests, and wipe out most of the "fixed charges" and over-numerous boards, commissions and what-nots. The people, however, will have to do the job; the governing officials, regardless of their preachments, will not even attempt its doing. Unless the job be done, however, democracy will, as the State Controller says, fail entirely, and the day of failure cannot be much longer delayed.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation declared in New York that "rotten politics is the most important of all of the filthy, stultifying influences which foster crime." From experience, he should know.

Representatives of some fifty safety organizations of the state conferred in Sacramento on the increasing number of traffic deaths and, among others, adopted a resolution advocating "increased personnel for law enforcement agencies." Every state confab, these days, it seems, wants the number of feeders at the public trough increased.

Regardless of that, however, what is needed to materially lessen the appalling number of auto-murders is not increased personnel, but strict enforcement of the laws without political fear or favor.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt vetoed the $50,000,000 seed loan bill passed by the Federal Congress. At least, that was consistent, for he is an advocate of lessened production.

Here's something to think about: The California Federation of Teachers, in session at Palo Alto, adopted several resolutions, among them one favoring repeal of the state criminal syndicalism law, and another advocating abolition of military training in land grant colleges.

The California Congress of Parents and Teachers will be in session at San Jose, Santa Clara County, April 28-May 1.

In Memoriam

D. P. ("PEPE") NARVAEZ.
Who Departed This Life
March 2nd, A.D. 1936.

To San Jose Parlor No. 22, Native Sons of the Golden West—Your committee appointed to draft and present to this Parlor some tribute of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, D. P. ("Pepe") Narvaez, beg leave to report:

That Brother Narvaez departed this life in the hall of and during a session of this Parlor on the second day of March, A.D. 1936. That he was born at Milpitas in this county, on a portion of the once vast rancho of his pioneer Spanish Californian family, on April 28, 1870.

That he spent most of his life in the public service, having been a captain in the San Jose Fire Department, a member of the San Jose Police Department, and for many years previous to his death the custodian of the Hall of Records of Santa Clara County, during all of which time he was faithful to his trust and honored and esteemed by all who knew him. In all respects he was a sterling citizen, a devoted husband, a loving father and an unfailing friend.

He joined this Parlor on February 27, 1901, and held several offices in this Parlor with distinction and ability; many times he was elected and served as delegate from this Parlor to the Grand Parlor of the Order. He was one of the most loyal members of this Parlor and Order, as evidenced by the fact that he attended the last several Admission Day celebrations of our Order and insisted upon marching with his brothers in the parades although his declining strength did not warrant it.

Brother Narvaez was an enthusiastic and active member of this Parlor to the end, and although his sudden passing in our midst was a tragedy to us and to his family, still he probably died as he would have wished, amidst his brethren in the Order that he served and loved so well. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Parlor sincerely deplores the loss of our brother and will long cherish his memory; further, that this testimonial be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor; that copies thereof be transmitted by the Secretary of this Parlor to the family of our beloved brother and to The Grizzly Bear.

Dated and respectfully submitted March 23rd, 1936.

JOHN R. SULLIVAN,
EDWARD HALEY,
JOSEPH LAWRENCE,
Committee.

This is to certify that the foregoing resolution was unanimously adopted, this 23rd day of March, 1936.

JOSEPH LAWRENCE,
Secretary San Jose Parlor No. 22
Native Sons of the Golden West.

MILLIE TIETJEN.

Whereas, The Angel of Death has claimed our dear Sister Past President Millie Tietjen and taken her to the Great Beyond; whereas by her passing the General Association of Past Presidents N.D.G.W. has lost a loyal member whose thought was ever for the good of the Order and who was worthy of the honors bestowed upon her as a Chief President, be it

Resolved, That while bowing in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, we do sincerely mourn the loss of Sister Tietjen; and be it further resolved, that the General Association extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved members of her family, and that these resolutions be inscribed upon the minutes of the General Association, and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased Sister Past President, and also to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

EMILIE J. CLIFFORD,
EMMA G. FOLEY,
ANNA G. LOSER,
Committee.

At a 6:30 dinner a nautical motif was followed in the decorations, in front of the Grand President being a replica of the battleship "California," labeled, however, "S.S. Thuesen." Adele Frankish, accompanied by an orchestra, rendered vocal selections. The entrance of a spanish toreador and "bull" caused much amusement. At the Parlor meeting, ten candidates were initiated. Active in arranging for Mrs. Thuesen's official visit were Vada Austin, Deputy Vera Carlson, Marian McKee, Adele Frankish, Wilma Tucker and Mrs. F. B. Van Fleet.

March 18 the sewing club of the Parlor gathered at the home of Bee Herzberg for a luncheon and shower in compliment to Mrs. F. B. Van Fleet, who is leaving in April for an extended Eastern trip. SAN FRANCISCO

HARRY I. MULCREVY, FOR THIRTY years clerk of San Francisco County, died at Atherton, San Mateo County, March 18. He was born at San Francisco, July 15, 1868, and since boyhood was an outstanding and beloved figure in the civic and political life of the city. July 3, 1895, he affiliated with Olympus Parlor No. 189 N.S.G.W., but on the consolidation of that Parlor with Golden Gate Parlor No. 29 transferred his membership in the Order to the latter. For many years he was a leader in Native Sons affairs in San Francisco, and he was a delegate to numerous Grand Parlors. He was the chairman of the 1915 Grand Parlor and the 1915 Admission Day committees, both notable successes.

All San Francisco mourns the going of Harry Mulcrevy, for his passing has, as remarked by City Attorney J. J. O'Toole, left an "unfillable vacancy in the heart of San Francisco."

GRAND PRESIDENT N.D. VISITS.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen officially visited Golden Gate Parlor No. 158 N.D.G.W. March 30. The meetinghall was artistically decorated in spring flowers, and in the banquetroom the April Fool's Day motif was carried out. There was a large attendance of present and past grand officers, and gifts were presented the Grand President and Deputy Mazie Roderick.

Mrs. Thuesen gave a very inspiring talk on the Order and commended the officers of Golden Gate for their ritual work. The N.D.G.W. glee club favored with several selections and a number of the Parlor members entertained with songs and recitations. Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, chairman for the evening, was ably assisted by Gertrude Miarini, Marge Hanahan, Anna McQuaide, Mary Sullivan, Ruby Feeley, Frieda Bode, Annie Franzen, Emliette Conmy, Clara Stromaier, Margaret Ramm, Lois Loss, Lulu Hostelling and Edna Gray.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATED.

Following a custom of many years, South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W. celebrated Saint Patrick's Day March 18. More than 250 members and guests were in attendance. The principal speaker was Rev. Thos. J. McKeon, Grand Historian, who delivered a wonderful address on "The Life of Saint Patrick." Other speakers were Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Junior Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig, Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Trustee Jesse H. Miller, Judges James G. Conlan, Frank M. Deasy, Twain Mickelson and George W. Schonfeld, Past Grand President Frank H. Dunne, Assemblyman Thos. A. Maloney, Chas. Roberts and President F. H. Elvander. Grand Secretary John T. Regan was the toastmaster.

Entertainment was furnished by Carl Prignitz, Lionel R. Smith, Gerald Gallagher, George Nilan, Lloyd Dornell, Jack Brady, George Kendall, Fred W. Zimmerman Jr., Ted Andrus and George Cerles. A corned-beef and cabbage banquet was served, and enjoyed by all.

HALL ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hall Association of the Native Sons of the Golden West, March 10, the following directors were elected: Robert H. Morse, Albert Franzen, Ben F. Hanlon, Thomas G. Wyatt, Edward J. Lynch, Frank A. Soracco, Thomas F. Duffy, David Wilson, Adolph Eberhart, Edward J. Barton, Frank J. Jewell, George W. Spiller, Wm. Thomas, Vergil Orengo, James A. Wilson, Wm. D. Hynes, Arthur T. Poheim, Chas. D. Steiger, Harry L. Gunzberger, Lewis F. Byington, Frank M. Buckley, Adolph Herbst, Frank J. Schiefler, Louis Derre, Mat P. Brady, Dave D. Gibbons, Edward J. Tietjen, Thos. T. Dupont, Joseph Rose, Eugene O'Donnell, Chas. J. Powers, James Hanna, Louis A. Maison, Joseph B. Keenan, Chas. A. Koenig and Henry S. Spaulding.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

The San Francisco deputies gave a surprise party to Grand President Anne Thuesen at her home February 28, and extended to her good wishes. The evening was spent in dancing, singing and playing games. Mae O'Keefe entertained with accordion selections, and much talent was discovered among the deputies.

The Native Daughters Glee Club of San Francisco under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ruby Bried visited Letterman Hospital at the Presidio February 20 and presented a minstrel show, "Aunt Car'line's Wedding," written and directed by Mrs. Bried. The show was very much enjoyed by the veterans.

Alta Parlor No. 3—The forty-ninth institution anniversary was celebrated March 12 at a not-soon-to-be-forgotten dinner. Chairman Robina Shepherd carried out Saint Patrick's Day decorations for the table, and each of the thirty-two in attendance received tokens of remembrance. Entertainment was provided by Estelle Carr, Mary W. Jordan, Claire Bolman, Elma O'dell, Sadie Blake, Margaret Kent, Thelma Flake and Angeline F. Vest. Past Grands Eliza D. Keith and Margaret G. Hill, and Deputy Emily Taylor were the speakers.

Fremont Parlor No. 59—Members were entertained at a Saint Patrick's party March 17. Ella Tait and Mae Grantley had charge of the affair. During the evening Sister Tait rendered several Irish folk songs, with Sister Dwyer at the piano. Mary Corcoran of Los Angeles No. 124 gave a humorous recitation. The tables were beautifully decorated in green and white. Deputy Alma Hall was honor-guest. The Parlor plans a card party for April 7.

El Vespero Parlor No. 118—Ten candidates were initiated March 10. Deputy May Waring complimented the officers on their perfect rendition of the ritual, and the initiates on having attained membership in the Parlor. The committee for the evening planned an Irish program. Beautiful decorations lent an air of festivity to the occasion, and delicious refreshments were served. President Isabelle R. Casey-Evets is resigning to go with her husband to Unga, Alaska, for an indefinite stay. El Vespero is planning a whist party for April 28, with Marguerite Kemme in charge.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 March 5 a very enthusiastic meeting was held. The harmony committee—Rena Taube, Lillian Troy, Nora Scheflin and Carolyn Kerwin—arranged a musical number of popular songs and it was much enjoyed by the members. Margaret Dahlstrom sang "Danny Boy." The main event of the evening was the derby race, and what fun! Musical chairs and bingo completed a very delightful evening. Deputy Emily Ryan was present. March 17 the thirty-fourth anniversary of the Parlor was celebrated. Hannah Toohig, Eileen Taube, Gladys McQueen and Queenie LaSalle were hostesses. The decorations were in Ireland's colors of green, white and gold, and joy and happiness prevailed. President Evelyn Kilkenny has planned a whist for April 16. Drum corps notes: March 3 a meeting was held at the Joorisen home. March 12 Virginia Hannon arranged a Saint Patrick's party. Alice Drolla is perfecting arrangements for a telephone whist April 30; proceeds will be devoted to the uniform fund.

Gabrielle Parlor No. 139—March 11 the members of Rincon No. 72 N.S.G.W. were entertained. The table decorations were carried out in green and white, in honor of Saint Patrick. After a very appetizing repast under the direction of Norma Johnson, dancing was enjoyed to the peppy music of Henry Raffo and his syncopaters. During the evening several Irish numbers were rendered by Daniel Tinney of Rincon, accompanied by Lillian O'Malley of Gabrielle. Commencing April 1 the Parlors will hold a joint social whist the first Wednesday of each month. Both Parlors are working very hard toward making the monster whist party to be given by the Homeless Children Committee April 27 a huge success.

Dolores Parlor No. 169—Chairman Mae Baumeister, Lee Shallock and Betty Both visited the veterans at Fort Miley February 20 and distributed fruit, cigarettes and magazines. March 11 the spirit of Saint Patrick prevailed, the tables being colorful with snowy blossoms and green favors. A birthday cake and gifts were enjoyed by members born in March. The splendid display of tiny garments at the recent stork shower is tangible proof that Dolores loyally supports the homeless children work. Past Grand Evelyn Carlson is social chairman for the term.

James Lick Parlor No. 220—A night in Ireland was featured March 18. Vocal selections were rendered by Lillian O'Leary, and Harriet Carroll gave a hula dance. All members were appropriately costumed. After the entertainment a delightful corned-beef supper was served under the supervision of Edna Heckling. The tables were most attractively decorated in the prevailing color of the evening, irish green. Honored guests were Deputy Mary Vogt, Helen Ray and Elizabeth Carl.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

In Memoriam

MILLIE TIETJEN.

To the Officers and Members of Golden State Parlor No 50 Native Daughters of the Golden West—We, your committee appointed to draft a memorial of love and respect to the memory of our late Sister Millie Tietjen, submit the following:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, having seen fit to take from our midst a most earnest and loving sister, we, the members of Golden State Parlor, record with profound sorrow the death of Millie Tietjen. She was for thirty four years Recording Secretary, and was one of the Order's most faithful, loyal and conscientious workers. In the passing of Millie, our Parlor has lost a true and upright member whose faithful adherence to the principles of our Order and charming personality endeared her to all her sisters, and whose memory will ever be an inspiration to all of us.

Resolved, That our sincere and deep sympathy be extended her sorrowing family; furthermore, be it resolved that a page of our records be dedicated to her memory, that this tribute of affection to her memory be sent to her family, and a copy to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has again seen fit to sever the golden cord that binds us together in the bonds of love and fraternity, and has called to her Heavenly Home our beloved Sister Mary Ghigliazzo, we bow in humble submission to His divine will, knowing our loss is her eternal gain. Her sudden death was a great shock to our entire membership, and has left a vacancy in her home that can never be filled. We are grateful for the privilege of having known her, and were happy to count her as a friend.

Resolved, That our sincere and deep sympathy be extended to her bereaved family, that a page of our records be dedicated to her memory, that a copy of this memorial be sent to her family and also to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

SAN PEDRO — THE FIRST OFFICIAL visit of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters in the southland was made to Rudecinda Parlor No. 230, March 2. President Bernice Drant presided at a dinner preceding the meeting which was attended by other officials of the Order, delegations from neighboring Parlors, and the officers of Sepulveda Parlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. The latter presented to Mrs. Thuesen a basket of roses.

Flowers marked the various stations in the meetinghall. Here, Rudecinda made its gift to the Grand President—a boquet of California poppies with centers of silver pieces. Deputy Letitia Sarciaux, chairman of the evening, was assisted by Virginia Bruckner and Marcella Sandoval. March 17, Lottie Sandstrom and Victoria Adler were honored, the occasion being their birthdays. March 19 a card party was held at the home of Marcella Sandoval. During April the Parlor will have a rummage sale, with Margaret Kreider in charge.

Reservations may be made through Secretary John J. Smith.

April 15 will be "Gene" Biscailuz night at the Parlor, and the Sheriff will have full charge of everything. Dinner at 6:30 will be followed by a snappy meeting. To miss this is to regret. The card party March 18 was a success. The committee in charge, Ralph Eisenhart, Jack Keogh, Al Seamen and District Deputy Harry T. Honn, was assisted by Mary Meyer, Rita Smith and other Native Daughters.

Santa Monica Bay lost a valued member when, March 13, Mayor William H. Carter died suddenly. He was born at Oakland, Alameda County, August 15, 1879. Many officials of the state and the county attended his funeral, which was the largest ever held in Santa Monica. At the burial obsequies the eulogy was delivered by Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer.

"MEMORY LANE."

Long Beach—Grand President Thuesen paid her official visit to Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. March 5. At a dinner preceding the meeting the table decorations were miniature silver ships at sea, and the favors were hand-painted seashells. Daisy Hansen and Violet Henshilwood had charge of the decorations, and Lillian Lasater was chairman of the banquet arrangements.

The meetingplace was artistically decorated with red, white and yellow calla lilies. The Grand President gave an inspiring talk on "Memory Lane," and thanked the Parlor for its many courtesies, including a sightseeing trip around Long Beach and vicinity, escorted by President Leola Temby and Gertrude Riddle. She was the recipient of a gift of silver. Three candidates were initiated.

At this well-attended meeting were representatives of many Parlors, the visiting Grand Parlor officials, Deputy Mildred Gray, Catherine O'Riley, Catherine Dolly, Sarah Rutherford and Supervising Deputies Irma Murray and Flora Holy. Bertha Hitt had charge of the flowers presented the visitors and the candidates. At the meeting's conclusion refreshments were served by Clara Fay, Beryl Vallikett and Marguerite Burch. A card party, with Eugenia Smith as chairman, was held February 28 at the Wilmington home of Mrs. Burch, and the thimble club met February 27 at the home of Alice Waldow.

THANKED FOR CO-OPERATION.

Compton—Compton Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W. had a fine meeting March 17 in its new home, Chaney-Caldwell Hall, 260½ East Compton boulevard. Most of the neighboring Parlors were represented, Ramona No. 109 and Sepulveda No. 263 having large delegations. The VOTES TO ADOPT BABY BOY.

Glendale—Honoring Grand President Thuesen, a tea was given at Casa Adobe March 4 by Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. at which city officials and civic leaders were also guests. March 10, the Grand President and other officials of the Order were guests of the Parlor at a banquet at the Oakmont Country Club.

That evening, Mrs. Thuesen paid her official visit to Verdugo. The appointments were carried out in blue, and Ione Gillette sang, to the music of "Alice Blue Gown," words especially written by her in honor of the Grand President. Six candidates were initiated, the group including Miss Ada Eleanore Steele and Mrs. Aletha Gregory, daughter and sister, respectively of President Ada Steele. Extending its homeless children work, the Parlor voted to adopt a baby boy who will be named after the Grand President's husband, Andrew Thuesen. Feminine World's Fads and Fancies

FOUNDATION GARMENTS ARE MORE important this season than ever before because of the extremely tailored silhouette, with the wasp-like waist, the slim figure, and costumes built out with broad shoulders to emphasize both. The figure must be just right, and by just right this season is meant naturally youthful, with curves in the right place. The most important foundations are those which re-distribute weight, putting it where it is least conspicuous and moulding the figure itself in curves that are youthful, but very natural.

Favorite materials for these garments are the heaven-sent lastex, both one-way and two-way stretch, and broadcloth. Lastex in its various forms is found on practically all foundation garments. For the heavier figure, one house specializes in individual fittings of a garment that is absolutely superb for redistributing those rebellious curves and making them positively lovely. The brassier is adjustable and can be fitted by the individual. This garment is created of lastex combined with broadcloth, and the brassiere is of lovely lace.

Lingerie, like the dawn of a beautiful day, is colorfully dainty, soft, luxurious and very, very feminine. Materials are as dainty as a Dresden doll and suggest springtime. Bits of flowers in sprays, wreaths and bunches in contrasting colors scatter themselves across satins, crepes and even chiffons. Especially lovely is a pale blue nightie with sprays of delicate pink flowers, made on the high empire style. The collar is daintily finished with pink lace, and long sleeves are edged with the same and dainty bits of embroidery.

Slips fairly abandon themselves to lace. With clothes becoming more feminine, slips, too, have given up their tailored aspirations and accepted tops of exquisite lace to accentuate their daintiness. Bias slips still are first, because of their form-fitting qualities and comfort. Step-ins, too, are lacy and dainty and are fitted to the waistline to keep the silhouette slim and sleek. Negligees, robes and lounging pajamas are especially lovely. Negligees are shown in the new deep tones and are frequently trimmed with even darker shades for belts, sleeve linings and color accent on necklines. Lace remains a favorite, and is shown over lovely shades of pink or blue with harmonizing slips.

Hosiery for spring is as new and different as shoes. Two shades are outstanding—star sapphire in grey-blue to match the grey-blue costume, and coppery-orange for the browns and rusts. These two shades are innovations, in that they are definitely new in tone color and can be worn only with particular colors. Hosiery again becomes sheerer and clearer; women prefer the two-thread and are willing to spend the difference for the most luxurious. This is probably influenced by the suit vogue and the swanky sports shoes that complete the picture.

Meshes are again important and are now selling bigger than ever before. Along with meshes is a growing demand for the crepe hose for dress. There is nothing so smart, if black is being worn, as the black sheer hose with the contrasting heel. This hose is being used for both afternoon and evening with the black ensemble. For the beach picture, socks are again good. They are shown in all the vivid colors, as well as white.

With black so smart for evening, it is suggested that the shoe be dyed one of the brillian colors. Use emerald green, dubonnet, raspberry parma violet or sulphur yellow to match th accessories used with the gown. Satin evenin slippers are exquisite in stunning satin and crep combinations. One of the most beautiful is cre ated of white crepe, with open toe and heel an daintily edged with gold kidskin. For wear wit the tailored suit are the smartest of calf models These have medium heels, wide straps used i several designs, square toes and square heels Although wide straps have the center of th fashion picture at the present time, this does no mean that the eyelet ties are out.

For more active sports, there are oxfords o reverse calfskin in greys, leather shades, dar blue and, of course, white. For street wear the will also be important, for they combine styl and comfort. "When speaking of shoes it's sort of gab, gab, gab." By that is meant tha nothing is such high style as the use of gabar dines. In new footwear, gabardine is used as th basic material for shoes for every costume. Slip pers shown in gabardine combined with paten are in a variety of color combinations.

Many of the smartest handbags match th shoes, both in color and in detail. These bag are being shown in a variety of styles and shapes with top fasteners and the ever-popular zippe closings. Bags, gloves, belts, scarfs, jewelry an shoes make or break your costume. Colore accessories are found particularly in scarfs, flow ers and contrasting material trims. Brightl colored scarfs are used for both the practica purpose, in lieu of blouses, and for color notes

Handkerchiefs gay, colorful and very jaunt are being shown in groups to complete just tha little bit of color necessary for the perfect en semble. There are yellows, blues, greens, du bonnets and rust shades for the tailored suits usually in designs on white. For the more for mal type daytime clothes there are hankies i fresh flower designs. Many suggest daint sprigs from the old-fashioned garden.

BUILDING ON PRESENT, WITH MEMORIES OF PAST, FOR THE FUTURE.

Santa Ana—The feature of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen's visit to Santa Ana Parlor No. 235 N.D.G.W., March 9, was her presentation to the Bowers Memorial Museum, on behalf of the Parlor, of the four flags—Spanish, Mexican, Bear and American—interwoven with the history of California. Chairman Matilda Lemon of Santa Ana's history and landmarks committee introduced the Grand President who, in the course of her remarks, dwelt on the history of the flags and concluded with: "In the stress and turmoil of the present we can still see Old Glory fluttering above us as inspiring and as symbolical as ever of the strength, courage and faith of America." In his acceptance address, President Terry E. Stephenson of the Orange County Historical Society commended the Native Daughters for the example they set in building on the present, with memories of the past, for the future. Mayor Fred C. Rowland expressed the city's appreciation for the gift, and Curator Mrs. F. E. Coulter spoke briefly.

In the evening dinner was served, and among the honor-guests were Grand President Tuesen, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Alice Lane, Hazel Hansen and Nellie Cline, Grand Outside Sentinel Mary Noerenberg, and Councilmen Plummer Bruns, Joe Smith and William Penn. The tables were attractive with yellow spring flowers in black pottery bowls, and hand-made Spanish sombreros. President Muriel Bray presided, Clara Fitchen, accompanied by Katherine Fitchen, rendered vocal selections, and President Carl Schroeder, on behalf of Santa Ana No. 265 N.S.G.W., presented a large boquet of sweetpeas to the Grand President. At this time, Mrs. Thuesen, on behalf of Santa Ana No. 235, presented a California State (Bear) Flag to the city, and it was accepted by Mayor Rowland. At the Parlor meeting which followed the dinner four candidates were initiated.

BOTANICAL GARDENS VISITED.

Placentia—Grand President Thuesen paid her official visit to Grace No. 242 March 13. A noonday luncheon was followed by a tour of the Rancho Santa Ana Botanical Gardens, now being planted to all varieties of California trees, shrubs and wild flowers. In the party were Grand Trustees Giannini, Lane, Hansen and Cline, and Grand Outside Sentinel Noerenberg. In the evening dinner was served at tables decorated in a Saint Patrick's motif. An Irish homestead scene centered the guest table, at which were seated the grand officers, Past Grand Grace Stoermer, Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson, Deputy Nola Noyes, President Rebecca Hasson, Catherine O'Riley and Bertha Hitt, organizer of Grace. Johanna Lemke entertained with songs.

At the meeting five candidates were initiated, and the Grand President gave a delightful talk, especially stressing the homeless children work. Past Grand Stoermer, for whom the Parlor is named, complimented the officers for perfect rendition of the initiatory ceremonies. At the meeting's close an amateur hour was conducted by "Major" Noerenberg of the "Shave & Sideburn Co.," and the Grand Trustees appeared in mirth-provoking acts. Punch and wafers were served at the close of a perfect day. Grace has adopted its fourth baby, to be named Dora Marie in memory of the late Dora Marie Trendle.

(GRAND PRESIDENT N.S.G.W.)

"THE TIME IS ALL TOO QUICKLY APproaching when no longer will the writer speak as the Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. However, the opportunity has presented itself to use this space in this issue of The Grizzly Bear, and I have been requested by the editor of this publication to 'use my own good judgment in selecting a suitable subject.' Thus the proposition is put squarely up to me, and while I have in mind several subjects this article might deal with, it seems to me, as I relinquish leadership after an all too short period of time, that a fitting topic to discuss would be that of membership.

"Should the readers' eyes continue to peruse this article, —possibly many may drop it with disgust when they read the subject thereof—may I say many suggestions and ideas are conveyed to a Grand President during his term of office with reference to increasing the membership of our Order. In a report being submitted by me to the Grand Parlor accounting for my year's work, I make mention of the fact that no uniform set of rules and regulations could be laid down and followed for the upbuilding of the Order as far as membership is concerned. Each particular Parlor has its own peculiar problem, and each Parlor must meet that problem as best it may.

"There is one thing, however, that has repeatedly displayed itself, and that is that we do not show enough activity in the matter of inviting others to join our ranks. This fact was strikingly brought home to me some two years ago at the institution of Lakemont Parlor, when a direct descendant of General A. M. Winn, founder of our Order, was called upon to express his ideas after his initiation. Although he was a man well advanced in years, he told us that this was the first time in his life that he had ever been invited to join the Native Sons of the Golden West—and, mind you, a grandson of the founder of our Order. This example only goes to show that there are thousands upon thousands eligible by their nativity who are not only prospects, but would be willing initiates if invited to join the Native Sons.

"Frequently during my term as Grand President, and also for the six years prior thereto as a member of the Board of Grand Officers, I saw communities thrilled and deeply indebted to a local Parlor of the Native Sons for some outstanding charitable or social accomplishment performed under the auspices of that Parlor. The local newspapers would print columns complimenting and commending the Order and especially the Subordinate Parlor in the community, the average citizen would speak highly of the organization—yet, when inquiry was made to ascertain what, if any, advantage was taken of this excellent publicity, the sorry spectacle presented itself of nothing having been done. In other words, rather than strike while the iron is hot, the officers and members of the Subordinate Parlor saw fit to pass up a golden opportunity to swell their ranks with newly recruited applicants.

"Whenever a Parlor of the Order accomplishes something that draws to it favorable recognition, it seems to me that then is the time to capitalize upon such publicity and use this favorable commendation to secure some new members.

"A few Parlors in our Order, regretable as it may be to so confess, have reached a stage where they are in a narrow rut, so far as Parlor procedure is concerned. There is no incentive or inducement for a member of such a Parlor to attend his meeting. The meeting is called to order, the order of business is sing-songed through with no interest whatsoever, and within ten or fifteen minutes after opening the meeting adjourns. If a Parlor finds itself in this condition, it needs more than a spring tonic. It needs new blood and a complete renovation. Effort should be made to find some sort or form of innocent pastime or recreation that would attract members and hold their interest upon a meeting night. Whether this should come from a social or athletic source, depends principally upon local conditions, but be what it may, something should be done to arouse the interest of those already in the Order, so that others may be persuaded to join such a Parlor and not immediately thereafter regret this action.

"I have been informed that my successor, Grand President-to-be Hartley Russell, intends to devote a certain sum of money for the purpose of publicity. In this respect, he has my hearty approval and offer of co-operation, for I feel that favorable publicity is a most efficient manner of increasing the membership of our Order. A means, however, that must be taken advantage of when the opportunity is ripe, otherwise the publicity availeth nothing. When the Order at large, or one of its Subordinate Parlors, receives in the daily press laudable mention, then is the time to press home that point by securing the signature of a native-born Californian on an application.

"We are told from reliable sources that there are in the southern part of this state of ours organizations composed of those born in other states, and we are further informed that the membership rolls in some of these organizations are extremely larger than ours. If those who come to California either to aid their health or their pocketbook can gather themselves together to perpetuate the traditions and history of a state deserted by them for personal or mercenary reasons, how much stronger should be the call to native-born Californians to band themselves together to perpetuate the most picturesque, the most glorious, the most beautiful history of any state of the Union.

"There is another means for increasing membership which, I really believe, is either ignored or not given even a small part of the consideration it deserves. We are well aware of the fact that we have a sister Order, the Native Daughters of the Golden West. We likewise know that their interest in our state and their desire to perpetuate the traditions of our native state are as enthusiastic as the Native Sons. We do not seem to realize, however, that they can in many ways assist their brother Order in securing and building up our membership.

"Frequently, affairs are held under the joint auspices of both Orders, and upon such occasions the Native Daughters by their co-operation and interest often make the affair a decided success. On many other occasions when a Subordinate Parlor of our own Order is holding some function, the Native Daughters are only too willing to help in any manner possible. Understanding the background and the principles upon which the Native Daughters were founded, we must realize they, too, are materially interested in our progress and we should not undervalue this interest. We know they must be interested in our Order as well as their own, and if properly approached undoubtedly would assist our local Parlors in the upbuilding of their rolls. The Native Daughters have sons, fathers, brothers, relatives, and, yes, even sweethearts, who are eligible to join the Native Sons, and a suggestion upon our part to members of our sister Order would undoubtedly bear fruit. It has been my experience in the past that where a local Parlor of the Native Sons has the good fortune to be in a community where a Parlor of the Native Daughters flourishes, that Parlor of our Order benefits materially under the circumstances.

"In conclusion, let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and see to it that this Order of ours shall suffer no more by a membership decrease, but that as the years roll on and on the membership roll will likewise increase."

HARMON D. SKILLIN OF SAN FRANCISCO.
GRAND PRESIDENT OF THE ORDER OF NATIVE SONS OF THE GOLDEN WEST.

"Not since the world of chaos first was born has man so clearly visaged hope of a new earth."

SANTA CRUZ "THE PLAYGROUND OF CALIFORNIA"

Mabel Wheeler
SANTA CRUZ CHAMBER COMMERCE.)

THE PAST TWO CENTURIES TO WHICH Santa Cruz may lay claim holds a history which is picturesque, romantic and full of adventure. This history is closely identified with that of the entire country around Monterey Bay, and it is particularly fitting that the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West should meet in such a setting.

It was in 1542, only fifty years after Columbus discovered America, that Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, sailing along the coast on his first voyage of exploration, was attracted to the wood-crowned mountains of the Santa Cruz section. Later, Sir Francis Drake sailed along this same course, and he, too, observed the wooded hills.

But it remained for the mariner, Sebastian Viscaino, exploring more carefully during the year 1602, to discover and name Monterey Bay. The reports which he wrote were so enthusiastic regarding the beauty of the bay, the fertility of the land and the general desirability of the place, that some 160 years later the Portola expedition was formed and left San Diego in July 1769. For months they traveled overland, following closely the coast line, finally arriving at the bank of the San Lorenzo River, where they set up a cross and called the place Santa Cruz, meaning "City of the Holy Cross."

Twenty-two years later, the Santa Cruz Mission was established, September 14, 1791. Tents were erected on the hill where the Holy Cross Church now stands, and work was started in a primitive way. A church was started and the dedication services were held in March 1794. The padres began the teaching of the Indians, and immigration started slowly to come in from other places.

Father Palou, after passing through Santa Cruz several years later, wrote, "Santa Cruz is fit not only for a town, but a city, without wanting any of the things necessary." And time has shown the correctness of his statement, for today Santa Cruz is known all over the world for its equable climate and beautiful surroundings, and is a thriving community where the number of visitors each year runs into several millions.

In 1859 the mission was partially destroyed and only a portion of the walls remained. It was not until 1932 that, through the efforts of Mrs. Richard Doyle, a native of California, the mission was restored in replica. In the rooms of the wing adjoining the chapel are found the old mission books, dating from 1791, written by the padres and containing records of births, baptisms, weddings and deaths, along with many interesting relics and beautiful old vestments in splendid state of preservation.

These records show that Julian Wilson, a young Virginian, was the first American-born resident and that he was baptized at the old Santa Cruz Mission April 17, 1824. He later married Josefa Alviso, and a number of his descendants are living in California. The work of these early settlers is, indeed, reflected down the years, and today as we ride over the scenic paved highways, or travel by train or automobile, little do we realize or even think of the privations and hardships which they endured.

Only seventy-six miles south of San Francisco, on the northern tip of the crescent which forms beautiful Monterey Bay, lies Santa Cruz, with the Santa Cruz Mountains forming a picturesque background. Only a few hours' drive from the bay district and the interior valleys of the state, Santa Cruz has become known as "The Playground of California."

Improvement of the highways has meant much to the Santa Cruz area. Years ago the trip over the winding mountain roads made entrance difficult. The surfacing of these roads increased the traffic, but there were still many curves. The elimination of grades and curves has naturally tended to cut down the traveling time, thus shortening, so to speak, the distance between Santa Cruz and other communities. Other improvements are continually being made to meet present-day demands.

The weather at Santa Cruz is as nearly perfect as one could hope to find, with the summer temperature seldom as high as eighty-five degrees, or in winter as low as thirty-two degrees. There is a bracing tingle to the air which makes the climate just right for out-of-door life every day in the year, and that is one of the reasons for the popularity of the place for old and young.

THE CASINO, SANTA CRUZ, MEETINGPLACE OF N.S.G.W. GRAND PARLOR.

Have you ever visited the Santa Cruz beach? Many years ago this beach became known throughout California as one of the favorite watering places of the Pacific Coast. Today it is still the favorite recreation spot for the thousands who come to take advantage of the cooling breezes wafted across the Pacific Ocean and beautiful Monterey Bay.

Have you ever enjoyed a dip in the surf, in which the tiny tots may play in safety? Have you ever availed yourself of a plunge in the natatorium, with salt water running through, which is a few degrees warmer than the surf? Have you ever lounged on the finest of white sands along the mile strand of perfect beach? Have you ever enjoyed the privilege of a launch or speedboat ride on Monterey Bay? This is a real thrill and at the same time gives opportunity to secure an entirely new and different picture of the coast line, the city and the hills in the background.

Have you ever gone deep-sea fishing? This is one of the popular sports at Santa Cruz, and hundreds of people travel many miles to avail themselves of the boat trip. Due to the fact that Monterey Bay contains so many varieties of fish, all are assured that their efforts will be rewarded with a satisfactory catch, and boats are available at all times. Others enjoy fishing from the municipal wharf, and there are many who daily trek to this spot for their favorite pastime.

Santa Cruz has been particularly fortunate in the fact that the state has recently purchased three beaches in the county, which assures that they will be preserved for the use and enjoyment of this and future generations. Swanton Beach Park, within the limits of the City of Santa Cruz, is an interesting spot along West Cliff drive, noted for its double arch rocks, as well as a fine stretch of beach. Many improvements are under way to make this play spot more attractive.

Seacliff Beach State Park was a number of years ago improved as a private enterprise. The State Park Commission, after visiting the place, decided that this should become a part of the state park system, and it is a popular recreation spot for thousands. Sunset Beach Park offers a different type of scenery and is rapidly gaining in popularity.

Rio del Mar, near Aptos, was named a few years ago, when the historic old Spreckels ranch was sold and roads opened, giving an opportunity of entrance to one of the scenic portions of Santa Cruz County with its beach and wooded hills. Much of old Spanish romance is woven into the history of this ranch. Treasure Island was the popular picnic ground where Claus Spreckels entertained many of the early-day elite, as well as the late reigning king of the Sandwich Islands, Kalakaua. "How did Treasure Island get its name?" you ask. Tradition tells us that in the early days of Mexico when gold was so plentiful and Spaniards were loading their boats and going back home, the pirate ships became so numerous that it was difficult for them to get home safely, and this spot was picked as the place to hide their gold where it could be easily located by a map. From time to time some group has appeared, and it was only within the past few years that several Spaniards visited the place with an old faded map showing the contour of Monterey Bay, the creek and the island, with its many great oaks. Days were spent in digging around the island; then one night the men disappeared and no one knows what was found.

A few years ago the old Spreckels home burned to the ground, and little is left to remind one of the early days. Instead, many homes of the modern Spanish type are found on the place, and before the end of 1936 the number will be greatly increased, bringing additional permanent and week-end residents to the community. A number of other delightful beaches and nooks are found along the shore, each with its own charm and attraction.

While the beaches are a source of great pleasure to thousands, the wooded hills, with their ever-green verdure, are attractive to many. Along the drives and trails in the Santa Cruz Mountains are found some of nature's most beautiful creations.

The trip along San Lorenzo River drive is one long to be remembered, and fifteen minutes from the beach we find the oldest living things on earth, those monarchs of the ages that were old when Christ was born—the Santa Cruz Big Trees. This wonderful group of the Sequoia Sempervirens variety a few years ago became the property of Santa Cruz County, and were set aside for the pleasure of those who enjoy the works of nature.

Here are found some of the finest specimens of redwoods, the largest, the Giant, being 306 feet in hight and 66 feet in circumference, while the Sherman is over five thousand years old.

In 1846, General Fremont camped in the hollow of the tree which bears his name, returning in 1888 with his wife and daughter to show them the tree. The floor space inside is thirteen by twenty feet, and seventy-five persons have at one time stood inside this tree. An interesting feature of this tree is the fact that the windows which were cut in those early days have now almost grown over with burl, the light from one of them having been entirely shut out.

The Cathedral Group is 300 feet in hight and 110 feet in circumference, and consists of eighteen trees growing from the one root, nine of which are large and nine small. Many of these trees have been named for noted people or groups. The latest tree to be dedicated is the Jeter, in honor of the late William T. Jeter, a resident of Santa Cruz for many years who devoted much time and effort to having this wonderful grove become the property of the county. It is interesting at this time to note that the redwoods were first discovered in Santa Cruz, and although at one time these trees grew in a number of countries they are now found only in the vicinity of the coast of central and northern California.

A few miles further on, passing through Felton, Ben Lomond, Brookdale and Boulder Creek, which form a portion of the San Lorenzo Valley, the beauties of which it is difficult to convey in words, is found California Redwood Park, or Big Basin as it is commonly known. This wonderful park, the property of the State of California, consists of over ten thousand acres. While the redwoods stand predominant, there are many other varieties of trees, among them the oak, madrone, laurel and pine, and a vast wealth of shrubs and ferns.

California owes a wonderful debt of gratitude to the late Andrew P. Hill of San Jose and the late Josephine Clifford McCracken, well-known writer, a resident of Santa Cruz during the latter part of her life, for they instigated the movement to save these wonderful redwoods. The lumber companies were already beginning to cut them when these two benefactors started a campaign which resulted in the State Legislature passing an act making Big Basin a state park. At that time the park consisted of only a few thousand acres, but as time went on other tracts were added. Thousands from all parts of the world annually visit this nature's beauty spot.

Throughout the Santa Cruz Mountains are found delightful resorts, cottages and camps, some of them in the most picturesque settings. Although a few years ago these places were occupied only in summer, at the present time many of them are permanent homes, or at least in use much of the year.

Although Santa Cruz County is small, many streams are found, and naturally this helps to make good fishing and hunting in season. The San Lorenzo River, which runs the entire length of the San Lorenzo Valley, also flows through the heart of the City of Santa Cruz, and it is the dream of many of the residents that ere many years have passed this river shall be improved and made one of the great attractions of the city.

With several groups of sportsmen, considerable effort is devoted to experimental activities. The state maintains two fish hatcheries, one at Brookdale and the other at Swanton, while portions of certain streams are closed to fishing, being set aside as reserves for these experimental purposes. During the season for steelhead fishing, the most of which takes place within the city limits of Santa Cruz, the banks of the stream are lined with fishermen from early morning to night, and businessmen frequently slip away from the cares of business for an hour or two of this pleasant relaxation.

The improvement of the highways has opened up much new territory. It was formerly the opinion of many that the beauties were limited to two or three particular localities in the county, but such opinion has ceased to exist. Take for instance the Highland district, the Loma Prieta district surrounding Mount Loma Prieta, —the highest point in Santa Cruz County, 3,793 feet in hight,—the Corralitos district, Soquel Valley, Bonny Doon and numerous other places.

Each has something rich to offer the visitor in the way of scenic attractions.

In these days, no community is complete without a golf course, and Santa Cruz is particularly favored, in that three splendid eighteen-hole courses are available for the residents and visitors. Pasatiempo, the course on the hills overlooking the city and Monterey Bay, is rated as one of the finest in the country. Built and operated by Miss Marion Hollins, former woman golf champion of the United States, and laid out by Dr. Gordon Mackenzie, this course offers some real hazards. Some of the leading golf players of the world have enjoyed games on this course.

De Laveago Park, consisting of six hundred and forty acres and belonging to the City of Santa Cruz, is a most attractive spot. In the city, yet it contains mountains and wooded canyons which might lead one to believe they were many miles from civilization. With twenty-three miles of bridle trails, the horseback riders enjoy many hours in this delightful environment. Beautiful drives along the shore, through fertile valleys, or into the mountains, offer a wide choice of this form of recreation. Day after day may be occupied in such pastime, and each day include an entirely different trip, with few people able to include all of these beauty spots, even though they remain in Santa Cruz for several months.

During the spring the wildflowers are a real attraction, the hills offering a colorful sight, with azalea and wild lilac predominant among the many varieties. An active conservation committee is endeavoring at this time to carry on a campaign of education for the preservation of the wild flowers and plants, as in many places where, at one time, they were abundant, they are now practically extinct.

In this wonderful land of recreation so much is offered the visitor that you ask "What of the people who live there?" In reply, one might answer that Santa Cruz has an unusual offering for the resident, for in addition to the climatic and recreational opportunities, conditions are ideal for home life. The homes are most at-

THE HISTORY OF SANTA CRUZ
WHILE QUIET AND SERENE IS INTERESTING

Rev. Thos. J. McKeon
(GRAND HISTORIAN N.S.G.W.)

BECAUSE THE CITY OF SANTA CRUZ, the City of the Holy Cross, has been more or less out of the beaten track for most of its history, some there are who think that it has no history, no historic background. Nothing could be further from the truth. It is true that it lacks the color and verve that the discovery of gold gave to San Francisco. Its Mission buildings never played any part in the "war" wherein California became parcel of the United States. The Bear Flag Party did not raise its flag there as it did in the plaza at Sonoma; and it was at Monterey, not at Santa Cruz across the bay, that Commodore Sloat raised "Old Glory" in token that California was now American territory.

But yet, and it is the glory of Santa Cruz that there is a "yet," her history while quiet and serene is none the less interesting.

From the first moment in which the Spanish explorers visited the spot, Santa Cruz—that was to be—exerted her charm. The site of the Mission of the Holy Cross and of the third "pueblo" in California so won the hearts of the Spanish pioneers that her future was almost inevitable.

In 1769, on Portola's first expedition from San Diego to discover the Bay of Monterey, Padre Juan Crespi, the diarist of the journey, wrote that it was "a pleasure to see the grass and the variety of herbs and the rose of Castile" at Santa Cruz. This Padre Juan was the beloved intimate of Father Serra, whose dying request was that he be buried with Padre Juan. And, side by side, these two noble men lie at Carmel together in death as they were so long in life. In the expedition of 1774, Father Palou, the pupil, the friend, and later the biographer of Father Serra, wrote in his diary of the trip about Santa Cruz with prophetic insight, "The place is not only fit for a town, but for a city, with good land, water, pasture, wood and timber just within reach and in great abundance and close to Monterey Bay."

Padre Lasuen, the dearly beloved Padre Fermin of the Missions, the worthy successor of Father Serra as Father-President, and beside whom he sleeps the sleep of death at Carmel, when he founded the Mission of Santa Cruz in August 1791 wrote that "I found the site had all the fitness which had been reported to me." And the Mission of the Holy Cross promised well from the start. Padre Fermin reported that many Indians came to the ceremonies when the Mission was founded who showed by their interest and concern that they would gladly enlist under the sacred banner of the Holy Cross.

We can readily picture them that morning of August 28th, the Feast of Saint Augustine, Bishop of Hippo. They stood before a brush chapel, an "enramado" as the Spanish called it, where the first mass was to be said. The two bells were hanging on an improvised belfry of three tree branches; a cross of two pieces of timber had been erected before the enramado. Behind the low hill upon which they stood, the hills gradually rose to the east to culminate in the Loma Prieta, the Black Mountain of our prosy geographies, with its dark evergreens sloping down to the purpling shadows of the foothills. Below them lay the deep blue of Monterey Bay, the rare marine blue that is so noteworthy here. To the south on the other side of the long-sweeping bay lay Monterey and Carmel, and over all was the brilliant sunshine that even then made Santa Cruz famous.

Monterey is often foggy in summer. San Francisco was known to be cold and windy then. San Antonio, San Gabriel, San Juan Capistrano and the other Missions to the south endured a shimmering summer heat. Santa Cruz Mission had none of these disadvantages, so the two padres of the new Mission, Isidro Salazar and Baldomero Lopez, commenced their work with joy, for by every indication their work should be fruitful beyond comparison.

December 31, 1791, Padre Lopez wrote in his first annual report that a church of palisades 63 feet long by 18 feet wide had been built, with a vestry 18 by 12 feet. In February 1793 the cornerstone of the permanent church was laid. It was dedicated May 10, 1794, and was 112 feet long, 29 feet wide and 25 feet high. The foundation and front wall were of stone, the remaining walls were of adobe. The width of the building, as was the case in all the Missions, was determined by the length of timber that could be cut in the vicinity, for the Franciscans of that period had no metal with which to piece out timber so that a wider building could be had.

In 1797, the third pueblo of California was founded across the San Lorenzo River from the Mission. The missionaries, taught by sad experiences at the other Missions, objected to a civilian population so close to the Indians, for in every case this proximity had an injurious influence upon the Indians. This new pueblo, Villa de Branciforte, so called after the Viceroy of Mexico, Miguel de la Grua Talamanco y Branciforte, was not founded in a rush, but only after diligent search had been made up and down the coast for a suitable site. So, when the Franciscans objected to this new settlement the answer was made that the engineers, sent out from Mexico to select the site, had declared that Santa Cruz was found to be the finest and most suitable location between San Francisco and Cape San Lucas, and while the government was sorry that the missionaries objected, the objection had to be overruled because the location was so advantageous from every viewpoint.

SANTA CRUZ MISSION OF TODAY.
Contains Many Valuable Relics.

So, in what is now known as East Santa Cruz, nine colonists were settled with their families upon the land opposite the Mission, and San Jose and Los Angeles had a rival. The rules and regulations to govern this new settlement were drawn up, conditions of labor were set, and on paper the new Pueblo of Branciforte was off to an auspicious start. But, unhappily, these colonists were anything but industrious, and their characters were far from perfect, so trouble was encountered almost at once. To be a pioneer, even in so lovely a place as Santa Cruz, required industry and energy. And it amuses at this late date to read that military orders had to be issued to keep these "industrious settlers" from visiting the older Pueblo of San Jose too often or from staying there too long to the neglect of their new home. In 1800 pleasure trips to San Jose had to be forbidden entirely. But almost in spite of themselves, these indifferent settlers built homes and cultivated the lands. To be more exact, they had the Indians do these necessary works for them, while they idled on in the "dulce far niente" that they brought with them from Mexico. But the place, improved with buildings on its beautiful situation, was a delight to all beholders.

In 1810, a large building was built at the Mission and bit by bit the Mission buildings had been built so that, in 1810, De Mofras could write eloquently: "These two establishments (Villa de Branchiforte and Mission Santa Cruz) are splendidly located one mile from the beach. They face the south and enjoy the full view of the whole Bay of Monterey. The houses are spread on an enormous grass field, shaded by groups of pine, and seven creeks rush down from the Santa Cruz Mountains, drive the mechanical saw mills, and irrigate and fertilize the agricultural plots as well as the pasture."

One of the events that sadly blackened this period of the history of Mission Santa Cruz was the murder of Padre Quintana, October 12, 1812. Two years afterwards, when the Indians who committed the deed were being tried, they alleged that the padre had had them beaten with an iron bar, and in sheer retaliation for this brutal treatment they had killed him. But Governor Sola, June 1816, after a rigorous investigation of the charge, wrote to the Viceroy that the charge was entirely false, and that if Padre Quintana had done any wrong, it was in being too lenient.

The invasion of California by the "Pirate" (as the Spaniards called him) Bouchard in 1818 gave some more excitement to Santa Cruz. The people could watch the battle between the batteries of Monterey and the insurgent ships, and when Bouchard landed at Monterey, the Mission and Branciforte were abandoned, in accordance with orders, to whatever fate might be in store for them from the pirates, but Bouchard did not visit Carmel, so he was not concerned about Santa Cruz Mission. However, 1818 was ever afterwards remembered as "The year of the insurgents."

Insurgence and revolt against Spain were in the air. Mexico was not immune. So the home government in Mexico was far too busy either in restraining the rebels, or later, in consolidating the advantages gained by the rebels, to think of far-off California. Supplies for the soldiers were not forthcoming. Supplies for the Franciscans were withheld. The settlers in the three pueblos were too lazy to bestir themselves. Now the industry of the Franciscans in teaching the Indians arts and crafts became appreciated. The new Republic of Mexico meant ruin for California, though not many in California realized it. At this period, had it not been for the contributions made by the Missions to the settlers and soldiers in California, the story of the country would have had a different end. As one writer puts it, "the Missions carried the Province." Large amounts of supplies were exacted from the Missions for the support of the military and the pueblos and, as nearly always happened, if the supplies were worth more than the taxes to be paid by each Mission credits were given the Mission, to be collected from the Mexican Government. But there is no evidence that these credits were ever honored or paid. This resulted in the impoverishment of the Missions and the exaction of forced labor from the Indians, and the zenith of Mission prosperity had been reached.

There is a description of Santa Cruz of this period, 1827, by the captain of the ship "Heros," A. Dahaut-Cilly, which is finely descriptive. "No situation is prettier than that of this Mission (Santa Cruz). From the shore, the ground rises so gradually by steps that they might be said to be the symmetrical terraces of a fortification. I know not even if the grassy covering of an artificial work could ever equal the beauty of the green sward clothing them like a carpet of green velvet spread out over the steps of a throne. The buildings are placed upon the sward from ing the sea and backed against a thick forest of large fir trees which lend a new brilliance to the whiteness of their walls."

But amid all this beauty there were forces at work that brought Santa Cruz Mission and the Villa of Branciforte low. From 1787 to 1822 California had had twelve governors, most of them able men. From 1821, the end of the Spanish rule, to 1847, under the Republic Mexico there were nearly thirty governors, most of whom were incapable, some of whom were corrupt, and a few seemed to lack all principle whatever. Decrees of the home government were set aside or ignored; governors sent from Mexico were set upon and driven out of the country; the military governor fought with the civil governor, or vice versa. The result was chaos, civil war, insurrection, with one faction scheming for power and plunder, and another faction warring for the same. Between these the Missions and the Indians suffered incalculable harm.

In 1830, Santa Cruz Mission was prosperous. In 1834, when the Mission and its buildings were turned over to the civil authorities, there were twenty buildings in good condition. But in short time, thanks to the hands of rapacious despoilers, plunder and ruin soon took their toll and desolation was inevitable. In 1842, De Mofras visited Santa Cruz Mission. He wrote: "The Mission buildings are large and well preserved, but it has been robbed of all its goods, the farms have been given away and the cattle are divided among the friends of the governor. The Mission owns nothing. Instead of the 600 Indians who were formerly about it, there are hardly 60 left. In the space between the Mission and Villa Branciforte are being built new houses which in due time will no doubt make an important city." This prophecy was long in being fulfilled.

In the late '40s, Americans came into the country in increasing numbers, and in a short time California became part of the United States. An alcalde was appointed for Santa Cruz. William Blackburn, the alcalde, was a sort of genius. This report to the governor is characteristic: "Felipe Gomez was brought before me for killing his wife. He was duly tried and sentenced to be shot. He is shot. I respectfully submit the same for your approval."

In 1851, the Legislature formed the County of Santa Cruz, with Santa Cruz the county seat. The remaining history of the Mission may be briefly told. In 1840, an earthquake damaged the belfry tower, and another in 1857 crumbled the front wall and finished the destruction of the tower damaged in 1840. A painting, presumably of 1868, shows the walls and ceiling falling as a result of the great earthquake of 1868. The present brick church was built in 1889 on the original Mission land.

Santa Cruz went into an eclipse after the American occupation. The days of '49, with their gold and romance, left the place untouched. The leisurely days of the dons lingered on in the memory of many, the days of the padres were never forgotten, and if today her climate and surroundings are appreciated as they were first by the Franciscans it but serves to show that Santa Cruz is coming into her own after a long rest, and the lingering traces of the old regime that may be discerned here and there in her environment are cherished remembrances of her storied past.

GOOD FOSTER PARENTS PLENTIFUL
MORAL BLOOD-PARENTS MEAN MOST TO A CHILD

Mary E. Brusie
SECRETARY N.S.G.W. & N.D.G.W. CENTRAL HOMELESS CHILDREN COMMITTEE.

FOR THOSE NOT ENGROSSED EVERY working hour in some special field of endeavor, it is difficult to understand the details and machinery of any established project. Many of us consider ourselves fairly familiar with the problems which the teacher must meet in and OUT of her schoolroom, but only those actively engaged in the profession of teaching really know its exactions and demands. When we hear of the widow's pension, we have a fair conception of the value of the department to the bereft and to the state; we know its objects and its need, but only those upon whom devolve the service of this particular field know its full scope and the work entailed. Everyone knows about the juvenile court and its original aim to prevent delinquency,—attributable to broken home, intemperance, employment of the homemaker—appreciates the value of preventive measures and the need of wise and conscientious corrective methods, but no one really understands the complexities of the work, the multitudinous and varied duties of the executives or the case worker upon whom so much depends.

In the last few months two members of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Committee on Homeless Children, Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig and E. J. Wren, while going from Parlor to Parlor in San Francisco in the interest of the children's work have been somewhat surprised to find that many enthusiastic workers for the homeless children cause are unfamiliar with the policies and the standards of their "Charity" which so many members cherish and prate of, and have helped to build up and to finance for twenty-six years.

The newer members of the Order are unfamiliar with the early history of the work, its founder and its present accomplishment. Members of long standing consider that the one and only object of the Committee representing them is to find homes for homeless children, but they know little concerning the functioning of the Committee, the children who are accepted and from whom received, or to what part of the state the children go; whether it is simply a question of rushing a child into the custody of the Committee and out again into the open arms of waiting applicants; what effort is made to keep child and parents together; what the safeguards for all concerned, or why every person wanting a child to adopt is not given one at once.

The Grizzly Bear Magazine has given the Central Committee space in each issue so that the Secretary may endeavor to present the details and methods of the organization, the requirements of the state in the placing of children, and the laws governing the legal acceptance and final adoption of the children.

If all children in every community were being reared in normal homes and cared for by physically sound, intelligent, loving and economically secure parents, there would be no need of child-placing agencies—of which there are two licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare, the Children's Home Society of California and the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee on Homeless Children. But because there are orphaned and half-orphaned children, abused children, children of indifferent, immoral and intemperate parents and unmarried mothers, there is a definite need for new homes and new parents, and a still greater need for the careful investigation and honest case work by an organization able to see the whole picture and find for those waiting homes the children who will "match" them physically and mentally, and who are legally free for adoption.

In 1910, when the project was launched by Fairfax H. Wheelan of Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W., the orphanages of the state were caring for a large number of children under seven years of age who had been in the institutions during the greater part of their lives, due to the death, or indifference, of one parent or both parents, or of relatives who needed prodding. So, the State Department, then known as the Board of Control, realizing that these children were costing the citizens of the state many thousands of dollars annually, and that the real homes and parents for these children were available, listed the homeless children with the child-placing agencies, and the children of decent, moral parents were returned to the parents under supervision of their department. Getting these children out of the institutions and placing them was the first few years' work of the Native Sons and Native Daughters Committee. Recognizing their opportunity to serve, the Native Sons and Native Daughters began at once to enlist in the project and to assume a large part of the financial burden.

The Grand President of each Order selected the six members of Native Sons and Native Daughters on the Committee who serve three years rotating. In order that there might be no indifference as to the religious rights of the child, representatives from the Catholic, the Hebrew and the Protestant churches were also selected to serve on the Committee, and as a large number of children were in the care of the Children's Agency of the Associated Charities at that time, a member was chosen to represent that group, all constituting a Central Committee of ten members who have dictated the policies and standards of the work.

August 27, 1910, the first infant, a girl, was placed. She has been a joy and credit to her foster-parents, has married a straightforward man who holds a good position. They are very happy, and stand well in their community. This assurance has come from a Native Daughter living in the same community.

A slight, fair-haired, well-groomed young man of twenty-five years sat in the office at 998 Eddy street, San Francisco, one afternoon waiting for the Secretary of the Committee. The sun came in the window and shone on a human bundle in his arms swathed in a pink bunny blanket—a blanket, by the way, provided by a Native Daughter Parlor. He smiled in a boyish sort of way as he proudly unwrapped the baby and said: "This is the boy whom my wife and I had decided to give for adoption. I am not working today, so I came in to thank you for the baby's clothes and basket and bottles which your organization furnished when our baby arrived. I must confess that I did not like to come here today, not knowing what you would think of us for wanting to place our baby for adoption.

"I often think of what you told my wife when she came in to see you before going to the hospital: 'Good foster-parents are plentiful, but good, MORAL BLOOD-parents mean more to a child than anything else in the world. Poverty never hurts him, and where there is a will you'll find a way.' We are going to find the way. It will not be easy. Work is not plentiful. Our parents while kind, are poor and cannot help us, but we'll manage, and I want to thank you for your advice and kindness, and for recommending us to the relief agency whose worker was most considerate. If you have any stray baby buggy around I'd like to have it. I make an awful bungle of carrying this boy around and sometimes I have his feet where his head ought to be. You know, our apartment is pretty dark and the baby must have air and all the sunshine we can get for him, and my wife isn't as strong as I wish she was. Her arms soon tire 'cause he is a 'bouncer.' Now, don't you think that he is a fine little fellow for two months?" "He is," we agreed, and the baby buggy was secured for the "bouncer" and his parents.

The printed annual report of the Central Committee will list the Parlors and the amounts of their contributions for the work, toward their "adopted" babies, and of clothing. As always, too, will be printed the names of the associations and the maternity homes, the locations of the juvenile courts, and the number of physicians from whom the children have been secured. Also, the number of children placed in each county, and the occupations or professions of the foster-parents, which information may serve to give a superficial idea of the type of homes secured.

The historic buildings of the Vallejo State Park in Sonoma, including the residence of General Vallejo, are to be restored.

tractive with their beautiful lawns and wealth of flowers in season, and as one drives through either the city or the country, he is impressed by the fact that life here seems really worthwhile. Living conditions are most favorable, and fortunate, indeed, is the person who is privileged to live in this beauty spot.

The school system is complete with seven splendid school buildings in the city, three of which were recently built. The Santa Cruz schools rank among the best in California, their standing with the different colleges being particularly good. Practically all denominations are represented in the religious life of the community, and modern, attractive church buildings offer opportunity for worship.

Clubs, social and fraternal organizations play an important part in the life of the community. The Santa Cruz Art League has established a record throughout the entire United States, in that it not only maintains a continuous ehxibit, but also for the holding of the Santa Cruz Annual State Wide Art Show each year. It is one of the few organizations which has been able to continue its event without interruption during the past several years. Music finds a real place in the lives of the people, with active musical, chorus and glee club organizations.

Naturally, the people who live in a community must have some means of livelihood. The various types of business are well represented and splendid types of stores and establishments are maintained. Much interest is now being shown in the growing and canning of mushrooms, and latest reports show that one plant is producing 20,000 pounds each month.

The poultry industry is one of the leading agricultural activities, and as a breeding center Santa Cruz ranks among the highest in the state and is known throughout the entire country. Artichokes are grown along the coast north of the city, with three thousand acres now devoted to the raising of this product which, a few years ago, was practically unknown. Bulbs and flowers have a real place in the industrial life, being grown in large quantities, and adding not only to the income, but to the picturesqueness, of the countryside.

Due to the rolling nature of the country, the acreage of many of the places is small, making them especially desirable for the growing of garden truck and small farming. Fruit is extensively grown in various sections, this being the principal product of the mountainous sections. Practically every type of crop may be grown in the Santa Cruz area.

There is every indication that Santa Cruz has a real future. New homes are being built, business firms are expanding, and there is a general atmosphere of progress. Other cities and towns in the community are Aptos, Ben Lomond, Felton, Boulder Creek, Brookdale, Mount Hermon, Capitola, Davenport and Watsonville.

The residents are hospitable, and whether it be for a day, a week, a month or years, a hearty welcome awaits you at Santa Cruz.

COLOSSAL TAX HOAX BEING PUT OVER ON CALIFORNIANS.

Californians are having a colossal tax hoax put over on them and before they wake up to what is going on they will have added to their tax burden through the very means which was designed to give them relief. Prof. Malcolm Davisson of the economics department of the University of California recently told the governmental finance section of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco what is happening in these words: "What happened to the reduction in property taxes that was to result from the Riley-Stewart plan?

"When the State took over the schools, county taxes were supposed to be and were reduced. But within one or two years the reduction was eaten up by more liberal local budgets. The Riley-Stewart plan was to limit increases of local expenditures. This has not worked out for many reasons, including the pressure of local groups. As to the relief to be given to property owners by the return of utility properties to local taxation, this relief will soon be eaten up, as was the relief granted by the State assuming costs of education."—Livermore Herald.

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

"COLOR — COLOR — COLOR!" WITH violence and delicacy, fashion splashes mischeviously all over the color chart, never before so gay. By the colors you wear and how you combine them shall you be known this spring and summer. Next to color comes the contrast theme as the most important note. You will blend what you once thought were impossible combinations of color—and love it.

Sportswear takes a fling in a white or pastel shirtmaker showing the nautical influence by using trimmings of navy blue. A powder-blue wool outfit, combined with sheer gray wool, makes a most attractive costume. Another three-piece summer-weight tweed is in gold, with navy blue scarf and matching belt, and all-over stitching on collars, cuffs and pockets of jacket and topcoat. Another novelty tweed comes in brown, tan and yellow. The all-brown skirt is slit at the side, and a natty yellow handkerchief in the breast pocket matches the scarf, hat and bag.

Latest are the box-coat suits of grey and white check, having a knee-length coat which has the new concealed button fastening in front and patch pockets with flaps. Naturally, all these exotic high shades may be combined with other accessories of standard dark shades. A flash of purple gloves and violets go with your navy hat, bag and shoes. A brand new gadget, since it is in fob form, is suspended from red leather thongs which are meant to be slipped through your lapel buttonhole.

There are suits for morning, noon and night. You read, see and hear about them everywhere. You will find suits the smartest addition to your wardrobe, and you will try to own more than one suit. Nights you can blossom out in a satin broadcloth suit tailored to the toes.

Prints dance in to add a further note of gaiety to the charm of the new season, dotted and dashed with adorable designs all the way from vegetables to violets, also with tiny animal motifs. The new prints leave one breathless with their beauty and originality.

Flowers, always the first thought of spring, are more plentiful on bonnets and in corsages this year than ever. A matching felt hat with violet ribbon has a corsage of violets.

If suits don't suit you, you may step out in the parade in a tailored coat—wide shouldered and slim waisted over a gay printed silk frock, as frilly as you please. Or, if you prefer, have a solid color and achieve frivolity with a swishing petticoat in vivid taffeta with accordion pleated ruffles around the bottom. In this case, it's a good idea to match the color of your petticoat with a boutonniere or hat band. Remember, it's the compromise that counts this season.

You may let yourself go with your accessories. They may be as frilly and frivolous as you desire, and you have the whole rainbow from which to choose your colors.

After nightfall, the loveliness of lace, the flattery of drifting chiffon, the feminine look of square necklines and soft sashes lend their charm. Gleaming jeweled clips may catch the square decolletage of carded chantilly over a satin floor-length slip. It's smart to look feminine, to float about in lace and chiffon after dark.

In the spring the whole world looks new, fresh, different, and your clothes must look the same way. Last year's things, no matter how smart, will never put you in the spotlight today.

Evening gowns of spring and summer are gorgeous and daring, some with yards of chiffon, tulle or net softly swaying from moulded bodices to emphasize wasp-like waists, some exotic prints, some oriental and some crisper taffetas or failles. These gowns are also made with the tightly moulded bodice and voluminous skirts that swish and rustle as one dances or walks.

Black lace made on simple lines, sometimes a low decolletage held with slender strap tiers of lace, accentuates the slender figure. The last tier of lace being fuller it, too, sways with graceful movement as its wearer trails into the room. One very beautiful gown is created of a combination of black crepe and rare white lace, looking almost like a redingote.

Another model, also in black, shows the new square-cut back and front lines. Slender straps are of Chinese red, and a huge bunch of Chinese red poppies adorns the front to complete this picture of contrasts. There is a tightly-fitted taffeta jacket of the same red, and slippers to match. Many of the prints have their own jackets—very short, very fitting, very impudent.

Evening wraps and capes are of tulle, chiffon, net and taffeta. Lengths vary from the tightly fitted high-waist models to the three-quarter-length coat or cape.

Brilliance in the evening is accentuated by the use of jewelry. Rhinestones used alone, without color, are of outstanding importance. Rhinestone clips and bracelets are the most important pieces used, especially when matched bracelets continue good for evening.

Cotton fabric, for years the stepchild of fashion, blooms as the gayest favorite for spring and summer. Once upon a time we thought of cottons only for house dresses, but now even a princess would be proud to have a complete wardrobe of cotton. So much imagination and ingenuity have been used in weaving the new cottons that there are suitable materials for almost every occasion. There are cottons in all vivid colors in crash and open weaves. Others are in men's shirting patterns, men's checks, tweed effects, military and hunting colors.

Other cottons are very sheer, with dainty designs, just the thing for frilly frocks. There is a dainty pique with a nautical touch. It's smart to be rough, that is "materially" speaking. Cottons and linens boast this quality to a marked degree. Of course, you know that it is terribly smart to have your tub frocks monogrammed. There's a choice of styles, too.

Some of the new printed seersuckers are lovely. The coloring is most appealing and features unusual niceties of detail. They're grand for home, runabout or vacation wear.

Fashions for the young girl have reached a point where they agree that it is better to be under-dressed rather than over-dressed, and this season's clothes exemplify all that is smart and in good taste. The best elements of adult styles are added to the youthful figure, giving it the dash, stride and swagger so symbolic of the casual attitude of the young miss to everything.

First choice in every girl's wardrobe will be the three-piece suit. That all-purpose outfit, comprised of topcoat, jacket and skirt, all with man-tailored details, is one of the most popular types. It is of soft cheviot fabric, with the San Bernardino—Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. had as a visitor April 8 Deputy Gertrude Tuttle, who gave an interesting talk. April 18 several members paid a visit to the museum of pioneer relics at Claremont. Chairman Clara Barton of the history and landmarks committee was in charge of arrangements.

A potluck supper was served under the supervision of First Vice-president Thelma Nett April 22. Special guests were members of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. Ruth Randall, speaker of the occasion, told of her experiences while traveling abroad. The identity of the "mystery sisters" who exchanged Easter gifts April 8 was revealed. At the business meeting following the supper several candidates were initiated.

TO MARK BUENA VISTA ADOBE.

Ontario—The public was invited to the forty-niner party sponsored by Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. April 23. Wilma Tucker was chairman of the evening. Marian McKee had charge of a play dealing with the lives of forty-niners. Theresa Stafford directed a fashion show of early-day costumes, and Ruth Van Fleet supervised the refreshments. Others on the committee were Ruth Beck, Doris Tracey and Challis Helvie. The proceeds will be used to mark, early in May, the Buena Vista Adobe, the property of Julia Fuqua, a member of the Parlor.

May 2, Ontario will have its annual Mother's Day tea at the home of Maud Van Fleet. During the afternoon a musical program will be presented, each mother will be given a corsage, and refreshments will be served. May 7, Bee Herzberg will give the third of a series of benefit bridge lunches at her home.

CALIFORNIA

(CHAS. A. ROBERTS.)

California, Alma Mater
Greatest place on earth
Land of sunshine, fruit and flowers
Land that gave me birth.
With pine-clad, snow-capped mountains
And your valleys green
Golden sands and balmy weather
Greatest ever seen.
Land where blue sky meets the ocean
With sunset's radiant hue
Land where folks are always happy
And wish that you are too.
Land of gold and land of plenty
Land of golden grain
Land that when you hear it mentioned
Gives you faith again.
Land of pioneer mothers
Who bravely faced their deaths
To give to us this land of promise
The land we love the best.
Oh! California, how we love you
How proud we all should be
To be the loyal sons of this
The land of brave and free.
No place on earth is half so fine
As this, the home that I call mine
And travel the wide world o'er
You can say I still adore
My Golden State, the home of Peace
The land where God would be at ease.
Not on earth could one ever find
A land like this and I call it mine.

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear through the office of the Grand Secretary N.S.G.W.—Editor.)

classic topcoat featuring welt seams on raglan sleeves. Masculine-type pockets appear on the six-button double-breasted jacket of fitted lines. In practically all instances these suits have fitted straight skirts with a center pleat suggesting the freedom of trousers. They go in for such charming color combinations as brown with tan, slate blue with navy blue, light grey with oxford grey, and tan with brown. Details like those add spice, pep and variety to a season of young fashions, so we know you'll be easy to please this spring, and so will the family.

A new treatment to prevent decay of oranges during storage and shipment is announced by the Citrus Experiment Station of the University of California at Riverside, in co-operation with the California Fruit Growers Exchange. Nitrogen trichloride gas is the agent used. It is introduced into refrigerator cars or storage rooms and made to circulate rapidly by fans.

Whittier, Los Angeles County, will have its eleventh annual avocado show, May 5-9.

FIFTY-NINTH N.S.G.W. GRAND PARLOR

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

THE FIFTY-NINTH GRAND PARLOR of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West will convene at Santa Cruz City, Monday, May 18. Sessions will be held in the Casino, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. Grand President Harmon D. Skillin (Castro Parlor No. 232) will preside throughout the deliberations and, at their conclusion, will automatically become the Junior Past Grand President.

Santa Cruz was the meetingplace of the Twenty-fifth (1902) Grand Parlor. In the absence from the state of the then Grand President, Frank L. Coombs, now deceased, Grand First Vice-president Lewis F. Byington presided. At the election for grand officers, 248 ballots were cast. The Thirty-fourth (1911) Grand Parlor also met at Santa Cruz, with the then Grand President, Daniel A. Ryan, now deceased, presiding. At the election for grand officers, 380 votes were cast.

The reports of Grand Parlor officers and committees to the Fifty-ninth session will deal with the Order's activities during 1935. The report of Grand Secretary John T. Regan will detail the condition of the Subordinate Parlors as of December 31, 1935. Those with 450 or more members, with their assets-figures, are:

Parlors.	Membership.	Assets.
Castro No. 232	784	$10,486.28
South San Francisco No. 157	783	53,696.72
Ramona No. 109	647	39,733.95
Arrowhead No. 110	541	25,554.57
Stockton No. 7	526	40,583.95
Stanford No. 76	460	25.310.67
Piedmont No. 120	454	21,534.90

Subordinate Parlors elect their Grand Parlor delegates at the first meetings in April, and their representation in the Grand Parlor is based on their membership at that time. The Grizzly Bear requested membership-information from all the Parlors, and replies received reveal this interesting information:

South San Francisco No. 157 is at this writing (April 20) the largest in the Order, having a membership of 791. Castro No. 232, with 787 members, is in second place. The friendly rivalry between these two Parlors continues. Arrowhead No. 110 has increased its membership to 552, and Stockton No. 7 has increased its membership to 531, so those Parlors remain, respectively, in fourth and fifth positions.

Other Subordinate Parlors, with assets of $20,000 or more, together with their membership-figures, are:

Parlors.	Membership.	Assets.
San Jose No. 22	255	$71,167.91

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

"FIFTY PER CENT OF THE PEOPLE working under civil service are not doing half of what they are paid for," declared Chairman E. H. Christian of the State Personnel Board. Probably that accounts for the far-too-numerous feeders at the tax-trough. And they're not all civil service employes; many of them are elective officials and "pull"-employes. Little wonder taxes for the support of government mount higher and higher.

The California State Government operating costs increased $6,710,282 during the last fiscal year. The tax bill paid by Californians in 1935 —$550,000,000—was more than double the state's mineral production, including petroleum, gold and all other minerals, for the same period —$257,000,000. Isn't it time to lower the cost of the State Government?

The Daughters of the American Revolution, in convention at Washington, D. C., reaffirmed their belief "that teachers who receive pay from public funds should be required to take the same oath of allegiance to the Constitution of the United States as is required of others in positions of public trust." We concur in the Daughters' opinion.

Yes sir, racketeering has invaded religion—and how! The Los Angeles Ministerial Association admits the fact, and now wants federal and state agencies to suppress religious schemes. Rackets, like the music, appear to go 'round and 'round and break out everywhere.

Apparently losing patience with the United States Department of Labor's "coddling" of certain aliens, the San Francisco subversive activities commission of the American Legion in a report to national headquarters of the organization said: "Acts of Congress and decisions of the Federal Courts governing deportation of the revolutionary brood are overruled by orders from the Labor Department to free and protect these aliens."

THIS IS ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN: THIS NATION POSITIVELY CANNOT REGAIN AND RETAIN ITS PLACE IN THE SUN UNTIL THE ROOT OF RACKETEERING, DISHONESTY IN GOVERNMENT, IS THOROUGHLY AND PERMANENTLY DESTROYED! When, and not until, this is done, all the other numerous racketeering branches will cease to thrive, from lack of sustenance and protection. A "growl" often repeated, but timely.

As of April 1, nine Federal Government agencies were paying gross annual salaries of $327,587,977 to 427,301 employes. No income tax comes from that source, however, for the employes of government are exempt from that tax.

Addressing the Sacramento Community Forum, Dr. Robert J. Kerner of the University of California said that Japs, purportedly on pleasure trips, have invaded the United States in an attempt to sell government bonds to further a military campaign. The money, if obtained, will, he said, be used to help the Japs realize their dream.

"Already a number of these men are in San Francisco and Los Angeles," according to Dr. Kerner, "and they will continue to come into this country for the next two or three months. They will do their best to paint a very peaceful picture of the Asiatic continent and will say that the citizens and not the militarists control the country."

Many of the problems which confront us today are, according to Raymond Pitcairn, National Chairman Sentinels of the Republic, answered in the words of Thomas Jefferson:

"No Constitution was ever before so well calculated as ours for extensive empire and self-government. . . . . Taxation follows public debt, and in its train wretchedness and oppression. . . . . We must make our election between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. . . . . Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread. . . . . Our liberty cannot be guarded but by the freedom of the press, nor that be limited without danger of losing it. . . . . If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of taking care of them, they must remain happy."

With the passing in his native city, Sacramento, of Charles Kenny McClatchy, editor of "The Sacramento Bee" and head of the McClatchy Newspapers, California lost its outstanding journalist. A powerful and a convincing writer, honest and fair, "C.K." minced no words in expressing his opinions, and the dollar did not influence, one iota, his judgment. No man did more than he to right wrong, to expose corruption in public affairs, and to defend the rights of the common people. Would that California had more Charles McClatchys!

J. S. Freylinghausen, former United States Senator from New Jersey, queries: "Do the people of the United States want to preserve their constitutional rights and personal liberties, or do they want a centralized, socialistic government in Washington which, by necessity, must be a government more or less by decree?" November will bring an answer from the people.

Addressing the Commonwealth Club of California at San Francisco, Freeman Tilden, economist and writer, declared: "It is a fact that for the past one hundred years the political economist has been dodging the word 'debt' and substituting for it the euphemistic word 'credit.' Another name for 'debt' is 'heavy fixed commitments!' Debt is credit, and credit is debt; and that is all there is to it! . . .

"The maximum production of human beings can never catch up with compound interest, so sooner or later there must be a deflation of debt. We cannot keep up with our debt statistics. The only answer is a deflation of debt, which I hope will be only partial but may become total. In a deflation those furthest removed from the fundamental values have the least 'luck.' A kind of debt in which if we are not interested we may soon be forced to become interested is public debt."

"Our problems as a nation," says Secretary Fred C. Parker of Kiwanis International, "will not be solved by any man as president, nor by the Congress or any other group, but by the thinking and acting body of American citizenry."

Speaking in the United States Senate about the debts owing this nation by other nations, Senator Hiram W. Johnson said: "The debts exist on terms written by the debtors themselves. It is not for this country to beg its debtors for a moiety. There is something more than money. A nation which loses its self-respect or barters what is due will be held in contempt by its own debtors. We can afford to lose money. We can't afford to lose our self-respect."

Commander-in-Chief James E. VanZandt demands "the prosecution and deportation of communists and other enemies who advocate the overthrow of the United States by force or violence." There have been similar demands from numerous organizations, but Washington heeds them not.

"Our government is sufficient to conquer every evil and every problem," says United States Senator William E. Borah, "if we use the powers of government which we have. While we are struggling with the economic questions and serious problems which confront us, let us not for a moment surrender any of the great constitutional principles. We can work out our problems without doing so."

Encouraged, no doubt, by a prospective light vote at the May 5 primary, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors is submitting to the voters May 5 three bond proposals—three additional schemes to add to the taxpayers' already unbearable burdens and to keep the political pot boiling. The "big talk" for the bonds is, that the Federal Government will put up some of the money involved. Perhaps yes, and perhaps no. To date, the Federal Government has made no such grant, and if it fails to "come through" before the bonds are voted, it is a cinch it will not after they are voted. Remember the Hall of Justice, and be guided accordingly.

Every wise Los Angeles County property owner—every taxpayer who would like to save what little he has left, instead of turning that, too, over to the politicians,—will go to the polls May 5 and vote NO on these bond proposals. Before even considering any bond proposal, government in both the County and the City of Los Angeles should be cleaned up.

Eureka, Eureka,
On the distant Mokelumne,
Gold seekers knew
The romance that was thine.

Arriving from far-lands,
They found a gold-land in garlands;
And gold dust at Eureka—
In famed Forty-nine.

FORTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY OBSERVED.

Stockton—Joaquin Parlor No. 5 N.D.G.W. observed its forty-ninth institution anniversary with a banquet and entertainment April 14. Guests of honor were the three charter members, Miss Hannah Gray, Miss Clara Stier and Past Grand President Carrie Roesch-Durham. Other guests were Past Grand President Mamie G. Peyton and Grand Trustee Clarice Cook.

President Faye Silver presided, and during the evening Past Grand Durham presented to the Parlor a gavel of myrtle—signifying friendship —growing in her yard. Mrs. Dionesia Buthenuth had charge of the decorations, in which ranunculi and sweetpeas were used profusely, and Mrs. Adele Parnell had charge of the refreshments.

INITIATES LARGEST CLASS IN YEARS.

Santa Cruz—Santa Cruz Parlor No. 26 N.D.G.W. initiated April 13 the largest class in some years, eleven candidates. In keeping with the Easter season the lodgeroom was beautifully decorated with lilies. Among the large number in attendance were Past Grand Presidents Stella Finkeldey and Bertha Briggs, Supervising Deputy Alta Macauley, Deputies Alma Nyland and Alberta McCormick, and Grand Organist Pearl Reid.

The refreshment tables were in the form of a hollow square. In the center was a small table with a huge white bunny from which extended pastel-shaded ribbons to three small bunnies on the table reserved for the honor-guests. The favors were baskets made to represent rabbits.

HISTORIC PEAR TREES—Two pear trees, planted more than a century ago at San Rafael, Marin County, give every indication of again bearing their annual crop. One of the trees still stands on the spot where it was originally planted in 1818, presumably by Father Vendru Fortuni, one of the founders of the Mission San Rafael Archangel.

CALIFORNIA'S WAGON WHEEL

Edwin Beach

The accompanying story came to The Grizzly Bear from Elk Grove Parlor No. 41 N.S.G.W. with a letter from Secretary Nat Core in which he says: "Elk Grove Parlor No. 41 N.S.G.W. and Liberty Parlor No. 213 N.D.G.W. sponsored their annual oratorical contest at the Elk Grove Union high school March 20. This is an annual event, and this year marks the twenty-second contest. The contestants who participated were selected from a group of approximately one hundred students, who wrote orations on California history. The winner, Edwin Beach, senior in the high school, was presented with a medal and had his name engraved on the plaque, which is kept in the trophy room at the high school. His topic, outstandingly presented, was 'California's Wagon Wheel.' President Milon Johnston presided."—Editor.

CALIFORNIA'S WAGON WHEEL IS A symbol of ever-moving progress. At every turn another step is taken toward a higher goal. The spokes are steadfastly bound to the hub, protruding outward until they are encircled by the rim of forward movement. Although the wheel is as strong as can possibly be made, each spoke must do its part, and if one fails, the wheel is untimely weakened. The spokes of our wagon wheel are made of the sturdiest material to be found, and are represented by C-A-L-I-F-O-R-N-I-A.

"C," or California, the first spoke, represents something great in states. "California, the grandest state of all," is one of the truest slogans there is. It is outstanding in every detail. From the high Sierra to the wave-lapped shores of the Pacific, from Oregon to Mexico, there is none to compare. Leading in agriculture, manufacturing and mining, it is something to be proud of. The stupendous San Francisco Bay bridges, Pardee and Hetch Hetchy dams are only a few of the more outstanding works. Perhaps no other state has had a more colorful career or background.

While the first settlers in the gold rush days had little thought for farming, our second spoke, "A," is comprised of agriculture entirely. The fertility of the soil was not discovered until after the gold rush, but it proved to be the biggest factor in the advancing years, until today the citrus fruits of the south are known the country over. The fruit trees and berries are of the best. California's grapes and wines are known the world around, and we are second only to a few states in the quality of our grain.

"L," or lumbering, our third spoke, is carried on on a large scale. One cannot drive many miles in the Sierra without seeing a mill. But perhaps nationally our Big Trees or Sequoias of Mariposa County are the most important and better known.

Inter-relations, "I," is the fourth spoke of California's wagon wheel. We were perhaps the only state to be admitted to the union overnight. There were colonies of Swiss, Russian, Mexican, Spanish, and then came a flood from the Eastern states. In the brief space of three years, these were welded into one republic. The flags of Spain, Russia, Buenos Aires, Mexico and the Bear Republic have flown over us.

"F," fishing, is the fifth spoke. Our commercial fishing is most important to sea coast towns from San Diego to Dunberry. Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco is a well-known landmark.

"O," the sixth spoke and perhaps the most interesting, is represented by oro, the Spanish name for gold. When James Marshall discovered gold, he unknowingly changed California from a far-away frontier to one of the greatest states in the union. Gold mining was done on a tremendous scale, and still is today. Later there was another ore discovered in the southern part of the state, black gold—oil.

The seventh spoke, "R," is railroads. Although the slender steel rod of the transcontinental killed the stagecoach, it made a sure-and-fast way of communication between the East and the West. Branch railroad lines have sprung up, until today the network covers our state.

"N," the next spoke, is depicted by navigation. We have in our state one of the greatest assets to navigation in the San Francisco Bay. From the very first it has been the gateway to the Orient. It is here that the tall spars of the sailing ships now replaced by smoke funnels of ships of all nations may be seen. The navy's ship yard, Mare Island, is located in this bay.

Institutions, "I," is the ninth spoke. Well may we be proud of our institutions of learning. The earliest of these, the Missions, brought Christianity and education, law and order. Here the neophites were first taught to till the soil. Here the good fathers started the nuclei of our great cities. Our new state had barely started when the University of California began to function across the bay from our first metropolis. The college of agriculture of this institution is the foremost in the world. In its departments new varieties especially adapted to our climate have been perfected—new varieties that are of inestimable value to our horticulturists and agriculturists. Here many new formulas have developed for the combating of disease. U.C., U.C.L.A., U.S.C. and Stanford are familiar to everyone.

"A," our tenth and final spoke, is aviation. It was only yesterday that the Pan American clipper opened commercial flying to the Orient. California has always been outstanding in the field of aviation. We had the first successful commercial air line. A year before the Wright Brothers flew their glider at Kitty Hawks, the Gilmore Brothers flew a powered plane at Grass Valley. While it was only yesterday, too, that the Pan America clipper flew to the Orient, tomorrow a new commercial airline will be flung out to Australia; the contracts are already let. It is truly aviation that completes our wheel.

These spokes of California are firmly united, one with another, at the hub. They extend independently in all directions, but are permanently joined together by the rim of progress. Each spoke has its own individuality, but rests upon the others for strength and support. If one spoke should break, the rim would flatten out and retard the forward movement. Therefore, friends, I plead with you to keep this wheel intact, for, if you do, the wagon wheel—CALIFORNIA—will always roll onward.

SANTA FE MAKING EFFORT TO INTRODUCE NEW MODE OF TRAVEL.

For half a century the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway system has played an important part in the development of various sections of California, according to transportation history.

Today it is making another effort to introduce a new mode of travel in California on a state-wide basis. Through a California affiliate, the Santa Fe Transportation Company, applications are pending before the State Railroad Commission seeking intrastate bus permits.

If the permits are granted, Santa Fe trains will be co-ordinated with Santa Fe motor stages in a one-ticket, rail-and-road service never before offered the Golden State's travelers. In addition, the Santa Fe proposes to lower fares on day coach and motor stage to one-and one-half cents per mile. Joint use of stations are also contemplated in the new program.

Testimony to prove public demand for such a modernized service is being taken by the State Railroad Commission in a series of public hearings. Two have been held at Los Angeles, a third opened at San Francisco the week of April 7, and others will be held at various cities in California.

Santa Fe Trail stages are now operating on California highways in interstate passenger traffic. The Santa Fe wishes to include local passenger traffic over practically the same routes.

TOURIST BAN OF ANCIENT DAYS -Ancients, too, were confronted with problems similar to those perplexing statesmen and politicians of today, according to Professor Arthur P. McKinley of the University of California at Los Angeles. He cites this tourist ban issued by Emperor Caracalla in 125 A.D.: "Any Egyptian in Alexandria, especially the country folk who have come in from other places, are to be driven out of the city by all possible means. . . . By their numbers and their uselessness they are disturbing the city. Sightseers and men on business are not to be enjoined, but those who flee from their own districts are to be forbidden."

HISTORY IN BRICKS FROM ADOBES.

Much of California's natural history is being brought to light by a study of adobe bricks from missions and rancho buildings by Professor G. W. Hendry of the University of California. The existence of many early flowers, fruits, field crops and weeds, and even plant diseases, has been brought to light by this process. A method of dating the origin of many obscure adobe buildings by this means is also being evolved.

SAN FRANCISCO

THE SAN FRANCISCO N.S.G.W. EXTENsion of the Order Committee, in honor of Grand President Harmon D. Skillin and his wife, sponsored a dinner, reception and ball at Native Sons Building April 18. Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters and her husband were also guests of the Committee. The most successful and greatly enjoyed affair was attended by approximately five hundred. Arrangements were in charge of Junior Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig, and the speakers of the evening were Grand President Skillin and Grand President Thuesen.

On behalf of the Extension of the Order Committee, Chairman Koenig presented to Grand President Skillin a beautiful desk set of a most unique design. The work of art was produced through the joint efforts of Joseph B. Keenan of Niantic Parlor No. 105, who furnished the onyx, and Charles F. Strothoff of Pacific Parlor No. 10, who designed the set. The top of the onyx base was sandblasted to produce an outline map of California. A pen and pencil were then attached, along with a silver plate inscribed: "Presented to Harmon D. Skillin, Grand President N.S.G.W., by the San Francisco Extension of the Order Committee, April 18, 1936." To Grand President Thuesen and Mrs. Skillin were presented boquets of beautiful roses.

Other grand officers of both Orders in attendance to do honor to Grand President and Mrs. Skillin were: Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Marshal Walter P. Rothenbush, Grand Organist C. George Cuthbertson, Grand Trustees Edward T. Schnarr, Jesse H. Miller and Thomas M. Foley of the Native Sons; Grand Marshal Ethel I. Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda G. Giannini and Alice M. Lane of the Native Daughters.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

Deputies of San Francisco are busy perfecting plans for the luncheon to be held June 6 in honor of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen.

Orinda Parlor No. 56—The children's welfare committee, Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini chairman, visited the San Francisco Hospital and presented each of the seventy children in the tubercular wards with an Easter basket and a scrapbook. The youngsters look forward to the visit of members of the Parlor each month. March 17 Orinda had a birthday party for members born in March, and April 24 those born in April were given a party.

La Estrella Parlor No. 89—April 3 the members gave a surprise handkerchief shower to Dr. Lillian Boldemann and Alice Boldemann at their home prior to their departure for the Hawaiian Islands. The table was beautifully decorated with leis, and in the center was the model of an ocean liner set in a bed of yellow blossoms. Serpentine thrown promiscuously over wires suspended above the table created a delightful color effect.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132—At a very enthusiastic meeting April 3 two candidates were initiated. The drum corps presented to the Parlor a silver trophy won in the Saint Patrick's Day parade. Approval of preserving the beaches of California was expressed, and California poppy seed was ordered forwarded to the conservation department of the State Chamber of Commerce. An Easter whist April 16 under the direction of President Evelyn Kilkenny was a social and financial success. Genevieve drum corps: An important business meeting was held April 23 at the new home of Gladys McQueen. A hostess telephone whist was held April 30, members entertaining at their homes. Plans are under way for a weenie roast at the beach and a straw ride down the peninsula.

Golden Gate Parlor No. 158—A monster whist will be held at Native Sons Building the evening of Monday, May 18.

Dolores Parlor No. 169—The drill team participated in the Saint Patrick's Day parade and received very favorable publicity. An Easter egg hunt was enjoyed April 8, and Audrey Becker, Ruby Bried, Gertrude Penaluna and Virginia Brooks found the hidden favors. Orchid and gold streamers, profuse boquets of purple iris and miniature Easter baskets decorated the banquet table. Deputy Ruby Bried and Madolyn Butler were born in April and enjoyed gifts and a colorful birthday cake. Dolores heartily endorsed the policy of the California conservation committee by sending a packet of California poppy seed to beautify the California landscape.

Castro Parlor No. 178—A most unique and successful social was enjoyed April 15, when pal's night was observed. Secret pals of the past year were revealed through the presentation of gifts under the supervision of Chairman Alice Lane. The reorganization of the pal's club and the serving of delicious refreshments brought to a close an evening long to be remembered. Events scheduled for the near-future are the observance of mother's night and a dutch whist.

James Lick Parlor No. 220—An Easter egg hunt was held under the supervision of Julia Owen. Awards were given those gathering the most eggs, and delightful refreshments were served. The Parlor co-operated with the conservation department of California by donating seed of the golden poppy, the state flower. All arrangements have been completed for the annual mother's night affair May 6; Hilda Mathis is chairman. A whist will be held May 13, and a successful party is assured by Chairman Elizabeth Richards.

Mission Parlor No. 227—President Zelma Buckholz was hostess at a dinner and dance recently given by the drum corps. Five new names have been added to the Parlor's membership roll. Florence E. Ohler entertained at an Easter party at the Palo Alto Hospital April 10 the World War veteran nurses.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

Stanford Parlor No. 76 had its spring dinner-dance April 18. Frank Morris was chairman of arrangements. Charles W. Dechent led the members on a hike through Golden Gate Park the morning of April 5. Boxing and wrestling bouts, presented by Joe Niderost, were staged April 21.

Mrs. Mary B. Hamilton, mother of William E. Hamilton and sister of James A. Mullally, both affiliated with Bay City Parlor No. 104, passed away April 7. She was a native of San Francisco, and the founder and a past national president of the Auxiliary of United Spanish-American War Veterans.

Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell made his customary friendly visit to Presidio Parlor No. 194, March 30, and the same evening Grand Trustee Jesse H. Miller, accompanied by District Deputies Armen M. Nishkian and Fred Ehlers, paid his official visit to the Parlor. President George A. Ducker Jr. and assisting officers exemplified the ritual in an efficient manner, and three candidates were initiated. The visiting grand officers spoke most interestingly on the great work being carried on by the Native Sons, and they congratulated Presidio on its healthy condition. A dutch lunch concluded the evening's program.

Napa—Eshcol No. 16 had a most enjoyable Easter party April 13, with Bertha Vidy and Eleanor Simpkins in charge. A district meeting of the Napa and Solano Counties Parlors will be held at Vallejo, May 6, under the direction of Supervising Deputy Ella Ingram. The ritual will be exemplified by officers from Vallejo No. 195, Eshcol No. 16, La Junta No. 203 and Calistoga No. 145, and each Parlor will provide some sort of entertainment.

Hollister—Copa de Oro No. 105 enjoyed April 9 a delightfully arranged Easter party and birthdays observance, plans for which were in charge of an active committee headed by Kate McCray. Delicious refreshments were served at a table beautifully decorated with spring blossoms, lighted tapers and Easter favors. Guests of honor were members born in January, February and March. They were presented with gifts, and their horoscopes were read by President Alta Trowbridge. A handsome basket of flowers was presented Sarah Mehlwood, about to celebrate her forty-ninth wedding anniversary.

Etna—Representing Eschscholtzia No. 112, Margaret Weston and Bernice Smith presented California State (Bear) Flags April 14 to the Etna Union high and the Etna Union grammar schools. April 15 a flag was presented the school at Callahan, and April 16 one was given the Oro Fino school. The Siskiyou County schools receiving these flags are taught by members of the Parlor.

Calistoga—Calistoga No. 145 will have charge of the dedication of the local park May 3, and among the speakers will be Grand President Anne C. Thuesen, and Grand Historian Rev. Thos. J. McKeon of the Native Sons. Virginia Rocca heads the arrangements committee.

Byron Donner No. 193 sent a donation to the Red Cross for relief of the Johnstown flood sufferers. The members are giving card parties after the meetings and are active in community work. The Parlor plans to have a float in the Apricot Festival parade, and has set October 2 as the date for a bazar.

Manteca—Phoebe A. Hearst No. 214 celebrated April 8 its sixteenth institution anniversary. Six charter members were honor-guests. Three candidates were initiated, and $5 was donated to the Red Cross for Eastern flood sufferers. April 1 the Parlor had its annual dance.

Santa Ana—The thimble club of Santa Ana No. 235 is quite busy, Chairman Mattie Edwards having plenty of work on hand to finish for another bazar. All-day meetings have been held at the homes of Elva Selvidge, Rose Ford and Mae West. The ways and means committee will sponsor a benefit waffle breakfast at the home of Mrs. Edwards. Ontario No. 251 was entertained by Santa Ana April 27.

"MANY AGENCIES OF GOVERNMENT can be eliminated and others substantially curtailed without impairing the wellbeing of the people as a whole," declared State Controller Ray L. Riley, addressing taxpayers from all parts of California in attendance on the tenth annual meeting of the California Taxpayers Association at Los Angeles. "Democracy will fail in its entirety unless a way can be found to curb the appetite of the people in the matter of governmental extravagance and unnecessary public functions," he stated. "Today we are actually expending more dollars for government than we did five years ago, even though our capacity to pay has been tremendously curtailed. Not one single agency of government that existed five years ago has retired from the field of operations; on the contrary, many new agencies have been created, necessitating additional revenues and new taxes. The people of California contribute one billion dollars annually for governmental agencies, local, state and federal. What we need, manifestly, is a major operation, but there is little likelihood of doing more than applying a poultice."

"Taxes are the biggest problem in American life today," declared Merle Thorpe of Washington, D. C. "Their danger lies not only in the huge expenditures, be they fantastic or necessary, but in the sapping of the business enterprise which has made the nation what it is."

"Unless the people pay a great deal more attention to public expenditures than they have in the past, they are going to have to pay tax bills that will confiscate their property," stated Chairman Herbert C. Legge of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors.

"Even though the government's spending be reduced to the three and a half billion dollar level of the '20s by a cessation of recovery and reform activities, most of the depression taxes, which one is disposed to regard as of an emergency and therefore temporary nature, will continue to be levied," asserted Prof. Philip S. Fogg of the California Institute of Technology, discussing the Federal deficit. "In six years, by the end of the fiscal year 1936, this June, the Federal government will have spent eighteen billions more than it has received in income. Today the Federal debt stands at thirty-one billion dollars, as compared with sixteen billions in 1930. At best a continuation of Federal deficits can lead only to a high burden of taxation for years to come, at worst the chasm of printing-press money and currency inflation yawns."

OUTSTANDING EVENT.

The fortieth anniversary banquet of Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W., April 14, was an outstanding event, greatly enjoyed by the many in attendance. Henry G. Bodkin introduced Raymond G. Haight as the toastmaster, and addresses, overflowing with timely suggestions and humor, were delivered by Leo Carrillo, J. Vincent Hannon, Joseph Scott and George M. Breslin.

During the evening the Parlor, through Henry Bodkin, presented to Joseph Scott, the guest speaker, a desk set of United States of America and California (State) Bear Flags. Among those introduced were Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Trustees Jesse H. Miller and Leo V. Youngworth, and Past Grand Presidents Herman C. Lichtenberger and John T. Newell. John P. Wright was chairman of what was unanimously declared the best birthday party in the history of No. 196.

May 4, Hollywood will be host for the southland Parlors' group initiation under the auspices of the District Deputies Association. A picked team from among the past and present officers of the Parlor, with Harold Thomas as president, will exemplify the ritual. The candidates presented on this occasion will be known as the "McSweeny Memorial Class," in tribute to District Deputy "Dan" McSweeny, late deceased.

The April 14 meeting of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. was marked by the presence of the Founder of the Order, Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, who was honored at luncheon. The tables were prettily decorated in an Easter motif, with bright colored eggs and tiny bunnies. Mrs. Dyer gave a very interesting history of the founding of the Order which, she said, was intended from the beginning to be a fraternal organization. Nine of the original thirteen members are still enjoying life in their glorious native state. George T. George of the Los Angeles Police Department intelligence bureau showed pictures of Communist activities and gave a most interesting description of an uprising at the Plaza.

At the business session of the Parlor $10 was donated to the Red Cross fund for flood sufferers. A resolution, to be presented to the Grand Parlor, providing for a flag presentation in Subordinate Parlors preceding the pledge of allegiance, was endorsed. The Easter breakfast given by the sewing circle of Californiana at the home of Chairman Edith Adams was a delightful affair, well attended. Isabel Monroe assisted the hostess. The next meeting of the group will be at Placentia, May 18, with Mattie Edwards and her daughter, Gladys, both members of Santa Ana Parlor No. 235.—O.L.

night," and Los Angeles County's popular sheriff was the honor-guest. The festivities opened with a plentiful supper, prepared and served by "Chef" Jack Dailey and assistants. This was followed by initiation, four new names being added to No. 267's rolls.

Then the fun began, with Sheriff Biscailuz wielding the president's gavel and being ably assisted, in rounding up and exacting penalties from sundry "culprits," by Howard Blanchard, acting first vice-president. No favors were shown, and visitors as well as members of Santa Monica Bay were liberal contributors to the good of the order fund. The wit accompanying the taking-away kept the assemblage in an uproar. Among the speakers were Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand President John T. Newell, Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards and Secretary "Jack-in-the-Box" Smith. Charles DuVall was chairman of arrangements for the occasion. During the evening Arthur Giroux, for the Parlor, presented a Fremontia Californica—a native California tree to Sheriff Biscailuz.

Santa Monica Bay's dinner-dance April 3 honoring Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer was an enjoyable affair. A delegation of twenty, headed by Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, came from Sepulveda Parlor No. 263. In the course of the evening's festivities Edgar H. Carroll, on the Parlor's behalf, presented an attractively bound scrapbook to Meyer.

May 6, Santa Monica Bay will have as guests Troop 10, Boy Scouts of America, which it sponsors. Supper will be served by the Parlor, and the boys will provide entertainment. Howard Blanchard has this affair in charge. May 20, No. 267 and Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 245 N.D.G.W. will give a card party at 1431 Third street, Santa Monica. All Natives and their friends are invited.

Johanna Reed, chairman, was assisted by President Leola Temby, Nellie Cooke, Helen Sanders, Violet Henshilwood, Gertrude Riddle and Mary Stultz.

The Parlor's thimble club honored the March birthdays of its members at the home of President Leola Temby March 26, and had an Easter party April 9 at the home of Johanna Reed. Many miscellaneous articles are being completed.—V.T.H.

Carl Martin and Lucien Griffin were in charge With Stan Parker as manager, the Parlor's indoor baseball team is starting to warm up and will soon enter a night league.

A picnic scheduled for an early date in May will be held at the Mint Canyon cabin of Neil Wood. Ball games, hiking and other mountain pastimes will make the outing complete. "Adobe Days."

San Juan Bautista—With "adobe days" as the theme of the occasion, San Juan Bautista No. 179 and Copa de Oro No. 105 (Hollister) jointly received Grand President Anne C. Thuesen at The Adobe, March 26. A delightful spanish dinner was served at 6:45, with ninety-six members seated at tables bright with golden California poppies and marigolds. A replica of San Juan Bautista Mission formed an interesting feature of the decorations. Nut cups were fashioned as miniature Mexican sombreros, while song sheets were adorned with sketches of The Adobe, home of No. 179. Community singing of Spanish songs was in charge of Alice Carr.

At The Adobe, guests were greeted by musicians in Mexican attire, who dispensed musical numbers from a flood-lighted balcony draped with Spanish shawls. Here the dinner guests were joined by large groups from Salinas, Santa Cruz, Pescadero, Oakland, San Rafael and San Francisco, sixteen Parlors being represented. Grand officers in attendance were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Organist Pearl Reid, Supervising Deputy Alta Macaulay and Deputy Alma Nyland. The honored guests were presented with colorful boquets, and the Grand President was the recipient of a large basket of wild flowers. Officers of San Juan Bautista presented an attractive picture in white-trimmed blue organdies with corsages of pastel sweetpeas, and the officers of Copa de Oro wore scarlet-trimmed white formals with corsages of matching carnations.

In a unique presentation, carried out by a singing and dancing Mexican group drawing a miniature caretta, Grand President Thuesen was the recipient of a handsome picture of San Juan Bautista Mission and a hand-painted Mexican tray. Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs was presented with a handsome lavallier, and the birthday of Catherine Nyland was remembered with beautiful flowers. The history of The Adobe was interestingly given by Lillie Rampone, while Blanche Taix explained in detail the work of

ALAMEDA N.D.G.W.

ANGELITA NO. 32, LIVERMORE—AMONG those in attendance on the occasion of the official visit to the Parlor of Grand President Anne Thuesen were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Supervising Deputy Irma Murray, Deputy Kathryn Walde, and members of Hayward, Pleasanton, Alta, Aloha and Golden Gate Parlors. After a very successful meeting gifts were presented to the Grand President and others. Spring flowers transformed the meetinghall, giving it the appearance of an outdoor garden, and refreshments were served at decorated tables. Etta Lefever was chairman of the evening, while Grace Gardella was in charge of the decorations. The publicity committee of Angelita is busily engaged compiling a scrapbook for presentation at the Stockton Grand Parlor.

Aloha No. 106, Oakland—There was a large crowd at the monthly card party April 24 at the home of Irma Murray. April 21 Aloha's members were guests of Deputy Florence Shapero of Berkeley No. 150; refreshments were served. Supervising Deputy Irma Murray was pleasantly surprised at a party held in her honor by Aloha April 28. She was presented with a gift as a remembrance of the affair, which was in charge of the social committee. Thelma Rogers rendered vocal selections in compliment to the honor-guest, and was accompanied at the piano by Edith Hoover. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of a very delightful evening. Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler was among those present.

Plans are being made by the Parlor to entertain Grand President Anne C. Thuesen May 29. The social committee, headed by Gladys Farley, meets regularly at the homes of the members to prepare for the occasion. Lula Mae Mize, chairman of the veterans welfare committee, sent gifts to the three "adopteds" of the Parlor for Easter.

Hayward No. 122, Hayward—The Parlor had initiation March 17, the ceremonies being followed by a jolly Saint Patrick's party. April 7 the members held their regular afternoon card party, which was followed by the evening meeting and an Easter party. The sewing club has been meeting regularly, with good accomplishments. Prizes are being made for a public whist to be held early in the fall; the proceeds will be used to buy layettes for the homeless children. April 21 Hayward sponsored a new idea in card parties, and it proved very successful. The venture is a combination of pedro and whist, and is very popular with residents of the community.

Encinal No. 156, Alameda—A large group attended the official visit of Grand President Anne Thuesen to Bear Flag No. 151 (Berkeley), as Charlotte Heritage of Encinal is deputy to that Parlor. Irene Rose was chairman of a very enjoyable Easter party April 7. Encinal's sewing club meets every Thursday afternoon at the home of Louise Bendetti.

Argonaut No. 166, Oakland—At the recent homeless children baby shower honoring Mary E. Brusie the gifts were stacked to overflowing capacity in an historical wicker cradle loaned to the Parlor for the occasion by Mrs. K. V. Klinkner, a pioneer of the community. The cradle, fifty-three years old, has been used by the Klinkner family ever since its purchase. Bought in 1883 in San Francisco from the only wicker firm then in existence in this part of the country, it was originally imported from China and was the only one of its kind to be had. It is a large wicker bassinet with a hood and rests upon old-fashioned wooden cradle legs. It is still in perfect condition, and has been re-painted but once, twenty-three years ago. The members enjoyed hearing of its history through Mary J. Little, a member of the Klinkner family. A very enjoyable and profitable whist party for the benefit of the Parlor was held April 21; Ella Freitas was in charge.

Argonaut recently purchased a pound of California poppy seeds, which were sent to the committee in charge of the conservation of California wild flowers. Also, the Parlor contributed generously to the Red Cross drive for the recent flood disasters in the East. The balance of the Parlor's 100 percent membership donation for the homeless children was sent to Secretary Mary Brusie this month, together with a check for part payment on Baby "Gene's" milk fund. Drill team members are busy raising the necessary funds for new uniforms for the joint team of Argonaut and Albany No. 260. The team is under the tutelage of Sergeant-Major Chessie, U.S.A., and plans a very creditable showing for both Parlors next Admission Day.

Bahia Vista No. 167, Oakland—April 3 the Parlor sponsored an Easter party for the deaf and dumb youngsters of Hawthorne school. Each child received a basket of eggs, and games and an egg hunt were enjoyed. Bernice Youman was chairwoman of the affair. Poppy seeds were purchased and sent to the committee in charge of the conservation of California wild flowers. Two new members were welcomed last month by the Parlor. Twenty-one members of Bahia Vista attended the newly organized sewing club, which met at Imelda Smith's home March 26. Irene Harris was appointed chairwoman of the club. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and everyone enjoyed a pleasant evening. Lenore Sunkler was chairwoman of a very well appointed and enjoyable Easter party April 23.

Fruitvale No. 177, Oakland—The regular meeting of Fruitvale's sewing club was held at the home of Sister Crowley last month. Members of the Parlor attended a very pleasant and successful whist party at the home of Sister Mattos April 15. Past presidents were honored at the meeting of April 17. This was also the occasion of a shower for Sister Seabury. Fruitvale is taking a great interest in the approaching Admission Day celebration. The following have been appointed on the September Ninth committee: Marie Silva (chairwoman), Esther Ragon and Margaret Stambaugh.

Pleasanton No. 237, Pleasanton—The March 26 meeting was designated homeless children night. Supervising Deputy Irma Murray and Deputy Loretta Kidd were visitors. Refreshments were served at a table beautifully decorated with baskets of spring flowers. On one end of the table was Pleasanton's baby box, surrounded by all the lovely baby clothing donated by the members, which was displayed April 23, the night of Grand President Anne C. Thuesen's official visit. The Parlor's honorary member, Mrs. Cresilda Bernal, who celebrated her eightieth birthday that evening, was presented with a lovely gift.

Lakemont No. 259, Oakland—The Parlor greeted Grand President Anne C. Thuesen March 31. Other grand officers present were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Grand Trustee Alice Lane, Supervising Deputy Irma Murray and Deputy Augusta Huxsol. President Maybelle Fisher presided and three candidates were initiated. Refreshments were served, the table decorations being carried out in an Easter motif. The Parlor enjoyed a very successful whist party April 20.

Angels Camp, Calaveras County, will hold its famed Jumping Frog Jubilee May 16 and 17.

Valley and Woodland, as well as from all the Sacramento County Parlors.

All officers of the Parlor and many of the visitors were in appropriate costumes, making the long-to-be-remembered evening a very colorful one. Favors at the refreshments tables were small cacti in tiny flower pots, and the salads represented sail boats. During the evening La Bandera's drill team executed new maneuvers which added greatly to the enjoyable program.

Tree Dedicated to Grand President.

Bakersfield—Grand President Anne C. Thuesen made her official visit to El Tejon No. 239 March 19. Prior to the meeting a banquet was served at a table attractively centered by a miniature mission, from which wound the "broad highway," with El Camino Real bells, small figures of padres, senoritas and senors, and huge pottery bowls of marigolds. The lodgeroom was decorated with red and white sweetpeas and yellow jasmine. During a candlelight ceremony two candidates were initiated. Among the other guests were Supervising Deputy Florence Hinderliter, Deputy Ona Mae Moffett and representatives of seven Parlors.

A club was formed to study California history and romance, and the first meeting was held March 30 at the home of Sadie Clendenin. The Parlor recently planted in its "Pioneer Mothers Plot" in Kern County Park a tree dedicated to Grand President Thuesen. March 21 El Tejon had a float in the baby parade sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Frank S. Reynolds Post.

Santa Cruz—The following, received by Past Grand Stella Finkeldey, chairman Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee, are self-explanatory:

"This is in answer to your communication regarding the renewal of magazine subscriptions donated by your organization for patients' reading. The same magazines will be entirely satisfactory for the coming year as they are three of the most often requested publications. (Three copies of each one of the three were renewed.) The continued thoughtfulness of your organization is of great value in the library service. The additional copies of these magazines has made it possible to circulate them from the book truck to bed patients in the wards. These magazines will circulate twelve to fifteen times during the current month often with several patients reading them on each circulation. The older copies are filed and are available to any patient who may have missed them at their issue time. Yours very truly, R. A. BRINGHAM, Manager, Veterans Administration, Los Angeles, Feb. 11, 1936."

"Your letter of March 31st received also the various kinds of candy for our Easter cups and the chocolate chicks and bunny favors. Your selections of candy seem to us just right, and will make a nice variety for our nut cups. The chocolate favors are especially nice. The Red Cross Juniors of Pasadena have furnished us with nut cups in all the pastel shades appropriate for Easter so that through the combined kindness and generosity of your organization and the Red Cross Juniors, it will be possible for our trays and tables to be dressed up bright and cheery for Easter Sunday. Please accept our sincere thanks for once again making it possible for our trays and tables to carry a festive air in honor of a holiday. Assuring you of our appreciation of the continued interest of your organization in the welfare of the ex-service men at this hospital, we are most sincerely, (Miss) FRANCES MAYNARD, Senior Recreational Aide. Approved: W. E. Chambers, M.D., Manager, Veterans Administration, Whipple, Arizona, April 7, 1936."

District Meet Draws Big Crowd.

Stockton—Some 500 members of the six San Joaquin County Parlors assembled here March 28 for a district meeting under the direction of Supervising Deputy Hattie F. Corr. Grand President Anne C. Thuesen was the guest of honor.

Principles and aims of the Order were exemplified in drama, pantomime and song, as follows: "Love of Home," by Phoebe A. Hearst No. 214 (Manteca); "Devotion to Our Flag," by Ivy No. 88 (Lodi); "Veneration of the Pioneers," by Stockton No. 256; "An Abiding Faith in the Existence of God," by Caliz de Oro No. 206 (Stockton). Projects of the Order: "Homeless Children," by Joaquin No. 5 (Stockton); "Veterans Welfare," by El Pescadero No. 82 (Tracy).

The day preceding the meeting, Past Grand Mamie G. Peyton entertained a group of Native Daughters at a luncheon at her home in honor of Supervising Deputy Corr.

The following officers were elected: Emilie J. Clifford, Chief Past President; Mamie F. Davis, Chief President; Edna D. Sampson, Chief Vice-president; Emma G. Foley, Chief Treasurer; Anna G. Native Sons of the Golden West

APRIL 19, GRAND PRESIDENT HARMON D. Skillin, accompanied by Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell and Grand Secretary John T. Regan, journeyed to Mills, Sacramento County, to participate in the dedication of a monument designating the site of the first Pony Express stage depot out of Sacramento City to the north. The plate attached to the monument is inscribed: "To the memory of the riders of the Pony Express 1860-1861. First relay out of Sutter's Fort. Dedicated April 19, 1936, by Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West."

Some three hundred persons assembled for the ceremony, which was under the direction of the N.D.G.W. and N.S.G.W. History and Landmarks Committee of Sacramento County, Louis L. Ferron (Sutter Fort No. 241) chairman, and Genevieve Didion (La Bandera No. 110) secretary. A selection by the Sciots band was followed by Chairman Ferron's introduction of Edna B. Briggs, who presided. An invocation was pronounced by Past Grand Dr. Eva R. Rasmussen, and a drill was executed by the team of La Bandera Parlor. The monument, presented to the State of California by Chairman Ferron and accepted by Chief Frank N. Killam of the Bureau of State Capitol Buildings and Grounds, was unveiled by Supervising Deputy Lily Mae Tilden.

Superior Judge Peter J. Shields (Sunset No. 26), who was born in the vicinity of the monument site, was the principal speaker, and his address, "Pioneer Days at Mills," was most interesting and inspiring. Other speakers, and their subjects, were: Past Grand Esther R. Sullivan, "First Caravan Conveying Pioneer Mothers to California;" Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, "Co-operation Between N.D.G.W. and N.S.G.W. in Marking of Historic Spots." After a presentation by the drum corps of Sacramento No. 3 and the rendition of "America" by the Sciots band a basket lunch was served.

Dream Fulfilled.

Bakersfield—April 26 saw the fulfillment of a dream long entertained by Bakersfield No. 42. Assisted by El Tejon No. 239 N.D.G.W., the grave of Peter Lebeck at historic old Fort Tejon was marked by a slab of polished granite, 28x22 inches in size, inscribed as follows: "In Memory of Peter Lebeck, Killed by a X bear, October 17, 1837. Dedicated April 26, 1936, by Bakersfield Parlor No. 42 N.S.G.W., El Tejon Parlor No. 239 N.D.G.W."

The inscription "Peter Lebeck killed by a X bear October 17, 1837" is an exact replica of the original inscription carved upon a tree over the grave of the dead trapper. Bark from this tree, with a part of the original inscription, is now in the Kern County Free Library. On one side stands the United States of America Flag and on the other side the California State (Bear) Flag. The "X" in the original inscription has been translated—humorously or truthfully, no one knows,—as a "cross" bear. The intrepid trapper's name is spelled three ways by historians: Lebecque, which is the French spelling; Lebec, the Americanized, and Lebeck, the spelling upon the bark.

President Jesse Stockton of the Kern County Historical Society was the main speaker. Following a prayer by Rev. William E. Patrick the marker was unveiled by Sam Allen, oldest Native Son, and Mrs. Cora Bender, oldest Native Daughter. Short talks were made by President Hallie Bowman of El Tejon, President Alton Giggy of Bakersfield, Deputy Ona Moffett, Supervising Deputy Florence Hinderliter, Evalyn Towne, District Deputy Mart E. Leonard and Supervisor Charles Wimmer. Preceding the ceremonies there was a basket picnic. District Deputy Mart Leonard of No. 42 after spending five weeks in a hospital for a complete rest is now convalescing.

Judge Extracts Ducats.

Santa Ana—The group initiation April 20 of the southland Parlors, with Santa Ana No. 265 as host, was well attended. Large delegations were present from Arrowhead No. 110 (San Bernardino), Sepulveda No. 263 (Wilmington) and San Diego No. 108. Twelve candidates were initiated—seven for Arrowhead, two for Sepulveda, and one each for Glendale No. 264, Santa Ana and University No. 272 (Los Angeles). The ritual was impressively exemplified by the following past presidents of Arrowhead Assembly No. 14: Herma Taylor, president; R. W. Brazelton, senior past; L. D. Case, junior past; J. J. Cadd, first vice; Jerome B. Kavanaugh, second vice; Lynn Reed, third vice; Grand Trustee Donald E. VanLuven, marshal; M. G. Hale, financial secretary; C. N. Frost, recording secretary; John Andreson Jr., treasurer; F. L. McGarvey, inside sentinel; Harold G. Lord, outside sentinel. Roger Johnson (Los Angeles No. 45) assisted at the piano.

Judge Kavanaugh officiated under good of the order and, for the benefit of the homeless children, cleverly and humorously extracted from various pockets a considerable number of ducats. Speakers of the occasion included, among others, Deputy Grand President Albert Mayrhofer, Grand Trustee Donald VanLuven, Grand Second Vice-president Eldred Meyer, Past Grand John Newell and Grand Outside Sentinel Walter Richards. The latter announced that the date was Newell's birthday anniversary, and John was greeted with rounds of applause. District deputies in attendance included F. L. McGarvey, Maynard Garrison, Harry Honn, Ed. Baldwin, Ivan Harper, Joseph Kelley, Clarence M. Hunt, "Bob" Brazelton and Albert Mayrhofer. Entertainment was provided and refreshments were served by Santa Ana.

Memorial Day Must Be Observed.

The Grand Parlor Printing and Supplies Committee—Fred H. Nickelson (chairman), Edward H. Weber and Thos. M. Dillon—has sent to all Subordinate Parlors a letter directing their attention to the provision of the Grand Parlor Constitution making mandatory the observance of Memorial Day, May 30, in either of the following ways:

Holding appropriate memorial exercises to commemorate the day, or decorating the graves of deceased members by placing thereon small United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags. Orders for flags should be placed with the Grand Secretary not later than May 10.

Anniversary Celebrated.

Sacramento—Sacramento No. 3 celebrated March 26 the fifty-eighth anniversary of its institution. It was instituted March 22, 1878, and is the second oldest Parlor in the Order. The event opened with a banquet at which June Longshore was the toastmaster, and the speakers included Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, Grand Trustee Charles D. Blaine and Grand Marshal Walter P. Rothenbush.

Following the banquet the Parlor was called into session by President George E. Millman, and the stations were surrendered to the following past presidents and oldtimers: George A. Burns, president; Frank E. Michel, junior past; Porter McLaughlin, first vice; James Riley, the Parlor's oldest living past president, second vice; Charles A. Root, third vice; W. B. Flynn, marshal; Zelber C. Pressy, inside sentinel; Fred E. Schmidt, recording secretary. Remarks were made by representatives of all the Sacramento County Parlors, Henry S. Lyon (Placerville No. 9) and George Radcliffe (Watsonville No. 65). Entertainment concluded a very enjoyable occasion. Arrangements were in charge of a committee which included Earl Taylor (chairman), Shelton Crum and James Kelly.

Sacramento has a goodwill committee, Robert D. Finnie chairman, which sends a greeting card to residents of California on their golden wedding anniversaries and their eightieth birthday anniversaries. To date 917 of these cards have been mailed, and many interesting replies have been received.

ERNEST B. BURCHARD

Again we are called to mourn for one who has passed over the Great Beyond to that bourne from which he never returns. Wednesday, April 8, 1936, the Infinite Ruler of High called Brother Burchard to meet his reward.

Brother Burchard was endowed with many good qualities and virtues which elicited admiration, respect and esteem from all those whose good fortune it was to know him. His kindness, his generosity, his courteousness won for him many friends. Those with whom he was associated endeared to them an unlimited confidence on account of his integrity, his honesty of purpose, his faithfulness to duty.

In his home, he he promoted happiness and contentment, being a kind and loving husband, a kind and indulgent father. For many years he was a member of San Diego Parlor No. 108, Native Sons of the Golden West, and was elected to several offices of the Parlor, serving as First Vice-president at the time of his death, discharging the duties placed upon him with credit to himself and honor to his Parlor.

No more will Brother Burchard be seen in his home; no more will he give directions, instructions and assistance in the electrical business; he was one of the best electrical engineers on the Pacific Coast; no more will he be heard in the councils of our Parlor, but all will hold the memory of him dear to their hearts. The removal of such a one from our midst leaves a sorrow and a shadow that cannot be dispelled. Be it

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be spread upon the minutes of San Diego Parlor No. 108, a copy be forwarded to the family of our departed brother, and a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Respectfully submitted in Friendship, Loyalty and Charity,

HENRY U. EMERY, President; JOSEPH C. KELLEY, District Deputy Grand President; ALBERT V. MAYRHOFER, Recording Secretary and Deputy Grand President.

April 22, 1936. [Parlor Seal]

ROSANNAH McKEOWAN.

To the Officers and Members of Plumas Pioneer Parlor No. 219 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed Sister Rosannah McKeowan, respectfully submit the following.

The golden chain of our fraternity has been severed by the loss of our beloved sister, Rosannah McKeowan. The trials, the disappointments that come in every life are ended for our sister, and her passing causes grief to all our members, who hold her in deep respect. While we pay loving tribute to her memory, we are not unmindful of the sorrow that has come to her loved ones. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of the Parlor be extended to her family in their great loss; that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Parlor; that a copy thereof be sent to the family of our deceased sister, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear for publication.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

Quincy, March 30, 1936.

MARGARET MUILLINS HEIDKER.

To the Officers and Members of Mineene Parlor No. 228 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed sister and charter member,—who transferred from Clear Lake Parlor No. 135 (Middletown) April 1, 1924 and had been a member of the Order thirty six years—Junior Past President Margaret Muillins Heidker, submit the following:

In our Memory Garden has been added another flower and it is with deep sorrow that we bow to the will of our Heavenly Father, who has removed from our midst a loving member, and a true and loyal Native Daughter who has given unselfishly of her time and worked, hoped and strived for the promotion of the principles of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Especially was she interested in the upbuilding of our Parlor and its good and boundless children work. In her passing Mineeta Parlor has lost a highly respected and devoted member and another past president, her husband a devoted wife, and her daughter a loving mother.

Remembrance is a Golden Chain
Death tears its links but all in vain.
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Therefore, be it resolved, That we extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family; that copies of these resolutions be spread in full on the pages of the minutes of this Parlor, and that copies be sent to our local paper and The Grizzly Bear.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

CARRIE KELMAN, P.P.
MARINDA SERIGHT, P.D.D.P.

Taft, April 15, 1936.

MAE L. EDWARDS.

To the Officers and Members of Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions to the memory of our departed Sister Mae L. Edwards, submit the following:

Whereas, The summons that awaits all mortals has deprived our Parlor of one of its esteemed and loyal members, Sister Mae L. Edwards, whose sincere friendship and devotion to her Parlor endeared her to her sister members, but body has been returned to the soil of California which gave her birth, her spirit has been called into the presence of Him who breathed into it the breath of immortal life. But with us there remains the memory of her devotion to our Order, her pride in its achievements, and her intense loyalty to its ideals. Oft times in the future will her name be mentioned by those of us that love her for her fraternal devotion, sincerity of purpose and kindly disposition.

"And at home in the beautiful hills of God,
By the Valley of Rest so fair,
Some day, some time when our work is done,
With joy we shall meet her there."

Resolved, That while we mourn her absence from our midst we bow to the will of God, and extend to her bereaved son our deepest sympathy in this our mutual loss; and be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved son, that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Parlor, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

CORA STOBING,
ALICE M. LANE,
MARGARET GRIFFITH.

San Francisco, March 31, 1936.

WILLIAM A. MOORE.

To the Officers and Members of Pebble Beach Parlor No. 230 N.S.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our deceased Brother William A. Moore, beg to submit the following:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has seen fit to call from our midst one of our Past Presidents. He was ever ready to advance the principles of our Order by contributing material and wise counsel at all times. With a realization of our loss is mingled a deep sympathy for the members of his family. Be it, therefore,

Resolved, That this expression of sympathy be sent to the family, and also that it be spread upon the minutes, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear for publication.

ONWARD, THE INCENTIVE FOR ACTION

Anne C. Thuesen
(GRAND PRESIDENT,
Native Daughters of the Golden West.)

"THIRTY SIX YEARS AFTER THE ADmission of California as a state, the Order of the Native Daughters of the Golden West was organized in Jackson, Amador County, on September 11, 1886, by Lilly O. Reichling, now Mrs. Lilly O. R. Dyer. Seven charter members of the first thirteen still retain their membership in the Order, which now has approximately 13,000 members. In 1887 there were thirty nine delegates representing seventeen Parlors attending the Grand Parlor, and in 1935 there were 400 delegates representing 170 Parlors. During the past year another Parlor was instituted in San Francisco with a charter membership of 72.

"On June 23, 1897, the Order was incorporated under the laws of the State of California, and since that time we have functioned as a growing fraternal and patriotic organization whose principles are 'Love of home, devotion to the Flag, veneration of the Pioneers and an abiding faith in the existence of God.'

"We must pass by these tender memories to which our hearts respond, and reflect for a few minutes upon the outstanding facts in our history which have marked the passing of time and have distinguished the Order of the Native Daughters of the Golden West as an outstanding organization of California women. Great courage and faith were required to further this Order, and I will endeavor to touch lightly upon the work which is now being accomplished. Are we not being stimulated to greater efforts to preserve our past record while planning for a greater future of the Native Daughters of the Golden West?

"The time is fast approaching when I will turn over an account of my service rendered to the Native Daughters of the Golden West, and it is for the members of the Order to judge whether or not this reign has been successful. With a great many plans and thoughts of accomplishments, and with enthusiasm, I assumed the chair of Grand President and, although the result may not be evident at the present time, the future of the Order will record the debits or credits of my service.

"Membership, which is the necessity for growth, has always been stressed, and after fifty years of existence we can point with pride to our present membership. Although this shows a marvelous growth, compared with the number of those eligible to join our growth has been slow. 'The harvest indeed is great, but the workers all too few.' Our financial status has improved with the years and, under the leadership of the Finance Committee and the Board of Grand Trustees, wise investments have been made, materially assisting in the success of the Order.

"When the late Fairfax Wheelan, a member of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, conceived the idea of the Homeless Children work, he had a vision of a most worthwhile service to humanity being performed through the Order he loved, with the assistance of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

"Our Homeless Children work enlists greater support as time goes on, and nothing could be more beneficial for the future citizenship of California than this worthwhile project. In traveling over the state, it was a joy to learn of the work being accomplished by the Subordinate Parlors. On the occasion of the 'official visits' many Parlors presented the Grand President with jars of pennies for the furtherance of this work. The contents of these jars totaled more than $105. This compliment to the Grand President was truly appreciated.

"Can you imagine the joy that has been brought to 4,697 different homes by the placing of babies in the arms of loving foster fathers and mothers? 1,373 people are still waiting with eagerness for the time when they, too, shall know the joy of parenthood through adoption.

"California History has been compiled by members in every section of the state, and now we are in possession of authentic and worthwhile data. The state is rich in history, tradition and romance, and it has ever been the pleasure of the California History Committee appointed by the Grand President to preserve all worthwhile facts, dates and places, and to mark the historic spots along the highways and byways of California, thus carrying on one of the projects for which our Order was founded. The history of the Order is also preserved and, under the supervision of Eliza D. Keith, Past Grand President, each Parlor has been favored with

I love the west and the deserts,
I love the prairies and the waves,
But over the waste of honest waters
And over wastes of sand
It does not East nor West
But like a star unfurled
Where the hand of God hath hung it
Down the middle of the world
It was there God hath spread it,
In the vastness of His eyes,
Like a banner of tri-colored tapestry
Beneath His chosen skies
With the green of waving meadows
And the hills in golden chains
The white of capping waves
And the flash of purple plains
Days rose that gleam in glory
Days die with sunset's breeze
While from Cathay that was of old
Sails count not anymore,
Morns break again in splendor
Over the giant new born West,
But of all the lands God fathomed
I'm the land is the best
Sons and lovers that love it
Beams across that blue
The stars in scattered diadems
Upon its peaks of snows,
The mighty mountains veer it
Below the white seas curled
Fast California, stretching down
The middle of the world

MRS. ANNE C. THUESEN
GRAND PRESIDENT N.D.G.W.

copies of the highlights of the early proceedings of Grand Parlor. It is the desire and ambition of each and every member to be of service to all worthwhile projects which are presented from outside sources, and in our eagerness to secure favorable publicity we overlook opportunities to be of service and assistance one to another.

"Publicity has been stressed for years, and we now have access to many of the daily papers, district papers, and our own press, The Grizzly Bear Magazine. This is the only way we have to impress the public that we are achieving and accomplishing worthwhile acts.

"Our Native Daughters of the Golden West Home, for which we have worked enthusiastically with a keen desire to be of service, is an outstanding monument in the fraternal world. The Home has brought cheer and comfort to many during the past year, closing life's pages for some with a tender care which made the parting hour a little brighter.

"All over the state, members are active in the educational world, and by their efforts have brought to us ways and means whereby we may improve our schools, their systems, and establish study clubs for California history, parliamentary law and mental improvement. Scholarships are maintained by the Order of Native Daughters at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, University of California, Berkeley, and Mills College, Oakland.

"Another work in which we are actively engaged is that of Americanism,—aiding the newly-made citizen, teaching him to uphold the Constitution of the United States and to respect our Flag.

"'Poems were made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree'

"Our Redwood Memorial Grove is a worthwhile accomplishment. The sum of $7,000 was raised, and a grove of forty six acres, purchased in Weott, Humboldt County, was dedicated to the memory of the Pioneers.

"A Pioneer roster is kept, and museums are being established in different sections for the collection of California relics.

"After the World War, a committee was formed which has been known as the Veteran's Welfare Committee. Much has been accomplished throughout the years which has truly exemplified our love of service. Many Parlors have committees which function at all times, entertaining veterans and providing luxuries and home-made dainties. Every patriotic day is observed with fitting ceremonies.

"The Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West will meet in the historic City of Stockton to review and pass upon all the activities of the past year, and to legislate for the future. This will be the Fiftieth Grand Parlor of our Order, and the celebration is expected to be outstanding. Anniversaries are usually observed to commemorate important events or occasions. Successful organizations are composed of persons united in a common cause or project who recognize each returning date of the founding of their association as a memorable period in its history. Our wonderful organization, founded fifty years ago by noble women, is now known in every state in the land, and respected for its accomplishments.

"Working with us is our brother organization, the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, which has ever responded to our call, supporting our many endeavors, and it is with grateful appreciation for its help at all times that I extend fraternal greetings and hopes for future success. With the co-operation of every member, I hope to make this Golden Year, which is now starting, one long to be remembered, and to establish a Happy Days Membership Campaign, thereby adding another great event to our history.

"Every movement must have a leader, and when my successor takes over the reins of the office may she be as fortunate in having a successful year as were those who proceded her in service. A leader must be stalwart and brave, so that she may keep the caravan together and awaken the spirit of good in the hearts of those who follow. To do this she must be honest, sincere in purpose, able to see land beyond and have hope to arrive therein, and possess the courage to withstand the criticisms of those who know not why or what her purpose.

"The future today is the same as it was yesterday; it will be the same tomorrow—always the future, never the past. What it brings in hope, in wisdom, in honor, in triumph will depend on how we meet it, and with what courage we face our problems. If we make the same mistake others make—feast on the fruits former generations have won, forgetting there is work to be done,—we will labor without incentive. But if we labor in the fields for our cause, we will give honor and glory to our State and Order.

"Go on, future sons and daughters, take up the battle where you find it. The scene of action lies not here or back there in the past, but onward. Be brave, fight on, and when the final act is over you will hear the great applause ring in your ears for the Mighty Order founded to perpetuate and honor the Pioneers, and know that it will be said to you 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

"When the spark has spread into flame, our future is assured! Accept the humble thanks of one who has enjoyed the privilege of service to that which she loves, her own Native Daughters of the Golden West."

World's Tallest Tree—The title of "the tallest tree in the world" has been given a redwood monarch in Dyerville Flat grove, forty-five miles south of Eureka, Humboldt County, after a survey of California's redwood groves by officials of the State Parks Division. The giant redwood (Sequoia sempervirens) towers 364 feet. It is forty-seven feet in circumference at the base and eleven feet in diameter, and contains approximately 125,000 board feet of lumber.

Of all the evil spirits abroad at this hour, in this world, insincerity is the most dangerous.—J. A. Froude.

THE FIRST GRAND PRESIDENT OF THE N.D.G.W.

TINA L. KANE WAS THE CHARTER president of Ursula No. 1, the "Mother" Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, and was also the first Grand President of the Order. She was born at Sacramento, January 7, 1855, and moved to Jackson, Amador County, in 1860. At the age of 14 she crossed the continent and the Atlantic alone, spent three years with her grandmother in Scotland, and graduated from Glasgow Ladies College. Returning to Jackson, she engaged in teaching and, because of her musical ability, was in demand at entertainments in all parts of Amador County.

Mrs. Kane attended the second meeting in Jackson, September 25, 1886, at which organization of the Native Daughters was perfected. She was elected charter president of Ursula Parlor, and in that capacity issued this call for the formation of the Grand Parlor:

"Hall of Ursula Parlor, No. 1, N.D.G.W., Jackson, Cal., June 1, 1887. To the Respective Subordinate Parlors N.D.G.W., whithersoever located: Ursula Parlor again sends greeting, and through its President advises you that the nine Parlors to whom was submitted for their consideration the plan for the formation of a Grand Parlor, have each adopted the plan and selected the city of San Francisco as the place of meeting. Therefore, in accordance with the terms of the compact and by its authority, I hereby announce that the delegates to be selected in accordance with the plan will assemble at Pioneer Hall, corner of Fourth and Market streets, in the city of San Francisco, on Monday, July 25, 1887, for the purpose of organizing a Grand Parlor of the N.D.G.W. and transacting such other business as may be then and there offered for consideration. Each Subordinate Parlor instituted previous to July 18, 1887, is entitled to representation in the Grand Body as follows: One delegate at large and one delegate for each 50 members or fraction of 50 members more than 25. The District Deputies now exercising authority over the various districts are requested to acquaint the Parlors within their respective jurisdictions with the details of the plan as adopted by the nine Parlors. Your attention is also called to the fact that a per capita tax of 50 cents on each member of the Order in good standing is levied under the terms of the plan, payable by each Parlor, through its delegates, at the convening of the Grand Parlor. Yours in the bonds of the Order, TINA L. KANE, President Ursula Parlor No. 1, N.D.G.W."

At the First Grand Parlor, Tina L. Kane, a delegate from Ursula, was elected Grand President. She presided during that session, and also during the Second Grand Parlor, which met in Stockton, July 1888. She died at Ventura City, October 25, 1904, and her remains were interred at Jackson, where her last restingplace is marked by a beautiful monument erected by the Order.

"Tina L. Kane was a woman of force, intellectuality and executive ability," says Past Grand President Eliza D. Keith. "In her administration as the first Grand President of the Order, she played a most important part, bringing a trained mind with well developed legal perception to the service of the Order. . . . Her decisions and interpretations of the laws of the Order laid the foundation for practically most of the subsequent legislation as, for instance, her reply to the query 'Is it necessary for the Bible to remain open on the altar during the entire session of the Parlor?' And her reply, in the affirmative, still stands after almost fifty years, 'Yes, for the Bible is the cornerstone of our Order'."

When the charter officers of Ursula were installed at Jackson, March 7, 1887, Excelsior Parlor No. 31 N.S.G.W. of that city presented a complete set of regalia. In accepting them, President Kane said: "We feel it now not only a duty, but a pleasure, to put forth every effort to make our Order a power for good in our beloved state; a benefit to our native brothers and sisters, and a lasting credit and honor to our Pioneer Fathers and Mothers." The installation ceremonies still in use are marked: "Arranged by Senior Past President Tina L. Kane, Ursula Parlor No. 1."

In the possession of Past Grand President Cora B. Sifford is the original manuscript of a toast delivered by Past Grand President Tina L. Kane at a banquet given by the N.D.G.W. and N.S.G.W. in Jackson. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Sifford, The Grizzly Bear is privileged to here record it, verbatim:

"I have the honor and pleasure to respond in behalf of the N.D.G.W. Viewing the present prosperous and progressive condition of our Order, and trusting in the promises of the future for a golden harvest of loyal hearts united with us in fraternal bonds, I look back with reminiscent ponderings. Can it be possible only one decade has passed since our frail little bark was launched upon the sea of time? Has it indeed become such a power despite the inexperience of its mariners? True, not unaided have been the efforts of the loyal crew. Nobly has our brother Order with manly strength helped us over the rough waves that were too much for our weaker energies, and raised our banner when our hands were too feeble and uncertain.

"To the N.S.G.W., our Order is virtually indebted for its existence. It was their prosperity as an organization peculiarly Californian that inspired Miss Lilly Reichling with the idea of uniting in similar bonds the native born ladies of our State. September 25, 1886, with the hand and brain of a loyal Native Son at our helm, we were fairly launched upon our voyage. Ten months later the first meeting of a 'Grand Governing Body' of the Order N.D.G.W. was held in San Francisco.

"The objects of our organization were then fully established, as follows: social intercourse, mental improvement, mutual benefit; the perpetuity of the memory of the founders of our State; the providing for and comforting sick or distressed members. With such motives for our union, surely we could ask the protection of the Great Ruler of our Universe and expect the blessings we have received.

"In conclusion, I trust all the fond hopes we

THE PRESENT COMPARED WITH EVENTFUL 1887

THE FIFTIETH (GOLDEN) GRAND Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West convenes at Stockton, San Joaquin County, June 15. Past Grand President Carrie Roesch-Durham of Joaquin Parlor No. 5 (Stockton) has the distinction of having attended all of the previous forty-nine Grand Parlors and, therefore, she will be especially honored at the approaching session. The Grizzly Bear asked Mrs. Durham, beloved by all who know her, to recount some of her personal experiences in the Order, and here's the response:

"It is very interesting to me, at this time, in recalling past history of our beloved Order, to compare present conditions with those of 1887,

CARRIE ROESCH DURHAM, PAST GRAND PRESIDENT
Who has attended every Grand Parlor Session.

when the Order was founded. It was my privilege to be elected a delegate to the First Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, held in Pioneer Hall, San Francisco, July 1887, and presided over by President Tina L. Kane of Ursula Parlor No. 1, Jackson a dear, refined, Christian gentlewoman, one whose influence will ever be felt by those of us privileged to claim her as a friend.

"That Grand Parlor was composed of forty seven delegates from fifteen Subordinate Parlors. It was devoted entirely to organization—laying the cornerstone, as it were, for the superstructure to be built upon it. My fellow-delegate and I, from Joaquin Parlor No. 5, invited the Grand Parlor of 1888 to hold the session in Stockton, when I was again a delegate and was nominated for the office of Grand Vice-president by a member of Califia Parlor No. 22, Sacramento. My opponent was Mary E. Tillman of Minerva Parlor No. 2, San Francisco. I earnestly hoped she would be the successful candidate. I was, however, elected and installed and the following year, 1889, was installed as Grand President in San Francisco, when Miss Louise Watson (later Mrs. Louise Watson-Morris) presided.

"The following year, 1890, I presided at Santa Rosa. I had looked forward to assistance from Senior Past Grand President Tina L. Kane, and was greatly disappointed when she wrote me it would be impossible for her to be present. I felt quite alone on the platform, and it has been a pleasure to see the 'College of Past Grand Presidents' augmented from year to year. The session was a very pleasant one. The Parlors had increased to fifty-two, ten of which had been instituted during my term. I shall never forget the words of Genevieve Watson-Baker—now Past Grand President—who, in placing a diamond ring, a gift from the delegates, upon my finger, 'wedded me to the Order.'

"The official visits were not made alone by the Grand President, as at present, but by the grand officers, who constituted a Visiting Board. It was one of the duties of the Grand President to assign the various Parlors to the respective members of the Board. As neither of my predecessors had been able to visit the more-remote Parlors during her term, I took those Parlors for myself and, in doing so, traveled over nearly as much territory as is covered today, going as far north by steamer as Eureka, as far south as San Diego, and by stage from Grass Valley and Nevada City to French Corral, Camptonville, Downieville and Sierra City, and out by way of Truckee. I was invited by the delegates of these mountain Parlors to delay my visits until after the first rains in October, when the dust over the roads would be laid and the mountains clothed in their beautiful autumn foliage.

"Unfortunately, rain and snow fell very early and continuously, making it impossible to travel to these Parlors until spring, when everything was still covered with snow. Trees, fences and houses all looked so pure and white that I remarked to the stagedriver, 'Isn't it beautiful!' He turned to me, saying, 'Lady! don't you dare say "beautiful snow" to these people here or they will hang you.' When I learned of the hardships suffered during the long winter months when they were snowed in, when staple provisions gave out and snowslides were common, I realized that snow would not have the same charm for them it held for me, who saw it for the first time.

"I really enjoyed the stage rides, sitting on the box beside those typical California stagedrivers, listening to their entertaining 'yarns,' and watching them handle the ribbons as they drove their four or six horses up and down the mountain slopes. I rode many miles sitting between the driver and a Wells-Fargo messenger who sat with his shotgun, finger on the trigger, ready to protect from a would-be holdup the treasure carried by stage in those days. I was often transferred from stages to sleighs, and thus had my first sleigh rides, and I have ridden behind stage horses wearing snowshoes, also a novel experience.

"My year as Grand President was a happy one. Although there were no activities, as at the present time, I am confident the Grand Presidents in the early history of our Order labored faithfully and conscientiously for the upbuilding of our beloved Order of today. It was not until the Grand Parlor of 1892, held at Sacramento, that our Board of Relief was incorporated, and the money inherited from a Native Son of Modesto formed the nucleus for the fund from which has grown our beautiful N.D.G.W. Home in San Francisco.

"There are many happy memories connected with my associations with the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West—happy memories of the friendships I have formed, happy memories of the uniform kindnesses and courtesies extended by members, both old and new, which time can never efface.

"This year will be my fiftieth year of regular attendance as a member of the Grand Parlor, a record of which I am very proud, and for which I have reason to be very thankful. I hope and pray our beloved Order will make the same marked progress in membership, activities, loyalty to our Home and State and Nation during the coming fifty years as during the fifty years just closing. May Heaven's richest blessings rest forever upon the Native Daughters of the Golden West!"

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY N.D.G.W. PARLORS

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY, SO FAR AS THE Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West is concerned, is well organized, having three Subordinate Parlors in Stockton, the county seat, and a like number in other communities. Five Past Grand Presidents are members of San Joaquin Parlors —Carrie Roesch-Durham and Mamie G. Peyton of Joaquin No. 5 (Stockton), Pearl N. Lamb of El Pescadero No. 82 (Tracy) and Emma Lou Humphrey and Mattie M. Stein of Ivy No. 88 (Lodi). A brief history of the six Parlors of the county is here presented, being compiled from the data supplied on request of The Grizzly Bear:

JOAQUIN PARLOR.

Joaquin Parlor No. 5 of Stockton, one of the oldest in the Order and the first organized in San Joaquin County, was instituted April 8, 1887, by Miss Lilly O. Reichling (now Mrs. Dyer) and Miss Nellie Fontenrose of Ursula Parlor No. 1 (Jackson), with thirty-seven charter members. The first president was Miss Hannah Gray, and the first recording secretary was Miss Emma Detman. The charter, ratified July 28, 1887, was signed by Grand President Tina L. Kane. Of the charter members, three survive: Hannah Gray, the Parlor's organizer; Carrie Roesch-Durham, now a Past Grand President, and Clara Stier, one of Stockton's first schoolteachers.

MISS FAYE SILVER,
Pres. Joaquin.

MISS EDNA MITCHELL,
Pres. El Pescadero

MRS. LILA M. KESLAR,
Pres. Ivy

MRS. ROXANA O'LEARY,
Pres. Phoebe A. Hearst

MRS. ALGIE GOSSETT,

MRS. DELIA GARVIN,

MISS BERNICE DAVIS,

MRS. MAE CORSON,
Rec. Sec. Ivy.

MRS. WILLA WILSON,
Rec. Sec. Phoebe A. Hearst.

MRS. ELIZABETH BAKER,
Rec. Sec. Stockton.

Joaquin has the distinction of having formed the first Red Cross chapter in Stockton. It was instrumental in having the name of one of the city's parks, known in early days as Jones Square, changed to Weber Park, in honor of Captain Charles M. Weber, founder of Stockton. At the time of the San Francisco disaster in 1906, the Parlor was one of the first to aid the distressed by donations of food, clothing, etc., under the supervision of Past Grand President Mamie G. Peyton, Catherine Tully and President Rebecca Isaacs-Lubosch. Joaquin made a donation of $500 to the Haggin Memorial Museum, and at a cost of $100 established a Weber memorial at the College of the Pacific in honor of the late Captain Weber. St. Mary's Catholic School also received a like donation for educational purposes. At a cost of $100 it purchased a redwood tree in honor of Past Grand President Carrie Roesch-Durham, and aided in the purchase of the Calaveras big trees for a state park. Every worthwhile civic movement has the Parlor's moral and financial support, and it is a liberal contributor to and earnest supporter of all activities of the Order.

Joaquin's present officers are: Miss Faye Silver, president; Miss Sarah Tully, junior past president; Miss Marion Grondona, past president; Miss Lucia Marino, first vice-president; Miss Clelia Giannini, second vice-president; Mrs. Grace Pattison, third vice-president; Mrs. Delia Garvin, recording secretary; Mrs. Ella Waite, financial secretary; Mrs. Lillian Condy, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Bacigalupi, marshal; Miss Catherine Tully, Miss Laura Roesch, Miss Emma Hilke, trustees; Mrs. Dionysia Buthenuth, organist; Miss Josephine Nunez, inside sentinel; Miss Mary Guglielmi, outside sentinel.

EL PESCADERO PARLOR.

El Pescadero Parlor No. 82 of Tracy was instituted August 10, 1894, by Dr. Mariana Bertola. The first president was Mrs. Emma Cox, and the first recording secretary was Mrs. Lennie Steele. Of the twenty charter members, eight remain.

El Pescadero has always taken an active part in the Order's projects and in Tracy's civic affairs. It is on a fine financial foundation and has never turned a deaf ear to any worthy project. It was one of the first Parlors to subscribe its quota to the Home Loyalty Pledge, and has purchased a tree in the Order's redwood grove in honor of Past Grand President Pearl Lamb.

El Pescadero's present officers are: Miss Edna Mitchell, president; Miss Todd Mitchell, past president; Miss Viola Marraccini, first vice-president; Mrs. Eva McGee, second vice-president; Miss Eleanor Walter, third vice-president; Mrs. Mary Hewitson, recording secretary; Mrs. Emma Frerichs, financial secretary; Mrs. Bertha McGee, treasurer; Miss Frances Huck, marshal; Mrs. Pearl Lamb, organist; Mrs. Renee Miller, inside sentinel; Miss Marie Dompe, outside sentinel; Miss Alice Ritter, Miss Nita O'Neill, Mrs. Freda Ohm, trustees.

IVY PARLOR.

Ivy Parlor No. 88 of Lodi was instituted February 6, 1896, by Lena Hilke-Mills, Susie Colberg and Lillie Hilke. The first president was Mattie M. Stein, now a Past Grand President, and the first recording secretary was Emma Lillie-Humphrey, also a Past Grand President. Of the twenty-nine charter members, five remain.

Ivy participates in all civic activities, and has planted and dedicated a number of trees.

Ivy's present officers are: Mrs. Lila M. Keslar, president; Mrs. Efleda Landback, past president; Mrs. Lorraine Handel, first vice-president; Mrs. Bessie Darrah, second vice-president; Mrs. Mattie Stein, third vice-president; Mrs. Mae Corson, recording secretary; Miss Laurana Abshire, financial secretary; Mrs. Juanita Pope, treasurer; Mrs. Verna Weesner, marshal; Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, Emma Abshire, Sara Elwood, trustees; Mrs. Lillie Shealor, musician; Mrs. Angel Scrimsher, inside sentinel; Mrs. Lillian Chapman, outside sentinel.

CALIZ DE ORO PARLOR.

Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206 of Stockton was instituted September 28, 1914, by Grand President May C. Boldemann with fifty-seven charter members. The first president was Bess Carson Gunton, and the first recording secretary was Marie Touyarou.

Caliz de Oro's present officers are: Miss Bernice Davis, president; Mrs. Esther Dieren, past president; Mrs. Earlene White, junior past-president; Miss Lucille Reichmuth, senior past president; Mrs. Ina Forrest, first vice-president; Mrs. Frances Germain, second vice-president; Mrs. Ida Stuart, third vice-president; Mrs. Erma Boudreau, marshal; Mrs. Lenore Conner, inside sentinel; Miss Maybelle McDonald, outside sentinel; Mrs. Louise Burroughs, recording secretary; Mrs. Ada Platt, financial secretary; Miss Bessie Rowe, treasurer; Mrs. Eda Cunningham, organist; Mrs. Henrietta Quevillon, Mrs. Roberta Fiola, Mrs. Edith Del Monte, trustees.

PHOEBE A. HEARST PARLOR.

Phoebe A. Hearst Parlor No. 214 of Manteca was instituted April 12, 1919, by Past Grand President Mamie G. Peyton. The first president was Mrs. Nina E. Williams, and the first recording secretary was Mrs. Edna Allenbaugh. Of the thirty-three charter members, twelve remain identified with the Parlor.

Phoebe A. Hearst's most outstanding civic accomplishment is the beautifying of the Lindbergh grammar school grounds, where twenty trees have been planted in memory of the pioneer women of the Manteca district.

Phoebe A. Hearst's present officers are: Mrs. Roxana O'Leary, a charter member, president; Mrs. Irma Butterfield, past president; Miss Stella Waclawinek, first vice-president; Miss Emma Pettis, second vice-president; Mrs. Angela Perry, third vice-president; Mrs. Willa Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. Susie Engfer, financial secretary; Mrs. Bertha Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Elsie Cowell, Mrs. Irene Salmon, Mrs. Eunice Cowell, trustees; Mrs. Julia Reeves, inside sentinel; Miss Mary Theiler, outside sentinel; Miss Dora Andersen, organist; Mrs. Roberta Henseley, marshal.

STOCKTON PARLOR.

Stockton Parlor No. 256 of Stockton was instituted January 17, 1934, by Grand President Irma W. Laird with 139 charter members. The first president was Mrs. Caroline Curnow, the organizer of the Parlor, and the first recording secretary was Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, who continues to hold that important office.

Stockton, not yet three years of age, is working hard to build up a fund which will enable it to take an active part in civic affairs. It is a liberal contributor to the annual community Christmas tree fund, has made presentations of United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags to other local organizations, and has planted trees in Stockton's lovely parks.

Stockton's present officers are: Mrs. Algie I. Gossett, president; Mrs. Hattie Mae Goodban, first vice-president; Mrs. Gwinevere Higgins, second vice-president; Mrs. Louise Braghetta, third vice-president; Mrs. Nan Drais, past president; Mrs. Euretta Dentoni, marshal; Mrs. Mary Strutzman, inside sentinel; Mrs. Teresa James, outside sentinel; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, recording secretary; Mrs. Zenith Stocker, financial secretary; Miss Harriet Welch, treasurer; Mrs. Julia Sanguinetti, Mrs. Vera Johnson, Mrs. Lula Douglas, trustees; Mrs. Elvira Sanguinetti, junior past president; Miss Constance Stormes, senior past president; Miss Nadine Baker, organist.

Dedicated to the improvement of California's millions of acres of foothill range as sources of fall, winter and spring forage, an experimental range of 3,600 acres in Madera County has been opened jointly by the University of California and the United States Forest Service.

LET US MAKE EACH DAY OUR BIRTHDAY

(SISTER ANNA RAPHAEL.)

Let us make each day our birthday,
As with each new dawn we rise,
To the glory and the gladness
Of God's calm, o'er bending skies;
To the soul-uplifting anthems
Of Creation's swelling strains,
Chanted by the towering mountains,
Surging sea, and sweeping plains.

Let us make each day our birthday,
Every morning life is new,
With the splendors of the sunrise,
And the baptism of the dew;
With the glisten of the woodlands,
And the radiance of the flowers,
And the birds' exaltant matins,
In the young day's wakening hours.

Let us make each day our birthday,
To a newer, holier life
Rousing to some high endeavor,
Arming for a nobler strife.
Toiling upward, looking Godward
To the star lands far above—
Lest our poor lives be as discord
In Heaven's symphony of love.

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

WITH GRAND PRESIDENT HARMON D. Skillin of Castro Parlor No. 232 ably presiding throughout the deliberations, the Fifty-ninth Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West was in session at Santa Cruz City May 18, 19 and 21. In the course of his report to the Grand Parlor, Grand President Skillin said:

"I feel that I would be remiss in my report not to mention the wonderful humane and charitable work which our sister Order and ours are doing for the protection of and caring for California's homeless child. The last report of the Central Committee on Homeless Children, which was their twenty-fifth annual report, shows that some 4,474 children have been placed in California homes and reared in an environment calculated to mold them into good citizens. This indeed is something that we can point to with pride, and if our Order has done nothing else, for the sake of argument I say to you that it has justified its creation and existence from the fact just above stated." He concluded with:

"In closing I desire to convey to all the members of our Order my appreciation and sincere thanks for the trust that was placed in me and the prestige conferred upon me. As the years roll on, through life's journey, I will be ever mindful of the high honors that have been mine. May the blessings of Divine Providence be upon this Order and the members thereof."

The reports of other grand officers and committees dealt, mostly, with matters heretofore given full publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposed legislation that failed of passage:

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION.

Grand Parlor:

Art. III, Sec. 1 amended to add to those who shall compose the Grand Parlor the members of the Committee on Laws of Subordinates.

Art. VIII, Sec. 3, Subd. 6 amended to provide for a History Committee of fifteen members.

Art. XI amended by adding a new section: "Sec. 5a. The Board of Grand Officers are hereby given authority and complete jurisdiction over Parlors with a membership of less than 125 in ANY CITY WHERE MORE THAN TWO PARLORS exist that fail to voluntarily merge or consolidate as provided in Section 5 of this article, to compel said Parlors either to merge, consolidate or surrender their charters under such procedure and conditions as said Board of Grand Officers deem best."

Art. XI, Sec. 15 amended by adding after the prescribed methods of observing Memorial Day: "In counties where there are two or more cities which are not contiguous to each other, the Grand President may grant special permission for the Parlors in one city to adopt one of the aforesaid methods of observing Memorial Day and the Parlors in another city or cities either of the other manners of commemorating Memorial Day."

Subordinate Parlors:

Art. VII, Sec. 5 amended to provide for the reinstatement to membership in the Order of a member suspended for non-payment of dues, and prescribing the course to be followed.

Art. XV amended by adding: "Sec. 12. The President immediately upon his installation in July shall appoint a committee of two (2) to be known as the Speakers Committee, whose duty it shall be to provide speakers who shall appear before the high schools of the county in which the Parlor is located during the fourteen (14) school days nearest September 9th. The speakers shall during their address discuss California's admission into the Union."

BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Sonoma City was selected as the meetingplace for the Sixtieth (1937) Grand Parlor.

Oakland was chosen as the place for holding this year's statewide Admission Day, September 9, celebration.

April 27 of each year was designated as "Founder's Day," and it was "ordered that all Parlors hold some exercise or pay some tribute of respect to General A. M. Winn [Founder of the Order] on the meeting date of the Parlors nearest April 27th."

The History Committee was directed "to investigate ways and means of securing the preparation of" a history of the Order.

The Grand President was directed to "appoint a Committee on Americanization consisting of five members to consider, propose, direct, promote and advance all matters pertaining to the welfare of American citizens, and to inaugurate an active campaign to buy American and employ American."

Santa Monica was designated as the place for holding the Admission Day, September 9, celebration in 1937.

On petition of a majority of the members thereof, Sepulveda Parlor No. 263 (Wilmington) was granted permission to change its name to Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263.

The Grand President was directed to appoint a committee to investigate the advisability and practicability of the Grand Parlor publishing a magazine as the official organ of the Order, the committee to report its recommendations to the 1937 Grand Parlor.

The Grand Secretary was directed to "not later than August 15th of each year provide the [Admission Day] Speakers Committees of the Subordinate Parlors with such California historical data as may in the opinion of the Grand Secretary be necessary to assist such speakers in their purposes."

Fines levied against Ramona No. 109, Alcalde No. 154, Estudillo No. 223, Compton No. 273 and Lakemont No. 275 Parlors were remitted.

The following Subordinate Parlors were ordered dissolved: Solano No. 39 (Suisun), Madera No. 130, San Miguel No. 150 and Willows No. 255.

A committee of five was authorized, to "prepare and adopt a standard set of rules to govern all future competitions for drill teams, drum corps, and drum and bugle corps."

Establishment of a junior order, proposed at the 1935 Grand Parlor, was discussed at considerable length, and further consideration of the proposal was postponed to the 1937 Grand Parlor. In the meantime detailed plans are to be submitted by the proposers.

The Lone Grave Committee was authorized to proceed "to raise funds from outside sources and without expense to the Grand Parlor" to carry out its project.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Declaring that the Native Sons of the Golden West will "continue active opposition to the advocacy in America of Nazism, Fascism, Communism or any other isms that are contrary to the fundamental principles of democracy, as established under the Constitution of the United States of America."

Petitioning the State of California to acquire as a state park Fort Tejon, a historic landmark near Bakersfield, Kern County.

Declaring that the California State (Bear) Flag "should be made by American institutions and workers," and recommending "to all Subordinate Parlors and citizens of California not to purchase Bear Flags made by foreigners."

Asserting that "the Congress of the United States could prohibit the sale of American flags manufactured in Japan or in any other foreign country by laborers working at a pauper wage scale, and the manufacture of flags in this country would provide employment for Americans who are now out of work," and recommending that California's Senators and Representatives in Congress "act to correct this unpatriotic injustice by either prohibiting the importation of foreign made flags or by enacting a prohibitive import duty."

Petitioning the Governor of the State of California to have the State Flag of California displayed daily on the Ferry Building, San Francisco.

Urging "the voters of California to cause the defeat in November 1936 of the so-called sales tax repeal and single tax initiative."

Recommending "co-operation of all affiliated groups with the California Safety Council in their desperate efforts to reduce the frightful loss of life and maiming of so many thousands on the highways of this fair state."

Recommending "to the next session of the California Legislature that steps be taken by that body to open up approach to the beaches by the establishment of lateral roads from existing highways, at regular intervals and where otherwise appropriate, to the shore line, so that beaches, parks and recreational centers along the coast, which are the property of the State of California, be made readily accessible to the people for their comfort, use and enjoyment."

Extending thanks to Santa Cruz Parlor No. 90 N.S.G.W., Santa Cruz Parlor No. 26 N.D.G.W. and all others who contributed to the enjoyment of the members of the Grand Parlor and those accompanying them.

Regretting the passing of W. H. L. and Pauline Merle Hynes, parents of Grand Trustee Adrien Hynes; Charles K. McClatchy, editor and publisher of newspapers in Sacramento, Fresno and Modesto; Thomas H. Vivian, a charter member of Rincon Parlor No. 72 N.S.G.W.; the wife of Past Grand President Thomas Monahan, and the son of Past Grand President James F. Hoey.

GRAND PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

HARTLEY RUSSELL OF SAN FRANcisco, affiliated with Stanford Parlor No 76, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West at the Fifty ninth Grand Parlor which met in Santa Cruz City Following his induction into office, May 21, he delivered this message

"The office of Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West which I now have the great honor to occupy is a goal that I have hoped to reach for many years past, and now that that high honor has been conferred upon me and the regalia of that office placed on me, I feel that I have undertaken a responsibility that can be fulfilled only by service. During the year of my incumbency I hope to give service, and if I can get full co-operation from the members of the Order I am certain I will accomplish the things I have planned to do.

"Publicity Through the medium of the radio and the press of this State I expect to make known what the Order of the N.S.G.W. is and the part it is playing in the life of the State of California. I am sure there are thousands of native-born Californians who know little or nothing of this Order, and upon learning the broad scope of our work will accept the invitation I herewith give to all native-born Californians to become members of the Native Sons of the Golden West and help perpetuate the history and romance of early California. Also, to help to keep this, our native state, the leading commonwealth among the states of our Union. I will make known the fact that this is primarily a patriotic organization, and all activities in which we are are engaged are for the upbuilding and uplifting of our State and Nation, and opposed to those individuals and organizations that would tear down the government and institutions created by those who founded the United States of America.

"History—For many years we have provided at the University of California, Berkeley, traveling fellowships in California and Pacific Coast history and have expended nearly $100,000 in that particular work, to get an authentic history of this State as well as other states on the Pacific Coast. These traveling fellows were selected by the History Department of the University of California under the direction of Dr. Henry Morse Stevens until his death, and now are being chosen under the directorship of Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, dean of the department. The traveling fellows have gone to all parts of the globe and delved into the archives of the various countries where anything pertaining to California and the Pacific Coast might be found, and all of this data is now stored at the Bancroft Library in the University of California, and from this source many volumes have been written giving the true history of the founding and colonizing of the western coast of our country This work is still going on, and we expect to keep it up until all available data is obtained for the use of our University

"Landmarks—Hand in hand with our history research, this Order has for many years been interested in marking the historic spots in this State, thus preserving to posterity something of the romance and history of these landmarks Year after year this work goes on, little known to the general public, but bearing continual evidence of the love and devotion of our Order for our Native State. We have taken a leading part in the restoration of the old Franciscan missions, those landmarks of early civilization around which much of the early history of our State is entwined. We have marked many of the historic trails over which the Pioneers of old entered this State, and have properly commemorated the outstanding events of every important period connected with our history. These include the scenes of battles fought for the possession of the State between Spaniard and American; the places where many of our Pioneer Mothers and Fathers suffered and died; the places where adventurous youth of those days traveled over unbeaten paths to lead a party of followers to this great land of ours.

"Among the outstanding landmarks restored or erected under the sponsorship of our Order was the complete restoration of Sutter's Fort at Sacramento; the Marshall monument at Coloma, marking the place where gold was discovered in this State; the Donner monument at Donner Lake in Nevada County; the Bear Flag monument at Sonoma; the monument commemorating the admission of California into the Union at Market and Mason streets, San Francisco, and hundreds of others. These monuments and tablets inform the traveler who happens to pass a particular spot where one is located that something of great moment in the history of the State took place at this particular location. This work is still being carried on under the supervision of the Landmarks Committee, headed by Hon Joseph R Knowland, Past Grand President.

"Homeless Children Work Few people know that the Native Sons of the Golden West and the Native Daughters are carrying on one of the outstanding charitable activities in this State that of providing homes, with foster parents, for the homeless babes of California These two organizations are maintaining a bureau, known as the Central Committee on Homeless Children, which cares for all babies, regardless of race, color or creed These organizations have spent over a half-million dollars during the quarter-century existence of the Homeless Children Committee, and have placed in permanent homes more than 4,700 children, who have been legally adopted and made a part of each of those homes. This is one of the greatest humanitarian activities engaged in by any fraternal organization, and this worthwhile work will be given my full co-operation during my term of office

"I wish to state that it is my ambition to acquaint all qualified native-born Californians with the aims and purposes of this organization. I hope to impress them in such a way through the plans I have formulated that many will make application for membership in our Order before my term is over. The Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is the only organization of its kind in existence, and its uniqueness, when made known in the proper way, will, no doubt, attract those eligible to our Order. It is my hope that every eligible will become a part of our organization and join with us in our noble activities. In conclusion, allow me to express my gratitude to the officers and members of the Fifty-ninth Grand Parlor for the co-operation extended me in matters of legislation and appropriations."

HARTLEY RUSSELL OF SAN FRANCISCO
GRAND PRESIDENT ORDER NATIVE SONS GOLDEN WEST

D. Skillin, who were followed by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters and her husband, Andrew Thuesen of Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W.

At the Wednesday night banquet, President Dr. Mahlon D. McPherson of Santa Cruz Parlor was the toastmaster. Speakers, and their subjects, were: "San Francisco," Mayor Angelo Rossi; "Santa Cruz County," State Senator Bertram B. Snyder; "Landmarks of California," Past Grand President Joseph R. Knowland. Junior Past Grand President Chas. A. Koenig presented the Order's gift to Grand President Harmon D. Skillin who, in responding, delivered what was declared by many the outstanding address of his career, the theme of which was "Carry On!"

NOTES OF THE SESSION.

William G. Paden (Halcyon Parlor No. 146), superintendent Alameda County schools, delivered a most interesting address on "The Anza Trail," and Leonard E. Blackmer spoke on the work of the California Beaches Association.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters addressed the Grand Parlor and extended greetings on behalf of that Order. She was accompanied by Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustee Alice M. Lane, Supervising Deputy Irma Murray of Alameda County, Mrs. Harmon D. Skillin and a large delegation of Native Daughters.

Headed by the drum corps of San Jose Parlor No. 22 N.S.G.W., several Native Sons and Daughters from the Santa Clara Valley metropolis invaded Santa Cruz May 19 and visited the various headquarters.

Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto entertained at dinner May 18 Grand President Harmon D. Skillin and the other grand officers, and May 19 Past Grand President Thomas Monahan was host at the annual reunion of the Past Grands.

SAN FRANCISCO

WITH "SPRING FANTASY" AS THE theme, Dolores Parlor No. 169 N.D.G.W. received Grand President Anne C. Thuesen on her official visit April 29. A delightful dinner was served at 6:45, the tables being bright with spring flowers. Miniature women gowned in pastel shades, dancing gaily around a maypole, formed a unique centerpiece, and nut cups fashioned as individual maypoles were festive with orchid streamers.

Two hundred members of the Order assembled in the meeting hall, decorated with coral blossoms and baskets of lilies. President Rose Spaelti graciously extended greetings, and "Welcome Sweet Springtime" was sung by the glee club, with Ethel Browning soloist and Betty Marcus accompanist. Gifts were presented the Grand President and other grand officers: Grand Secretary Sallie Thaler, Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannini, Alice Lane and Clara Gairaud, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey. Other guests were Past Grands Margaret Hill, Eliza Keith, Mae Noonan, Mae Boldeman, Bertha Briggs and Evelyn Carlson, Supervising Deputies Nan Kelly and Irma Murray, Mrs. Catharine O'Reilly, Agnes McVerry, Pearl Wedde and Nell Boege.

Grand President Thuesen, in the course of her address, described the City of San Francisco as a picturesque, cosmopolitan center, with an adventurous, historic background, and she remarked that no matter what distant lands a San Franciscan may traverse, the homecoming is looked forward to with keenest appreciation. Dolores Parlor was commended for enthusiastically supporting the Order's projects.

BENEFIT GREAT SUCCESS.

The San Francisco Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters had a card party and dansant April 27 for the benefit of the homeless children. There was a large attendance, and the very successful affair netted a goodly sum for the Natives' charity.

Grand President Harmon D. Skillin and Grand Trustee Alice M. Lane, co-chairmen of arrangements, were assisted by Vera Thompson, Bernice Monahan, Albert Thuesen, Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Dr. George Gillespie, Judge Charles Boden and Frank M. Buckley.

N.D.G.W. HOME FUNCTIONS.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen was honor-guest at a luncheon May 4 sponsored by the Grand Parlor N.D.G.W. Home Committee, and she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. O'Reilly, also a guest of the Committee. Others present were Past Grands Dr. Mariana Bertola, Genevieve W. Baker, Mary E. Bell, Ariana W. Stirling and Emma G. Foley, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustee Alice M. Lane, Mms. Emily E. Ryan, Jennie Greene, Mary P. Junker, Elizabeth Junker, Elizabeth Muller, Dora E. Brayton and Ella M. Hawkins. Mrs. Thuesen was the recipient of a cake server for her silver service. A pleasant surprise was tendered Dr. Bertola—a gift for her birthday-to-be, May 7, from the members of the Home Committee.

Orinda No. 56, Las Lomas No. 72 and Balboa No. 249 Parlors were joint hostesses for the Mothers' Day breakfast at the Home May 10. Eighty-five were in attendance. Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini extended a welcome, Lucille Russell pronounced an invocation, and Daisy Hunter led the salute to the Flag. Participating in the program were Mr. Freeman, who spoke on "The 1939 Exposition," Emily E. Ryan, Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola, Mary Waters, Ann B. Dippel, Past Grand Emma G. Foley, Ruby Bried, Alice McArany, Betty Marquis and Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell of the Native Sons, who paid tribute to mothers. Among other Native Daughters present were Past Grand Eliza D. Keith, Grand Inside Sentinel Claire Lindsey, Deputies Juanita Blanchfield, Katherine Jensen and Gertrude Collins.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

A delightful afternoon is promised those who attend the San Francisco deputies' luncheon June 6. Come, and meet your friends at this affair.—R.T.

Orinda Parlor No. 56's childrens welfare committee visited the seventy children in the tubercular wards of the San Francisco Hospital and presented each child with candy and a package of funny papers in recognition of May Day. May 6 the Parlor had its annual mothers' banquet and a very delightful evening was spent. The table was beautiful in purple and yellow, and each mother was the recipient of a gift. Mae Shea was chairman of the affair. May 16, in honor of the birthday of Grand Trustee Orinda Giannini, a family picnic was held. Games were played in the afternoon, at 6 p.m. a bean supper was served, and in the evening an amateur show was presented. May 22 a birthday party was held for all members born in May.

Fremont Parlor No. 59 had an invitation party May 19, three candidates joining the membership. The tables were beautifully decorated in pink and green, and a big welcome cake and favors with dainty cards of welcome attached lent an air of festivity to the occasion. Corsages were presented the new members, the officers and the honor-guest, Deputy Alma Hall. President Alma Klahn had a homeless children shower party at her home the latter part of May. A card party is to be held June 2.

About seventy members and friends of Las Lomas Parlor No. 72 assembled at the home of Emily E. Ryan recently. Bridge and whist were played, and refreshments were served.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 initiated a candidate May 7, and the ritual was recited in a perfect manner. Mothers of the members were guests during the social hour, and a gala time prevailed. The room was arranged to represent a night club, and an amateur hour provided entertainment. The guests were presented with old-fashioned boquets, and refreshments were served. The committee in charge included Nora Schefiin, Ida Fischen, Rena Taube, Lillian Ryan, Hannah Toohig, Rose Regan and Theresa Kendall. Drum corps notes: May 5, swimming party at Y.W.C.A. May 14, birthday party for Edith Joorisen, Betty Johnson, Queenie La Salle, Vera Beatson, Charles Herman. Mothers were invited, and a good time was enjoyed.

Gabrielle Parlor No. 139 and Rincon Parlor No. 72 N.S.G.W. had their monthly joint whist party May 6. May 13 the annual mothers' night was featured by Gabrielle, with Norma Johnson in charge. Grand President Anne C. Thuesen officially visited the Parlor May 20, and a large class of candidates was initiated.

Twin Peaks Parlor No. 185 celebrated its twenty-sixth institution anniversary April 23. Deputy Margaret Barrett was the honor-guest, and the arrangements were in charge of Eugenie Schwarz, Loretta Schaertzer and Lorretta Cameron. Due to the tasty repasts and beautifully decorated tables provided by the social committee, Hannah Sandell chairman, members of the Parlor have enjoyed many pleasant evenings this term.

Mission Parlor No. 227 observed mothers' night May 13. Program Chairman Hazel Hartnett presented singing and dancing numbers, and refreshments were served at beautifully decorated tables. The Parlor contributed to the relief fund for sufferers from the recent flood disaster, and has gone on record as favoring the preservation of California beaches. The drum corps participated May 17 in the competition at Colma.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

More than 1,400 Native Sons and their friends packed to capacity the clubrooms of the Onized Club for the smoker and highjinks honoring Superior Judges Elmer E. Robinson, Edmund P. Mogan, Frank T. Deasy, Franklin A. Griffin and C. J. Goodell sponsored by Pacific No. 10, Rincon No. 72, Stanford No. 76, Bay City No. 104 and Twin Peaks No. 214 Parlors. Charles T. Butterworth was master of ceremonies, and State Senator Walter McGovern introduced the judges. An elaborate program, arranged by John W. Pettit and Assistant Fire Chief Thomas J. Murphy, was presented.

Thomas H. Vivian, a charter member and for forty years the treasurer of Rincon Parlor No. 72, died May 15, survived by a wife and six children. He was a native of San Francisco, aged 75.

Under the auspices of Presidio Parlor No. 194, the N.D.G.W. Glee Club will present "Plantation Days" in the N.S.G.W. Auditorium, 414 Mason street, June 6. George B. Pope Sr. is general chairman of arrangements for the affair, which is being given for the benefit of the Presidio drum corps now being organized with Roy Bruneman as director and Edward Reineger as drum major. "Plantation Days" is an outstanding old-time minstrel show, and in its presentation will appear many of San Francisco's most prominent Native Sons and Daughters. Presidio's drum corps will make its first public appearance in the Admission Day, September 9, parade.

Feminine World's Fads and Fancies

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

SLENDER FLATTERY IS TO BE FOUND in the two-piece ensemble. There is no grander spring fashion for the woman in her fashionable forties, or for the younger girl of mature figure. Slenderizing, giving that feeling of being "dressed up" and wearable almost everywhere, the ensemble is as practical as it is smart. You will find in your shopping that in less-expensive fashions the coats of these ensembles are purposely made so that they may be worn with other dresses; but in high-fashion ranges the coat is made for the one dress with which it comes, repeating some of the dress fabric, either in facing, entire lining or scarf. You will see some of these outfits in crepe coats and even a few sheers, and these may be worn at once under an outer coat and later, in the summer months, as a complete outfit.

One is more likely to confuse two-piece dresses with jacket dresses this year, because so many of them give a jacket effect. With scarfs tucked in their necklines, double breasted button trimmings and belts, many take to peplum ideas with more of blouse styling in the bodice. The peplum is another fashion point at its best on the youthful figure, as it tends to emphasize hips.

Most popular among the two-piece dresses are those of thin fine wool crepe, light weight, durable and perfect for business wear, sports wear and travel. They are tailored with occasional trimmings on pockets, colored slide fasteners and skirts which feature the new higher kick-pleat theme. In other words, for the greater part frocks are on the tailored side of summer's fashion picture.

Probably the high fashion is the cape dress, and this is true for many reasons. First, only the woman of distinction can carry a cape with dignity. Second, the young girl prefers the flared cape of directoire type, which is temporarily "out" in a season when all good things are simple. If you want to treat yourself to a really swanky outfit, you can do no smarter thing than to choose a cape dress with both dress and cape in the crepe wool and a whirl of fur trimming.

One-piece dresses range through the entire fashion picture, from simple tailored types which stick to the basic details of shirtmakers, to the soft feminine little frocks which will be seen at teas and afternoon dancing parties. Frankly, out to charm is the gay lace-topped party frock the dress-of-affairs that takes full feminine advantage of every style point. Seemingly demure in its high-throated effect, it cuts a daring center slash and accents it with a splash of flowers. A deep crushed girdle defines the waistline, and smooth-fitting hips give way to the swish of a billowing skirt.

A sparkling black and white printed taffeta makes a stunning gown, but the shimmer of satin or the subtlety of heavy sheer would be equally attractive. Afternoon accessories may be classic to complement the dressy frock, or elaborate to "dress up" the simple frock. Perfect for the dressy frock are the six-button gloves of suede or kid. These form good companions to the opera pump of colored kid or patent leather. Lending a festive note to the simplest frock is a T-strap sandal combining calf and gabardine. Dainty net gloves finish off with a ribbon-trimmed frill. A gold-piped patent leather bag opens squarely and collapses neatly.

Glamorous evenings call for the "luxury" touch in the little things like the lavish trim on silk net gloves, or the double row of contrasting flowers on little pastel suede gloves. Short gloves are "in" for the evening. Open heel and toe sandals—popular for daytime too—display their luxury in choice of fabric and sparkle of buckle. A gold-framed rich paisley evening case has everything, from sizeable mirror, compact and make-up to cigarette case. Whatever your daytime choice, the accessories will polish off your costume.

One might saunter forth in broad strap shoes, stitched and perforated, with intermediate heel, and carry a fabric bag to match the suit. A patent leather strap on the gloves provides a highlight. "Sportsier," of course, are the pigskin gloves smartly bound and wrist-buttoned, and they are quite in keeping with the scottish brick suede sports shoes.

You should knit your way to smartness with the new summer yarns. Just as in sewing it's the fabric that makes the costume, so in knitting it's the yarn. Lovelier yarns with which to create newer and fairer knitted and crocheted fashions could not be found. Boil-proof yarns that won't stretch are available. The textures are varied and interesting to work with, and the colors are fade-proof and tub-fast. One called "bouclin" has all the advantages of linen coolness and lacks the woven-fabric tendency to wrinkle.

No pressing or blocking is required for the novelty yarn, for it has a crinkly surface with nubs. White nubs on a solid color give a two-tone effect. Knitted and crocheted fashions are more highly styled than ever before—more sophistication about them and much more feminine. Neck treatments, sleeve register, novelty buttons, suede and leather belts, bows, jabots and lacings are significant accents.

Cottons are important in the home dressmaker's vocabulary. A new group of fabrics includes gingham, dimity, broadcloth and pique. There's a pleasant feeling about many of the smartest cottons. The natural-toned, heavy, loosely-woven, twine-like ones, shantungs for instance, are back. Corded effects are still in. Blistered and crinkled surfaces have flattened out a bit. Checks, plaids and stripes are all in the picture, but vivid poster-color floral prints make news. Lovely new pastels are "very very" this season.

In the luxury group are some of the most delightful sheers, crepes and satins, splashed with large vivid florals. Fruit and vegetable designs make crepes more irresistible than ever. A flat sports crepe has an interesting golf club and ball motif. Another one displays anchor, rope and sailboat—for nautical wear. Lacy organdy is cool and crisp for warm days, and enchanting lace collars and cuff sets freshen the summer clothes.

We shall have music wherever we go by wearing one of the new bell bracelets. Fairy-thin and silvery-clear, the tiny chiming has caught the fancy of smart women. The black hand takes a back seat in favor of bright-colored gloves, and for hot days the air-cooled string glove is suggested as inexpensive enough to permit riotous variety.

The way flowers are going to the head these days is a summertime stampede. Even the shortest kind of hair cut can be decorated with some kind of blossom arrangement, and when it comes to the girls who have longer hair, well, they don't care how exotic they look. A horseshoe tiara of daisies and mimosa, worn poised far back on the head, with the ends swept forward toward either temple, is very becoming for a coiffure worn flat over the head and edged with soft curls. So, if you get a rush of flowers to the head, you will be in the fashion parade. A gardenia and orange blossom decoration is perfect as a wedding veil foundation. Gardenias with forget-me-nots and camellias suggest a lovely coiffure for any formal evening occasion.

Windy tonight on the old Washoe,
Spirits come near of the long ago.
How many secrets these mountains hold!
How many stories must go untold!

Lonesome the hills, when the clouds blow fast.
Seems the old crowd should be shuffling past.
Years in the desert—it did not seem
Life sculptured here would become a dream

Keep to the truth and it will keep thee. John Barclay.

"AMERICA TODAY NEEDS A REBIRTH of that characteristic American spirit in which this nation was born and under whose care its infant institutions were nourished," said Rev. Dr. Sheldon Shepard of the First Christian Church in his May 3 sermon. "I believe that careful study of the philosophy in which the American government was given life will reveal that it still is sufficient for this mighty nation and that its application will carry us safely through the trying times of the present evolution. . . .

"It is deplorable that many individuals and organizations using the name American, calling themselves patriotic and wearing the labels of 1776, have been betrayed into upholding European ideals of government and the reactionary spirit from which the American colonies broke away when this nation was founded. Americanism is deeper than opinions on various questions. It is a matter of a whole philosophy. It comes from one's relations with his fellows.

"Nothing is more un-American than the current practice of condemning as a traitor every one who differs with one's political, economic or religious views. Such practices are at home in Russia and Germany today, but have no rightful place in the American scene. . . . In the American ideal the sacred element is not the crown, the state, the document nor the practice, but the people. We need now a rebirth of freedom, that this nation may remain a government of, by and for the people."

GARDEN PARTY AT BEVERLY HILLS.

Mothers' Nite, honoring the mothers of members, was celebrated by Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. with a delicious potluck dinner followed by entertainment. A unique feature was the fashion parade of gowns of yesteryear. Founder Lilly O. Dyer added mirth to the occasion by her witty remarks. Forty members and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. M. Finley May 16 to enjoy a delicious luncheon and sew for the homeless children.

Calendar for June—Guests of Los Angeles the 3rd will include Compton, Long Beach and Santa Ana Parlors. Miss Schlingman of the Homeless Children Committee will be guest-speaker. An outstanding event is the garden party the 6th at the Beverly Hills home of Mrs. Lucile Bullard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hunt. During luncheon, which will be served in the lovely gardens, a string trio will serenade the guests. Cards and other games will follow. Elaborate plans are being completed by First Vice-president Edna Trombatore.

The call of the wide open spaces will be answered by Native Daughters and their friends June 7 at Ferndell, where the annual breakfast will be served. Jennie Raymond will act as hostess at a tea from 2 to 4 of June 20, entertaining the sewing club at her Montebello home. The dance given jointly by Los AngelesN.D.G.W. and Los Angeles N.S.G.W. May 9 was a great success. Juanita Porter and Harry Davis were the chairmen.—L.C.

ANNIVERSARY BARBECUE.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. has everything in readiness for its annual anniversary "stag" barbecue, to be held at the Fryman ranch June 7. Captain "Bill" Bright, in charge, promises something unusual in the way of barbecue feasts, and a good time in general. Other events scheduled by the Parlor for June are:

5th, election of officers. 12th, initiation, to be followed by a dutch lunch. 19th, birthday dinner, 6:30 p.m., to be followed by a mammoth show and other entertainment at 8:30.

82-YEAR-OLD NATIVE IS GUEST.

Long Beach—An outstanding event in Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. was the annual Mothers' Day observance, May 9, when the Pioneer Mothers and mothers of members were honored guests. A beautifully appointed luncheon was served. California poppies gracefully centered the tables, and the favors were corsages of pansies from the Parlor's Memory Garden. These were arranged by Daisy Hansen (chairman), Violet Henshilwood, Lois McDougall and Emily Marie McDougall. The hostess, President Leola Temby, welcomed the mothers, and introduced Kate McFadyen, organizer and charter president of the Parlor and chairman of arrangements, who introduced the guests. Others on the committee were Johanna Reed, Kittie Dillon and Alice Waldow.

Mrs. E. J. Haight, 82-year-old native of California and the oldest guest, spent her early days in Sacramento, where she played on the foundation stones of the old State Capitol building. Her parents crossed the plains to California in a covered wagon. Following an exchange of reminiscences, a musical program was presented.

At the May 8 meeting of the Parlor Supervising Deputy Flora Holy was a visitor and gave a talk on "The Homeless Children." Preceding this, Jean Watkins demonstrated paper novelties. Kate McFadyen entertained at a benefit card party at her home April 29. Many useful articles have been made and sold by the thimble club. Daisy Hansen was hostess at the meetings last month.—V.T.H.

DINNER TO HONOR JUDGE.

Santa Monica—June 3, Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. will give the last of a series of dinners honoring outstanding members. On this occasion, Judge Joseph L. Call will be the honor-guest. Dinner will be served at 6:30, after which there will be initiation and election of officers.

The Parlor is making extensive plans for its annual barbecue, to be held July 19 in Santa Monica Canyon. It will participate in the Pioneer Days celebration, billed for July 11-15. All Santa Monica is rejoicing with the Parlor because the city has been given the statewide Admission Day celebration for 1937.

NEW DOORS TO BE GIVEN OLD CHURCH.

Members of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. enjoyed one of the most delightful programs of the year, May 12, when the folk lore group, Marcella Wolfskill chairman, presented a group of early California dances. The accompaniment was furnished by the Arias troubadours, who also played for Hope Chamberlain Tuttle, solo dancer, and Marybelle Chapman, whose lovely voice was heard in a group of Spanish numbers. The luncheon speaker was Miss Dorothy Schlingman, secretary for the southern district Homeless Children Committee, who gave some of the interesting highlights of the work, together with the story of some of the interesting cases, including that of "Sammy," the pickaninny. The folk lore girls honored their duena, Martha Decker, on her birthday, their table being beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The history and landmarks section has set June 7—the Parlor's birthday—as the date for presenting new doors to the Church of Our Lady Queen of the Angels. Isabel Fages announced the date of July 18 for marking the Romolo Pico adobe at San Fernando. At the birthday tea May 26 Kathleen Kaye gave a talk on "Adventures in Candy Land."

Thirty-five members motored to the lovely ranch home of Mattie and Gladys Edwards in Placentia, Orange County, May 18. They were right royally entertained at luncheon, and the sewing circle passed the time at interesting work. The offering of the day was presented DINNER-DANCE AT BEACH CLUB.

Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W. was host May 4 for the "Daniel McSweeny" group initiation of the southland Parlors. Nine candidates were initiated—three each for Ramona Parlor No. 109 and Hollywood, two for Glendale Parlor No. 264 and one for Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267. The ritual was splendidly exemplified by a picked team of No. 196's present and past officers, with Harold Thomas as president. Henry G. Bodkin was master of ceremonies, and among the speakers were Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, Grand Outside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, Raymond Haight, M. U. Rosenthal and Clarence S. Hunt. Entertainment was provided and refreshments were served.

To get the members and their womenfolks better acquainted, Hollywood plans a series of social events. The first is to be a dinner-dance at the Deauville Club, Santa Monica, June 5, at 8 p.m. For reservations, get in touch with Earl Thompson or "Jack" Wright.

BENEFIT FOR HOMELESS CHILDREN.

Glendale—Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. sponsored a successful card party for the benefit of the homeless children May 20. Guests of honor were Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, Deputy Alice M. Waldow and the presidents of other Glendale organizations. Grand Trustee Hazel B. Hansen gave a splendid talk on the homeless children work.

May 26 the Parlor entertained the mothers of the members. The program was arranged by Vera Carlson and Margaret Donlan. May 10 Verdugo added three additional names to its membership-roll.

MAMMOTH SHOW PLEASES PROSPECTS.

The mammoth show put on May 13 by University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. proved a huge success, both as a spectacle and as a medium of uniting members and their prospects for membership. Some twenty-five of the latter thoroughly enjoyed the "before and after get-together," and the mock court with Ben Hiss as the judge. Those in charge of the entertainment were Carl Martin and Lucien Griffin, the Parlor's super-showmen.

Stan Parker, baseball manager supreme, will forsake the Native Sons for the present and hie himself eastward in search of greater triumphs. The "wild cats" will lose a good man by this change.

The Parlor is exceedingly proud of the fine showing made by the 'Varsity ball club in its first encounter with major indoor league opposition. Games are played at the Echo and Harvard playgrounds. E.McD.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Ocean Park Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 245 N.D.G.W. had a meeting and potluck dinner May 13 at the Venice home of Leila Hersee. May 27 the meeting was at the Ocean Park home of Melba Benbrooke. Memorial services were held, also a shower for the Parlor's bride, Katherine Olsen. No. 245 joined Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. in giving a card party May 20. The hostesses were Elizabeth Valencia, Mary Rittiner, Dorothy Barnes and Marie Barnes. Several candidates will be initiated in June.

*Deceased.
†Connection with Order severed.

Reports of grand officers and committees to the Fiftieth Grand Parlor will show the Order to be in a flourishing condition. The finances are in good shape, and the membership is increasing. All of the Order's many projects have been advanced during the closing Grand Parlor year.

Since the Sacramento (1935) Grand Parlor one new Subordinate Parlor was instituted—San Francisco No. 261, which now has a membership of seventy-seven.

Several minor changes in the Ritual will be proposed at the Stockton session, and the Ritual Committee will present proposed funeral ceremonies for observance at the home, the grave or the mortuary.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 will propose an amendment to the Grand Parlor Constitution providing for "A yearly assessment of one dollar per member payable semi-annually, in March and September," to raise funds to carry on the homeless children work.

Past Grand President Esther R. Sullivan will announce the prize-winning Pioneer Mother essay of the year, and awards for the best scrapbooks submitted by Subordinate Parlors will be announced by Past Grand President Bertha A. Briggs, chairman Grand Parlor Publicity Committee.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

JACKSON (AMADOR COUNTY)—THE AFternoon of May 16 Ursula No. 1, the "Mother" Parlor of the Order, dedicated a monument to the City of Jackson, where the Order had its beginning nearly a half-century ago—September 25, 1886, to be exact. Interested spectators listened intently to the dedicatory program, which included: Introductory remarks, Chairman Emma Boarman-Wright, a charter member of the Parlor; music, Preston school band; remarks, President Elizabeth L. Read; address, Grand President Anne C. Thuesen; selection, band; unveiling of monument, President Read and Past President Clara E. Bachich; dedication of monument, Past Grand E. Ellington Caminetti, a charter member; acceptance of monument on behalf of Jackson, Mayor Wallace P. Jones.

The monument, of native granite, bears a bronze plaque inscribed: "JACKSON. IN 1848, it was a village of huts and tents, called 'BOTTILEAS' by the Mexicans, from the bottles strewn about by those who tarried here. IN 1849, it was named JACKSON, for Colonel Jackson, an early-day resident. IN 1853, Amador County was carved from Calaveras, and JACKSON became its County Seat. IN 1886, the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West was founded; and to commemorate the semi-centennial year of the Order, this monument is erected and dedicated on May 16th, 1936, by Ursula Parlor Number One, NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST." Other charter members of the Parlor in attendance were Mary E. Fontenrose, Rose Genaro Carley and Henrietta O'Neill.

That evening, Grand President Thuesen paid her official visit to Ursula. During the dinner which preceded the meeting orchestral selections were rendered by John Ratto, Ralph McGee and J. Van Thiel, and Mrs. William Peters Jr. delighted with vocal numbers. In the meeting-room, beautified with flowers by Margaret Molfino, Frances Schacht and Clara E. Bachich, six candidates were initiated.

In her excellent address, the Grand President defined the Order's several projects and traced their marked advancement, highly commended the rendition of the ritual, and spoke feelingly of her pleasure in visiting the Parlor in which the Order had its inception. Gifts were presented Grand President Thuesen, President Read and Supervising Deputy Emma B. Wright. Among the many visitors were Grand Trustee Clarice Cook, Past Grand Gladys E. Noce and Chairman Charlotte Clark of the Stockton Grand Parlor committee.

During her visit to Amador County, Grand President Thuesen was the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wright of Jackson, who entertained at dinner in her honor the afternoon of Thursday, May 14. Saturday evening Andrew Thuesen (Pacific No. 10 N.S.G.W.) joined the Grand President and accompanied her home.

Jig-Saws Please Veterans.

Santa Cruz—The following, received by Past Grand Stella Finkeldey, chairman Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee, is self-explanatory:

"We wish to acknowledge receipt of two packages from you, containing 36 decks of bridge cards and eight jig-saw puzzles. (Four more jig-saw puzzles sent later.) The cards are most attractive ones and it will please the patients very much to have them for their card parties. The jig saws, also, came at a very opportune moment. The recreational aide had just had several requests for jig-saws and was at a loss to know where to secure any more, as they are no longer available here and the large supply previously on hand have largely been discarded because of their worn out condition. Your continued interest in the veterans who are hospitalized here is most sincerely appreciated. Very truly yours, W. B. SWACKHAMER, Manager. Veterans Administration, Walla Walla, Washington, May 6, 1936." (The 12 jig-saw puzzles were a contribution from Orinda Parlor No. 56, San Francisco.)

Mothers Day Tea.

Bakersfield—El Tejon No. 239 had a potluck dinner for members and their families May 1. Chairman Maud McKay was assisted by Madge Fote, Irene Piper, Millie Phelan, Etta Borgwardt, May Dunham, Kate Phillips, Tillie Hense and Sadie Clendenen. May 6 a surprise layette shower was given Mrs. Effie Cronkhite, who received many lovely gifts.

The Parlor's study club met May 4 at the home of Mrs. Carl Cooper. Sadie Clendenen and Ralpha Sanders were elected president and secretary, respectively. Reports were given on the life of Father Junipero Serra, and San Diego and San Antonio de Padua Missions. May 8 the past presidents club enjoyed a waffle supper at the home of Miss Clendenen. The afternoon of May 10 a Mothers Day tea was held at the home of Ernestine Edwards. A program was presented by Clayton and LaVerna Edwards, Edith Swett and Hallie Bowman. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Maud McKay, Mrs. Bowman, Miss Clendenen and Lucille Meyers.

Indoor Circus Packs 'Em In.

Grass Valley—Accredited the best entertainment presented by Manzanita No. 29, the indoor circus of April 21 drew a packed house. Thirty-five of the most versatile members gave a very fine performance. It was a circus, in every sense of the word, and as a fitting climax appropriate refreshments were served. Louise Wales was chairman of the committee.

May 5 the Parlor celebrated Mothers Day in a new and unique manner. A formal tea was held, and as the mothers entered the room they were greeted by a receiving line of the members attired in spring formals. Four of the oldest members, Sisters Frank, Nolan, Crow and Ford, presided at the tea table. During the afternoon a delightful program was rendered. Florence George was the chairman.

Mothers Need a Day Off.

Etna—"You've loved us and scrubbed us—both morals and ears; you've healed every bump, bruise and cough; and I think that a Mother's Day's not what YOU need, so much as a Mother's DAY OFF!" It was at least an afternoon off for the older mothers in Scott Valley when they assembled in response to the invitation of Eschscholtzia No. 112 to attend the annual Mother's Day party. The guests appreciated the cordial welcome extended by President Dorice Young, the artistic floral decorations, and the opportunity to visit with old friends, as well as the piano and vocal solos and the readings prepared for their pleasure. With the serving of delicious refreshments and the reminder that the Native Daughters would look forward to seeing them all at the Mother's Day party next year, the happy afternoon was brought to a close.

GRAND PRESIDENT HARMON D. SKILlin, in his report to the Fifty-ninth (Santa Cruz) Grand Parlor said, among other things: "I wish to take this opportunity of bespeaking a word of praise on behalf of the official publication of our Order, The Grizzly Bear Magazine. Throughout the whole year its editor was ever ready, anxious and willing to publish any and all information and stories pertaining to our Order that I could send him. As a matter of fact, the demand far exceeded the supply. There did appear, however, during the past year on several occasions very interesting and instructive articles prepared and edited by our Grand Historian, Rev. Thos. J. McKeon. I would urge the Subordinate Parlors and especially the Secretaries thereof to forward to The Grizzly Bear for publication as frequently as possible, articles pertaining to their Parlors or the members thereof which might be of interest to the Order at large."

Interest Stimulated.

Menlo Park—Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig recently officially visited Menlo No. 185, at the request of Grand Second Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, and to stimulate interest promised to have a ritual team of grand officers visit the Parlor if candidates were secured. So, May 7 the visit was made by the grand officers and ten candidates were initiated—five for Menlo, three for San Jose No. 22 and two for Palo Alto No. 216. The ritual was exemplified by the following:

Grand Secretary John T. Regan, president; Grand President Harmon D. Skillin, junior past; Junior Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, senior past; Grand First Vice-president Hartley Russell, first vice; Grand Trustee Jesse H. Miller, second vice; Grand Trustee Edward T. Schnarr, third vice; District Deputy Cornelius J. Ryan (Pacific No. 10), marshal; Grand Third Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, inside sentinel; Grand Organist C. George Cuthbertson, organist. Also in attendance were Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto, Past Grand Thomas Monahan, and some 150 members of the San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties Parlors.

Addresses were made by Grand President Skillin and Junior Past Grand Koenig, and an excellent banquet was enjoyed, the food being prepared and served by one of the initiates. Many present expressed the opinion that this gathering was the greatest stimulus given San Mateo and Santa Clara in a long time and will help materially to further increase membership in all Parlors of those counties.

In Memoriam

NELLIE M. SULLIVAN.

To the Officers and Members of Golden Gate Parlor No 158 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee on resolutions submit the following

Whereas, A Charter Member and Past President, Nellie M. Sullivan, has answered the call of Our Heavenly Father and gone on to her Eternal Home. Although prevented by a long illness from attending the Parlor meetings, her constant interest in and loyalty to the Parlor were at all times manifested therefore, be it

Resolved, That we keep her memory enshrined in the Parlor and also extend our sincere sympathy to her devoted son and relatives, and be it further resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to her sorrowing relatives, to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication, and also be recorded in the minutes of the Parlor.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.

ANNIE L. McQUAIDE
MARGARET M. HANAHAN,

San Francisco, May 11, 1936.

GENEVIEVE MORIARITY.

To the Officers and Members of Dolores Parlor No 169 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft a memorial of love and respect to the memory of our late Sister Genevieve Moriarity, beg to submit the following:

The golden chain of our fraternity has been severed by the loss of one who, in the prime of life and in the midst of pleasant activities, has been called to a Better Home. Her body has been returned to the soil of California which gave her birth, but her spirit has been called into the presence of Him who breathed into it the breath of immortal life. Our Heavenly Father, in laying a soothing hand upon her brow, lifted her spirit from the grim darkness into the light, where there is no burden and where all sorrow ceases.

Her sudden death has left a vacancy in her home that can never be filled and we of Dolores Parlor extending our deepest sympathy to her bereaved family in the our mutual loss, are grateful for the presence of having known her.

May the California wind blow lightly
May the California sun shine brightly,
May the California rain fall softly,
Where sleeps our sister dear.

Resolved, therefore, That a copy of this testimonial of fraternal affection and esteem be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication, that a copy be spread upon our minutes and that an engrossed copy be sent to the sorrowing family.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.

KATHERINE ANDERSON,
EMMA O'MEARA,
Committee

San Francisco, May 14, 1936.

JOHN MORGAN McMAHON.

To Downieville Parlor No. 92 Native Sons of the Golden West—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed Brother John Morgan McMahon, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to remove from our midst our late brother John Morgan McMahon, and whereas, the golden chain of our fraternity has been severed, and in view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our beloved brother and the still greater loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to him therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of our departed brother to say that in regretting his passing into the realms of another land we mourn for one who was, in every way, worthy of our respect and regards; he was a true and loyal Native Son, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for the good and promotion of the Order.

While we mourn his going from us, we rejoice that his fraternal love has blessed and enriched our Order and our lives. Let us cherish his memory, let us guide our actions that we, too, may be worthy of the love and esteem of those we leave when we, also, have finished this pilgrimage on earth. Be it further

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Parlor be extended to his family in their affliction; that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor; that a copy thereof be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear and to the Mountain Messenger for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

F. H. TURNER,
ANTONE LAVEZZOLA,
ROBERT M. SCOTT,

SAN BERNARDINO—LUGONIA PARLOR No. 241 N.D.G.W. entertained at dinner May 11 the mothers of the members. Large baskets of roses and sweetpeas graced the long tables. In the center of the speakers' table was a tall maypole, and at each place were miniature maypoles. Thelma Nett announced the program. President Evelyn Shaddox gave a toast to mothers and with her mother sang "My Universe," Mrs. Chas. Tyler accompanying at the piano. Alberta Simmons read "The White Carnation," and Marguerite McKenzie played a serenade. Rhoda Smith arranged the decorations, and Katheryn Peavy had charge of the corsages given the guests.

During the refreshment hour of the May 13 meeting a cake depicting the Parlor's ninth birthday was served. Thelma Nett was in charge of arrangements for the occasion. May 25 the officers met at the home of President Evelyn Shaddox. Lugonia plans a June picnic at the Memory Garden. Lucy Mecham and Reba Decrow are in charge.

POPULAR MEMBER RE-ELECTED.

San Bernardino—Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. sent a delegation of seventeen to the Stockton Grand Parlor, where its popular member, Judge Donald E. VanLuven, was re-elected a Grand Trustee. June 3 officers for the July-January term will be elected by the Parlor.

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED.

Ontario—One of the most delightful affairs given by Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. was the Mothers' Day tea at the home of Mrs. Maud Van Fleet May 9. A program of folk dances and songs was given by six Mexican girls dressed in native costumes, accompanied at the piano by Miss Challis Helvie. Miss Marian McKee gave readings, Mrs. Fred Austin was heard in whistling solos and Mrs. Adele Frankish rendered old songs. Gifts were presented Mrs. Henrietta Rowe and Mrs. I. W. Whitaker, respectively the oldest native daughter and the oldest mother present. Mrs. Julia Fuqua, owner of Adobe Buena Vista, spoke on earlyday struggles —the "lean years and the fat years" on the rancho. President Isabelle Graves presented corsages to the thirty mothers present.

May 16, Mrs. Bee Herzberg gave the final of a series of benefit bridge lunches at her home. Sweetpeas and pansies were used throughout the rooms, and the table prizes were hand-made cook books. Out-of-town guests were Grand Outside Sentinel Mary B. Noerenberg, President Flora Jacobson of Californiana Parlor, Mms. Eva Mendelson, Harry Jackson, E. Stephens, S. Byrnes, C. Walsh and Rose Quilte. The date for marking the Adobe Buena Vista has been changed to June 7. All Parlors and the general public are invited to the ceremonies.

IN A MUSEUM

I shut the door on hectic life of speed
Time's clock ticks fast but here the hands stand still.
Within these walls is trace of tottering need,
A flaunt of fire that lies in aching chill.
A blood-caked hat was prized by some gay youth
Whose secret love was blasted in an hour.
I look with pity at the silent truth—
Things under glass are mockery to power.
A Paisley shawl can almost speak aloud
Of practised airs and sweet confusing pride,
Before the shadows changed the shawl to shroud
When life and love at twenty gratified.
Cold fingers touch me—life is very brief
I may be known by this new neckerchief.

All candidates for public office should, in the opinion of Dr. Frederic P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles, be trained, examined and certified in much the same manner as are doctors and lawyers.

The first tree for a sawlog ever cut on Humboldt Bay was felled by William Carson and Jerry Whitmore in November 1850.

STATE TREE

THE SEQUOIA SEMPERVIRENS (REDwood) will become the state tree of California, if the measure to be presented to the next session of the State Legislature by Senator Edgar W. Stow of Santa Barbara is approved. This proposal was originally made to Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 of the Native Sons of the Golden West, which is sponsoring the movement, by Maunsell Van Rensselaer, curator of the Blaksley Botanic Garden, who says:

"The great trees of California are better known throughout the world than any other natural attraction in the state. It seems singular, therefore, that although we have officially adopted a state flower, the California poppy, and a state bird, the valley quail, we have given no official recognition to our great trees.

"We are therefore recommending the redwood as our native tree most deserving of such recognition. The redwood is the tallest known living thing on earth; its natural distribution is limited almost wholly to California; it has been a most important asset in the building of our state; it is being grown successfully in parks and gardens throughout most of California and in many parts of the world; it is the most distinctive, the most stately and the most beloved of all of our native trees."

The state tree committee of Santa Barbara Parlor is composed of Maunsell Van Rensselaer (chairman), Francis V. Vestal, Thomas M. Storke, Edgar W. Stow, Francis Price, Dr. Walter Scott Franklin, J. W. Heaney, R. G. Fernald, Atwell Westwick, Percy Heckendorf, Thomas Dinsmore, Sam J. Stanwood, Fred Stevens, Frank Greenough, George Black, Leland S. Holiday, Harry G. Sweetser, A. J. Janssens, O. F. Huffmann, W. R. Vick, C. W. McCormick, D. P. Taylor, Ray Lathim, J. E. Sloane and J. L. Stewart.

CALIFORNIA FIFTY YEARS AGO

Thomas W. McAuliffe

(COMPILED EXPRESSLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

JULY 1886 IN CALIFORNIA CAME IN quite warm. There was considerable north wind during the month, and much damage to crops in the northern part of the state resulted. The outlook in the San Joaquin Valley, due to generous seasonal rains, was very bright. July 12 the weather was very warm in Los Angeles, and July 14 thermometers at Ione, Amador County, registered 110 degrees.

An earthquake shock was felt July 2 at Redwood City, San Mateo County.

There was a wonderful Fourth of July celebration in Sacramento City, and Independence Day was observed generally throughout the state. At San Francisco, Frank Pixley delivered the oration.

The California Legislature met at Sacramento July 20 in extra session, called by Governor George Stoneman, to consider amending Article XIX of the State Constitution relative to water and water rights, and other legislation. John Daggett presided over the Senate, and W. H. Parks was speaker of the Assembly.

Senator R. F. Del Valle offered a concurrent resolution requesting California's representatives at Washington, D. C., to vote for the bill creating a United States court for the southern district of California.

David S. Terry preferred charges in both houses of the Legislature against Chief Justice Morrison and Associate Justice Sharpstein of the California Supreme Court.

The trial under way at Woodland, Yolo County, of J. H. Harlan for the murder of E. L. Croft in a hotel of that city was attracting statewide attention. Special counsel had been engaged to assist the district attorney in prosecuting, and there was much excitement in Woodland.

In the Judge Tyler case in San Francisco, it was said that Sharon was determined to send him to jail, "as Newlands has the money and General Barnes the brains, and between them they own the courts."

The Los Angeles Express was advocating state division at this time.

In a communication to the Sacramento Union, John Eilel advocated forest preservation.

Mendocino County hop growers organized at Ukiah, with L. F. Long as president and J. A. Poag as secretary. They contracted to sell their crop for 22c a pound.

The National Labor Party branded F. M. Pixley and Colonel Bee "the twin evils of California."

Associate Justice E. M. Ross of the California Supreme Court tendered his resignation July 10 to Governor George Stoneman.

Chas. M. Shortridge of the San Jose Mercury purchased the interests of General Backus in the San Francisco Post.

General W. T. Sherman was welcomed to Sacramento July 22 as the guest of Governor and Mrs. George Stoneman.

The street railway company in Los Angeles had 100 men at work laying a double track from First and Main streets to Washington street.

Some Chinese miners at Peach Flat were reported to have unearthed a gold nugget valued at $35,000.

The California vintage for the 1886 season was estimated at 16,000,000 gallons, of which 10,000,000 gallons would be exported.

In San Francisco, Sylvan Rathbun and Thirza Siddons signed an agreement July 18 to live together as husband and wife so long as they could do so in peace and harmony. There was neither license nor clergyman.

Excitement prevailed among the brandy and wine men of Los Angeles because a special agent of the Federal Revenue Department assessed them for the capacity of their stills instead of the quantity of their products.

The assessed valuation of San Francisco was placed at $175,564,352, while that of Los Angeles County approximated $40,000,000.

H. G. McLean, editor of the Ventura Signal, died at Ventura City July 15.

The funeral of Hon. L. Byington, pioneer resident of Downieville, Sierra County, held July 4, was largely attended. He was the father of Lewis F. Byington of San Francisco, Past Grand President N.S.G.W.

Robert Livermore, born in Santa Clara County in 1840, died at Livermore, Alameda County. He was a son of the founder of Livermore, who arrived in Monterey from England in 1820.

The Salvation Army held an all-night picnic at Fruitvale, Alameda County, July 4.

Street railway companies of San Francisco operating horse cars reduced the hours of labor from thirteen to twelve, but wages, $2 per day, remained the same.

Winters, Yolo County, and Vacaville, Solano County, shipped 230 tons of apricots this season, and the growers received 3c a pound for them.

The Los Angeles City Council appointed a committee of twenty citizens to revise the city charter.

Senator James G. Fair, Charles Crocker and John W. Mackay made generous donations during the month to the Society for the Suppression of Vice.

Henry Edgerton was being "boomed" for United States Senator from California, and John W. Mackay ridiculed the report of his aspirations for the office.

The Buddecke brothers of Emigrant Gap, Placer County, fishing in the South Yuba River, caught 250 trout in three hours.

Burglars robbed the Los Gatos, Santa Clara County, postoffice safe and secured $2,000 in cash and $1,000 in postage stamps. They also got away with considerable jewelry, the postmaster being a jeweler.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors was considering submitting to the electorate a $200,000 bond proposal for a court house.

A San Francisco bookseller, arrested for having obscene pictures on sale, went into the office of a newspaper that had given him much unfavorable publicity and committed suicide.

Anticipating a sharp increase in the demand for limes during the G.A.R. encampment, the price advanced on the San Francisco market from $4.50 to $10 per crate.

E. Cawston and C. Fox leased Washington Gardens in Los Angeles for an ostrich farm. Then they departed for South Africa, whence they expected to return early in 1887 with the first shipment of ostriches.

J. F. Collins shot and killed P. E. Mullins, a sewing machine agent who called at his San Francisco home to collect a bill.

E. W. Jones, Los Angeles County farmer, fed poison to his entire family July 11.

P. McAtee slipped down a flight of stairs at his San Francisco home and was killed.

Dr. F. E. Davis shot and killed himself at Sierra City, Sierra County.

Fires during July destroyed Independence, Inyo County, and Madera City, all of Wrights, Santa Clara County, except the railroad buildings, and thirty houses in the Chinatown section of Chico, Butte County.

Merced City had a $250,000 conflagration during the month, and fires in San Luis Obispo, Los Angeles, Ventura, Bakersfield, Stockton and Volcano, Amador County, also did considerable damage.

BLIND JUSTICE

(ALICE M. HOLMES.)

Great Justice stands, with blinded eyes, to hold
The level Scales. But tongue in cheek and sly,
To tip the balance, even this they buy—
Come those who lay a little heavier gold,
And laugh, to see how easily it's done.
For them there seems no limit but the sky.
This is no new thing underneath the sun!
The poor is poor indeed. For him the Scale
Tips high. O, when will Justice tear away
That blinding bandage to let in the day;
Reveal to all the Truth that must avail?
Too long the apathetic people stand
Huddled like sheep—a voiceless mass of gray—
Unshepherded in this their fruitful land!
—Social Justice.

San Rafael, Marin County, has, according to Federal research workers, the smallest park in the world—ten feet long, five feet wide. It contains one oak tree estimated to be 200 years old.

The Silverado Trail Festival will be featured at Calistoga, Napa County, July 3-5.

O, where is the beam that will light the way, and out of the blackness bring forth the day!—
Ibn Daud.

PROCEEDINGS STOCKTON N.D.G.W. GRAND PARLOR

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

GOLD AND SILVER PREDOMINATED in the gorgeous decorations of the Stockton Municipal Auditorium wherein was assembled the Fiftieth Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West. Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of Alta Parlor No. 3 presided throughout the deliberations which, commencing June 15, continued through June 18. The concensus of opinion was, that this Fiftieth Session was the outstanding one in the eventful history of the Order. Particularly honored were Past Grand Presidents Carrie Roesch-Durham and Mamie G. Peyton, both affiliated with Joaquin No. 5, hostess-Parlor to the Stockton Grand Parlor, for this was the fiftieth anniversary of Mrs. Durham's membership in the Grand Parlor—she having attended every session—and the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mrs. Peyton's grand presidency.

At the Grand Parlor opening ceremonies the grand officers presented a striking picture in their identical canary gowns and carrying golden arm baskets from which trailed yellow blossoms. They were escorted to their stations by an honor escort of twenty San Francisco members of the Order in attractive gowns of rainbow shades and carrying garlands of similar colors. Senior Past Grand Durham, in handsome gown of orchid, with an arm spray of gorgeous pink roses, was escorted to her seat of honor by five Joaquin Parlor members in trailing gowns of cloth-of-gold, and an escort of five, attired in silver metallic gowns, escorted Past Grand Peyton, in rose-hued gown with arm spray of blue roses, to her seat of honor. The San Francisco team escorted Founder Lily O. Reichling-Dyer to her seat of honor.

Greetings on behalf of Joaquin were extended by Charlotte Clark, general chairman of the Parlor's Grand Parlor arrangements committee, and President Faye Silver. They expressed the hope that those in attendance would carry away fond memories of the session. A welcome to Stockton was extended by Mayor Ralph Fay, who complimented the Order on its objectives and accomplishments.

In tribute to departed members, an impressive memorial ceremony was presented by the San Francisco escort team under the direction of Supervising Deputy Nan Kelly of Portola Parlor No. 172. A large floral heart of white stock was placed near the altar and slowly, to the accompaniment of appropriate music, red roses were placed thereon. Reading of the names of the year's sixty-eight deceased members was followed by prayer. During the ceremonies Miss Josephine Liesy, accompanied by Grand Organist Pearl N. Reid, sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "O, Dry Those Tears."

REPORTS.

Giving an extended account of her reign, Grand President Anne C. Thuesen said, in part: "With the coming of the morning's sun comes a new opportunity. The future is resplendent and shining with new things to be accomplished. There are greater things to be than ever have been. You and I must prepare to help do the Order's work. Today is ours! The past has revealed all its secrets, and the future hangs over us like the mist of the morning; but the present is as clear and distinct as the midday's sun.

"True, yesterday is but a dream; but let us learn to close the door of each day softly behind us when the evening comes. A new tomorrow is coming for the Order—a new and fresh day. We will open wide our windows and doors to welcome it, and drink deeply of its life-giving offerings. There may be glorious sunshine; if not, there will be clouds; but even clouds are beautiful if we try to appreciate the softness of their color, and the grace with which they float toward the Heavens. . . .

"Membership, which is the necessity for accomplishment of our aims, has always been stressed, and after fifty years of existence we can point with pride to our present membership. Although this shows advancement, by united action we can further increase our membership now that the economic depression is over. So, let us establish the Happy Days Membership, and make our fiftieth year one long to be remembered. LET US BUILD ON!"

Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler gave a detailed report of the numerous transactions of that important office. Receipts for the year totaled $15,025.36 and disbursements $12,010.29, a gain of $3,015.07. The cash balance June 1, 1936, was $20,343.83.

The History and Landmarks Committee reported a request had been filed with the Postmaster General for issuance of a stamp commemorating the arrival in California of John A. Sutter.

Reports of other grand officers and committees dealt mostly with matters heretofore given publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the Stockton Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposals that failed of passage:

LEGISLATION ENACTED.

Article II, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, was amended by adding the following: "Section 12. Subordinate Parlors are allowed the privilege of granting life membership to deserving members, providing a warrant is drawn semi-annually on the Parlor treasury for dues and assessments."

Article III, Section 2, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, was amended by adding to line 10, after the word "meeting": "When receiving the Grand President at a special meeting, Subordinate Parlors may ballot upon and initiate candidates."

Slight changes were made in the Ritual and the Installation Ceremonies, and a new Funeral Ceremony was adopted.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Placerville, El Dorado County, was selected as the meetingplace for the Fifty-first (1937) Grand Parlor.

A letter containing misleading statements relative to the Order's early history was ordered tabled.

Ordered, that the N.D.G.W. maintain headquarters at the 1939 exposition in San Francisco, and as the nucleus of a fund for the purpose $1,000 was appropriated.

A resolution was adopted, urging "the voters of California to cause the defeat in November 1936 of the so-called sales tax repeal and single tax initiative."

The percapita tax was fixed at one dollar, payable semi-annually, and an assessment of fifty cents percapita additional was levied for maintenance and support of the Home.

The granting of a charter to San Francisco Parlor No. 261 was approved.

of many contented children adopted into fine homes through the efforts of the Committee. Several of these children and their foster-mothers were, at her invitation, visitors to the Grand Parlor June 17.

In addressing the Grand Parlor that day, Miss Brusie reached the hearts of the attendants with appealing stories and amusing incidents associated with her work. "The homeless children project," she said, "is not only humanitarian — it is beautiful, unselfish, and far reaching in its scope."

WANT THE WORLD TO KNOW.

Past Grand President Bertha A. Briggs, chairman Grand Parlor Publicity Committee, gave an excellent report in which she said, in part:

"Today, a half-century of golden years since the organization of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, we find ourselves occupying a prominent and well-established place in the history of California. The soundness of our foundation is a tribute to the effectiveness of the internal machinery of the Order and to the individual activity and enthusiasm of the membership. The organization has assumed an enviable position in public regard and has grown in numbers because of its self-appeal that grips the imagination, holds the interest, and impels loyalty to a degree which few institutions have enjoyed. There is every assurance that these ideals, which have been responsible for our sound, spontaneous growth, will prove equally effective throughout the future. . . .

"This truth should ever be borne in mind—that we are dependent upon commanding the confidence of members and non-members alike by awakening a realization that our purposes will stand the most critical scrutiny and that we are animated by the most unselfish of motives. To awaken that realization, we must labor constantly and conscientiously to develop a clearer understanding between the public and our Order. We must realize that the true vision of our worth extends far beyond our personal horizon.

"With sincere pride in past achievements, let us, each and every one, assume the responsibility that is rightfully ours and enter upon the next half-century with strong devotion to established principles and policies, and with a firm resolve to do our individual part in making the Order's program more effective, more compelling and more useful. We want the world to know more about the aims and the achievements of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. . . .

"In all our State, there is no more effective medium of publicity for our Order than that publication of information and inspiration—THE GRIZZLY BEAR. It is truly the voice of the organization, coming once a month to speak of happenings in our Subordinate groups and of events that create renewal of interest and activity. Through its columns, we are informed of what is being done in other communities, and we may also avail ourselves of the privilege of telling others of the worthwhile things we, too, are accomplishing. As one of the chief purposes of the magazine is defeated unless it is read by every person affiliated with us, every member is admonished to start the official year by entering a subscription today. Through a larger list of subscribers, the editor is able to offer a better advertising market, which means more space and better service for us. Our slogan should be, 'A GRIZZLY BEAR Subscription in Every Native Daughter Home.' . . .

"As we enter upon the next lap of the journey over the stretch of Life's Road lying just ahead, the objectives of the Order should be kept constantly in mind, as well as the knowledge of the urgent need for correlated action. A few workers can do little in the fulfillment of ambitions, but the united efforts of our entire working forces is a power unto accomplishment. We must not forget that each and every one is obligated to fulfill her responsibility in keeping our fraternal star in the ascendancy."

NOTES OF THE SESSION.

Leona Geyer of Santa Cruz Parlor No. 26 led the Grand Parlor in community singing.

The decorations in the Stockton Municipal Auditorium were designed by Laura May Roesch of Joaquin Parlor No. 5.

Grand President Hartley Russell of the Native Sons addressed the Grand Parlor Tuesday, as did also Grand First Vice-president Eldred A. Meyer and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. Hunt (Sacramento Parlor No. 3), Charles T. O'Kane and Charles Roberts (Stanford Parlor No. 76), and Joseph E. Tracey (Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214).

THE HERITAGE THAT IS OURS

FLORENCE DANFORTH-BOYLE OF OROville, Butte County, affiliated with Gold of Ophir Parlor No. 190, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West at the Fiftieth Grand Parlor which met at Stockton. At the installation ceremonies the night of May 18 she was escorted to her station by an attractively gowned drill team of sixteen members from her home-Parlor. Mrs. Boyle's splendid address, following her induction into office, was unique, in that, to the surprise of all, she sang, unaccompanied, in a clear, sweet voice the closing words. The address, most attentively listened to and roundly applauded, follows:

"Looking back through the lights and the shadows of eighty-odd years, we may in fancy picture groups of young and vigorous Americans. As to age—upon that happy neutral ground that lies between the fairy domain of childhood and the stern and rugged hills of real life; the time that comes to all of us, but once,

MRS. FLORENCE D. BOYLE,

ere the rude blasts of disappointment and defeat have paled the flush of hope and confidence; that time when the mind of youth, buoyed by the health and the strength of wakening manhood and womanhood, scorns the teachings of the ages and builds castles upon fame's highest peaks.

"What hopes they had, what dreams they dreamed, what castles they builded when, on desert sands untracked and unknown, or over mountain hights, their little companies dragged their weary way. What were their night thoughts when, alone, they gazed in awed silence on the bright and shining pathway of the stars?

"For them, there could be no refuge nor asylum of rest. For they who wearied, there could be no waiting; for they who sickened, no cooling draught nor kindly hand to soothe the aching brow; for they who fell, a rude and unmarked grave. For them, no pillar of cloud by day led on, nor column of fire by night burned torch-like in the sky. Beset on every hand by savage beasts and men yet more savage and untamed, the terrors of that journey grew. The trials of these little bands in that long, weary march over land or over seas has passed into history.

"Now, at last, one evening in early fall, from the summit of the Sierra they look down on the brown plains of the Sacramento and the San Joaquin Valleys and wonder if this be their goal, 'the land of hope and golden promise.' They see the Coast Range, sharp and black against the passing day, and wonder what lies beyond. Is that the wall that holds back the broad Pacific, or are there wildernesses yet to be subdued beyond those unanswering hights?

"Then, they pass down that mighty slope, down through majestic forests, untouched by man's hand, standing as sentinels in Nature's silent camp. Their souls, ever responsive to Nature's grandeur, are stirred to the very depths, and hunger, thirst and wearied limb are forgotten in adoration at Nature's shrine. Then, they learn from the Indians that THIS IS California, the golden California.

"What life, what activity greet the weary travelers! We can, in fancy, picture miners among the canyons and the gorges of our 'golden rivers' wresting the yellow gold from the jealous earth, hopeful, earnest, and splendid in their strength. We see them on the broad acres of their ranchos. We see the wide expanse of waving grasses, whence the wild deer and the antelope scurry away, and where the Indian roams.

"We see them as herdsmen when, at early morn, brushing the dew from the waving grass, they pass with their trains of picturesque vaqueros with jingling spur and whistling riata. We see them when summer's drowsy noontide heat invites repose beneath the spreading branches of the oak and the vine.

"We see them at the bar of justice, pleading for the rights of man. We see them in the Legislature and the National Congress, active, earnest and patriotic. We see them as mountain express messengers, their own keen sense of duty compelling them to brave perils before which the bravest might well quail.

"We see them as farmers, reclaiming the wilderness. We see the olive, the fig and the vine replace the thistle. We see the cereals of civilization installed where the wild grains grew dense and rank.

"We see towns builded as over night. We hear the school bell break the silence of the ages. We see the church spire lifted above the virgin forest.

"We see the argonaut as a husband, proudly leading home the woman who crowned his life with honor and with happiness, who was to him in every hour, in sorrow and in joy, in prosperity and in adversity, comrade, adviser, true and loyal wife.

"Thus we see the ideal Pioneer. In discovery, in research, in the domain of thought, we find him fearlessly treading unknown paths and blazing the wilderness for generations yet to be. In every expedition looking to the uplifting of humanity, in every movement leading mankind to higher plains and broader fields, we find this pioneer spirit ever controlling.

"But where are these builders of this grand and glorious State? They are swiftly passing away, and they, in their glorious deeds, will remain only in memory. And when you and I have passed to the great beyond will their memory die with us, or shall it live on forever and forever in the memory of a grateful people?

"Let the Sierra whose hights their feet first trod be for them monument and epitaph. Let springtime zephyrs that woo the wild vine and the golden poppy along the paths they loved so well chant for them requiem and dirge. For, so long as the oak shall lend its beauty to the plain, so long as the wild flowers shall spread their mantle of gold and purple over our hills, so long as the golden rivers shall bear their treasure from mountain fastnesses and, midst vine and grass and fern, go singing to the sea, so long, in the hearts of our people, will live the memory of the Pioneers.

"This, then, is the sacred heritage that has been left to us: to ever be loyal to State and to Nation; to preserve the history of our State; to keep a roster of Pioneers; to collect and preserve relics of earlyday life in our Golden State, and to place markers at historic spots. And now, as I take over the responsibilities of Grand President for the new term, I can only say:

"Dear Lord, kind Lord, gracious Lord, I say,
Thou shalt look on all I love tenderly today.
Weed their hearts of weariness, scatter every care,
Down a wake of angel wings winnowing the air.
Bring unto the sorrowing all release from pain,
Let the lips of laughter overflow again.
Give unto the needy; oh, divide, I pray,
This vast treasure of content that is mine today."

History Error Corrected.

San Diego—A Flag Day celebration at historic Old Town Plaza June 14 under the auspices of San Diego No. 108 was presided over by Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer, president California State Historical Association. Rev. Matthew J. Thompson delivered the invocation, and music was furnished by the U. S. Naval Training Station band. Speakers included President Henry U. Emery of San Diego No. 108 N.S.G.W., President LeRoy E. Wright of the San Diego Historical Society, President Fern Cummins of San Diego No. 208 N.D.G.W. and President Roy E. Hegg of the San Diegans. The flags of Spain, Mexico, California Republic and United States of America were raised by Vincent Le Vesque, Ruben C. Navarro, Supervisor Edgar F. Hastings and Judge Dean Sherry.

The feature of the occasion was the unveiling and dedication of a plaque that corrects a history error of several years' standing. The new plaque reads: "On this spot the United States Flag was first raised in southern California by Lt. Stephen C. Rowan, U.S.N., commanding sailors and marines, July 29, 1846." The original plaque, placed in 1906 by a citizens committee, gave credit for the first raising of The Flag to Col. John C. Fremont. The statement as to Fremont was at that time challenged, and investigation of Navy Department records at Washington, D. C., and the journal of Lt. Stephen Clegg Rowan, proved the correctness of the contention that Lt. Rowan and not Col. Fremont first raised the Flag of the United States of America in southern California. Hence the new plaque, historically correct in wording. Participating in the presentation of the new plaque to the City of San Diego were Lt. H. Corman, U.S.N., William Lawton Wright, Winifred Davidson and Mayor P. J. Benbough.

Other speakers of the evening were Grand First Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustee Walter P. Rothenbush, Thomas W. McAuliffe and Dr. C. W. Chapman. SAN BERNARDINO—TO MARK THE SITE of the first sawmill in the San Bernardino Mountains, Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. is erecting a monument at Seeley Flats. John Andreson is in charge of details. The marker will be built of natural stones and will be surmounted with old saws typical of the time the mill was in operation. A bronze plaque will explain the monument's significance.

Independence Day, July 4, the Parlor will have its annual barbecue and dance at its Crestline clubhouse. This is always an outstanding event, and all Native Sons and Native Daughters, as well as their friends, are welcome. June 17, Arrowhead entertained Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. at dinner. An interesting program was presented.

MEMORY GARDEN INSPECTED.

San Bernardino—Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. had an enjoyable picnic June 9 at Lytle Creek with families and friends of the members as guests. The memory garden, now under construction, was inspected and games were played. May Pittman and Reba Decrow were in charge. Officers of the Parlor were elected June 10, Thelma Nett being chosen president. Deputy Gertrude Tuttle was a guest. June 22 the officers were entertained at the home of President Evelyn Shaddox. Discussions of importance took place, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

VISITING DEPUTY SURPRISES.

Ontario—The sewing club enjoyed an all-day gathering May 28 at "Boulder Park," San Antonio Canyon home of Adele Frankish. At noon an Italian luncheon was served. Chairman Maud Van Fleet presided at the business session, and the afternoon was spent at sewing. President Isabel Graves entertained June 2 at "Hostess House," the rooms of which were attractively decorated in white stocks and lilies. Maud Van Fleet, about to leave on an Eastern vacation trip, was honored guest when Gertrude Crum entertained June 4 the sewing club at her home. A chinese luncheon was served. Mrs. Van Fleet, who retires as head of the club, received a number of gifts from the group.

Ontario had as a visitor June 5 Deputy Vera Carlson. Under the direction of Marian McKee the clubhouse was decorated with baskets of summer flowers. As this was Mrs. Carlson's last official visit she was presented with gifts from the Parlor and several individuals. As a complete surprise to the Parlor, Deputy Carlson drew open the doors of an adjoining room, revealing a beautifully decorated table ladened with delicious refreshments. In serving, she was assisted by President Ada Steele of Verdugo Parlor No. 240 (Glendale). At the business meeting, Theresa Stafford was elected president for the new term. June 16 she entertained her assisting officers and committee chairmen at a buffet supper at her home. Blue and yellow flowers were used in the table decorations, and at each place was a package containing a colored initial handkerchief. Plans for the coming term were discussed.

THE SPIDER WILL GET YOU IF YOU FAIL TO ADVERTISE.

Mark Twain once was the editor of a Missouri newspaper. A superstitious subscriber wrote to him, saying he had found a spider in his newspaper and asking whether that was good or bad luck. The humorist printed this reply:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."—Exchange.

"Lemor" is the name of a new fruit patented by James M. Ater of Chula Vista, San Diego County. It is produced by grafting budding lemon shoots on wild orange trees.

SAN FRANCISCO

THE GROVE OF MEMORY ASSOCIATION, representing the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Parlors of San Francisco, held memorial exercises at the Redwood Grove, Golden Gate Park, June 7. Some 700 persons listened to one of the finest programs ever presented at these annual ceremonies.

Instrumental and vocal selections were rendered by the San Francisco Municipal Band, Phil Sapiro conducting, and the Native Daughters Glee Club, Mrs. Ruby Bried conducting, and Carol Atherton. The invocation was given by Paul Connif, and the benediction was pronounced by Loretta Cameron. The roll of deceased Native Daughters was called by Mrs. May Farrell and Ralph M. Willis, the roll of deceased Native Sons was called by Albert Chaquette and Amy McDougall, and the roll of deceased gold star Native Sons was called by John Fanning and Walter Stohlman.

Eulogies were delivered by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters and Grand President Hartley Russell of the Native Sons, the memorial address was given by Past Grand President Eliza D. Keith, and other speakers were President Lula Porter of the Grove of Memory Association, and Malcolm Frazier. Grand President Russell, addressing the members of the Orders of Native Daughters and Native Sons of the Golden West, said:

"Words—what a futile and inadequate means of expression they provide where we deal with the commemoration of those who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their country. Christ, in addressing His Apostles before His crucifixion, said: 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.'

"The word 'friends' covers a much broader scope than the mere literal interpretation. In the abstract, the word 'friends' means relatives, country, ideals and, above all, principles. And just nineteen years ago our nation, actuated by its sense of principle, sent many of its sons and daughters to a foreign land in defense of a principle. The result of this, the most terrible war since the world began, is history. The toll has never been and never will be realized. Who knows what a mother, father, wife, sweetheart, brother or sister endured while the boy was on the blood-soaked battlefields of France? Likewise, who knows what he who faced the enemy, in full realization of the hazard and imminency of possible death, thought of his earthly separation from those who brought him into this world and others most dear to him?

"And so, we come once again to this sacred shrine to pay our tribute to those heroes who, in their sense of self-sacrifice, demonstrated that the protection and preservation of the United States of America and its institutions was their sacred charge, and to this charge they gave their very all. Each was born to die, and yet each died in order that he might really live.

"That display of valor and intrepidity serves as a perpetual challenge to those of us who were so fortunate as to have survived to carry on to likewise protect and preserve our country's institutions, to stamp out all subversive forces whose sinister influences and nefarious practices, if allowed to continue, would render unavailing the sacrifices made by these departed heroes. Their service was nobly done. The best tribute we survivors can pay them is to give to our God and our country the best that is within us, and thereby make of this world a better place of abode for our fellowman.

"And now, we pause to pay our humble tribute to those who have left our midst within the last year. By virtue of the oath and obligation they took before our altar, they became sentinels, marshals and guardians of our government. Their service in time of peace was equally as necessary and essential as was the display of heroism by our soldiers during the World War. They are gone. They are in the arms of our Heavenly Father above. Peace be with them, O Lord, forever. Amen."

Officers of the Grove of Memory Association include: Lula Porter, president; Wm. H. James, vice-president; Edna A. Urmy, secretary; Anna Johnson, financial secretary; Bertha Mauser, treasurer; Wm. H. James, Daisy Hunter, Albert Schmidt, Lyda Wood, Milton Lawler, Ernestine Rauzula, directors.

OUTSTANDING AFFAIR.

The San Francisco N.D.G.W. deputy grand presidents honored Grand President Anne C. Thuesen with a luncheon June 6. Four hundred and fifteen Native Daughters and two Native Sons—Grand President Hartley Russell and Grand Secretary John T. Regan—were in attendance. A splendid program of music and speaking was presented, including:

Opening remarks, Nan J. Kelly, supervising deputy of San Francisco; "The Star Spangled Banner," Allegro trio; invocation, Past Grand Margaret G. Hill; contralto solo, Letty Collins; address, "Native Daughters," Grand President Anne C. Thuesen; baritone solo, Thomas Mullen; address, "Native Sons," Grand President Hartley Russell; selections, Allegro trio; address, "Our Heritage," Past Grand Sue J. Irwin; specialties of early California, Aida Luther soprano, Eran de Sandozequi tenor, Salvador Galaviz baritone, accompanied by Prof. Jose de Sandozequi; address, "Pioneers," Louise Taber; chorus, "America."

"The N.D.G.W. deputy grand presidents of San Francisco," commented one who thoroughly enjoyed the occasion, "deserves the commendation of the whole Order for this outstanding affair, arranged in honor of the Grand President, for it was not only a tribute to her, but, as well, to the Order as a whole."

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

Grand President Anne C. Thuesen paid her official visit to Gabrielle Parlor No. 139 N.D.G.W. May 20. In honor of her presence, a class of nine candidates was initiated. Numerous Parlors were represented, and after fitting remarks by present and past grand officers members and guests were escorted to the banquetroom, where appetizing refreshments were served. The table decorations were carried out in red, white and blue, in honor of Memorial Day.

A banquet commemorating the Parlor's institution thirty-three years ago was held May 26, the guest of honor being Deputy Charlotte Higginbotham. During the evening a large birthday cake was presented Gertrude Spellacy, the Parlor's treasurer for a number of years. June 3 the regular monthly joint whist party with Rincon Parlor No. 72 N.S.G.W. was held. Officers of Gabrielle and Rincon, with Norma Johnson and Victor Johnson as the respective presidents, will be jointly installed July 15.

WELL KNOWN NATIVE SON PASSES.

Superior Judge Daniel C. Deasy died June 11, survived by three sons. He was born in San Francisco, October 1, 1876, and was affiliated with Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS NEWS.

Orinda Parlor No. 56 had a birthday party June 12 for members born in June. The evening was especially dedicated to Past Grand Emma G. Foley, whose birthday is June 21. Members wore summer dresses, and games were played. Following a delicious repast Mrs. Foley was presented a gift, and Mary Vogt was surprised with a beautiful silver bowl and a huge wedding cake. The childrens welfare committee visited San Francisco Hospital and presented the children in the tubercular wards with gifts in honor of Past Grand Foley, through whose efforts this work is being carried on.

Fremont Parlor No. 59 had a homeless children shower party at the home of President Alma Klahn May 28, and the infants were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Leola Klahn and Iola Forster danced several numbers, and games and refreshments completed the evening. The "Capsule Lady" is creating much enthusiasm among the members. A card party will be held July 7.

La Estrella Parlor No. 89 was visited officially by Grand President Anne C. Thuesen May 25. Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustees Orinda Giannnini and Alice M. Lane, Past Grands Evelyn I. Carlson, Margaret G. Hill and May C. Boldemann, Supervising Deputies Nan Mother's Night was observed by Dolores Parlor No. 169. President Rose Spaeth welcomed the honor guests and presented each with a gift. Entertainment was furnished by the glee club, and solo numbers were presented by Jean Marshal, Elizabeth Lehman and Thelma Torson, with Mrs. Jamieson as accompanist. Community singing of oldtime songs was enjoyed by all. Tasty refreshments were served at tables decorated with white and silver favors, and tray ramant with magnolia blossoms. Past Grand Evelyn Carlson was chairman of this and many other delightful socials during the present term. June 10 a bingo game in which all members participated was well attended and netted a goodly sum.

Mother's Night at Castro Parlor No. 118 was a most delightful occasion. Under the chairmanship of Cora Stobaugh an enjoyable program of vocal and instrumental selections was presented by Ethel Browning, Lionel Thiebaut and Betty Marcus. Dora Gi[illegible] entertained with humorous sketches, and a fashion parade of costumes of long ago was presented. The mothers joined heartily in the community singing of oldtime songs. Whereas, Our beloved sister, Elizabeth Ann Jones, gentle, kind, just and true, loyal to our California, was dear to all who knew her, be it

Resolved, That we bow to the Divine will of the Almighty, and offer silent prayer.

"Sometimes when shadows cross our path,
As shadows sometimes do,
We reach our hands across the mist
And touch the hand of you.
Through all the silence of the year,
Through friendships old and new,
The dearest memory of our lives—
We touched the hand of you."

To the family we extend our sincere sympathy and pray that God will comfort the bereaved husband, who has lost a loving companion. Be it further resolved, that this expression of sympathy be sent to the family, a copy spread on the minutes, and a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of the members of Californiana Parlor be extended to the bereaved family, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, a copy be sent to the relatives, and one to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

May the California winds blow lightly,

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

RAMONA PARLOR NO. 109 N.S.G.W. was host June 19 at one of the best attended and most enthusiastic gatherings in some time. Among the more than 150 present were Grand President Hartley Russell, Grand First Vice-president Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Inside Sentinel Walter C. Richards, several deputies and representatives from all neighboring Parlors. The ritual was splendidly exemplified by the officers of No. 109, and fourteen candidates were initiated: six for Ramona, three each for Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 and University Parlor No. 272, and two for Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263.

Grand President Russell made a fine address, in the course of which he said: "I shall present to the next Legislature a resolution memorializing the Congress of the United States to enact a modified naturalization law, whereby those who apply and become citizens of the United States are given such citizenship contingent only upon their continuous subscription to our present form of government. Any violation of this oath would automatically subject them to expatriation and deportation. When they realize that we intend to rule them with that same iron hand with which they desire to rule us, America's present system of government will be quite acceptable to them. Every member of the House of Representatives and the U. S. Senate will receive a copy of my proposed legislation, the introduction of which will be made, if possible, by my personal friend, Senator Hiram Johnson, long a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West." Other speakers were Grand First Vice-president Meyer, Grand Secretary Regan, Grand Inside Sentinel Richards, Past Grand President Herman C. Lichtenberger, Senator R. F. Del-Valle, William S. Borba of Sebastopol Parlor No. 143 and Frank Cline of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267. The latter, one of the initiates, said "Friendship" appealed to him, for his uncle was lost in the Great American Desert while searching for gold.

Prior to the meeting Ramona served its birthday dinner, with Ernest Orfila as master of ceremonies. The grand officers were honor-guests, and among the many others who enjoyed the feast and the flow of wit were Superior Judge Ruben Schmidt, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz and Past Grand President John T. Newell. Following the meeting refreshments were served in the clubrooms.

Ramona's anniversary barbecue June 7, under the management of Captain "Bill" Bright, was a huge success, and netted a substantial sum, which will be used in a membership campaign. The day, filled with surprises and thrills, will long be remembered. The Parlor's July calendar includes: 3rd, joint installation with Stephen M. White Parlor at San Pedro; 10th, initiation, with the new president, Robert Dunn, presiding; 24th, entertainment.

DANCE, FOR FLOAT FUNDS.

Acclaimed one of the outstanding social events on the year's calendar of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W., the garden party at the Beverly Hills home of Mrs. John A. Bullard June 6 was a grand success. More than a hundred members and guests enjoyed the delicious luncheon and cards. Proceeds from the affair were equally divided between three committees—homeless children, veterans welfare and social service. Chairman Edna Trombatore is to be congratulated.

The morning of June 7 found several members of the Parlor and their friends enjoying a hearty breakfast in beautiful Ferndell. Much credit for the popularity of these breakfasts is due Mary McAnany and Edna Holcomb. June 21, the Parlor presented a beautiful outdoor California State (Bear) Flag at the dedication services of the Nazareth Heart school for boys in the San Fernando Valley. At election of officers June 3, Edna Trombatore was chosen president. Installation will be held in September.

A feature of the July 1 meeting of Los Angeles will be the establishment of a "bank night," an idea proposed by May Baird, who contributed $10 as a starter. July 15, Mr. Goodsell will entertain with an illustrated talk on "The Grand International Highway." In an effort to raise funds to help finance the float which the Parlor and Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. will enter in the Pomona parade, No. 124 is sponsoring a dance at the Casino Ballroom, Ocean Park, July 22. Tickets, thirty cents, may be obtained from the committee in charge: Juanita Porter, Evelyn Trautwein, Lucille Cline and Anna Marie Dunlay.—L.C.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

The first meeting in July, Dr. Jerry Miller will vacate the president's station after one of the most successful terms of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. He has been an inspiring leader, and the Parlor has made marvelous strides forward. He will be succeeded by Arthur Honig, another enthusiastic member.

The "University Wildcats" are on the last half of the nite league schedule. In the absence of Stan Parker in the East, Solly Smith is managing the team. Following is the lineup of games to be played during July: 6th, Glenn's 5 & 10 Spot, Harvard, 8:30 p.m.; 13th, Savoy Auto Parks, Harvard, 8:30 p.m.; 21st, Downtown Tire & Auto, Echo, 8:30 p.m.; 27th, Echo Park A.C., Harvard, 8:30 p.m.

University had initiation June 10, and the ceremonies were followed by an interesting talking movie dealing with the redwood industry in California. June 24 the regular monthly dinner was served in the clubhouse, and the womenfolks were included. Dancing and cards followed the dinner.—E.McD.

HISTORIC ADOBE TO BE MARKED.

The history and landmarks division of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. has made a fine record under Chairman Gertrude Tuttle, its last accomplishment being the gift of beautiful "river of life" entrance doors to the city's first church, Our Lady, Queen of the Angels, June 7. The occasion marked not only the eighth birthday of the Parlor, but complete restoration of the main entrance to Los Angeles' oldest place of worship. The massive carved doors are replicas of those installed 122 years ago. Religious ceremonies, vespers and a fiesta program pleased a large assemblage. Isidore B. Dockweiler was master of ceremonies, President Flora Jacobson extended greetings, Mrs. Tuttle presented the doors, and they were accepted by Mgr. L. S. Callahan, D.D. Songs of Spanish California were rendered by Marybelle Chapman, a poem, "Doors," was read by Alma Halff, and Marion Parks spoke on "The Old Plaza Church."

July 18, at 4 p.m., the history and landmarks section will mark the Romulo Pico adobe, 10940 Sepulveda boulevard, San Fernando. Isabel Lopez Fages will be in charge of the ceremonies, and a picnic supper and moonlight fiesta will be features.

The ways and means committe of the Parlor, Ora Evans chairman, placed a neat sum in the treasury from the delightful garden party at the Hollywood Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osborn. Julie Keller, Marybelle Chapman and Betty Roadman entertained. The sewing circle's closing meeting of the term was a picnic lunch

SANTA ANA—THE ADULT EDUCATION class of citizenship candidates was entertained June 8 by Santa Ana No. 235 and Santa Ana No. 265 N.S.G.W. Greetings were extended by Muriel Bray, president No. 235, and Matilda Lemon, history and landmarks chairman, and Helen Hunt, class instructor, gave a short talk. Small United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags were presented each candidate, and refreshments were served by Genevieve Hiskey, Mae West, Margurite Mize, Gertrude Etzold and Gladys Edwards.

Assemblyman James B. Utt was the main speaker. He said: "You have chosen America as your country, and California as your home. It is fitting that you should know of the heritage which will now be yours." He then gave a resume of national and state history, and concluded with: "All of this, and more, is California. Receive it graciously; enjoy the fullness of its blessings; add to the vastness of its riches, and pass it on to your children and to mine—a finer heritage because you have lived here."

A silk California State (Bear) Flag was presented by Santa Ana No. 235 to the Spurgeon school, which bears the name of the founder of Santa Ana. The occasion honored the fiftieth anniversary of the city's founding and complimented Elsie Carter, a charter member of the Parlor and a teacher in the school. Speakers were Ray Adkinson, superintendent Orange County schools; Frank Henderson, superintendent Santa Ana schools, and Walter Egger, principal Spurgeon school. Music was furnished by Betty Jean Koster and Richard Watson.

The Parlor is getting ready for a bazar in the near-future and meetings of the thimble club have been held at the homes of Mattie and Gladys Edwards, Muriel Bray and Daphne Leabo.

Deputy Belle Feige also was in attendance. During the evening officers were elected, Virginia Bruneman being chosen president.

Following the business session the guests were entertained at a buffet supper. The tables were artistically decorated with long boughs of silver leaves among which were bowls of red geraniums. A huge three-tier birthday cake, lighted with twenty-five candles, served as a centerpiece. An enjoyable evening was spent, and the Parlor was showered with good wishes for the next quarter-century.

Historic Documents Presented Parlor.

Placentia—Supervising Deputy Helen Anderson and Deputy Nola Noyes were guests of Grace No. 242, May 21, when Mexican children from La Jolla school presented a program of songs and dances. The May sewing club meeting was held at the home of Mae Lemke, and June 8 the club met at the Long Beach home of Lena Lawson. May 29 the homeless children committee had a dessert bridge party at Christine McFarland's home. Kate Hill has been elected president of the Parlor for the ensuing term.

May 23, Grace had its annual Pioneer party, which was attended by 125 north Orange County Pioneers. Long tables were arranged with piles of ore-bearing rocks, and at each place was a miniature pick and shovel. Thos. L. McFadden acted as toastmaster, and Mrs. Terry Stephenson gave an interesting talk on "Pioneer Women." Horace C. Head presented the Parlor a document giving the history of the first water project in the Placentia district; it was known as Cajon ditch, and was completed in November 1878. The Parlor also received a certificate of election, dated November 1854, when J. H. Thompson was elected district attorney of Solano County; he was the grandfather of Marie Haiber and Lena A. Lawson. Many interesting stories were told. The success of the party was due to the splendid management of General Chairman Mae Lemke.

Flag Day Commemorated.

Hollister—Copa de Oro No. 105 commemorated Flag Day with an appropriate program, June 11, featuring Mayme Moran in the history of the National Banner, Nellie McCullough in a patriotic poem, community singing of patriotic airs, and two tableaux—"Betsy Ross Making the First Flag" and "Our Flag of Today," presented by soldier and Red Cross nurse. The hall was fittingly and prettily decorated with flags, and baskets of red, white and blue flowers.

The Parlor enjoyed a specially happy birthday observance May 28, when members born in April, May and June were honor-guests. They were happily greeted by Chairman Zelia Williams, and Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs led them to the pleasingly decorated refreshment tables, where their places were marked by potted velvety pansies "for thoughts." Appetizing refreshments were served. Entertainment features consisted of fortune-telling and rollicking antics of the big top. Those responsible for the happy evening were Mollie Daveggio, Zelia Williams, Phyllis Johnson and Edna Hansen.

SANTA MONICA

"WHERE THE MOUNTAINS MEET THE SEA"

SANTA MONICA—SANTA MONICA BAY Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. will stage its annual barbecue and fiesta at Villa San Pasqual, Santa Monica Canyon, foot of Seventh street grade, Santa Monica, July 12, commencing at 12 o'clock noon. All Native Sons and Native Daughters and their friends are invited to enjoy this genuine California event. Assurance is given by Chairman Jack Keogh that this barbecue will outdo anything ever before attempted by the Parlor.

This will be the feature attraction of Santa Monica's Pioneer Days celebration which starts July 11. Bert Bair's band will furnish the music for dancing, and there will be games and contests of all descriptions. Free parking will be provided.

A major attraction in the way of sports will be the baseball game between the teams of Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263 and University Parlor No. 272. Both have long been in training for the big event. Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz will be the umpire, and "Gene" says the boys must play real ball.

Officers of Santa Monica Bay Parlor, with Charles DuVall as president, will be installed July 1 by District Deputy John P. Paralieu. The new president promises short meetings, with special attractions each month.

FASHION SHOW.

Ocean Park—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 245 N.D.G.W. met at the home of Leila Hersee June 10 and elected officers, Virginia Mecham being chosen president. A delicious supper was enjoyed. In the near-future the Parlor will stage a fashion show and lawn party at the Beverly Hills home of Catherine Conterno.

ACTIVITIES

ALAMEDA N.D.G.W.

THE VICTORY CLUB, COMPOSED OF past presidents of Aloha No. 106, has been in existence almost two years. It was named in honor of Past Grand Dr. Victory A. Derrick, a past president of the Parlor now deceased. Since its inception many activities have engaged the time of the members, and much civic work has been accomplished. Recently a wheel chair was purchased and sent to a Pioneer woman of Sebastopol unable to get about otherwise; a large case to hold vestments was sent to Mission San Jose, and many of the patients in the women's paralytic ward of Fairmont Hospital have been remembered with gifts. Donations, too, have been made to the Alameda County homeless children committee and to the American Red Cross.

Oakland—Past Presidents Association No. 2 elected officers May 25, Agnes Olsen becoming president. A mock wedding was held in honor of Edna Stenzel, who will become the bride of Gordon Youse, and she received many beautiful gifts. Elizabeth B. Goodman was the chairwoman. GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor,

CLARENCE M. HUNT.

"STIR YOURSELF TO ACTION ABOUT your country's affairs," said President Robert Gordon Sproul, addressing the graduating class of the University of California at Los Angeles. "Cultivate loyalty; it is too rare a virtue in these days. But still a virtue; perhaps the greatest of them all. As university graduates your part is to think longer and harder and more unselfishly than others; to recognize and accept a larger social obligation toward your fellows and the State. If democracy is to come through unscathed, every man must do his share, but you should lead. Our nation faces menacing issues, and the decision will be determined by the votes of the American democracy. If the people are not to fall a prey to the demagogues, the charlatans, the fanatics, and the witch-burners, they must have sound, courageous leaders. That responsibility is yours! You cannot discharge it unless you have something of religious fervor, something within you that makes you realize that your life is not altogether your own, that it is part of the commonweal."

President Sproul averred that right now there is grave danger in this country, as well as in the university, that restless radicals will attempt to go too far and too fast. He said he does not fear they will overthrow the government or its institutions, for the American people are too sensible to follow them. "But," he said, "I do fear that the overreaching enthusiasm of extremists will inevitably and properly invite reaction and thus prevent the progress which might otherwise be made. If I know my country, the bombs of the revolutionists are not dangerous because they may start a conflagration, but because they will call out the fire department of reaction, and with the smoke of propaganda, the water of suppression, and the axes of terrorism, the damage will be done, and the building of civilization set back another generation."

Every loyal citizen should heed President Sproul's advice: "Stir yourself to action about your country's affairs!"

A California Representative in the Federal Congress has proposed that Baja California be purchased from the Republic of Mexico. What for? We already have an overabundance of Mexis in this country, particularly in the southern section of California.

One of the best pieces of legislation enacted by the recent Federal Congress, and signed by the President, was that appropriating more than $1,000,000,000 for national defense.

A good deed: A native of Trinity County—Miss Elizabeth H. Carr—recently died at Eureka, and by her will a trust fund of $10,000 was created to provide shoes and stockings for poor and needy children.

A Jap permitted to enter this country as a student at a California University, was, according to an indictment returned in the Federal Court in Los Angeles, a spy. He has, it is said, gone back to the land of the rising sun with valuable navy secrets. Japan's "peaceful invasion" marches on, and the day of final reckoning draws nearer! Undoubtedly, the "woods" of California are full of Jap spies, posing as students, fishermen, farmers, merchants, etc.

A movement is well under way to have 50,000 American-born Japs now in Japan return to the United States. More man-power, in the land of Japan's desire, for the worshiped mikado!

Declaring that "we, the people, must shake off our lazy-minded attitude toward government," the National League of Women Voters believes that "we, the people, can, through the machinery of our democracy create ways of training and selecting our civil servants which will attract to public service men and women of extra worth."

Feminine World's Fads and Fancies

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

SUMMER IS HERE, AND HERE, TOO, come the cottons and linens that promise to make new cotton history. Women in general may be easily forgiven if they go just a little bit mad over the current collections of cotton and linen fabrics. Perhaps what endears them most to all who wear them is their dependability. Into the tub they go a number of times during the warm days and out they come, radiantly fresh and lovely. Not only will we live in cottons from morn 'til eve, but we'll live both comfortably and fashionably. "They have what it takes"—personality and charm.

Whether you make your own or buy everything ready-made, your choice of styles and fabrics is practically unlimited. There are plenty of rustic and peasant weaves in gay and zestful colors for sports clothes, while the trend toward mannish tailored types is anticipated in tweed and homespun-like weaves. Linen, any time and everywhere, can see you around the clock this summer, not only for sports and beach wear, but for every occasion of day and night. Linens are on the up and up. You may have a sheer printed linen dance frock, for instance big, splashy flowers on a white or dark ground, or you may have a solid color pastel handkerchief linen dress for roof garden dining and such.

The new cotton formals are simply bewitching. There's an airy femininity about them, a lightness and gaiety that is appealing. The many lacy textures are refreshingly new, and a vastly more refined type of eyelet embroidery is given prominence. Dark eyelets show both chinese and peasant trends. White or pastel eyelets are well represented in summer formals.

A fascinating white gown in leaf design, effectively trimmed with pleated white organdy ruffles, is worn over a rustling slip of white rayon taffeta. A gay and youthful daytime dress seen about town is of black linen with fitted bodice and circular skirt, trimmed in bright tricolor bands around the hem and collar.

The black linen suit carefully tailored is perfect, with a blouse of spotless white pique or linen. A white linen or panama hat, white shoes, gloves and handbag complete the ensemble. Or, you may vary the color scheme with accessories of raspberry pink, citron yellow or bright green.

Printed linen tunics with dark linen skirts are one of the favorites of the day for summer wear in town or country. For country wear, linen shirtwaist frocks in solid colors, or linen culottes with contrasting color shirts, are all to the good. A smart variation of the shirtmaker is offered in linen crash. A one-piece dress has a button front, saddle shoulders, welt breast-pockets, short pleated sleeves, a crocheted belt and a chinese standing collar. Other accent colors on a natural ground are green, navy and brown, and of course you know what grand costumes you can ensemble yourself by visiting the blouse or accessory departments. Hat, blouse, skirt and bag may be had to match, in all the glorious colors of the season.

Nothing adds to the joy of summer days spent at home so much as the right type of negligee, the kind that is designed to look as cool as the proverbial cucumber on the hottest day and will survive tubbing when necessary. As cool looking as mist is one made of white or pastel colored organdie, in princess style, flaring into great width around the edge of the skirt, where the width is accented by a triple band of wide tucks. The same tucks finish the very short sleeves, and there is a triple circular collar around the high neck of the coat worn with it. All the way down the front are lovely irridescent buttons, chosen to harmonize with the colors of the taffeta underslip. It is the slip that provides the greatest interest to the negligee. Azure blue taffeta made into a princess slip, full around the bottom and edged there and at the top of the low bodice with fine rainbow bands of grosgrain ribbon in pink, orchid, sea-green and lemon yellow, making a striped band about four inches wide. Since this negligee has a tailored air about it it is equally at home in the boudoir or when friends drop in informally for tea.

Nautical motifs reign in sports attire, with emblems of the sea for decoration. Perhaps it will be a week-end cruise to Catalina, Santa Cruz Island or Coronado. The popular pastime this summer seems to favor yachting, so let the motif be nautical if you are to be in high fashion whether on land or sea.

Play clothes, especially good for hot weather leisure in the cabana, run to trousered types and most of them are smart enough to wear to and from beach and home. Luckily, too, one can get costumes in various degrees of warmth. The sharkskin outfit is unusually sophisticated and just about the whitest fabric there is. It stays that way through all cleanings. Lots of girls slip on a halter beneath their play suit, go shopping on the way to the beach, and there shed skirt and shirt for a real sunbath.

The jersey culotte is natural for overcast days at any beach and a real comfort in colder climates. Wear it with a blazer or a mess jacket of light wool to make it completely snug and smart.

Relax your nerves, get into comfortable clothes—the fewer the better—and be free as a bird. Make a business of being lazy. The easiest and best place to start is at the beach. As season follows season and bathing fashions and their accessories take on added glamour, we are making a serious business of beach life. We are learning to play, and do it smartly. Just any old thing won't do. Our clothes must not hamper us in the least. They must be brief, practical and cut for action. But first, last and all the time, they must be smart.

Beach accessories have been keeping pace with the late offerings. A two-way-stretch lastex swim suit in corded weave on dark blue ground with white designs has a figure molding up-lift bust. A terribly smart simulated, hand-knit bathing suit, guaranteed not to stretch, has a V-neck line and knitted bow finish. It's backless and comes in maize, pink and aqua. The latest beach shoes have crocheted string and lastex vamps with string ties, cork soles and large cork heels. This means a firm foundation for beach walking.

Girls' long-leg play suits are new to the season. Ever so smart is the play suit in navy cotton shantung with white trim, backless, and box-pleated legs. The dressy play suit of colorful cotton print, turnover collar, tiny puff sleeves, full gathered pockets and in long-leg style is trimmed with colored rickrack braid. Play and sun suits go in for rickrack braid trims.

The little miss boasts smart ensembles both for dress-up occasion and for playtime. Young heads must be protected from the too-ardent rays of the summer sun, and accordingly matching hats are provided for all costumes.

Shops make a specialty of white dyeable shoes. You pick the type you want in the fabric you want and have it dyed to order. So you have no problem at all to match completely your summer costumes, each being both individual and distinctive. White patent, pastels and black all register in sandals, pumps, ties and oxfords. Sandals are going to undreamed-of hights, the more open their styling, the smarter.

FINDING OF PIONEER'S GRAVE RECALLS EARLYDAY HISTORY.

The grave of a Pioneer who was buried in 1858 was uncovered recently at the mouth of Oregon Gulch by some workmen who were getting out timber for the Junction City bridge, says the Weekly Trinity Journal. The cedar head board, which was in a fine state of preservation, bears the inscription:

"Colonel Seeley, born in 1794, aged 64 years." The lettering, which was cut in, was very legible, and both the head board and the foot board were standing and in good condition. The grave had been covered to a depth of three feet with tailings from the La Grange mine. Oldtimers remember the name of Colonel Seeley, who served in Indian wars in the early days when Indians were giving trouble to the settlers.

Evidently the Pioneer came to California in the gold-rush days of '49 and settled in Oregon Gulch, which at that time was a bustling little mining town of four or five hundred people. The town boasted five saloons, a church and a dance hall, in addition to living quarters. When the La Grange Mining company started operations in 1892, the Oregon Gulch property was bought for a rightofway. Gradually the debris from the mine backed up into Oregon Gulch, and ten years later not a vestige of the little village remained, not even the church steeple In 1851, the miners living in the gulch built th Arkansaw Dam, so as to work the bed of th river, and it is quite probable that Colonel See ley was one of the builders of this dam.

Monterey City observed June 3 the one hun dred and sixty-eighth anniversary of its found ing as a California pueblo.

Santa Barbara City will have a horse sho July 29-August 1.

PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR BY ANNA STOERMER

THE PRINCESS DRESS IS AN IMPORTant new fashion for now and later. It is streamlined—unbroken by a belt and unspoiled by fussy details. This dress will do things for the figure! It's the new silhouette of the season, and the one to watch. If you want to take the princess silhouette by degrees, temper it with a row of buttons from collar to hem, a wide belt, and short sleeves which are shirred and puffed.

We have yellow by night and yellow by day. The softer type of sports dress has become a uniform of chic short full sleeves, a small collar, tucks below the yoke and a pleated skirt. Material: celanese crepe. Yellow is grand for a country sports dress. You could wear it in town with dark accessories, strip pleats down the front, inverted pleats in back and short slit sleeves. It's very smart. In cool rayon crepe, it feels smooth and slippery against the skin, and would be super-smart at any beach or country club. You may put yellow in a soft linen plaid and have an endlessly useful summer dress. This may be made with peplum, bow neckline, pleated raglan sleeves and gored skirt with youthful lines. Since yellow has ceased to be merely a color, it has become a fashion in all its many sun-drenched shades. It is as important this season as any other popular fashion.

For the culotte skirt, the tunic, the veiled print or the twin print ensemble, the shades of yellow that are smart are enormously varied. Choose the one that most becomes you. There is cool, green-tinged lemon yellow; soft, pale corn yellow; sun yellow that is strong, warm and cheerful; rich deep gold, and butter yellow, a creamy melting shade. Put the yellow of your choice with a second and third color when wearing it on the street. Sprinkle the ensemble liberally with a darker color, perhaps black, thinly striping the yellow of the dress with black linen wrist-length gloves and a broad-brimmed black linen hat. Or wear it in a print mixed with brown, dark green or navy blue. Accessories should be in the darker colors, or use yellow as an accent color to black and navy town sheers—in gloves, hat, bag or the chiffon handkerchief tied around the neck. When yellow dominates the ensemble, the darker colors are accents. In the evening do as you please, but always be sure that the evening yellows are strong enough to shine through electric lights.

Warm weather inspires a practical trend in clothing which is now very much in evidence in intimate apparel. Some of the exciting new negligees are washable, and especially attractive is the latest wrap-around style. Made of rough acetate crepe, these negligees feature a glorious array of vivid colors, including fragola, powder blue, turquoise, american beauty and dusty rose, with long sashes in vivid contrasting shades. Shirring at the neckline affords flattering fulness. The sleeves are full, elbow length. These garments are truly feminine and luxurious, yet fashioned along simple, semi-tailored lines.

Sports fashions for every occasion set the pace insofar as sports clothes are concerned, and every vacation wardrobe boasts a goodly number, with the individual's pet sports in mind, of course. Every normal woman is susceptible to the lure of evening clothes, however high the thermometer may soar. So the average vacationist will include one or two formals in her collection.

The shirtmaker dress is a favorite modern streamline garment with its shoulder yoke and stripe down the front. It may be made of the loveliest and most exquisite silks and satins in beautiful paisley patterns, using the borders for trimmings. These are perfect for vacation wear with four differently colored patterns, the borders coming in four shades, rose, green, blue and yellow, with other tones in the pattern in contrasting shades.

If interested in making a "big splash," don one of the exotic Waikiki costumes now being shown in smart shops. You can easily imagine yourself basking under the Hawaiian sun. They are two-piece, designed to do double duty, and can be worn in the water or as a play suit. The ever-popular shirtmaker is among them, and very smart, worn with a plain wide belt. Also consider the colorful India prints of filmy cottons for evening dancing parties.

A cotton evening gown is the most charming costume you can wear sometimes. One is called the "patio dress." It is perfect for late afternoons and evenings. It has a square low neck, and an especially flatterning sash pulls from the sides and gives a very slim waistline. Quite as lovely as the most expensive oriental rug are the colors in the India cotton prints. They come in several color combinations and are replete with handsome bronze and yellow tones contrasted with greens, blues, wines and corals.

One may look fresh as a daisy these warm days in one of the new washable net dresses. These practical frocks are attractively designed. The tunic types are especially effective in black and blue net with red and white polka dots. Red dots on a frost-white background also make a smart combination designed to defeat the heat. Any dark sheer or summer print can be transformed to suit your mood, the latest conceit being embroidered batiste edged with Val lace.

Cardigans and double-breasted flannel jackets are just as smart as ever for wear with sports clothes and over sunback play dresses. Some very smart ones should be noted. There are tyrolean embroidered jackets, some with and some without sleeves, designed to wear with slacks, culottes and active sports dresses. Soft enough to be casual and comfortable, these are fine packers when it comes to vacation trips.

Colors for this coming fall are no exception to the rule. They suggest a sort of magic carpet in the dark subdued tones that will be most popular for cocktails, informal dinners and the theater. We find aperitif green (a french wine color), luscious enough to make your mouth water. For more formal wear, are found such shades as cinema rose, opera violet, gala gold, lyric blue, then the persian rust, amethyst mauve, mulberry purple, bronze leaf, clove rose and java gold.

After all, what's in a name? Very little, since names change so often. But at the beginning of each season it's fun to go through the color charts and allow the imagination to run away a little. So, it is color everywhere. Perhaps it's the gypsy in us! We are certainly expressing ourselves in clothes that are gay and colorful—colors we wouldn't have had the courage to wear except to a costume party.

We hang tons of jangling jewelry about our wrists. We have tight, fitted bodices, lots of cottons and bandanas around our heads, throats and waists, and it's fun to dress like that, too. It is also good for anyone's disposition.

On the fall "menu" we can look for lustrous things. There will be gowns and jackets of lacquered and cire satins, brilliant jewels in the hair, many lames, and still lots of patent leather. Velvet caps studded with gold or silver nailheads will be worn about town for daylight dining or to set off the new black satin daytime frocks. Two-tone velvet turbans, trimmed with velvet flowers, are in the fall lineup. And twisted turbans combining three or four vivid colors in velvet are to be popular. These combine such colors as cerise, green and purple, or scarlet, black and white. Toques for early fall will be high in front, or will flaunt a huge birdlike bow, and the good old standby beret will be with us again.

THE THINGS WE REALLY ARE

(LIDA NEWMAN DIEDERICH.)

That bright form marching on ahead
We long to reach from far
Is no pigment of the senses
But the thing we really are.

That vision of a high soul,
Every thought and action clean,
Is the reflex of our inmost self
Thrown on a spirit screen.

The urge to scale far, shining hights,
Gain outlook wide and vast,
Is the measure of the inward force
That will lift us there at last.

The noblest action, purest thought
The human mind conceives
Is the God in human nature
Bringing in the sheaves.

The farthest point the eye can reach
Determines the strength of our sight,
The highest peak that we can climb
Gauges our physical might.

The highest, clearest altitude
In which our souls unfold
Leads us up to the jasper walls,
Opens the gates of gold.

GLADYS I. CRUISE.

To the Officers and Members of Arguello Parlor No. 257 Native Daughters of the Golden West: We, your committee appointed to draft a memorial of love and respect to the memory of our late Sister Gladys I. Cruise, Charter President and Past President of Arguello Parlor, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas The golden chain of our Fraternity has been severed in the loss of one who has been called by our Heavenly Father to a finer home. Her body has been returned to the soil of California, the State of her birth, but her spirit has returned to Him who breathed into it the breath of immortal life.

It is but a just tribute to the memory of our dearly departed sister to say that in deeply regretting her passing, we mourn for one who was in every particular worthy of our love and esteem, who was a true and loyal Native Daughter of the Golden West, and whose utmost efforts were exerted for the welfare and promotion of our Order.

In lamenting her passing, we rejoice that her fraternal love has blessed and enriched our Order and our lives. We will cherish her memory and guide our actions that we too may be worthy of the love and regard of those we leave when we are summoned to our Eternal Home.

"May the California winds blow lightly,
May the California sun shine brightly,
May the California rain fall softly,
Where sleeps our sister dear."

Resolved, That a copy of this testimony of fraternal affection and esteem be sent to the sorrowing family; that a copy be spread upon our minutes; and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Respectfully submitted in P.D.F.A.,

Native Sons of the Golden West

GRAND PRESIDENT HARTLEY RUSSELL, under date of July 9, directed a communication to the officers and members of all Subordinate Parlors, saying, in part:

"For the past three years my predecessors followed a plan of organization whereby the sponsor of each candidate for membership initiated received directly the sum of $2.50. My plan for this term is to make the same allowance, but to pay the same to the Parlor instead of the members thereof and let the Parlor decide what may be done with the amount received. This, I am sure, will be conducive of more good, for in my opinion it should be the prerogative of the Subordinate Parlor to decide what may be done with the allowance made. This allowance will also be made for members reinstated who had resigned or who had been suspended for non-payment of dues on or before July 1, 1935. . . .

"For more than a half century we have been a factor in the life of our native state. Let us continue to hold the confidence of the people by performing the activities in which we are engaged with such a high degree of efficiency that we will attract the attention of the thousands of eligibles who may be made members of our Order. With your co-operation I am confident we will be successful in all our endeavors."

Grand President Russell also announced awards for membership increase will be made to Subordinate Parlors as follows: First—$100 to the Parlor initiating the largest number of candidates from June 1 to December 31, 1936. Second—$50 to the Parlor initiating the second largest number during the same period. Third—$100 to the Parlor initiating the largest percentage of candidates based upon the Parlor membership June 30, 1936. Fourth—$50 to the Parlor initiating the second largest percentage of candidates during the same period. To receive an award in any case, a Parlor must initiate not less than twenty candidates, and no Parlor shall be entitled to more than one prize.

Old Spanish Days Fiesta Feature.

Santa Barbara—Santa Barbara No. 116 has completed arrangements for its fourth annual sheriff's posse dinner given in honor of Eugene W. Biscailuz (Santa Monica Bay No. 267), sheriff of Los Angeles County, and his possemen. Since the inception of Santa Barbara's Old Spanish Days Fiesta, this posse, with striking uniforms and matched black horses, has been an outstanding feature of the fiesta parade, and each year the Parlor is official host to the visitors. William J. Bright (Ramona No. 109) is the captain of the posse, formed to perpetuate earlyday traditions and to link them with service in the present.

The sheriff's posse dinner will be held Thursday, August 6, 6:30 p.m., at El Encanto Hotel. Preceding it, at 5:30, there will be a reception and Spanish entertainment. Grand President Hartley Russell and other Native Sons grand officers will, it is expected, be among the many in attendance. The committee in charge of this notable affair includes District Deputy A. C. Dinsmore (general chairman), Ray Lathim, Leland Holiday, Harold Smith, Ambrose Sacconaghi, Harry Sweetser, Captain W. H. Rutherford and John Jordano.

DEDICATION AT SAN RAFAEL.

Headed by Grand President Hartley Russell, the grand officers will dedicate a school building at San Rafael, Marin County, Sunday, August 23, at 2 p.m.

Santa Barbara initiated another group of six candidates July 16. The annual chicken barbecue at Stow's ranch, Goleta, July 19, was attended by approximately 300, and a delightful time was had by all. General Chairman Frank Castro was assisted by Harry Sweetser, Gus Janssens, Cliff Livermore, A. C. Dinsmore and Robert Botanni.

Admission Day Speakers.

Grand Secretary John T. Regan, in a letter dated July 13, called the attention of the Subordinate Parlors to the following resolution adopted at the Santa Cruz Grand Parlor:

"The President installed in the month of July shall appoint a committee of two to be known as the Speakers Committee, whose duty it shall be to provide speakers who shall appear before the high schools of the counties in which the Parlors are located during the fourteen school days prior to September 9th. The speakers shall, during their address, discuss California's admission into the Union. Should there be more than one Parlor in the county, the Speakers Committees of the various Parlors shall, if convenient, establish a Speakers Bureau." The Grand Secretary's office will, on request, furnish material to be used in preparing addresses.

Southern District Group Initiation.

San Pedro—Stephen M. White No. 263 will be host for the southland Parlors' first group initiation of the new Grand Parlor year. It will be held at No. 263's meetingplace, 548 Shepherd street, San Pedro, Friday evening, August 21.

Chairman F. L. McGarvey and Secretary Robert Dunn of the Deputies Association urge all Parlors of District No. 1 to have candidates for initiation at this function.

Joint Installation.

San Jose—At one of the best meetings held here for some time the officers of San Jose No. 22 and Observatory No. 177 were jointly installed July 21. A fine supper preceding the ceremonies was greatly enjoyed. Four candidates were initiated, the ritual being exemplified by a mixed group of the officers-elect. Then followed the installation, District Deputy John Baker officiating, and Fred Breeze and Wallace Isham becoming the respective presidents.

Among the speakers of the evening were Grand Second Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Trustee Lloyd J. Cosgrove, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto, Past Grand Thomas Monahan, District Attorney Fred Thomas, District Deputy Baker and District Deputy George McDonald.

City Hall Dedicated.

Roseville—As a feature of this city's Independence Day celebration, the grand officers dedicated the new City Hall, July 4, in the presence of some 300 people. District Deputy M. E. Reid of Rocklin No. 233 was in charge of arrangements.

Grand President Hartley Russell conducted the dedicatory ceremonies, and was assisted by Past Grand Seth Millington, Grand Second Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Marshal Monroe Label and Grand Historian John J. Monteverde. Addresses were delivered by Mayor R. J. Rolufs, Grand President Russell and Past Grand Millington.

Family Outing Attracts Big Crowd.

San Jose—Observatory No. 177's annual picnic-outing for the members, their wives and children, always an outstanding and popular event, this year attracted a crowd of 220. It was held at Bert Barrett's mountain home, a few miles above Almaden and the old quicksilver mines. While the main event was an excellent barbecue with all the trimmings, horseshoe and other games, horseback riding and swimming were greatly enjoyed. June 21 was Fathers Day, but the fathers did the serving and enjoyed their "eats" afterwards.

Arthur Burr Langford, for many years recording secretary of Observatory, died July 5, survived by his 80-year-old mother. He was born at Concow, Butte County, May 4, 1878. Langford was most popular throughout Santa Clara County. Early in his career he was elected sheriff, filling that position twelve years, and at the time of his passing he was serving his tenth year as county auditor.

Will Endeavor To Increase Membership.

Oakland—Grand President Hartley Russell, accompanied by Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig, visited here July 15 and organized the grand officers, deputy grand presidents and Grand Parlor committeemen of Alameda County.

Frank P. Smith of Piedmont No. 120 was selected as chairman, and L. E. Lecara of Oakland No. 50 as secretary. Grand President Russell was assured that every effort will be put forth to materially increase the membership of the Alameda County Parlors.

"It Can Be Done!"

San Diego—San Diego No. 108, assisted by the California Pacific International Exposition and the Federation of States Societies will greet the world in honor of California's eighty-sixth birthday with a celebration September 6, 7, 8 and 9, during the closing of the Exposition. A magnificent Admission Day, September 9, parade will be a great pageant, illustrative of the wonderful history of California, in which all the states of the Union will be represented. William M. Clark is general chairman of arrangements.

Officers of the Parlor, with Joseph S. Switzer as president, were installed July 22 by District Deputy Joseph C. Kelley. A sumptuous dinner was served and good entertainment was provided. San Diego's membership committee July 1 sent a message, headed "It Can Be Done!" to members of the Parlor, urging them to put forth their best efforts to increase the membership 50 percent by the end of 1936.

"Great achievements," says the message, "are based upon great motives. For the source of your inspiration turn to the words of Edgar Guest:

" 'Somebody said that it couldn't be done;
But he with a chuckle replied,
That maybe it couldn't, but he was not one
To say so until he had tried.
So he buckled right in with a bit of a grin,
If he doubted a moment he hid it,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it'."

ADMISSION DAY AT OAKLAND

(EDGAR G. HANSON, MARGUERITE WELSH, Alameda County Admission Day Publicity Committee.)

OAKLAND - PLANS FOR A FULL four-day Admission Day celebration commemorating California's admission into the Union are rapidly being formulated by the thirty-four Alameda County Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters. "ONWARD TO OAKLAND!" is the slogan offered the general public for September 6, 7, 8 and 9. Two large parades, fireworks, two grand balls at the Oakland Auditorium, motor boat races on Lake Merritt, horse show and rodeo, marathon races, and open houses maintained by the Parlors of the state are some of the features planned.

EDWARD T. SCHNARR, General Chairman.

All sections of California will be represented, and the municipal band from Santa Monica is the latest to make reservations in the big three-hour parade on Admission Day, September 9. Los Angeles is sending a big float with a large marching delegation. The drill team and drum corps competition is one of the features that stirs much interest, and the committee in charge has secured many beautiful trophies for the contestants.

Reservations for hotel rooms, banquet halls and headquarters are being rapidly filled, and conservative estimates place the visitors to Oakland for the statewide Admission Day festivities at 100,000 people.

Officers of the Alameda County Admission Day Celebration Committee are: Edward T. Schnarr of Fruitvale Parlor No. 252 N.S., general chairman; Harold Farley of Athens Parlor No. 195 N.S., first vice-chairman; Edna Caflisch of Bear Flag Parlor No. 151 N.D., second vice-chairman; L. L. Steele of Oakland Parlor No. 50 N.S., secretary; Gladys Farley of Aloha Parlor No. 106 N.D., assistant secretary; Richard M. Hamb of Piedmont Parlor No. 120 N.S., treasurer.

In the Admission Day parade will appear George R. Kibbe of Oakland, one of those who signed the roster-roll of the "Native Californians" in 1869. He was born at Downieville, Sierra County, October 27, 1857, the son of Pioneers Thomas R. and Lucy J. Kibbe, who arrived in California in September of 1852. He will be clad in a uniform similar to one he wore in the 1869 parade in San Francisco.

[Editor's Note—In The Grizzly Bear for February 1928, George R. Kibbe had an interesting story, titled "The First Organization of Native Californians," which concluded with: "I am familiar with the incidents surrounding the organization of the Native Sons of the Golden West in San Francisco in the year 1875. All honor to the founder—the same then as in 1869—General Winn. The year 1869 seemed a fitting time for this earlier formation, as it marked the twentieth anniversary of the arrival of the Pioneers of 1849 and the completion of the railroad system across the continent, as well as being the one hundredth anniversary of the coming of Junipero Serra, the intrepid missionary."]

The Oakland Admission Day parade will start at Tenth and Clay streets and, according to Secretary L. L. Steele of the General Committee, the distance to be traversed is exactly two miles.

COMPETITIONS

(ARNOLD HALSTEAD, Chairman.)

The drum corps, drum and bugle corps, and drill team competitions sub-committee of the Alameda County Admission Day Celebration General Committee N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. has announced by letters to all Native Son and Native Daughter Parlors that this year's competitions will be the biggest and best ever held by any celebration city, and every Parlor that has an organized unit is invited to participate.

Two sets of contests are being arranged by the committee. The first will be an individual inspection, marching and drumming competition for drum corps, drum and bugle corps, and drill teams. These first contests will determine the championship of each group for 1936, and will be held either the night of September 8 or after the big parade of September 9.

The second contests for these units will be competition during the Admission Day parade the morning of September 9, to decide the best drum corps, the best drum and bugle corps, and the best drill team in the parade, with plenty of prizes for second and third place winners also.

The letter and questionnaire mailed to all Parlors was but a tentative sign-up, and only those Parlors that answer will receive official entry blanks, future instructions and rules. This course is necessary to facilitate the much detail work that must be done by the committee to give competing outfits and those who will be on hand to witness the events the best possible exhibitions. Every detail is being planned to the split second, so there will be no lost motion or confusion while the contests are being held.

The new rules which are now being drawn by the N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor Competition Rules Committee—August Salfield of Stockton Parlor No. 7, chairman; Arnold Halstead of Piedmont Parlor No. 120, secretary; Fred Anderson of Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214, Clarence Rosa of Sea Point Parlor No. 158 and Walter Bammann of Pacific Parlor No. 10—and which are to be recommended to the next Grand Parlor for adoption, will be used in the Oakland competitions.

The committee members who are working so hard to make these competitions in Oakland something to be long remembered by the participants and the spectators are: Arnold Halstead of Piedmont Parlor No. 120 N.S., chairman; Irma Murray of Aloha Parlor No. 106 N.D., co-chairman; F. J. Adamino of Oakland Parlor No. 50 N.S., Edna Caflisch of Bear Flag Parlor No. 151 N.D., John Pricco of Piedmont Parlor
